Said to have been built in 1877 by John Lane Buell, the founder of Quinnesec, the Pioneer School, the first constructed in Breitung Township, was located on the southwest corner of Bluff Street and Paint Street (now U.S. 2) with the front door facing north. A board sidewalk from the school to Quinnesec Avenue was built in May, 1879. On June 23, 1879, school was discontinued in an attempt to prevent the spread of scarlet fever. A second story was being added in late October, 1879, to accommodate all the pupils in attendance. The addition was finished by mid-December, when the workmen enclosed the grounds with a fence. A one-story library building facing Bluff Street was attached to the school by a hallway and was undoubtedly the area's first such repository. The library's record book for 1882-1883 listed over 1,500 books on the shelves. The borrower had his or her name recorded in the record book, and under the name was a list of the books borrowed, plus their condition upon being loaned and returned. In April, 1883, Breitung Township allocated $500 for the purchase of additional books. Later, as the population increased, it became necessary to use the library as an additional classroom. The early pupils did not have school seats until August, 1881, when seats were purchased at a cost of $273.17. Additional school furniture was purchased in September, 1881, for $464.87. School teachers in 1881 were Jennie Atkinson (salary of $50 per month), Marion Burdon and Ora Lathnop (salary of $45 per month each). Hattie Dodge also taught in 1881. The school was later moved to a lot west of the school (southwest corner of Menominee and College Streets). A brief item in the Iron Mountain News for Friday, May 23, 1924, noted: One of Quinnesec's oldest land marks, passed into ashes when the old Quinnesec frame school caught fire and burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building had been condemned for a few years for school purposes and had been used as a warehouse. [John Alquist/Breitung Township]

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES FROM HISTORY OF THE UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN – 1883

[Transcribed by William J. Cummings]

EDITOR'S NOTE: A new feature – Annotated Bibliography for Dickinson and Iron Counties, the Menominee Iron Range and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan – begins in this issue of Dickinson Diggings. The Table of Contents – with additional information – has been included for all volumes in this new feature to further assist researchers and genealogists in locating pertinent information.

The bibliography begins with volumes encompassing the Michigan's Upper Peninsula, as well as the northern counties of neighboring Wisconsin, as much of our history, as well as the individuals who made it, came from Wisconsin. Then material specific to the Menominee Iron Range and Dickinson County and Iron County will be listed.

The Biographical Sketches printed below and arranged alphabetically were taken from History of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, published by the Western Historical Company, of Chicago, in 1883, from the chapters on Menominee County and Florence County. They contain some of the earliest biographical information available for this area. They, together with Biographical Sketches from other Upper Peninsula counties, were printed in Dickinson Diggings as a feature called "Pioneer Portraits" which began in the February, 1986, issue and ended in the February, 2001, issue.

CHARLES L. ANDERSON, hardware and broker, Norway, was born in Sweden November 5, 1855; came to the United States in 1864, and located in Hancock, Mich. At the age of twenty-one, he began the carriage and blacksmith business at Ishpeming, where he remained three years; he came to Norway in 1879, and engaged in his present business; owns some mineral and pine lands; has an interest in Hancock, Brule and other mines; is also Township Treasurer; was married to Miss Ella A. Norberry, of Ishpeming, in 1877. They have one child, Leslie Douglas. [Norway, page 498]

WILLIAM S. ANDREW, of Andrew Brothers, clothiers and furnishers, was born in Cornwall, England, March 22, 1842; came to United States in 1865; stopped a short time in New Jersey; then went to Houghton, and remained two years; then he went to Ishpeming, where he lived fourteen years, engaged in mining and other business. He came to Iron Mountain in 1882, and established his present business, in connection with his brother, Elisha Andrew; he was married to Miss Nannie Eden, of Mineral Point, Wis., in 1868. [Iron Mountain, page 499]

CAPT. GEORGE N. ARMSTRONG, lumberman, was born at Maysville, Me., January 1,

1831. He resided in Maysville until the age of sixteen, attending the public schools. Leaving school, he followed the sea for five years, and at the age of twenty-one entered the Brooklyn (New York) Academy, of which he was a member for three years. After finishing his studies at Brooklyn, Capt. Armstrong took command of the ship Marcellus, sailing from San Francisco to Calcutta, thence to Boston via London, Eng. [England] He next took command of the ship Syreen, and was engaged in the merchant marine service of Boston, New York, San Francisco, and the East India ports for a period of five years, and was also engaged in the South Sea and Pacific trade until 1863. At the commencement of the war of the rebellion, Capt. Armstrong entered the United States naval service, and served until its close. In 1865, he entered the New York and San Francisco trade, carrying grain to London, and continued in it until 1878. During the year 1878, Capt. Armstrong sailed from New York, accompanied by his wife, daughter and adopted child, in the new and splendid ship Templar with a full crew, consisting of forty-two men all told. After a tempestuous voyage of one hundred days, during which the ship was disabled and dismasted, the Templar drifted helplessly into Rio de Janeiro, at which place the vessel lay forty days, and underwent a thorough overhauling and repairs, during which time twenty-eight men died of yellow fever in one week; shipped a new crew at Rio [de] Janeiro, and sailed in February, 1878, for San Francisco. The third day the vessel was at sea, yellow fever made its appearance, and every person on board was taken down with the dread disease, except his adopted child and two Chinamen. Two days later, Mrs. Armstrong, the chief officer and twelve of the crew died, and there were not well ones enough to bury the dead. The balance of the crew partially recovered, together with his daughter, who had been twice carried on deck preparatory for burial, but fortunately the crew discovered signs of life, and she was again carried back, and, after laying [sic – lying] for seven days, she rallied, and soon recovered. During this time the ship drifted helplessly at the mercy of the wind and waves, the crew being prostrate and Capt. Armstrong lying insensible. After her recovery, his daughter took command of the ship, and alone navigated it to San Francisco, around Cape Horn, where it came to anchor after being 361 days from Rio [de] Janeiro. After arriving at San Francisco, the Board of Insurance Underwriters called a meeting, at which resolutions of a most praiseworthy character were passed, which were presented to her with a purse of $2,500 in gold for the accomplishment of a feat recorded of no other woman in the world, that of navigating a large ship over the perilous course of a voyage around Cape Horn with a disabled crew of seven men and the preservation of a number of human lives and a valuable ship and cargo. This was the last voyage made by Capt. Armstrong. In 1879, he returned to the East, where he remained until 1880, when he came to Florence County, and has since been engaged in lumbering and farming interests, settling near the town of Florence, Wis. His business gives employment to 100 men in the woods and seven on the farm. Bill again asked for input on meetings and times. It was suggested that perhaps we could have a work shop on a Saturday some time. The new issue of the Dickinson Diggings is No. 1 of Volume 29.

