Generations

The Journal of the New Brunswick Genealogical Society

Editor: George H. Hayward
Queries Editor: Betty Saunders

Generations is published quarterly in Fredericton, N.B., by the New Brunswick Genealogical Society, and is distributed to all its members in Canada, the United States and overseas. The Society also publishes books related to genealogy and sponsors periodic seminars.

Generations is made up almost entirely of articles contributed by members, and the society encourages submissions that deal with genealogy and family history.

Contributors are urged to have articles for publication typed. Text that is typed into a computer word processor and submitted on a diskette is preferred. 5¼" or 3½" disks, double or high density are fine, and any DOS or Windows word processor will do. Contributors who cannot provide text on a diskette are asked to use white paper 8½ x 11 inches, and a good quality black ribbon for typewriters and dot matrix or daisy wheel printers. Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to publish material owned by others.

The editors of Generations reserve the right to edit all contributions, for form, grammar and to shorten articles to fit available space. Excepted are articles reprinted with permission. Articles that are edited will be returned to the contributor for approval.

Generations goes to the printer Feb. 15, May 15, Aug 15 and Nov 15. Items for publication must reach the editor at least 5 days earlier.

1997 Membership Fees are: Capital, Carleton, Miramichi, Southeastern and Victoria Co. Branches, and NBGS, $20.00; Charlotte Co. Branch, $23.00; Restigouche Co. Branch, $26.00; and Saint John Branch, $25.00, for individual members. Membership fees are for a calendar year. Those joining or renewing late in the year will receive back issues of Generations for that year.

The New Brunswick Genealogical Society does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of articles, data, book reviews, notices, advertisements, or source material and services, or any material printed in Generations. Errors, and opinions expressed, are solely the responsibility of contributors.

Send contributions to Generations, letters to the Editor, and other correspondence to:

From the Editor's Desk

In this issue there is a 1997 Membership Enrolment Form on page 63. Turn the page and read the paragraph on page 64, then cut the Enrolment Form out (or photocopy it), complete it and mail it to the Branch of your choice. Those of you who renew by mid-January will receive the Spring 1997 issue of Generations at the beginning of March. Those who renew later than that may not receive the Spring issue until the beginning of June, when it will arrive with the Summer issue.

I toyed with the notion of inserting another survey sheet in this issue. It is useful for me to know what members would like to read in their journal. However, I know that some of you are not favourably inclined toward completing survey forms, so I decided not to include one. But I hope that some of you will write and let us know what you like and don't like. We might not be able to act on every individual suggestion, but if we get a number of similar requests it will set us to thinking about how we might be able to satisfy that request.

Commencing on page 52 I have published a few comments about Generations that were received this summer and fall from members. I also received a letter from the reference librarian for the Widener and Lamont Libraries, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. He said he was editing a chapter on genealogy magazines for the ninth edition of Magazines for Libraries (N.Y.: R.R Bowker), a purchasing guide for libraries and laypersons. He wants to consider including Generations in the next edition, with full bibliographical information, plus a 100 to 150 word evaluation and descriptive annotation. It will be interesting to see how a Harvard reference librarian evaluates our journal.

The fall colours have come and gone up here in the north east, and they were brilliant this year. We had a light snowfall at the beginning of November, and we know there will be more shortly. The Great Storm King may swoop down from the north at any time now, as he has been doing from time immemorial. There are those who flee to southern climes about this time of year, but I won't be one of them. I will be working on the Spring issue in January and early February, with the thermostat turned up to about 22°C, and by the time it reaches you at the beginning of March winter will be waning and the best season of the year will be approaching.

I hope all of you have a Happy Holiday Season, and I wish you health and happiness in 1997.

History of the old Intercolonial Railway

From the Kings County Record, 12 Mar 1926

contributed by Gerald A. Bell

Editor's note: This article recalls the coming of the railroad, with great smoke belching steam engines, to Atlantic Canada. Railroading was a way of life for many of our ancestors in the latter part of the 1800's and for most of the 1900's. Today there are no passenger trains in New Brunswick, and freight trains enjoy a dwindling share of the business of transporting goods.

R.W. Simpson, Assistant General Manager, Atlantic Region, Canadian National Railway, delivered the following address recently on the history of the Intercolonial Railway. It was broadcast from CNRA.

The Address

I have been asked to make a few remarks in connection with the early history of the Intercolonial railway. The subject is such a large one that no details can be given and I do not think I can do better than use as a basis for my remarks an article prepared by Mr. David Pottinger, first general manager of the railway, who rose from the ranks and was located at Moncton, and which was published in a Halifax paper under date of September 30, 1922.

