French-Canadian Genealogical Society of Connecticut, Inc.

Established in 1981

Post Office Box 45, Tolland, Connecticut 06084

Connecticut Maple Leaf is published semiannually by the French-Canadian Genealogical Society of Connecticut, Inc. A yearly subscription is $15.00 (special rate for students, $10.00) and includes automatic membership in FCGSC.

Our Society publication serves as an information source for members engaged in tracing their genealogical roots from Connecticut to Canada, Acadia, and France. CML is, consequently, an important clearing house for topics of historic research, plus vital statistics, of special interest to Franco-Americans. Members are encouraged to contribute articles and other informational data, including extracts from their own family studies.

EDITOR'S NICHE

By Susan Paquette

Once again it's time to think of snow and all the joys of the holidays that come with it. We hope you all will escape the ravages of colds and flu in order to enjoy those family get-togethers.

On the genealogical scene, we feel that we once again have an interesting issue of the CML for that winter evening by the fireside. However, you may begin to notice that many of the same contributors names appear over and over. We need more input! I am urging you all to become contributors for I know someone out there must have an article or two to share with us. If old newspaper articles are contributed, please include written permission from the newspapers editor or an address and name of the paper that I may write to.

I also am running low on Direct Line Ancestor Charts to print in the CML and urge you to submit these charts, they don't have to be completely filled in if you are stumped by an ancestor or two. However, computer printouts must be dark enough to be reproduced or I can not use them.

Now for our Winter 1990 offering. Mr. Ed Ledogar has given us valuable information on both the Ledogar and Dauphinais families in the Massachusetts/New York area and we thank him for his work. Robert Bisailon submitted an article on the French people of the Judd Census of Waterbury, CT in 1876 and Lee Deragon has continued to add to our knowledge of the 1900 Federal Census of Connecticut with coverage of the city of Putnam this time around.

Due to the illness of Mr. George Philip Hebert, the HEBERT ACADIAN COLLECTION series has been ommitted in this issue and we all wish Mr. Hebert the very best in his effort for recovery as soon as possible.

Anyone who has visited our society often must have at one time or another been helped my Anne Marie Cote one of our most beloved members. It is with a heavy heart that we have to say farewell to Anne as she has plans to move to the Sunshine State this fall. I first met Anne years ago when fumbling my way through the Mormon Church records and she helped me in so many ways that I can never repay her for her kindness and patience. We all hope she will visit us often and we'll miss her so very much. Best of luck, Anne, from all of your friends at FCGSC!

If you are a member, but have never visited our charming old building, we urge you to come and see us. There have been so many new acquisitions in the past year that we feel you will be pleasantly surprised with what we have to offer.

I would like to thank all my contributors and look forward to many more for this is what makes the Connecticut Maple Leaf work!

Sincerely,
Susan M. Paquette

FRENCH BACKGROUND PEOPLE in the JUDD CENSUS of WATERBURY, CT in 1876

by Robert R. Bisailon

A special thanks to Mr. Sando Bolonga for his article on "Judd for the Census" that appeared in the Waterbury Sunday Republican Magazine, Waterbury, CT, on July 12, 1979. According to Mr. Bolonga, the full title of the Census is "Census of the City and Town of Waterbury made by Struges M. Judd in the year of our Lord 1876, being the 100th Year of the Independence of the U.S. and 199th from the Settlement of the town."

After reading the article I spent several hours going over a microfilm at the Silas Bronson Library, in Waterbury, of the 1876 Census to extract or list all French, Canadian, Swiss and Belgians in Waterbury.

Sturges Morehouse Judd's ancestors were among the first settlers of Waterbury around 1686. He was born in Danbury, CT on Feb.6, 1809 and moved to Waterbury in 1849. In 1870, he took a census of the towns of Waterbury and Wolcott as an agent of the U.S. Government. In 1876, he undertook a census of Waterbury at his own expense. He used blanks similar to those printed by the government in order to have a very complete census. Waterbury was divided into wards and Judd's census gives the streets, the numbers of houses, families and boarders, the age and occupation of all persons in Waterbury. (Biography in Rev. Anderson's History of Waterbury, 1896, Vol.III. p.1133)

In 1876, the population of Waterbury was 16,039. Foreign-born residents totaled 4,860. Of the 56 males and 59 females who were born in Canada, the following list will show that the majority were not of French-Canadian background. There were 44 males and 35 females born in France. Seven males and 5 females were born in Switzerland. Three males and 3 females were from Belgium. Of foreign parentage we find: 32 males and 16 females of French parents; one male and one female of Swiss ancestry; one male and one female of Belgian ancestry; 34 males and 24 females of Canadian ancestry. Totals in the Census give us: France 127, Switzerland 14, Belgium 7 and Canada 173 (of these there were 68 French-Canadians, including some mixed marriages..) The 68 French-Canadians were not listed as such by Mr. Judd. They are recognizable by their family names. There were a few mixed marriages. Unfortunately, the maiden name of the wife wasn't given. Some of the children were born in Canada, others in the U.S.A.

DISCOVERER OF LAKE GEORGE IS CANONIZED BY POPE

As appeared in the July 31, 1930 Edition of Adirondack Record Permission granted by Todd Woodward, Assistant Editor of the Valley News of Elizabethtown, N.Y.

Submitted by Susan Paquette #369

Among the eight French priests, members of the Jesuit order recently canonized by Pope Pius XI as the first saints to suffer martyrdom on American soil, was one whose work among the Iroquois Indians and whose death at the hands of these savages is of particular interest to the people of this section. This priest was Rev. Isaac Joques, the discoverer of Lake George (New York), and who labored in the cause of christianity among the members of the tribe throughout the Champlain Valley. Most dramatic of these eight martyrs, perhaps, in the eye of the world is the story of Father Joques, who after terrible torture went back again to be beaten and slashed and flayed and decapitated, he of whom Francis Parkman; the great New England historian, said, "his associates tell us he regarded himself as nothing and lived solely to do the will of God."

In Lake Champlain is an island reserved by the State of New York, and held to be the scene of this Jesuit Father's first torture. As he tells it in his own journal, "We were made to go to the slope from the shore between two lines of savages, armed with clubs and sticks and knives. I was the last and the blows were showered on me."