Joan Oberthaler is planning to bring the records of the Norway Cemetery up to date this coming summer and has asked for volunteers. She wants to focus on Potters Field.

Beth Baker assured the club that the library would be purchasing Joe Massie's autobiography The Quinnesec Kid.

Bill read a disturbing letter from Cynthia Grostick, President of the Michigan Genealogical Council (MGC). Due to lack of money, the Michigan State Library has decided that the non-Michigan genealogical collection and the Federal Documents collection are valuable, but the state is not required to provide those collections/services. It will become a non-circulating library.

Meeting adjourned 1:30 p.m.

Bill Cummings gave almost day-to-day newspaper accounts, beginning in 1920, of Henry Ford, E. G. Kingsford, and others who worked to establish the Ford Motor Company Plant in what was to become Kingsford, Michigan.

We are in possession of two Swedish language newspapers from Chicago and dated June 2 and June 9, 1885, which had been discovered in the backing of an old picture. The contributor's name is Guy Forstrom.

Larry Zipp called our attention to the Landmark Study of Human Genome Project, sponsored by the National Geographic Society and IBM. Samples of DNA are submitted and are used to trace ancestry.

Meeting adjourned 1:30 p.m.

Our program was video-taped interview between Kay (Jardon) Palmcook and Kate (Rice) Chiesa, filmed by Bill Palmcook. From the time in the 1920's when Kate Chiesa and her family in Oconto Falls, Wisconsin, first heard about the "fantastic" wages being paid at the Ford Plant in Kingsford, Michigan, through the building of gliders in the 1940's, Kate shared the excitement of being a part of "Kingsford: The Building of a Community."

DCGS met at the Dickinson County Library at 1 p.m. in the Local History Room with Bill Cummings presiding. There were 17 members and 3 guests present.

Minutes of the March 25, 2010, meeting were amended and approved. Treasurer Pamela Foster reported a balance on March 25, 2010, of $2,224.26. After deposits and disbursements, the balance on April 22, 2010, is $2,297.26.

Our past president, John Alquist, continues to send records and files for the Local History Room. Although his health presently keeps him from attending meetings, but the club knows he is present in spirit.

The club voted to have an additional meeting this spring. This is an experiment for future meetings. We will meet May 27, at 1 p.m. in the Local History Room. A plus for holding a May meeting is that the May and August issues of Dickinson Diggings can be distributed to members in attendance, saving some postage. Current postal rates are $1.22 per issue.

Meeting adjourned at 1:52 p.m.

Al Cerasoli told about growing up in Iron Mountain. He talked about the rivalry between the "Downtown Dagos" and the "North Side Italians". The division seemed to be mostly among the boys, not carrying over to the girls. "The Pit" (Chapin Pit) was the dividing line and a boy was taking somewhat of a risk to cross it – either way. The road to acceptance appeared to be directly tied to taking his lumps or his skill in sports, music, hobbies, etc.

Al then showed us a CD of his trip to Capestrano, located in the "boot" of Italy. The town was the birthplace of his grandfather, Alfonso Cerasoli, and his grandmother, Bambina (Fontecchio) Cerasoli, who immigrated to Iron Mountain, Michigan, in 1898. His photography and narration were most interesting.

The camera is facing north on Stephenson Avenue in the mid-1880's in this view of the east side of the 200 block where the First National Bank is now located. William H. Jenkins opened his hotel at the corner of South Stephenson Avenue and East Ludington Street in early November, 1881. The three-story frame hotel was considered the city's finest, rooms renting for $2.00 per day in 1885. While preparing to construct a two-story brick business block on this corner which would house a number of businesses and the First National Bank, John R. Wood purchased the hotel in early February, 1888. Desiring only the property, Wood moved the hotel to the west side of Iron Mountain Street across from the present Dickinson County Library in June, 1888. A sale to Peter Ouderkirk, who planned to re-open the hotel as the Metropolitan House, was pending when the hotel burned to the ground on July 5, 1888. The fire was thought to have been caused by a Fourth of July rocket. Although Ouderkirk had moved a considerable amount of furniture into the hotel building, the property hadn't changed hands because Wood still had to link the two parts of the building together. As neither man was insured, both lost heavily. A fire broke out at the other end of the 200 block of Stephenson Avenue on January 21, 1883, resulting in considerable losses to businesses located there. The January 27, 1883, edition of The Florence Mining News reported: The fire began in the upper story of Oliver & Penglase's saloon building, occupied by Mrs. Hartman, a widow lady, as a boarding house, and was caused by the fall and explosion of a lamp. Despite all efforts against it, the flames soon enveloped the building, and spread to the adjoining places, which were Laing Bros. meat market, Wm. Andrew's clothing store, William Parent's saloon, and the confectionery store owned by an old man commonly known as "The Old Dutchman," and they were all destroyed together with their contents...It was expected that Charley Ross's saloon, Philbrooks' [sic - Philbrook's] and Parent's stores, and Jenkins' hotel, situated in the same block, would also be destroyed, and all were speedily emptied of their contents, with the exception of the store of Philbrooks, the proprietor locking the door and preferring to trust his stock to the mercy of fire rather than to that of thieves. Much of C.M. Parent's stock was stolen, while Ross misses ten boxes of cigars and a keg of beer. The fourth building from the corner in this photograph, advertising dry goods and clothing, was probably Charles E. Parent's store. [Menominee Range Historical Museum]