The project of an Intercolonial Railway dates back to 1832, two years after the opening in Britain of the first railway that ran from Manchester to Liverpool. From that time until the Confederation period, the subject had been discussed at frequent intervals by correspondence, conferences and delegations between the governments of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Upper Canada and Lower Canada, and the British Government, with a view to the construction of such a railway from the Atlantic coast to the River St. Lawrence, but the great expense and the difficulty of getting all the parties to agree, prevented accomplishment.

However, they resulted in surveys being made, which showed that the construction of such a railway was possible, and that there were several routes which might be used. In 1836 the British Government assisted in making a survey from Point Levis, opposite Quebec, to St. Andrews, N.B., and other surveys were made between the St. Lawrence River and Halifax by the Royal Engineers, from 1846 to 1848.

The provinces soon after turned their attention to the construction of railways on its own account, and independently of the others, and for its development, with the intention, however, that these railways should form parts of the larger scheme.

New Brunswick commenced the European and North American Railway in 1853, and completed it from Saint John to Point du Chene in 1860, and extended it eastward to the boundary of Nova Scotia in 1870. Nova Scotia commenced the Nova Scotia Railway in 1854, completed it to Truro and to Windsor in 1858, and extended it from Truro to Pictou Landing in 1867.

In 1864 and 1865 a survey was made on a line from Truro to Riviere du Loup to connect the Grand Trunk Railway at the latter place with the European and North American, and the Nova Scotia Railway. Then came the negotiations for the Confederation of the provinces of Canada. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and the construction of the Intercolonial Railway from Truro to Riviere du Loup was made one of the conditions of the Confederation.

The work of constructing this line was commenced July 1, 1867, and the first division to be opened was that from Truro to Amherst on November 9, 1872.

The next division opened was the connection with the Grand Trunk at Riviere du Loup and extending eastward to St. Flavie, now called Mont Joli, in August, 1874.

In November, 1875, the division from Moncton to Campbellton was opened, and on July 1, 1876, the division from Campbellton to St. Flavie was opened, completing railway connection between Quebec, St. John and Halifax.

The Most Persistent

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were the most persistent of the provinces in urging the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, and if all the expectations of these provinces as to the benefits to be derived from it have not been quite fully realized, it has certainly aided very greatly their development, and it justified, during the great war, the argument used by its advocates that it would be useful as a military road.

The Nova Scotia Railway was constructed under a board of commission appointed by the Provincial Government. The work of construction was done by contract. The officials of the railway and most of the men at first employed in operating it had been employed on British railways, and therefore had experience. A good many of the details and methods employed were similar to those used on British railways.

The locomotives were of the American type, but had plate iron furnaces. They were built in Glasgow, Scotland. The first class passenger cars were built in Worcester, Mass. The train conductors had blue uniforms with brass buttons, long frock coats, entirely buttoned up in front, and a black leather waist belt. Each had a small black leather satchel to hold his ticket punch and tickets, suspended over his shoulder by a strap, and around his neck he had a silver chain with a whistle attached. The whistle was used to signal to the engineer the movements of the train, and the engineer replied with his locomotive whistle. For many years wood was the only fuel used in the locomotives, and for heating the passenger cars, and it was necessary for the train to stop about every 20 minutes so that the tender might be loaded up with wood.

No Telegraph Lines

In the early years up to 1859 there were no telegraph lines in use on the railways, and when a train arrived at a meeting point it had to remain there until the other train arrived, or until a messenger was sent to it on foot or by team with an order.

During the years of construction the railway was opened for traffic in short sections as each was completed, first Halifax to Bedford, then to Grand Lake, and so on. In this way there came into general use a traffic called "Horse and Wagon Traffic" which it was found difficult to abolish when the necessity of it had passed away by the completion of the railway from Truro to Windsor.

Before the advent of the railway, the supply of country produce for Halifax was brought to the city from Windsor road and the Truro road by the teams of farmers and others who came distances up to 40, 50, or 60 miles.

The Halifax railway station at Richmond was a long way from the center of the city. The railway authorities were anxious for business, and made low rates to induce these people to use their railway. Platform cars were provided for the wagons, and live stock cars, called "horse boxes" were provided for the horses. The teamsters were carried free in the second class cars. Scales were provided on which the loaded wagons were weighed.