"I fell on the ground and I thought my end had come, but they lifted me up, all streaming with blood, and carried me more dead than alive to the platform." The usual tortures of slashing and stabbing and beating and burning followed, some of his fingers being burned off. The boys of the camp amused themselves the greater part of the night by sticking knives and prongs into their victims, and heaping coal and hot ashes upon their naked bodies to see them writhe in agony.

A captive Indian woman, runs the record of that time, a Christian, and chosen no doubt for that reason, was compelled under menace of death, to saw off with a jagged shell the thumb of the priest.

In the "Relations", which his superiors commanded him to write, states T.J. Campbell in his memoir, Joques has left us a partial account of the horrors which he endured from the hands of the savages who held him captive. Heavy burdens were heaped upon his crippled and mangled shoulders, and he was made to tramp fifty, sixty, or up to one hundred miles a day after his heartless masters, his naked feet leaving a bloody trail upon the ice or flints of the road.

He was often beaten to the earth by the fists or clubs of crazy and drunken Indians, and more than once he saw the tomahawk above his head and heard his death sentence pronounced. Meanwhile he was baptizing what dying children he could discover, and comforting the Huron captives who were brought into camp, sometimes even at the risk of his life, rushing into flames to baptize them as they were burning at the stake.

Father Joques went back to France, once, by way of New York, before his martyrdom. From the harbor of Falmouth, a compassionate Frenchman obtained a passage for him across the channel on a dirty collier, and on Christmas morning, 1643, when the bells were ringing for mass, he was flung on the coast of his native country, somewhere in Brittany. The maimed condition of his hands precluded his saying mass.

It took him eight days after that to reach the College of Rennes," as Father Campbell tells the story, "arriving there early on the morning of the Epiphany, the sixth day of January, 1644."

"He asked the porter to inform the rector that he had news from Canada. Hearing the magic word, Canada, the rector, though about to say mass, laid aside his vestments and hurried to the door. 'Do you come from Canada?' he asked of the dilapidated and ragged man who stood before him. 'I do', was the answer. 'Is he alive or dead?' 'He is alive,' 'Where is he?' 'I am he,' was the reply.

"The news of the missionary's return rapidly spread throughout France. Everyone was speaking of him and the Queen Regent, Anne of Austria, the mother of Louis XIV, intimated her desire to see him, but was compelled to express her wish more than once before Father Jogues could be induced to be the subject of such public distinction. We know that Conde and Turenne were then in their young manhood, that St. Vincent de Paul was chief almoner of the Queen, and that possibly they, with many other of the most famous personages of the realm, may have been near the throne, when, humbled and abashed, with his hands concealed in the folds of his cloak, he entered the royal presence.

"He replied very slowly and reluctantly to the various inquiries about his adventures and sufferings. And when, at last, he was compelled to throw back his cloak and tell of the hideous manner in which his fingers had been eaten and burned, the Queen, descending from her throne, took his hands in hers, and, with tears streaming down her cheeks, devoutly kissed the mutilated hands, exclaiming, 'People write romances for us-but was there ever a romance like this? and it is all true.'

"What grieved him most was that, on account of the condition of his hands, he was forever barred from saying Mass. His friends did not leave him long in that distress, but sent a petition to the Holy Father to remove the canonical impediment.

"The answer quickly came, 'Indignum est martyrem Christi, Christi non bibere sanguinem.' (It would be wrong to prevent the martyr of Christ from drinking the blood of Christ'). It is noteworthy that this quasi-canonization was pronounced by Urban VIII, the very pope who laid down such stringent laws on the canonization of saints."

One might think that Father Jogues would have rested for awhile on his laurels, but he took the next boat which left his beloved France back to the scene of his torturing. And the Iroquois captured him again, bound him, flayed him, and taunted him with being a "devil," even as they said to Christ, "Because you have a devil, we wish to kill you." Jogues replied, "No, I am a man like you all. Why do you put me to death? I have come to your country to teach you the way to heaven, and you treat me like a wild beast."

A short time later they "invited him to a feast," and covered with his still bleeding wounds, he did not fail the law of courtesy, but went to the treacherous betrayal. As he stopped to enter the wigwam, the hatchet descended; he was decapitated and his head fixed on the palisade.

"So died," writes Ingram Kip, Protestant bishop of California, "one of that glorious band that had shown greater devotion to the cause of Christianity than ever has been seen since the time of the Apostles.

"These men whose lives and sufferings reveal a story more touching and pathetic than anything in the records of our country, and whose names should ever be kept in grateful remembrance, men who had given up home and love of kindred, and the golden ties of relationship, for God and man."

Dear Mr. Clark,
Our book CLARKS ACROSS AMERICA represents our knowledge about the location of Clark families in America.

If individually researched, it would require you to spend thousands of dollars or months of work to search through National and State, government and utility records. These records represent the households of over 200 million people.

CLARKS ACROSS AMERICA is a very special limited edition. It is restricted to one book per family and it will be printed only on your specific request. All orders must be received prior to June 20, 1990. Orders placed after this date must regretfully be declined.

CLARKS ACROSS AMERICA is a hard bound library edition and is gold stamped on a leather textured cover. Each book is serially numbered and accompanied by a letter authenticating the collection of data for this one and only edition. THIS EDITION WILL NEVER BE PRINTED AGAIN. P.S. You are already in this book.

NOTICE

BEWARE! These publications do not give you your family genealogy or history. We strongly recommend that you do not buy this book. The coat-of-arms shown is in all probability, not yours.

LOU BROUILLARD

Danielson's boxing champ finally gets his due

By RON CODERRE
JT Sports Writer

DANIELSON — Boxing, the fight game, has known many great names through the ages. Names that will go down in history. Names that will be immortalized in the World Boxing Hall of Fame.

Everyone remembers the great ones. Joe Louis, Sugar Ray Robinson, Archie Moore, Jake LaMotta, Willie Pep, Jack Dempsey, Mohammed Ali, Jersey Joe Walcott, Carmen Basilio, Floyd Patterson, and Rocky Marciano are all names which have instant recognition and which bring back memories of a time when boxing was on top of the world of sports.