HORACE A. TUTTLE, general manager of the Commonwealth Iron Company, was born in Cleveland, Ohio, July 17, 1851; obtained a liberal education, and, at the age of seventeen, entered the banking house of E.J. Farmer & Co., of Cleveland; remained in the bank one year, and then entered the employ of H.B. Tuttle & Co., of the same city, commission dealers in iron ore and pig iron; remained as a clerk for three years, at the end of which time was admitted as a general partner January 1, 1873, at the age of twenty-two. This co-partnership continued until the death of his father April 9, 1878. The business was carried on by the surviving partners, George H. Ely, F.L. Tuttle and H.A. Tuttle, until the fall of 1879, when F.L. Tuttle and H.A. Tuttle dissolved with Mr. Ely and succeeded to the business of the old firm, under the firm name of Tuttle & Co. The firm was in existence until January 1, 1880, when W.U. Masters was admitted to the firm, and the name changed to Tuttle, Masters & Co., which firm is now carrying on a general commission business in iron ore, pig iron, rail, copper, tin, lead, spelter and babbitt metal. This firm is now doing one of the largest commission businesses in the city of Cleveland, handling property each year to the amount of between three and four million dollars; besides this immense business, the company have [sic – has] other interests of various kinds, prominent among which is the interest in the Commonwealth Iron Company above mentioned. The land for the company was originally purchased by H.B. Tuttle, on minutes furnished by Col. Charles Whittlesey, of Cleveland, Ohio, who at that time was making a geological survey of this county. H.B. Tuttle associated with himself Col. Whittlesey and Mr. Harvey, of Cleveland, their interests finally passing to the sons. In 1878, Horace conceived the idea of exploring the lands, which, being agreed to by the other owners, the work was started, and, in June of that year, he came up here in company with H.D. Fisher, who was employed by them to sake [sic – take] charge of explorations on company lands. While carrying on this work, the ore was found on the site of the present workings. This work was carried on at an unusual cost, and to great disadvantage, as they were obliged at that time to travel or team their supplies from Menominee, Mich., ninety miles, through the woods. They were compelled to break and cut several miles of the road in order to reach the property. After the development of ore in the winter of 1876-77, this was put into a stock company of the above name, and H.A. Tuttle was chosen President of said company, and, in 1877, after an expenditure of about $10,000 in developments, induced the Chicago & North-Western Railway to join them in the expense of making a preliminary survey, with a view to the extension of the Menominee River Branch, which was that year being constructed to Quinnesec. This survey was made during the winter of 1877-78, and the extension to this section of the country was begun, and finished in 1880, in the fall of which year the company shipped the first ore, which, after a trial, was found to be a very acceptable ore to the trade. In 1881, the company operations were on a large scale, and, in that year, shipped to the market 98,000 tons of ore, and up to September 1, 1882, have mined and shipped 95,000 tons; the mine is now fully equipped with machinery and buildings, and enjoys the advantage of being well situated for handling its material cheaply; it is located in the midst of a very fine farming and hard-wood [sic – hardwood] country, and enjoys the reputation of being one of the largest and best managed mines of the Upper Peninsula. The company owns 3,700 acres in fee simple; the company is capitalized for $500,000, the stock of which sells at the rate of a million. The controlling interests in it are owned by F.L. Tuttle, A.H. Tuttle and H.A. Tuttle, principally by F.L. and H.A. The officers of the company are as follows: President, Alexander Nimick, of Pittsburgh, Penn.; Vice President, F.L. Tuttle, of Cleveland, Ohio; Secretary, William H. Harvey, of Cleveland, Ohio; Treasurer, F.L. Tuttle, of Cleveland, Ohio; General Manager, H.A. Tuttle, of Cleveland, Ohio. The work at the mine is under the direction of W.E. Dickinson, who enjoys the reputation of being one of the most competent mine superintendents on the Upper Peninsula, and, for many years, was connected with the New York Mine of Ishpeming. The company is just opening up a new mine, which, at the present state of development, promises to be one of the largest bodies of ore ever found in this region. The management has this year developed another course of ore two miles west of its present workings, which is of such grade as to admit it for use in the manufacture of iron for steel purposes. This vein is from fifteen to twenty feet wide, and is developed 350 feet in length on the surface. The company are [sic – is] now endeavoring to get an extension to this part of the property, so as to ship this ore the coming season. [Commonwealth, page 506]

Tuttle & Son, he gave great attention to the transportation of ore and its cost, which resulted in the evolution of the plan now almost universally practiced, and known as the steam barge consort system of handling freight. In 1868, in company with B.L. Penington, a prominent ship owner, the new plan was demonstrated by the building of the steam barge H.B. Tuttle, and her consort, the schooner George H. Ely. Although this was not the first pair, it was the first pair planned and constructed for the iron ore trade, and was the direct outcome of the original idea. He continued in business, and amassed a comfortable fortune until 1874, when, because of Jay Cooke's failure in 1873, he was compelled to give up business, since which time he has been engaged more or less with ore and iron; came to Corinth, Wis., in 1881, and engaged in his present business. In 1892, George S. Van Stone ran a photography studio with William Nerold at 100 East Ludington Street. By mid-November, 1895, Van Stone was making plans to leave for California, dating this photograph between the latter part of 1892 and 1895. Also listed in the 1892-1894 city directory were the Eagle Laundry at 104, and the American Express Company at 106 with John J. Doetsch serving as agent. Construction began on the Fisher Block, at 108-110, in late July, 1891.

At 100: M. Mortenson, another photographer, occupied the studio by 1902. Martin C. Hartwig worked as a coal and wood dealer here in 1907, and was still there in 1913. In 1925, Charles G. Kroll worked as a tailor here. By 1935, John J. Alleva ran the Northland Typewriter & Supply Company at this address.

At 104: Charles Wong, ran a laundry here by 1902. The Monitor Publishing Company with Claus Hanson serving as manager, published The Monitor, a Swedish language newspaper issued every Friday, at this location by 1907. Mrs. John (Elma) Jetty ran a confectionery store here by 1913. By 1925, Martin C. Hartwig operated his restaurant at this site. Tito Gioacchini ran a tavern here by 1935.