When the train arrived at Richmond the wagons and the horses were unloaded and driven into the markets. In the afternoon the teams returned to Richmond, loaded with whatever goods had been received in exchange for the produce, or perhaps empty. They were again loaded on the train and returned to the starting point, where they were unloaded. They then drove to their homes.

At busy seasons, there would be trains of 10, 20 or more cars, loaded with wagons, closely packed together and tied with ropes.

When the railway was opened to Windsor and Truro, the officials desired to stop this traffic and carry the produce as freight in box cars, but great objection was made, as it would cost the farmers more, and they would have also the expense of cartage in Halifax. So the system was continued until 1867.

Steamer Connections

When the railway was opened to Windsor, a steamer was opened on the route between Saint John and Windsor, and the railway ran a train connecting with it. This was the passenger and freight route between Halifax and Saint John for some years.

To show the change which has taken place in the course of trade, the English goods landed from the British mail steamers at Halifax and destined for Saint John were an important part of the freight to Saint John by this route. They were carted from Cunard's wharf to Richmond by Fishwick's express, taken by rail to Windsor, and from there by steamer to Saint John.

The Intercolonial Railway was extended from Riviere du Loup to Levis by purchase and construction and the extended road opened for operation in 1897. No further extension was made of the Intercolonial until 1898, when the Drummondville County Railway from Chauherc to Ste-Rosalie Jct. was first leased and subsequently purchased, and connection made with the Grand Trunk Railway through to Montreal. This completed the Intercolonial Railway from Sydney, Halifax and Saint John in the east to Montreal, as, in the meantime, the line between Truro and Sydney had been opened up.

The Intercolonial Railway was subsequently merged with the Transcontinental Railway into the Canadian Government Railways, and the Canadian Government Railways were linked up and consolidated with the Canadian National Railways on December 1, 1918.

One unique feature of the Intercolonial Railway was the fact that its officials and employees had been drawn from the territory adjacent to the railway, and the officials, with few exceptions, having been promoted from the ranks.

The history of the Intercolonial Railway is almost contemporaneous with the history of railroading, and the changes which have taken place on this railway have been many and far-reaching, from the small type of wood burning locomotives to the present six thousand mountain type passenger locomotives, the largest in the British Empire.

Improvements

The changes and improvements in the mechanical equipment since the early days of the Intercolonial Railway may have been equaled by the many improvements in the car equipment looking to the safety and comfort of passengers. Vestibule cars have replaced the unprotected open platforms on the old rolling stock, steam heat with its control makes the cars comfortable in winter, in place of the old stove heated cars which only heated for a small radius the passengers located nearby; electric lights have replaced the Pintsch gas which in turn replaced the oil lamps of the original equipment, while fans in summer keep the cars deliciously cool even on the warmest day.

Many improvements have been made and nearly all having in view the safety of passengers and trainmen. A few of these are the use of the vacuum air brake instead of hand braking; the vacuum brake later being displaced by the Westinghouse automatic air brake. The use of the buffer and chain coupling instead of links and pins, and then the present day automatic car couplings. The use of automatic train signals, and where traffic is dense the providing of a second track.

The original gauge of the railway was five feet six inches, and this was changed in 1875 to the present standard gauge of four feet 8 1/2 inches. The Prince Edward Island Divisions of the Intercolonial was originally constructed of narrow gauge three feet six inches, and this is rapidly being changed to the standard gauge of four feet 8 1/2 inches.

Originally the communication between the mainland and Prince Edward Island was carried on by steamer between Point du Chene and Summerside, and between Pictou and Charlottetown. The present car-ferry service between Cape Tormentine and Borden was established in 1917.

In 1890 the Employee's Relief and Insurance Association was formed, and on April 1st, 1907 the Provident Fund was established. The late Mr. W. C. Paver was the first secretary of both.

In the year 1888 a fast run was made between Moncton and Campbellton, a distance of 168.68 miles, the run being made by the late locomotive engineer, U. Smith, with fireman Albert Woods, engine 163, in 3 hours, 39 minutes.

In 1905 another fast run was made by Engineer J.G. Stockford, who had as his fireman Mr. W. G. Atkinson, known over the whole of the Canadian National System, he being at present General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The run from Campbellton to Moncton was made in 3 hours and 47 minutes, with the Devirs Auction Show Company on a guarantee of one thousand dollars to bring them into Moncton on time.