Boxing enthusiasts will vividly remember television's Gillette Friday Night Fights and the Phillies Saturday Night Fights, the latter presented by Phillies, "the mild cigar."

But how many people know or remember that Danielson once produced a professional boxing world champion — and that he held not one divisional crown, but two?

That's right, a champion from Danielson. And a truly great one.

His name was Lou Brouillard, a man who produced a ring record of 110 wins, only 27 losses, and three ties.

If Brouillard were alive today his exploits would stir Hollywood producers to be camping out on his doorstep for the rights to make a movie of his life. The saga has all the elements of a classic Frank Merriwell story.

See Brouillard on Page 31

Last Oct. 29 — a little more than four years after his death — Brouillard was inducted into the World Boxing Hall of Fame in ceremonies in Los Angeles. On hand for the induction and to accept the award were his widow Minnie, his son Lucien P. Brouillard Jr., his daughters Pat and Linda, and his youngest brother, Dick Brouillard of Brooklyn.

The Lou Brouillard story goes back to May 23, 1911 and St. Eugene, Quebec, where he was born. He was the fifth child of humble parents who, for business reasons, migrated south through Vermont and New Hampshire before eventually settling in Connecticut.

While working in the mills of northeastern Connecticut, Brouillard decided there had to be a faster way to earn money. Much the same as today's black fighters working their way out of the ghetto today, Brouillard worked his way out of the mills through the local fight clubs which dotted the countryside in the 1930's.

His rise to stardom was meteoric, taking him from the small, smoky fight clubs in Norwich and Willimantic to the bright lights of Boston Garden, the Polo Grounds, Madison Square Garden and even Paris.

"Lou was a tough fighter," says his brother Dick. "Every time he entered the ring he was positive. The thought of losing never entered his mind."

Dick Brouillard, who is 13 years younger than his brother, saw the champ fight a couple of dozen times, by his count. The first fight he saw was at the Boston Garden in 1933 when he was eight years old. He sat at ringside with his mother and father on numerous occasions.

He describes his mother as "a good fight fan" and his dad as "the analyst." They were at ringside when Lou battered the German whirlwind, Adolph Heuser in 1933 when another Adolf was proclaiming his Aryan Reich.

"Lou peppered Heuser to the midsection so badly that his ribs were all red. He knocked him out in the seventh round," recalled Dick Brouillard.

Lou fought before crowds of 15,000 in Boston, 18,000 in New York, and 17,000 in Paris. Despite the large crowds and the fact that he was world champion in two divisions, the largest purse Brouillard ever earned was a mere $3,100. In today's boxing world he probably would have been a millionaire.

From eastern Connecticut Brouillard's career moved to Worcester, which was a real hotbed of boxing in the thirties. But it was in Quincy, Mass. that Lou Brouillard wasn't really a sportswriter, but he posed as one in this 1930's publicity photo.

Larrupin' Lou gained fame at Joe Beston's gymnasium.

It was also at Beston's gym that Brouillard met Minnie Bes-ton. The two had a storybook romance which was highly publicized in the media.

Brouillard

Minnie worked at her father's gym, but according to the rules, none of the fighters was allowed to as much as speak with the beautiful Miss Beston, who possessed many qualities of the day's Hollywood starlets.

Somehow the young French-Canadian won Minnie's heart, and a blazing romance ended in marriage that made headlines in all the sports sections. The marriage must have been meant to happen, because it lasted 50 years and produced six children, 23 grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

With his romance settled, Brouillard slashed his way to his first world title in 15 rounds over Jack Thompson in Boston on Oct. 23, 1931.

Two years later he captured the middleweight championship in New York when he knocked out heavily favored Ben Jeby on Aug. 9, 1933. This fight was described as one of the most vicious beatings ever administered in the history of boxing.

Brouillard lost both titles shortly after being crowned champion. His last chance at a world title came in 1936 and again in 1937 when he fought Marcel Thil in Paris and was declared the loser on a foul in both fights. Press reports later said films showed the blows to be fair, and reports came that irate Parisians hailed and carried Larrupin' Lou on their shoulders. Still, Thil kept the crown.

Brouillard's biggest and most famous victory came over Mickey Walker, the former welterweight and middleweight champion. Brouillard defeated the "Toy Bulldog" in a 10-round decision at Boston Garden before 15,000 wild fight fans.

Lou hung 'em up in 1941. Although he attended a few fights and some boxing banquets, he retired to a simple, ordinary life.

In the end Brouillard spent what was to him long years in nursing homes, where he had trouble coping with the fates which beset him.

Lou Brouillard was honored by his colleagues with his induction into the World Boxing Hall of Fame. He joins all the great ones who are already enshrined there. He deserves the honor.

As a fighter he never turned down a challenge. He always faced the iron. The list of guys he fought reads like a who's who of boxing's golden era, including Baby Joe Gans, Johnny Indriano, Jimmy McLarnin, Walker, Al McCoy, Gus Lesnevich, Al Mello, Jack Thompson, Thil, Jackie Field and Vince Dundee.

In Los Angeles, more than 1,000 former fighters and fans packed the Marriott Hotel to honor Brouillard's memory. Among those on hand were former light heavyweight champ Joey Maxim and former middleweight champ Carl "Bobo" Olson.

Inductees included Ingemar Johansson, Willie Pastrano, Maxim, and former great ring announcer Johnnie Addie. Inducted posthumously along with Brouillard were Fred Apostoli, Flash Elorde, Lesnevich and Salvador Sanchez.

"This was a once-in-a-lifetime event," said Dick Brouillard. "Although it took place four years after Lou had passed away, it's truly fitting that he received the recognition that he had coming his way."

Dick Brouillard was six years old when Lou won his first world title over Jack Thompson. Danielson went wild when the news was proclaimed. Sirens and mill whistles howled the news. A short time later Danielson threw a huge parade for its adopted son.

There won't be any sirens today, but Danielson can still pop its buttons with pride because even in death, Lou Brouillard continues to bring honor to his home town.

Lou Brouillard's widow, Minnie, picked up the champ's award at the Boxing Hall of Fame induction in Los Angeles.

Deaths

Peter M. Leclair, one of Putnam's oldest and most respected French Canadian citizens, died last week after an illness of some months. He was 68 years of age. Mr. Leclair had been in business in Putnam for the past 37 years and was a leader among his people.