At 108: George Irving worked as superintendent of the Iron Mountain Electric Light and Power Company at this location by 1902. Berg Furniture Company, F.G. Berg, proprietor, operated a furniture and undertaking establishment here by 1907, with J.S. Smith working as the undertaker. By 1913 John Bond had a furniture store at this address. Godfrey Johnson managed the Gately-Wiggins Furniture Company at this location by 1925. The Iron Mountain Home Furniture Company (Theodore C. Moroni, president; Rueben A. Bennett, secretary-treasurer) was here by 1935.

At 110: The Commercial Bank was housed in the Fisher Block from 1892 until December 21, 1929, when its new building on the the 500 block of South Stephenson Avenue was officially dedicated. In the 1892-1894 city directory no distinction was made between 108 and 110. George J. Dehn and James W. Stutts advertised from this address as "sanitary plumbers, steam and gas fitters, hot water and hot air heating apparatus furnishers, sheet iron workers and sewer contractors." They dealt in gas, electric and combination fixtures and plumbers' supplies. The Iron Mountain Water Works had an office in the Fisher Block at this time. Bond & Gill, the dealers in carpets, wall paper, paints, etc., moved into the store in the Fisher Block formerly occupied by Druggist Stoekly on October 1, 1899. John Bond still shared space with the bank for his furniture and carpet store in 1913. Tom A. Hanna owned and edited the Iron Mountain Press at this address between 1902 and 1913. John Obermeyer also ran his plumbing and heating company from the basement of this building by 1907. [Don Khoury Photo]

THE BUILDINGS AT 104-110 EAST LUDINGTON STREET IN 1892-1895

Compiled by William J. Cummings

Rumors were spreading in Florence, Wisconsin, on Saturday, June 27, 1891, that Hiram D. Fisher, prominent businessman there, was going to build a $20,000 brick store building on Stephenson Avenue in Iron Mountain that summer. According to The Florence Mining News published that day the structure would be three stories high and "one of the handsomest and most substantial business blocks ever erected in Dickinson County."

The rumor was confirmed in an article appearing in The Dickinson County Journal shortly thereafter. However, the building was to be constructed on property leased from the Chicago & Northwestern Railway on East Ludington Street, not Stephenson Avenue. Architect J.E. Clancy, of Iron Mountain, had been engaged to draw up plans for the structure, a "magnificent three story and basement block, either of stone or brick, sixty feet frontage on Ludington Street and 108 feet deep." Other investors were said to be Edward J. Ingram, a druggist, and A.D. Stiles, an agent for the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, both of Iron Mountain. Oliver Evans, assistant cashier of the First National Bank and son-in-law of Hiram D. Fisher, was the third investor in the business block instead of A.D. Stiles.

The property was located opposite the Iron Mountain Fire Department's Engine House No. 1 and Arthur Flatt's news stand.

Final plans called for a large basement under the entire building. The first floor had two "store rooms," while the second floor was divided into offices, each supplied with a fire-proof vault. The third floor was divided into two large halls provided with reception rooms well adapted for "secret societies" or fraternal lodges.

Webb & Smith (William C. Webb and E.S. Smith) were awarded the contract for the basement and began excavation July 31, 1891. The stone foundation was nearing completion by the end of August. Joseph LeMieux won the contract for the building in early September with a low bid of $15,250 and construction began by the middle of the month. The building was to be completed by December 15. The joists for the first floor were all in place by September 24. George Alexander was awarded the contract for laying the brick. By December 10 Dehn & Stutts (George J. Dehn and James W. Stutts), steam heating contractors, were nearly finished installing the heating plant. The cornice was also nearly completed by that date, and hardwood floors were being laid. Contractor Joseph LeMieux thought that the block would be ready for tenants by the first of the year at the very latest.

An article in the November 12, 1891 edition of The Iron Range, Iron Mountain's leading newspaper at the time, pointed out there was "no difficulty in renting good store rooms in this city. Every store room is rented." John R. Wood's Sandstone Block at 206-216 East Ludington Street, the Robbins Block (Albert E. Robbins) at 217-219 East Hughitt Street, the Eskil Block (Jorgen J. Eskil) at 215 East Hughitt Street, the Spencer Block (John T. Spencer) at 118-122 West B Street and the Anderson building (address undetermined at present) all were new constructions in 1891 and had spaces for tenants.

The first tenant for the Fisher Block, Dr. William Hutchinson, was mentioned in The Iron Range on November 12, 1891. He had been associated with Dr. John D. Cameron and Dr. Joseph Addison Crowell, but was setting up an independent practice at the time. On December 17, "according to good authority," a new furniture store was to occupy the west room and it seemed to be "an accepted fact" that a new bank would occupy the east room on the first floor. It was thought that the Iron Mountain City Council would transfer the offices of the city officials to the Fisher Block, and the Masonic Lodge and the Knights of Pythias were committed to occupy the third floor.

Tenants were moving in by early January, 1892. The December 31, 1891 edition of The Iron Range noted the Water Works Company's office was moved that day to Room 4 of Fisher's new block. A week later the same newspaper announced: Fisher's block is rapidly filling up. Cook & Pelham have three very large and pleasant office rooms on the second floor front, and the Water Works Company have equally pleasant ones across the hall. The register of deeds and county clerk also have their offices on the second floor. The offices of Hamlin & Fordyce, the Upper Peninsula Brewing Company and Detroit Building and Loan Association are rooms 2 and 3, on the first floor, entrance from the east side of the building. Jos. Lemieux also has his office in the building.

The Masonic Lodge and the Knights of Pythias rented the two fraternal lodge halls on the third story, and initially announced that on January 15, both halls would be opened to invited guests. The Knights of Pythias Hall had a hardwood floor, while the Masonic Hall was carpeted. Thus, during the reception, those wishing to dance would do so in the Knights of Pythias Hall, while vocal and instrumental music, card playing and a social time for those not dancing would occur in the Masonic Hall. A "grand banquet" was to be held in the banquet hall, and admission was to be reasonable, the proceeds going toward furnishing the banquet hall which was to be used in common by the two lodges.