Another fast run was made by the late Engineer W.E. Hunter, between Moncton and Saint John, a distance of 89 miles, in 96 minutes. Mr. John Henderson was the conductor on this train, and Thomas Townsend, now locomotive engineer on the Ocean Limited, was the fireman

Finally, let me say the standard of service has been bettered by the intelligent co-operation of all branches of employees, and for this I wish to thank the men and women in the service, of all grades, for after all mechanical devices and improvement in engine and car equipment that modern skill and ingenuity have made possible have been installed, it is primarily the intelligent co-operation of the human elements of the road that has made the Canadian National the equal of any Railroad on the continent from the standpoint of comfort to its ever-increasing complement of patrons. □

Donovan & Barrett Families of and around Renous

by Gerald McDonald

There were four Donovan families that settled in the Renous/Blackville area of Northumberland County, New Brunswick, in the early 1800's. The first of these families to arrive in Canada was Cornelius Donovan and Johanna Barrett (42 in the Blackville 1851 census). They arrived in 1818, and they are my Donovan ancestors.

The three other early Donovan families were:

1. Timothy Donovan and Ellen Barrett (40 Blackville 1851) - arrived in 1824. Their children included sons Michael T. who stayed in Renous and Jeremiah who moved to Stillwater, Minn. They also had a daughter Ann. Based only on their common surnames, this family is the one most likely related to Cornelius and Johanna; but no relationship has been established yet.
2. Michael Donovan and Ellen Butler (34 Blackville 1851) - arrived in 1831. They had 10 children including sons Michael and Timothy who both moved to Stillwater, and sons John and Cornelius who probably died at Renous.
3. John Donovan and Ann Walsh (7 Blackville 1851) - arrived in 1826 and 1831. They also had 10 children; most of whom were still likely in the Blackville area in 1881.

The following detail is provided on the above Cornelius Donovan and Johanna Barrett;

Cornelius Donovan, born c1793, and his wife Johanna Barrett, born c1798, arrived in Northumberland county in 1818 in the company of Thomas Barrett and his wife Mary Hallahan. They first settled at Pokemouche but had moved to Renous by 1834. Family tradition says that they came from county Limerick in Ireland. We have assumed that Johanna Barrett and Thomas Barrett were perhaps sister and brother; they were most certainly related. Cornelius and Johanna are thought to have been 3rd cousins.

Cornelius Donovan and Thomas Barrett filed a joint petition in 1821 for land along the Mink brook, which flows into the Pokemouche river. Cornelius later bought land on the Renous river by Deed #380, dated Dec 15, 1834. By this time he had a family of three boys and one girl. Thomas and Mary Barrett also moved to the Renous area.

Cornelius' family appears in the 1851 Northumberland census living in Blackville parish in a plank house (as opposed to a log house). He was listed as age 53 and his wife Johanna as age 50. His occupation was farmer. He also appeared in the 1861 census living with his wife, and their son and his family. This census incorrectly lists John's children as "John, Johanna, and Catherine", it should be "Johanna, Catherine and Cornelius". In that year, they had 26 acres of improved land and 80 acres of unimproved land, all valued at $760. They had 14 acres in hay, 7 acres in oats, and 1½ acres in potatoes; they also had 2 horses, 7 cattle, 8 sheep and 4 pigs. They had one hired hand.

Also, by 1861 their son Michael was married to Johanna Breen and was living on his own farm of 100 acres with his wife and six children; their daughter Mary was probably married; and their youngest son Cornelius had died six years earlier at age 25. Cornelius (the father) died Nov 14, 1867 at age 74. Johanna died Feb 5, 1875 at age 77. They are both buried in the old Renous cemetery.

Thomas Barrett died between 1851 and 1861, his wife Mary Hallahan died after 1861. They had at least one child, Patrick, who married Margaret Hayes and moved to Stillwater, Minn. in 1868.

Land Petition of Cornelius Donovan

Thomas Barrett and Cornelius Donovan who are natives of Ireland, whose present place of _____, is at Miramichi in Northumberland County most humbly sheweth that your excellency's petitioners are British subjects who the last two years have resided in said county of Northumberland and the preceding three years in Ireland - are married men with families of children - who heretofore have not received from governments any grant of lands in this province - and being desirous of settling themselves - prays to be allowed the grant of 300 acres of land each on the western side of Mink brook on the south side of Poemouch river in said county next to and adjoining to the lands applied for by Thomas Powers and others at that place - the said Mink brook discharges into Poemouch river nearly opposite to the center of the island, in that river; belonging to the lot no 22 in grant to Denys DeBoss - the said lands are in their natural state uncultivated - your petitioners are of circumstances forthwith to improve and cultivate the said lands - conformable to the royal instructions - and have not directly or indirectly bargained or agreed for the sale or transfer of the said lands to any person or persons whatsoever - and your excellency's petitioners in duty bound will ever pray -

3. John² C. Donovan (Cornelius¹) was born in December of 1827, before his parents settled in Renous, son of Cornelius and Johanna (Barrett) Donovan. He died 21 May 1890, at age 62, and was buried in the old Renous cemetery. We do not know exactly where he was born, but he was baptized at Nelson, N.B., 10 Feb 1828. Cornelius and Johanna may have had an earlier son John born 8 Jul 1820, but if so, he died young.