Mr. Leclair was born in St. Ours, Canada, March 2, 1847. He removed with his parents to Southbridge in 1856. In 1862 he went to Woodstock and was employed for six years by L.M. Dean in the carriage making business. In 1868 he went to Plainfield working for Torrey Brothers, carriage makers, until 1875 when he started in business in Central Village. He went to Putnam in 1878 and started a grocery store which he conducted until his death. A few years ago he took his sons into the business which was conducted under the firm name of P.M. Leclair and Sons Company.

On May 17, 1869, he married Miss Georgianna Mondor of Thompson. Ten children were born to them. He was a member of the Putnam City Council shortly after Putnam became a city and was at one time foreman of Eagle Hose Co. No. 2, of the Putnam Fire Dept.

(July 1915)

Retirement

After 70 years of continuous daily work, Norbert Duval has decided to take life a little easier, and so his place in the dye-house at the Hamilton mills will know him no longer. There for the past 30 years he has been promptly on hand with every morning's bell, and previous to that he worked at shoemaking. He is now 80 years old, and aside from the illness which he had this summer, he has been a remarkably healthy man. He is recovering from his recent illness, and is looking forward to many years of comfortable existence. He has lived in Southbridge 65 years, and of course has seen many changes. When he arrived here from Canada a lad of 15, the town had about four thousand in population and it now has nearly 15,000. Mr. Duval owns about 6 acres of land on lower Elm Street and he is planning to do just enough work on it to keep him in good condition. He believes in work and says he feels much better when he has something to do.

Marriage

Albert Langevin and Ida Hebert were married Monday morning in Notre Dame Church by the pastor, Rev. L.O. Triganne. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple started on a honeymoon trip to Boston. They will return to Southbridge Saturday and a reception will be given then in the evening at the home of the groom's father, at No. 45 Pine St.. The couple have recieved many beautiful wedding presents. They will reside at 45 Pine Street.

75 YEARS AGO in SOUTHBRIDGE, MASS.

Southbridge, Friday, May 21, 1915...Joseph LaPierre, aged 78 years died last Friday morning at his home on Crane Street. Mr. LaPierre, (many called him Joseph Stone), had lived here since he was 15 yrs. of age, and was widely known and highly esteemed.

His first employment was at Paige's mills, long since destroyed by fire, and he successively worked in the Columbian Mill and for A.O. Co. when it was but a very small concern. Since 1873 until his retirement five years ago, he worked as a machinist at the Hamilton Woolen Company. He was a man of steady habits and enjoyed the respect of everybody.

He was born in Burlington, Vermont, in 1837. he married Feb. 1, 1857, to Phelomene Maurand, in St. Peters Church, now used as a school for St. Mary's parish. Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Emery Brodeur, Holyoke, and Mrs. Frederick Dupuis and Mrs. Wilfred L'Homme, Southbridge; three sons, Joseph Jr., Palmer, and Nelson and Alfred E. of Southbridge.

The funeral was held Monday morning from Notre Dame Church. (The rest of the obituary is a list of bearers and people who attended.)

July 16, 1915...Mr. Alfred Allard, through the real estate agency of M.P. O'Shapghnessy, has bought the Ammidown Block, which for about 50 years housed the Southbridge Public Library. The purchase price has not been made public, but rumor places it at a little above $30,000.

1915...The French societies of Southbridge observed St. John the Baptist Day last Sunday in a fitting manner. There was a big parade in the morning, ending at Sacred Heart Church where special services were held, and then the line reformed and marched back to Main St., where the parade was dispersed. The Southbridge Brass Band headed the procession and there were drum corps and the Fiskdale band also in line.

The parade was a very imposing one. Felix Gatineau was chief marshal. The selectmen, officers of the various societies and prominent citizens rode in carriages. In the evening there was an able address in the town hall by Rev. Fr. Rodier, a former curate in Southbridge. The evening meeting was to commemorate the 45th anniversary of the old St. Jean Society of Southbridge. Felix Gatineau presided.

The boy had been riding with Napoleon Senecal, of Senecal Bros., meat dealers, and stepped off the drivers seat while alone in the wagon, into the road, directly in front of the automobile. The boy was struck by a Dodge 5-passenger touring car, Rhode Island registry 15,457, owned by Horatio B. Hooper of East Providence. The owner of the car took the boy to the office of Dr. Webster, where he was given treatment and taken home.

"JOURNEY to AMERICA"

On or about the 25th of September 1847, Xavier Ledogar and his wife, Magdalena and two children, Magdalena and young Xavier, set out from Pfaffenhoffen for LeHavre, France on a journey that would take them to America. Upon reaching LeHavre, they booked passage on a sailing ship, sailing under the American flag. (on 11 Jan.1839, the New York Herald reported "that the Havre packet Louis Phillippe made her last trip out in 13 days, 20 hours; which if confirmed, would stand as a record).

(Queens of the Western Ocean, Carl C. Cutler). List of manifest included: #153 Ledogard, Xavier age 32, male, occupation farmer, destination: France to Michigan, USA; #154 Magdalena, age 29, female, #155 Magdalena, age 3, female; # 156 Xavier, age 1, male.

NOTES FOR FRANZ XAVIER LEDOGAR...MASON/CARPENTER

The Louis Phillipe sailed into New York Harbor on the 31st of december 1847. the Ledogar family disembarked on or about the 1st of January 1848. Our research indicates that Xavier and his family were the third Ledogar's to immigrate to America, preceded by Bernard Ledogar and his family and his cousin, Pierre Ledogar, who arrived on or about 1837. They were cousins of Xavier; also known as Franz and later on as "Frank".

Xavier and his family began their new life in "America" on the lower east side of Manhattan, living in the cold water flats of 3rd Street between Avenue A and Avenue B. Their first church was st. Nicholas, a German Catholic Church on 2nd Street. They would later attend another German Catholic Church on 3rd Street, named The Most Holy Redeemer, which still stands today, and is a beautiful cathedral among the decay of centuries. In this cathedral, the Ledogar family worshipped and were baptized and married.