The "housewarming" actually occurred on Friday, January 22, 1892, and was thoroughly reported by The Iron Range under the headline "A Grand Success" in its January 28, 1892 edition. The largest company that ever gathered in Iron Mountain was that which assembled in the Masonic and Knights of Pythias halls last Friday evening. Besides our own people there were delegations from Norway, Florence and other range towns, and it is estimated that at least 500 people were present...In the early part of the evening the company was seated in the Masonic hall, and listened to some excellent vocal music...At the conclusion of this program supper was announced as being ready in the banquet room, and 125 couples sat down to the tables...After supper followed the dance in the K. of P. hall, and the excellent music and gentlemanly and careful attention of the floor managers made the occasion one of complete enjoyment to all present. It was within three hours of daylight when the last dance was finished and the tired but happy dancers prepared to go home. Nearly $250 was cleared, which will go toward furnishing the banquet hall and kitchen.

The newly-organized Commercial Bank opened for business on Saturday, March 12, 1892 with Oliver Evans serving as its first cashier, having severed his connection with the First National Bank.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Hiram D. Fisher, Oliver Evans and Edward J. Ingram purchased the 20-foot lot adjoining the property to the west of the Fisher Block. In an article in the December 24, 1891 edition of The Iron Range, a reporter speaking to Fisher learned he intended to erect a one-story, fireproof store building, 22 x 88 feet on the property just purchased in the spring. The frame building already on the lot was to be moved farther west and turned around to front on Ludington Street. The new brick building was located at 106 East Ludington Street. The American Express Company moved into the building in late July or early August, 1892. (This building was the one damaged by falling bricks from the Fisher Block on March 15, 1890 which then housed Joe Kmiec's café and the bus station.) The frame building was relocated at 104 East Ludington Street and was home to the Eagle Laundry.

At the county board of supervisors' meeting held in mid-October, 1894, it was voted to move the county offices from the Wood Sandstone Block to the Fisher Block, probably because the county paid $1,200 per year rent at the Wood Sandstone Block and Fisher offered a lease at $800 per year. The Knights of Pythias had vacated their quarters on the third floor, and that room was to be fitted up for the court room. Thus, the Fisher Block was, in effect, the second "court house" for the young Dickinson County. In order to make room for the county offices, Dr. J.A. Elmere moved his office downstairs in the Fisher Block to the rear of the Commercial Bank.

The Masonic Lodge (Iron Mountain Lodge, No. 388, F. and A.M.) moved from the Fisher Block at the end of March, 1895, having signed a 10-year lease to begin on April 1 with John Russell, who was building a 50-foot addition to his building at 100 East B Street to be utilized as a banquet room and kitchen. Robert Meyer had the contract for the addition.

Older area residents will remember the Fisher Block as the location of the Iron Mountain Home Furniture Company, and later Andreini's Appliance and Furniture Land annex.

MEMORIAL RECORD OF THE NORTHERN PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN, 1895
BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES FOR DICKINSON COUNTY AND IRON COUNTY

[Transcribed by William J. Cummings]

REV. HONORATUS BOURION, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Menominee, Michigan, was born in Lorraine, France, June 1, 1840. His parents, Francis and Margaret (Duroc) Bourion, were both natives of Lorraine, and both are now deceased. The father was by occupation an architect, and in 1830 was a Captain in the National Guards. In their family were seven children, six of whom are living, namely: Josephine, a resident of Colorado; Leonora, also of Colorado; Adelaide, Negaunee, Michigan; the subject of this sketch, and Edward and Alcid, both of Ohio.

When he was seven years of age Mr. Bourion was sent to Paris to be educated, and remained there until he attained his majority. He then came to America and that same year, 1861, was ordained at Sault de Sainte Marie by Bishop Baraga, now deceased. Immediately after his ordination he was sent to Negaunee to organize that parish. He was the first priest at that place and remained there eleven years, doing much effectual work. It was through his instrumentality that the first church at Negaunee was built; and he not only thoroughly organized that church, but he also established Catholic churches at Ishpeming and Clarksburg, Michigan, his work covering a large field and being attended with no little difficulty. In 1872 Rev. Bourion went still further west and settled in Central City, Colorado, where he spent six years, during that time building a church and academy there. In the meantime his youngest brother was ordained a priest at Paris, France, for the diocese of Cincinnati, Ohio, and our subject was induced to meet his brother in Cincinnati. Soon after his arrival in Ohio, he accepted a position as pastor at Bellefontaine, that State, and remained there twelve years. While in that city he repaired the church and built a brick schoolhouse. He was then called by the bishop of this diocese to his old field of labor, and was assigned the work of dividing the congregation at Ishpeming, the French from the English, remaining at Ishpeming two years. This division satisfactorily completed, he was sent to Iron Mountain to do the same kind of work. At the latter place he made three congregations, — French, English and Italian — and remained in that city two years and a half. The bishops next, in 1893, sent him to take charge of the French congregation at Menominee, where he is now located. This church, St. Ann's, was organized in 1886, by Father Latelleir. Two other pastors, Rev. Rousseau and Rev. Pelisson, both now deceased, served the charge previous to the advent of Rev. Bourion. The church property is valued at $30,000, and the congregation is the largest in the city, no less than 500 families being represented in it. There is a parochial school in connection with the church, taught by the Sisters of St. Agnes, three teachers being employed. During his residence here, Rev. Bourion has liquidated the church debt. He himself has $25,000 invested in church property.