He married Ann O'Shea 28 Jul 1856, at age 28. She was born in 1834, and was of the Barnaby River area of Northumberland Co. She died in 1909, aged 74 yrs., and was buried beside her husband.

They raised their family of seven sons and four daughters on the paternal homestead in Renous. All of their children except Thomas remained in the Renous, Blackville, or Chatham areas. Thomas moved to Boston, Ma.

Aaron J. and Annie Donovan were both mild mannered and deeply religious people. Aaron and his sons Frank and Aaron B. lumbered in the winter and farmed in the summer. Annie and her daughters Josephine, Monica, Sadie, and Alvera, helped with the farmwork – planting potatoes, gardening, haying, and harvesting the crops. They had a store attached to their house, but did not operate it after they started their family. They had an ice cream parlor up over the store in the summer. Their home was destroyed by fire in March of 1950, and the house which now stands on the same spot was built by their son Aaron and his wife Theresa.

For those of you who have access to the World Wide Web and may not have discovered it yet, there is a useful database at <http://www.infospaceinc.com> that contains all of the listed white page telephone numbers in Canada and the United States. You can enter a person's name and place of residence, then select a province or state, or you can search for every Henry Shickelgrover in Canada or the United States. When the name is found you will receive the persons street address, postal/zip code and telephone number. In addition to the white page listings there are in the same database business listings, yellow pages, blue pages, fax listings, toll free numbers, and e-mail addresses. In this database you may be able to locate the address and telephone number for a long lost relative that moved away and has not been heard from in a while.

Rev. Frederick Dibblee's Register

Queensborough, York Co., N.B., 1792-1814

Transcribed by George H. Hayward

The Anglican register of christenings, marriages and burials of the Parishes of Woodstock, Northampton and Queensborough is one volume, divided into several sections. It was the register of Rev. Frederick Dibblee from 1791 to 1820, and the register of Rev. Samuel D. Lee Street from 1832 to 1839. This is a transcript of the fifth section, Queensborough (Queensbury, York Co.), baptisms, marriages and burials, 1792 to 1814. The arabic numeral preceeding the event (Bap., Md. or Bd.) in each record is the page on which the record can be found in the register, although its pages are not numbered. The records in the register were entered chronologically, but have been sorted alphabetically in this transcript, by the surname of the person named in the record. Marriages are listed twice here (but not in the original register), once under the groom's name and again under the bride's name, to simplify locating brides by their maiden name. Point de Bute Cemetery

Eldon Hay

This article is in honour of Mrs. Eva (Howard) Trueman, who died in January 1994. It was written by Professor Eldon Hay, Department of Religious Studies, Mount Allison University. From 1979 until 1989 he was weekend supply minister on the Point de Bute-Jolicure Pastoral Charge of the United Church.

Point de Bute Cemetery

The cemetery at Point de Bute is one of the oldest and most historic in New Brunswick. It was founded by Yorkshire settlers, and bears marks of that origin until the present day. This article commences with the original gift of land and outlines the history down to the present day, centring around additional gifts/purchases and other noteworthy events.

William and Jane Chapman 1788

For a nominal fee of five shillings, William and Jane Chapman gave an acre of land to John Wesley of London.¹ The deed is dated September 18, 1788. The land was "to be appropriated for a preaching house and burying ground," and is described as follows: "One acre of land Situated and laying in the County of Westmorland and Province of New Brunswick." At the other end, the cemetery fronted "on the main Road leading from Fort Cumberland to the Bay Verte."² The Trustees named were William Wells, Thomas Watson, Richard Lowerison, George Fokinther, William Trueman Jr., Stephen Read and James Metcalf: the name of the Rev. James Wray is also affixed to the deed.