Sometime in the year 1870, the family moved up to the Melrose section of the South Bronx and attended the Holy Immaculate Conception Church. They were living in and around 3rd Avenue, 151st and Brooks Avenue. At this time, Xavier and his son, Frank, were working at their trade as masons and carpenters.

N.Y. City Death Records: 12 October 1882.
Certifys that on 12 Oct. 1882, that Xavier Ledogar died on this date at 491 E. 153 Ave., N.Y.C., New York. (The Bronx was part of Manhattan at this time). Place of burial: Calvary Cemetery, Woodside, Queens, L.I., N.Y.: Grave site is located in Section 5-A, Range 2, Plot C., Grave 1.

EDWIN ARTHUR LEDOGAR. He was born 24 June 1910 in Bronx, New York, to Charles Ledogar and Anna M. Teator, Certificate #5232. He was christened 17 July 1910 in Holy Family Church, Bronx, New York. His sponsors were Geo. F. Teator and Catherine Pforz.

He married Zylphia Theresa Zwirz in a civil ceremony in Danbury, Connecticut and then again on 3 March 1931 in Holy Family Church, Bronx, New York. She was born 27 October 1912 in Bronx, New York to William Zwirz and Mary (Mayzie) Bryson. She was christened 12 November 1912 in St. John's, Kingsbridge, New York City, New York. Her sponsors were Joseph Foerson and Margaret McGovern. She died 15 April 1957 in Westview, Convalescent Home, Killingly, Connecticut and was buried 17 April 1957 in Holy Cross Cemetery, Danielson, Connecticut. She and Edwin had six children:

1. Edwin Richard, #141-27.
2. William Charles, #142-27.
3. Lawrence Ralph, #143-27.
4. Ann Barbara, #144-27.
5. Gail Theresa, #145-27.
6. Francis (Frank) #146-27.

#127-14 (Continued)

Edwin was married a second time on 6 August 1957 in St. James Church, Danielson, Connecticut to Marion (Hasenzahl) Liebscher. She was born 12 August 1914 in Bronx, New York to Joseph Hasenzahl and Ida Smith. Marion was the widow of Gustave Liebscher.

Edwin was born and raised in the Unionport and Throggsneck section of the Bronx in New York City area. In 1942 he moved to Plainfield, Connecticut with his wife and family. From 1943-44, he lived in Moosup, Connecticut where they owned their first home on Cone Hill. At this time he worked as a supervisor for Plastic Film Corp., Plainfield, Connecticut. In 1944, they sold their home in Moosup and purchased a Cape Cod house on Chestnut Hill, Ballouville Road, East Killingly, Connecticut. At this time he raced thoroughbred horses at various tracks throughout New England. From 1955-1972, he served with the State of Connecticut at Mansfield Training School as a psychiatric aide. He retired from the state service in 1972. He was a life member of the Quinebaug Valley Poultry Association and a life member of the Windham County Agricultural Society, Brooklyn, Connecticut. Until the time of his passing, he owned and operated a small country pigeon and poultry feed and supply store, at his home, Cranberry Bog Road, Danielson, Connecticut. His avocation was also breeding and showing of pure bred pigeons and poultry. Edwin and his first spouse Zylphia (Sylphia) now lie in rest in Holy Cross Cemetery, Maple Street, Danielson, Connecticut. Edwin died 20th of Jan. 1975, Putnam, Ct. and interred on the 22nd of Jan. 1975.

As you may know, Le is the French masculine form of the article "the" -- La is the feminine and Les is the plural for both masculine and feminine. In the various spelling of the Ledogar name, *l*ll have the masculine single article, except for the plural in LesToquart. As far as the meaning is concerned, it doesn't make any difference if they are spelled with capital or lower-case letters. The meaning is the same either way.

Spelling was not uniform until the 19th century which accounts in most cases for the various spellings of names that are similar. The clerk, priest or whoever recorded names wrote them as they sounded to him. Certain letters such as d and t, and c, k, and qu were often used interchangeably. Various dialects also accounted for some of the differences.

The various names are so much alike and are from the Old French doguer, which literally means to butt something like rams do, and dogue, from the same root, and meaning a bulldog of a man, one with the characteristics associated with bulldogs, such as strength, pugnaciousness, loyalty and fighting instinct.

In the Middle Ages when surnames stabilized and became hereditary in most European countries, people were often identified by habits and personality traits that distinguished them from others in their village. Our name is an example of this.

The person who first had it as a name was thought by his contemporaries to have the above-mentioned traits. These descriptive kinds of names, many of which are nicknames, make up about one-fourth of all French, German, English and Italian surnames.

By taking away the Le and Les in front of our names, you have Dogar, Dogard, Doguer (the closest to the original), Docart, Docar, Tocard, Tocart, Tocar and Toquart. By interchanging "d's" and "t's", and "c's" and "g's", you can see how they all narrow down to the same form. Toquart is different, because of the spelling and the plural form, but similar. It is interesting to note that our names from Alsace have the hard "t" and "d" sound on the end that is typical of German words, and show the Teutonic influence of the German population of that area over the original French name.

"ALSACE"

This 125 - by 25 - mile strip of land on the west bank of the Rhine is where the Germanic and Latin meet in a swirl of conflicting currents.