Besides his regular pastorate work, Rev. Bourion is laboring in other fields. He is Bishop's Consulter, Attorney General of the Diocese, Examiner of the Clergy, and Dean of the counties of Menominee and Dickinson. He is also a writer of some note, frequently furnishing valuable articles for publication. While in Ohio, he made a speech in favor of pensioning every soldier who was honorably discharged. This speech met with great favor, a copy of it was sent to Washington, District of Columbia, and he had the pleasure of receiving the thanks of Congress for the same. [pages 257-258]

A.J. [ANDREW JACKSON] BOYINGTON, proprietor of the Boyington Hotel, Iron River, Michigan, is one of the popular and well-known landlords in this section of the country. By his excellent business ability, his genial hospitality and his many estimable traits of character, he is especially fitted for the business in which he is engaged. Some personal mention of his life is appropriate here, and is as follows:

A.J. Boyington was born in Belfast township, Allegany county, New York, September 30, 1841. His parents, Asahel and Esther (Sanford) Boyington, both natives of Vermont, were married in New York State and for a time lived in Allegany county. In 1842 they came west to Wisconsin and located in Jefferson county. The father was by trade a stone-mason and bricklayer. He helped to build the first brick block erected in the now prosperous city of St. Paul. He lived to the advanced age of eighty-three years, and his good wife lived to a still greater age, she being ninety-four at the time of her death. They had a family of five sons and four daughters, all of whom are living. All of the sons were in the Civil war. The subject of our sketch is the youngest son and next to the youngest of the family. He was about a year old at the time of their removal west, and in Wisconsin he was reared, receiving his education in the common schools. He remained at home until he was eighteen years of age, when he bought his time, paying his father $200 for the same.

When the great war between the North and the South came on, our young friend had not yet attained his majority, but he was one of the first to enter the ranks which went out in protection of the Union. He enlisted in 1861, at White Water [sic — Whitewater], Wisconsin, in Company H, Thirteenth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, as a private, and with his command went South, where he participated in many of the principal engagements of the war. In 1864 he veteranized in the same company and regiment. November 2, 1864, while near Huntsville, Alabama, he had the misfortune to lose his left arm, it being shot off by a bushwhacker. He was then in hospital for some time. After receiving an honorable discharge from the service, he returned to his home in Jefferson county, Wisconsin.

The war over, Mr. Boyington engaged in farming in Jefferson county, and was thus occupied for two years. In 1868 he bought a hotel in Hebron, Wisconsin, which he ran until 1870 and then sold it. About 1872 he went to Montana, where for three years he was engaged in prospecting for gold, returning to Wisconsin in 1875. He was married in 1875 and that same year located in Menominee, Michigan, where he engaged in business and where he resided for a period of eight years. In 1883 he made another move, this time to the far West, and for one year made his home in Seattle, Washington. At the end of that time he returned to Menominee; went shortly afterward to Iron Mountain, being one of the first settlers in the town and remaining there three years; and his next and last move was to Iron River. Here he built a large hotel, which soon after went up in flame, and, it being uninsured, he was left heavily in debt. He was not discouraged, however, and with renewed energy he set about the work of rebuilding his hotel, determined to liquidate all claims and again secure a sure footing. In his efforts to do this he has met with signal [sic - singular] success. To-day [sic - Today] he owns a fine hotel, comprising forty-five rooms, furnished and equipped throughout in first-class style; has in connection with his hotel a livery establishment; and also owns a farm of 160 acres, eight acres of which are improved, and he is not in debt to any one [sic - anyone].

Mr. Boyington was married in 1875 to Miss Lefa Wait, a native of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, and they have one son, Philip L., at home.

A veteran of the late war, Mr. Boyington is, of course, a member of the G.A.R., his membership being in Lyon Post, in Menominee, Michigan. [pages 477-478]

E.F. [ELWIN FAYETTE] BROWN, superintendent of the Pewabic mine, and a resident of Iron Mountain, Michigan, dates his birth in Washington county, New York, August 23, 1861. He is a son of O.F. Brown, also a native of that county and by occupation a farmer, and grandson of William D. Brown, who was born in Ireland and came with his parents to this country when a child. O.F. Brown married Miss Frances Brown, a native of Vermont and a daughter of Gardner Brown, also a native of the Green Mountain State. They became the parents of two children, E.F. and Permelia. Miss Permelia Brown is now one of the popular and successful teachers of Iron Mountain.

Mr. E.F. Brown spent the first sixteen years of his life at his native place, receiving his education in the common schools. In 1879 he came West to Marinette, Wisconsin, and for one year was employed as clerk in a general store at that place. The following year he came to the Menominee Range, as clerk of the East Vulcan mine, at Vulcan, Michigan. He was in charge of the surface and explorations of this mine from 1881 until the spring of 1887, and in 1887 was appointed superintendent of the Pewabic mine, which position he has since held. During the past year (1894) 674 men were employed at this mine, and the amount of iron ore mined was 304,009 tons - the largest output of all mines in the range. Mr. Brown is also superintendent of the Keel Ridge mine, which however is now closed. This mine is located one mile east of the Pewabic mine.

Mr. Brown was married March 9, 1887, to Miss Emma Hasking, a native of Michigan and a daughter of William T. and Elizabeth Hasking. They have four daughters, namely: Muriel, Ione, Lucille and Elizabeth.

Politically, Mr. Brown affiliates with the Democratic party. During 1886 and '87 he served as Supervisor of the township of Norway, that being before the town was organized, and for four years he has served as Alderman of the city of Iron Mountain, representing the Fourth ward. In Masonic circles he is prominent and active. He is Past Master of Quinnesec Lodge, No. 362, and is also a member of Iron Mountain Chapter and Hugh McCurdy Commandery, F. & A.M. As an enterprising and public-spirited man he ranks with the leading citizens of Iron Mountain. [pages 258-259]

W.J. BROWN, Clerk of Iron county, was born in Greenville, Lower Canada, July 11, 1857, a son of John and Luisa (Engelson) Brown, natives also of that place, the former of English and Irish descent, and the latter of English descent. They now reside near Green Bay, Wisconsin. Their twelve children, nine sons and three daughters, are all living, and the youngest is now nineteen years of age.

W.J. Brown, the eldest son and the third child in the above family, moved with his parents to Green Bay, Wisconsin, when twelve years of age. In 1876 he suffered the loss of his left limb in a sawmill, and he then taught school in Wisconsin for three years. Locating in Iron River, Michigan, in 1882, Mr. Brown embarked in the mercantile business, but one year afterward he became a real-estate dealer. In 1885 he was appointed Probate Judge of Iron county, continuing in that position until January 1, 1887, and during that time he also served as Justice of the Peace and in other minor offices. He was re-elected Probate Judge in the fall of 1889, and held that office for the following four years. He was then made County Clerk, and re-elected to the position in 1894. In political matters, Mr. Brown is a staunch [sic - staunch] Republican, and is one of the most active and influential workers for his party in the county.