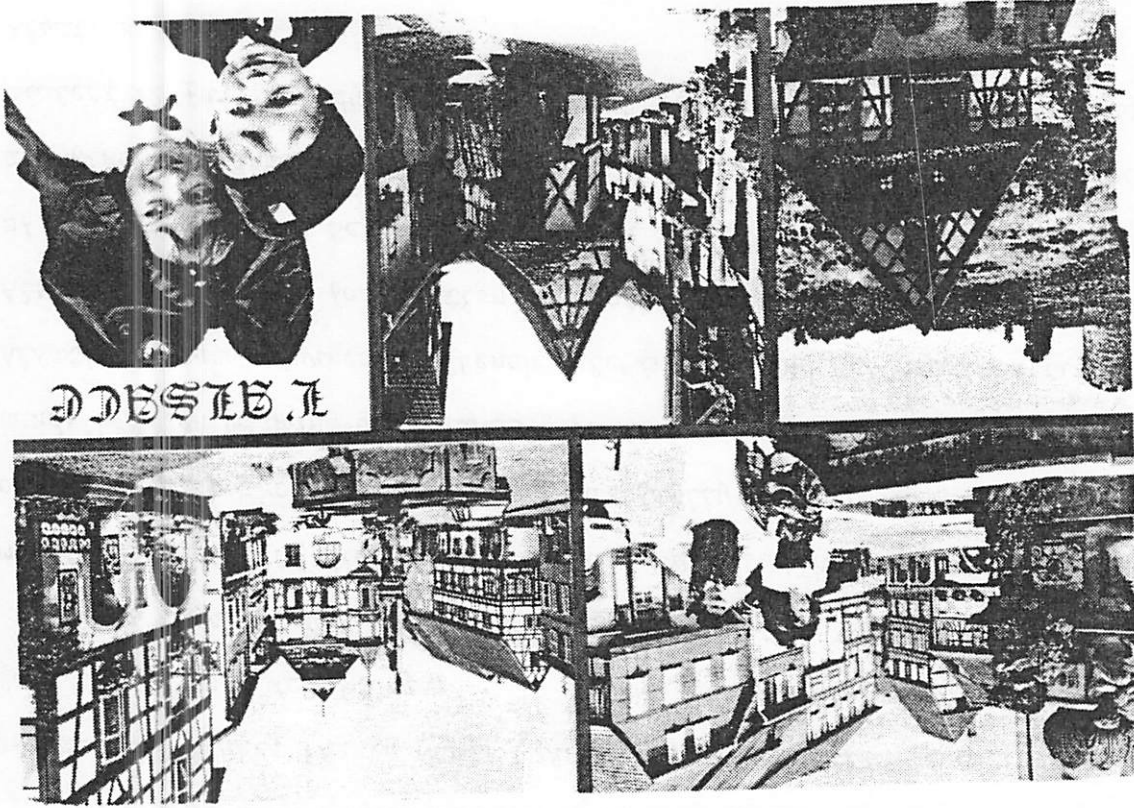

Ever since Julius Caesar defended Gaul from Germanic invaders on Alsace's fertile plains and wooded mountains, the province has been a Franco-German battle front.

Alsace became French in 1648 after 805 years of Germanic rule. Bismarck seized Alsace and neighboring Lorraine from Napoleon III in 1871, annexed the provinces to the second Reich and Germanized them.

France regained the province's in 1918 and tried to refrenchlify them. Then in 1940 the Germans returned, incorporated Alsace and Lorraine into the third Reich and went on the most brutal Germanization rampage the province's had ever known.

They tore down French statues and raided houses to remove reminders of French Culture, French Names were ordered Germanized, even French inscriptions were chisled off tombstones.

More than 130,000 Alsatians were drafted into the German (Wehrmacht) military and 40,000 died on the Russian Front. (This one fact has hindered our efforts to thoroughly complete our family history) Alsace has changed hands between Germany and France five times in 109 years, consequently the Alsatians were returned to French rule in 1945 and has remained till this day. Alsace is a land of fascination for both German and Frenchman alike, home of the famed annual Schnackelballer, or Snail Race, and of foie gras, asparagus and finest sauerkraut, here French is sung rather than spoken, and local German dialect is far from dying out, however a combination makes the language uniquely Alsatian.

One in 20 Alsations crosses the border daily to a job in Germany where the average wage is as high as 50 percent above French levels and where seventy six German factories now operate in Alsace. Once there were strong fears expressed about the take over of Alsatian Industry by German Capital, however today the tone is different and more German-financed enterprises would be welcomed.

Adding to the flow of deutschemarks, thousands of Alsace and Lorraine residents who were forced to join the Wehrmacht will soon begin receiving military pensions from the Bonn Government.

Is it any wonder that our ancestors were in a quandry, when they were asked by immigration officials, as to their nationality. German or French?
 Their answer in their Alsatian dialect would be "Alsace."

THE LEPAIN FAMILY OF SOUTHBRIDGE, MA.

By Father Albert P. Goulet
Courtesy of the Southbridge News

This is a study on the family name, Lepain. It was done for Albert N. and Yvette (Despres) Lepain. In studying the family names of the people of Southbridge, the Franco-Americans, I find that many family names people have today are much different than those of their ancestors.

There are many reasons. Most of the time it was done because there were too many with the same names and it created confusion. Something had to be done. The name was changed.

Today's name is Lepain, but the ancestor was called Marin Pain or Pin. From the ancestor until 1722 the family had the two names, but in 1722 it became Pain alone. Later it was changed to Lepain.

This is the case in many families and we see rare arrangements. An ancestor with the name Deguire has descendants under the name Desrosiers. Another ancestor with the name Desrosiers has descendants under the name of Dargis.

In the Lepain family, Albert and his sister Yvette were born in Southbridge and are the children of Napoleon and Exilda (Bouthillette) Lepain. Napoleon and Exilda were married at Notre Dame on June 11, 1891. She was the daughter of Reis Bouthillette and Marie Duval.

The Canadian immigrant to Southbridge of this Lepain family was Leon Lepain, who came to Southbridge with his family in 1864.

Leon was born on May 27, 1843, at St. Bernard-Lacolle, Quebec-St. Jean County. He married Melina Pinsonnault at the same parish on March 4, 1861. She was the daughter of Joseph Pinsonnault and Josette Corbiere.

Many families of Southbridge come from St. Bernard Lacolle, Napierville, or from Richelieu County-St. Aime-St. Robert-Sainte Victoire-St. Pierre Sorel and St. Ours.

The father of Albert and Yvette was the first Lepain to be born in this town on June 11, 1865, and was baptized at St. Peter's Parish. St. Mary's Church began in June 1869 when the bishop of Boston, Bishop John Joseph Williams, D.D., established the new parish of Notre Dame, and St. Peter's became St. Mary's. The diocese of Springfield was established in September 1869.

Who was this Marian Pain or Pin, the Canadian ancestor? He arrived in Quebec City with his wife and two children about 1660. His birth is recorded as 1616 in the city of Thury-Harcourt, France. This is in Normandy, in the diocese of Bayeux, near the city of Caen and Lisieux, the city of Sainte Therese de l'Enfant Jesus. At the same parish where he was baptized, Olive Morin became his wife. No parish record of the marriage was found. But we have the marriage contract by the notary Bertault dated August 2, 1643.

The parents of both are unknown.

If the name was Pain-which means bread-it seems then that the ancestor was either a baker or someone that took care of an institute as a "Panetier"-someone who takes care of bread for a community.

If the name is Pin then it means the ancestor had pine trees.

TO OUR READERS:

If you'd like to submit an article, prepared by yourself, for publication in Connecticut Maple Leaf, please complete the statement below and include it together with your manuscript submission. Be sure to use at least one inch margins on all sides! Thanks.

----- Susan Paquette-Editor

Mrs. Susan Paquette
797 Brickyard Rd.
Woodstock, CT 06281

Dear Susan:

I'm submitting herewith the following named article, prepared by myself, for publication in the CONNECTICUT MAPLE LEAF, member publication of FCGSC:

To avoid infringement of existing copyright laws, I have listed, at the end of my article, each source for every text reference appearing therein. Whenever direct quotations from another author's literary work appears in my article, I requested and received written permission from that author, or his/her publisher, to reproduce those extracts from his/her work.

It is my understanding that, whenever necessary in her judgement, Susan Paquette has permission to edit (i.e., alter, adapt, or refine) the text of my article in order to conform to CML editorial standards.

RULES GOVERNING USE OF THE SOCIETY LIBRARY BY MEMBERS AND GUESTS

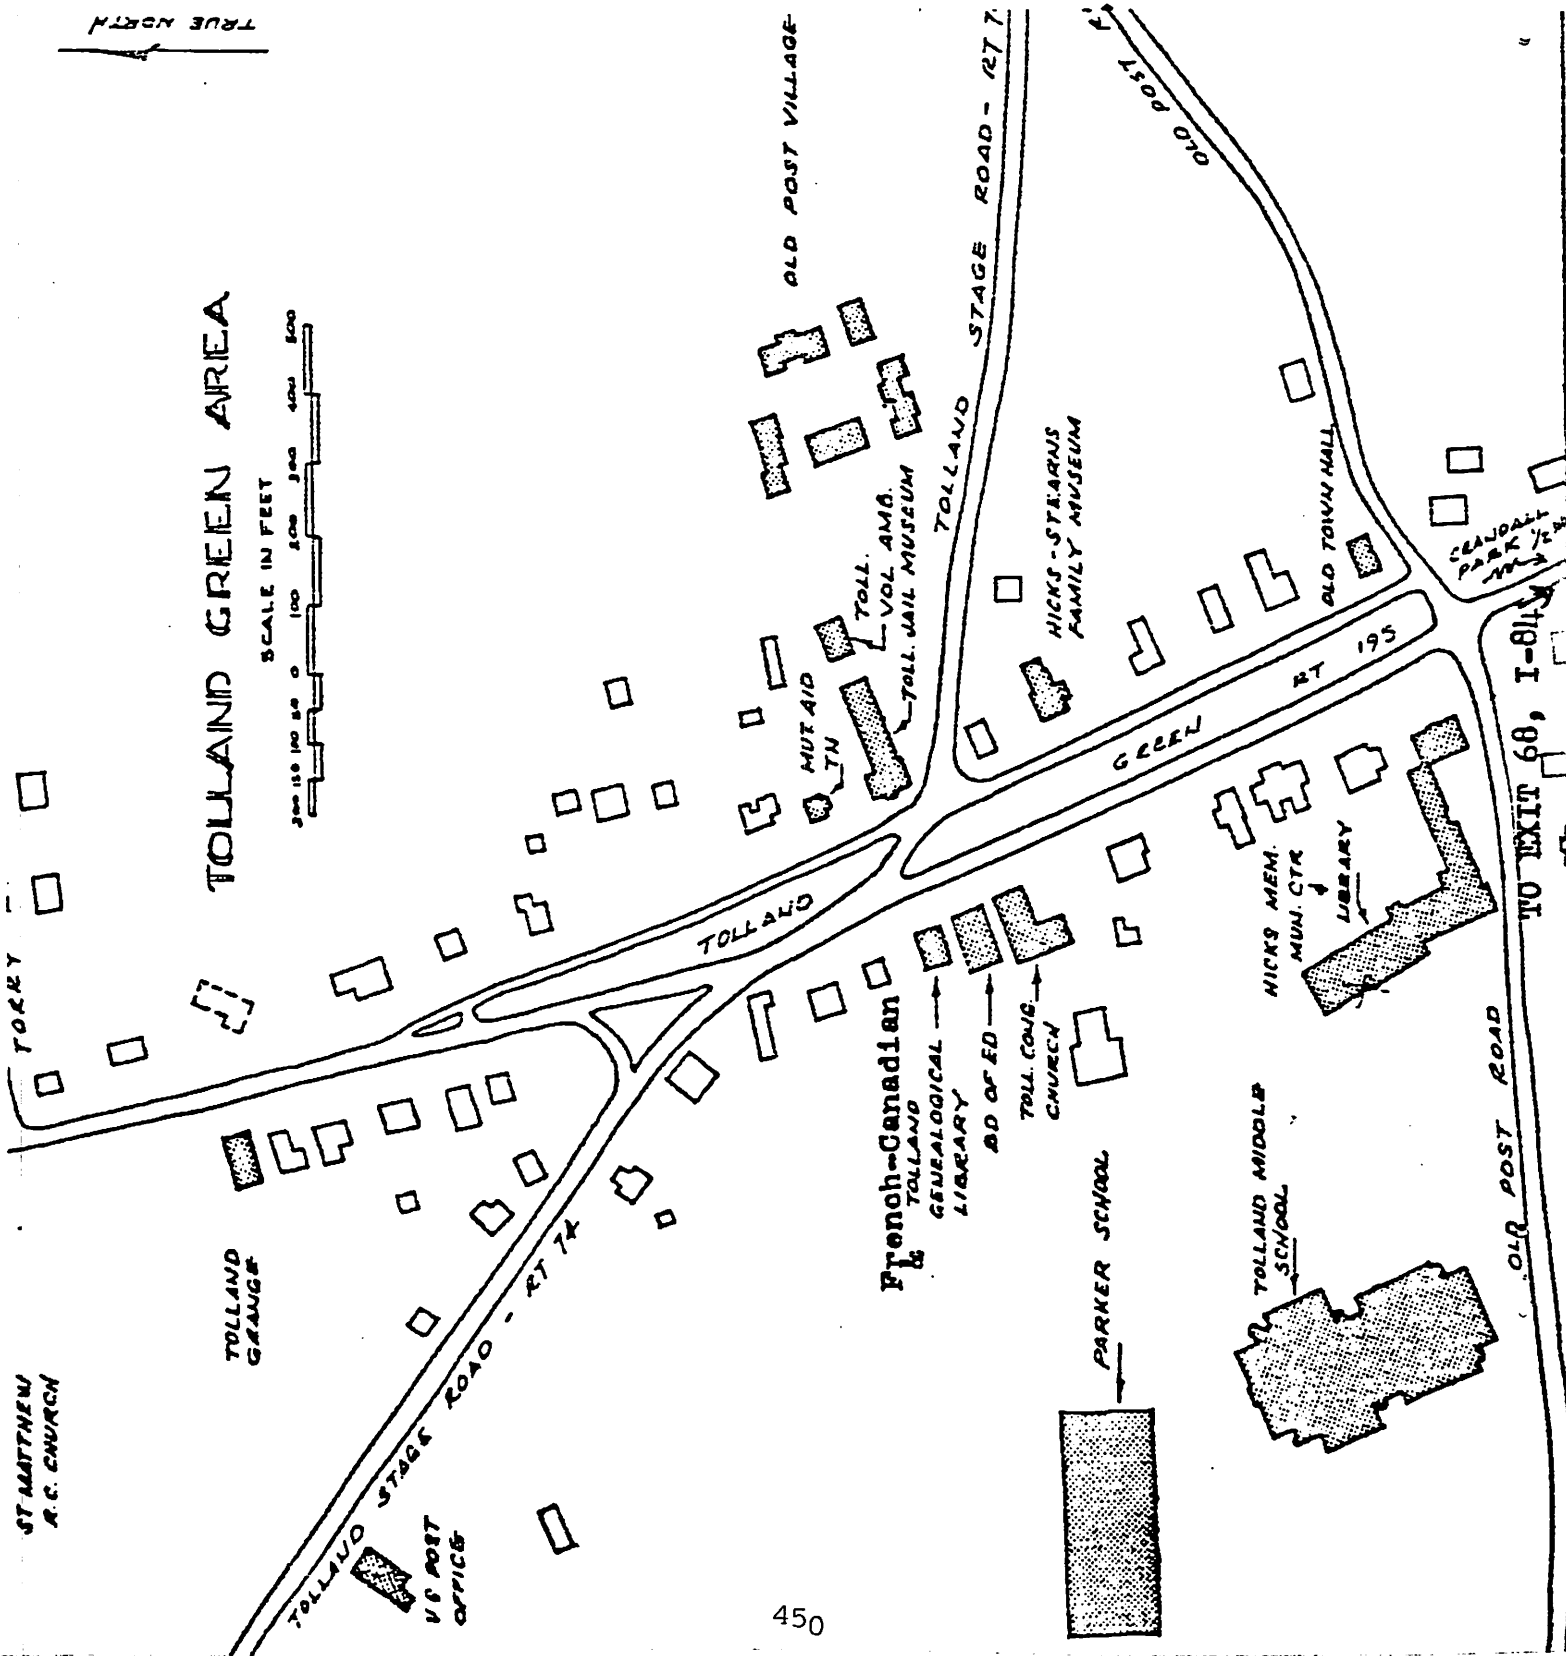

1. Each member or visitor to the Library must sign his/her name and list their home address and, if applicable, FCGSC membership number in the SIGN-IN LOG maintained for this purpose. The Log is located on the Librarian's desk.
2. The Librarian must retain, during your visit, any briefcase, attache case, or other large container brought with you. Such items cannot remain with you while performing research at a Library table. You may, however, remove any articles from the container for research needs before turning it over to the Librarian. We will examine all containers before you leave the Library. The Society cannot be responsible for any personal property lost or mislaid during your visit.
3. All reference books and repertories must be returned to the Library shelf by the Librarian. When you finish consulting a book, please place it at the end of the Library table for later return to the proper shelf by our staff.