He was married in 1889, to Susan, a daughter of August Wallin, of Swedish descent. They have two children, - Mabel L. and William A. In his social relations, Mr. Brown is a member of the K. of P. and the A.O.U.W. [pages 635-636]

RICHARD C. BROWNING, County Clerk of Dickinson county, Michigan, is one of the highly respected citizens of Norway.

Mr. Browning was born in Cornwall, England, and was reared and educated there. His father, James Browning, a native of Devonshire, England, and a miner by occupation, came to America many years ago and was mining boss in the Norway mine. Richard C. attended school until he was fifteen years of age. Then he accepted a position as bookkeeper in the wholesale and retail store of Bullen Brothers, at Truro, in Cornwall, where he remained until 1881, the time of his coming to America. After a sojourn of six weeks with his sister in Dover, New Jersey, he came west to Michigan and secured employment in the mining camps at Norway. Later he served as night timekeeper for the Menominee Mining Company, next as assistant bookkeeper in their office, then as cashier of their store at Quinnesec, and finally was made general bookkeeper at Norway, in which latter position he served until November, 1891, when he resigned. Nine months previous to this time he had formed a partnership with C.A. Lindahl and J.E. Anderson, under the firm name of Browning, Lindahl & Company, for the purpose of conducting a general merchandise business, and in this they have since continued, their operations being attended with success. Mr. Browning was one of the organizers of the Norway Banking Company, which afterward sold out to the First National Bank of Iron Mountain.

Fraternally, he is identified with the F. & A.M. and the I.O.O.F., and he is also a member of the William Pitt Lodge, Sons of St. George. Politically, he is in harmony with the principles advocated by the Republican party. He is now serving his second term as County Clerk, in this position, as elsewhere, his service being characterized by strict fidelity.

Mr. Browning was married in August, 1890, to Miss Emma Hosking, and they have three children. [page 220]

J.W. [JAMES W.] BURBANK, Commander of the G.A.R. Post, of Iron Mountain, was born in Albany, New York, June 30, 1846. His father, Robert G. Burbank, was a native of Massachusetts, was a piano-maker by trade, and followed that occupation for Boardman & Gray, of Albany, New York. The mother of our subject, nee Mary Ann Silverd, was a native of Montpelier, Vermont. They were the parents of six children, namely: Edward S., Albina D., Joseph W., Robert C., Sidney (deceased), and Emily (deceased).

J.W. Burbank, the subject of this sketch, remained in his native city until six years of age, when he was adopted by his uncle, Joseph Ward, of Randolph, Columbia county, Wisconsin. In 1862, at the age of sixteen years, he enlisted as a drummer boy in Company H, Seventeenth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, and served three years and two months, receiving his discharge at Goldsborough, North Carolina. Mr. Burbank was taken sick at the battle of Corinth, Mississippi, was sent to Memphis, Tennessee, and two months afterward to St. Louis, where he remained until the capture of Vicksburg. Joining his regiment at Natchez, Mississippi, he participated in Sherman's march to the sea.

After returning from the war our subject resided in Albany until 1868, and then returned to his old home in Wisconsin, his uncle having died in the fall of 1861. In the spring of 1873 Mr. Burbank secured the position of clerk in the store of N. Ludington at Marquette, Wisconsin, and in the fall of 1880 was engaged by the same firm to run the Pembina Farm Hotel, located forty miles above the mouth of the Menominee river. From the fall of 1880 until the spring of 1882 he resided on his own farm at Stephenson, Michigan, was then engaged in the piano and organ business in Marquette until the spring of 1884, followed the sewing-machine business at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, until the fall of 1887, from that time until the fall of 1891 was employed as a traveling salesman, worked in a marble shop in Fond du Lac until July, 1892, and since that time has been engaged in the furniture and undertaking business in Iron Mountain.

Politically, Mr. Burbank allies himself with the Republican party. In his social relations, he has filled all the chairs in the G.A.R. post, and is now serving his third term as Commander of the P.

SOCIETY NOTES AND THE EDITOR'S CORNER

Thursday, May 27, 2010

DCGS met at the Dickinson County Library in the Local History Room at 1 p.m. with President Bill Cummings presiding. There were 19 members and 1 guest present.

Minutes for the April 22, 2010 meeting were approved as read. Treasurer Pamela Foster reported a beginning balance on April 22, 2010 of $2,297.26. After deposits and disbursements, the balance on May 27, 2010 was $2,575.76. This reflects a check for $324 received from the Family Search Library for copies of the Dickinson Diggings from 1981 to 1994. Pamela compiled and mailed them. The information will probably eventually be posted on their web site.

John and Pat Alquist were in attendance. John has contributed three more books for the reference room: Book of Jetty, Canada, 1830 (similar to Tanguay); Ships of Our Ancestors by Michael J. Anuta; and Dictionaire Genealogique Des Familles Du Quebec (Genealogical Dictionary of the Families of Quebec).

Meeting adjourned 1:30 p.m.

Larry Zipp shared his experience with the National Geographic Society and Waitt Family Foundation's Geneographic Project called "A Landmark Study of the Human Journey: Where Do You Come From? And How Did You Get to Where You Live Today?"

DNA studies suggest that all humans today descend from a group of African ancestors who, about 60,000 years ago, began a remarkable journey. The Project is seeking to chart new knowledge about the migratory history of the human species by using sophisticated laboratory and computer analysis of DNA contributed by hundreds of thousands of people from around the world.

Larry explained that it was a simple test to take. Using supplies from a kit, he swabbed his cheek twice and mailed it in. After a long wait, he received his results. Males do not test back very far. Females test back 10,000 years at least, and Larry's wife found out she was descended from Laplanders. Females test only the mother's side. Males test both father and mother. The information changes all the time because new persons are constantly added. Additional information is available to participants, such as inherited chances for certain diseases.

DCGS met at the Dickinson County Library in the Local History Room at 1 p.m. with President Bill Cummings presiding. There were 15 members and 7 guests present.