4. You are not allowed to write in or mark up any Library reference material. Members and guests are requested to use pencils, rather than pens, for note-taking purposes. NO PENS ARE TO BE USED IN THE LIBRARY.
5. No reference book or repertory can be removed from the Library without the permission of the FCGSC President.
6. The Library photocopy machine can only be operated by the Librarian, and a nominal fee of 10¢ per copy will be charged.
7. A Loiselle Index microfiche can only be obtained from the Librarian. After viewing a microfiche, please insert it in the proper envelope and place it in the special container provided--for later refiling by the Librarian. The container is located beside the microfiche cabinet. If the demand for microfiche viewing is greater than normal, the Librarian will have to restrict usage to 45 minutes per user.
8. Three books at a time can be borrowed by a member from the Lending Library. Each book must be returned to the Library within thirty (30) days. A fine of 10¢ per day will be charged for every overdue book. Three separate violations of the 30-day loan period will result in suspension of the member's Library privileges for one year.
9. Smoking is not allowed in the Library.
10. Liquid refreshments, foods, or snacks of any kind may not be consumed at a Library table. These items can be consumed in the hallway or some other area outside the Library.

Vol. XI—new
from The LISI Press

Our FRENCH-CANADIAN Ancestors

Such was the atmosphere during an embarkation for Canada about 350 years ago.

SPEAKING OF A "RIPPLE EFFECT..."

This scene from Volume XI—the latest in our ongoing and widely read Series entitled "Our FRENCH-CANADIAN Ancestors" shows an event whose significance reaches all the way to our present times. Those were real people, risking everything, about to board ship for that great unknown land, Canada.

Perhaps one of your own forebears was on that very ship. Well, now you can read about the lives, loves and times of these early Canadians. Our Series documents hundreds of Ancestors...with dates, places of origin, names...in fact, just what you need to help trace your own fascinating family tree!

And yes, judging by your interest and that ever-widening response so far, we may well say our Series is creating quite a RIPPLE EFFECT of its own!

Inquiries invited.