Minutes for the May 27, 2010 meeting were approved as read. Treasurer Pamela Foster reported a beginning balance on May 27, 2010 of $2,575.76. After deposits and disbursements, the balance on September 23, 2010 was $2,621.19.

Bill suggested transferring data from the cemetery readings done by the group years ago into a format which could be available on line. We could start with a small one, such as Foster City Cemetery.

Bill is compiling "A History of Iron Mountain's Business District from 1879 to 1935" encompassing the area from the Chapin Pit on the north to the Dickinson County Court House on the south, and Iron Mountain Street on the east and Carpenter Avenue on the west. Information regarding businesses is recorded by address in a block-by-block format, using city directories and other resources. Additional information includes fires which occurred in the business district over the years.

In conjunction with the above business history, a new Power Point covering the same topic entitled "Remnants of Early Downtown Iron Mountain" has been completed.

Meeting adjourned 1:20 p.m.

Vic Johnson, of Ventura, California, and Crystal Falls, presented a program called "Writing Memoirs: How to Record Your Own Unique History." He provided us with a printed guideline for memoir writing which includes such hints as:

1. Don't try to be perfect. Let your thoughts and words flow now. Make changes later.
2. Relax. Don't rush. Your life can't be written in a few hours.
3. Make an outline or list of things to be told in the story.
4. Be yourself. Don't be fancy.
5. Be sure, for genealogy concerns, that names, dates, and places are correct.
6. Identify categories for stories – age groups, life periods, schools, career, etc.
7. These companies print memoirs "on demand" for a fee: Iuniverse (www.iuniverse.com), Café Press (www.cafepress.com), or Lulu (www.lulu.com).

Thursday, October 28, 2010

DCGS met at the Dickinson County Library in the Main Reading Room at 1 p.m. with President Bill Cummings presiding. There were 14 members and 8 guests present.

Minutes for the September 23, 2010 meeting were approved. Treasurer Pamela Foster reported a beginning balance on September 23, 2010 of $2,621.19. As there was no activity, the balance on October 28, 2010 was $2,621.19, the same as September 23, 2010.

SOCIETY NOTES AND THE EDITOR'S CORNER

Bill again talked about transferring cemetery reading data into a format which could be obtained on line. Early cemeteries read by DCGS, such as the Foster City Cemetery and the Waucedah Cemetery, would be easy because they are small.

On September 28, Bill met with Marcus C. Robyns from the NMU Archives. Mr. Robyns was very enthusiastic about Bill's plan to make a lot of data and photos available on a free web site. In the near future there will be a dedicated website.

Miriam Belding, our current vice-president, is resigning at the end of her term. She has been a hard-working, dedicated officer. Nominations were sought. Kay Palmcook was nominated.

Pamela Foster was re-nominated for the position of treasurer. The terms for both offices are 2011 and 2012.

Meeting adjourned at 1:20 p.m.

Bill Cummings presented Remnants of Early Downtown Iron Mountain which showed current buildings, some up to 120 years old, historic photos from a variety of eras of downtown and a good deal of historic data. The Power Point was too lengthy to be shown in its entirety. It will be available on line on the Dickinson County Library's website, and may also be on the Main Street website.

Shirley Nelson, Secretary

In this issue of Dickinson Diggings a new biographical series will begin, featuring biographical sketches of individuals who lived on the Menominee Range (Dickinson County, Michigan; Iron County, Michigan; Florence County, Wisconsin) taken from the Memorial Record of the Northern Peninsula of Michigan, published in Chicago by the Lewis Publishing Company in 1895. This is one of the volumes appearing in the annotated bibliography, a portion of which is also contained in this issue of Dickinson Diggings.

The annotated bibliography currently contains 55 pages, and includes information regarding Iron County, and Florence County, Wisconsin, as well as Dickinson County. The series should be completed in the quarterlies for 2011. Hopefully the information contained in the bibliography will assist both genealogists and historians in locating information regarding the Upper Peninsula in general, as well as the Menominee Iron Range and the counties mentioned above.

The biographical sketches in various volumes have been expanded to include areas of residence in the Upper Peninsula, and those containing areas within the Menominee Range are italicized.

Two Power Point presentations are now available on the Dickinson County Library's website: www.dcl-lib.org under Local History and Genealogy. The first, Glimpses of Early Dickinson County, completed in March, 2004, consists of 155 slides, and contains the following information: the evolution Michigan from the Northwest Territory to Dickinson County; the Indians living in the Dickinson County area; the building of the railroad which opened up the mining industry; the mining industry; the logging and lumbering industries, and settlements in the various townships, including Breen, Breitung, Felch, Norway Sagola, Waucedah and West Branch; and the cities of Iron Mountain and Norway.

The second Power Point presentation, Remnants of Early Downtown Iron Mountain, consisting of 269 slides, was just completed in October, 2010. It contains expanded information from an architectural walking tour the Iron Mountain Main Street Design Committee developed over the past several years. Photographs taken in August, 2010, showing some of the remaining historic buildings in downtown Iron Mountain, are included, and many historic photographs dating from the early 1880's through the early 1960's show Iron Mountain's commercial district at various stages of development.

The walking tour and the Power Point presentation begin at the Chapin Pit, travel south along the east side of South Stephenson Avenue, branching off at each cross street on the 200 block which intersects with Iron Mountain Street until reaching the Dickinson County Court House on the 700 block of South Stephenson Avenue.

The tour and Power Point presentation then continue, traveling north on South Stephenson Avenue, branching off at each cross street beginning with the 100 block of East B Street and the 100 block of West B Street which intersects with Carpenter Avenue, continuing back to the Chapin Pit.

There is extensive information about the various businesses which formed Iron Mountain's commercial district over the decades, as well as documentation regarding numerous fires and other significant happenings.

A more comprehensive history of the downtown area has been developed over the past year which includes detailed information block by block, street by street, and address by address, presently containing 231 pages...and growing! This document will be available at the Dickinson County Library, and will prove useful to genealogists and researchers. It is an important tool for the Iron Mountain Main Street Design Committee in helping current businesses gain historical perspective about the building and/or site they occupy today, hopefully increasing awareness and a desire to preserve and restore historic properties.

Don't forget to renew your membership for 2011.