There are a number of stories surrounding this original gift. George Trueman related that "William Chapman came from Hawnby, a beautiful hilly country on the high moor, some thirty miles from Helmsley."³ Clearly this was Methodist territory. "John Wesley spent some little time preaching in Yorkshire and gathered large numbers to his standard. In 1770 a small stone Wesleyan Church was built in Hawnby ... No doubt the Chapmans as well as many of the other Yorkshire families attended this Church."⁴

It is known that "William was 42 years of age when, with his wife [Mary], five sons and four daughters, he sailed from Hull on March 14, 1774, in the Albion."⁵ The crossing itself was no minor undertaking.⁶ In Cumberland, William Chapman "purchased a large block of land, near Point de Bute Corner, with the marsh adjoining, and settled at once on the property."⁷ Shortly after that time, William's wife Mary, and his five-year-old son, Jonathan, died. Subsequently William married Jane Thompson Carter, a widow.⁸

It was William and his wife Jane⁹ who gave the property on which the first chapel in New Brunswick was built,¹⁰ and which still serves as a burying ground. The cairn erected in the Point de Bute cemetery tells William Chapman's story briefly:

Henry Chapman – later Colonel Henry Chapman – who was seven years of age when William and Mary Chapman crossed on the "Albion," later succeeded his father on the farm at Point de Bute. Henry married Deborah Seaman, and it was their son Joseph who was the third Chapman to live on the farm. With Joseph Chapman, we come to another chapter in the story of the Point de Bute Cemetery.

Joseph and Mary Chapman ca. 1868

"Joseph Chapman, Esq., a grandson of William, gave an additional piece of land, and the whole ... comprises the cemetery [in 1902]."¹¹ The deed has never been found. Further pertinent information is supplied by George Trueman. Joseph was one of five brothers, "each measur[ing] six feet or over and all were well built in proportion and outstanding men ... Joseph and Stephen, were among the volunteers of the war of 1812; both lived to be over eighty years of age. Joseph Chapman was the third of the name to live on the old farm and it was he who greatly enlarged the old cemetery ... by donating a considerable piece of land and bringing the cemetery [largely] to its present dimensions [in 1925]."¹² I assume the addition was made at the back – to the west – of the original cemetery.

The gift must have been made between 1856 (when Colonel Henry Sr. deeded his land to his two sons, Henry, Jr. and Joseph), and 1880 – when Joseph Chapman died.¹³ The land originally purchased by William was to stay in the Chapman name until it was sold to John Robinson.¹⁴ The mention of John Robinson brings us to the third addition to the cemetery property.

John and Jane Robinson 1902

In the earliest pertinent minute book in existence, a meeting is reported on 20 October 1902; at which time it was "resolved that Rev. T[homas] Marshall be a committee to see Mr. Robinson about additional land for increasing the size of the Cemetery."¹⁵ Mr. Marshall must have worked quite quickly, for there is record of a deed by which John and Jane Robinson sold a piece of upland for twenty-five dollars to "the Trustees of the Graveyard of the Methodist Church, at Point de Bute" on the 29th of October, 1902.¹⁶

Further information about the transaction is recorded at a meeting of the Cemetery Board of Trustees on 6 April 1903. "The chairman [the Rev. Thomas Marshall, Superintendent of the Circuit] reported that an informal meeting was held on Oct 29th. 1902 at which Mr. Marshall reported that Mr. John Robinson had agreed to give a strip of land 14 feet wide the length of the Cemetery[:] at the Meeting it was also agreed to purchase from Mr Robinson for $25.00 a strip of land ____ feet back and the width of the Cemetery. On Motion the Board ratified the above arrangements and ordered the deed to be placed on record" (Minutes, 4). What seems to have happened is that John and Jane Robinson gave a 14' strip along the (north) side of the cemetery, and that they sold a strip of land of unknown width along the (west) back of the cemetery.

Gideon and Eliza Carter 1903

Gideon and Eliza Carter gave a piece of upland, for which they received a nominal fee of one dollar, to "the Trustees of the Graveyard of the Methodist Church at Point de Bute" on the 16th of November, 1903.¹⁷ The strip ran along the entire south side of the cemetery. The minutes of the Trustee Board speak of this matter: "The Committee reported that Gideon Carter had given a road on South west side of Cemetery the consideration being that the Trustees make the fence and pay $1.00 and give him a lot in Cemetery" (Minutes, 6). Though there are no stories attaching to it, this transaction is known in the collective memory of the community: John Carter, grandson of Gideon and Eliza Carter, was a long-time member of the Board.

It was not until 1958 that more land was added to the cemetery. Yet there is evidence to suggest that additional land was needed long before. In the minutes of 21 June 1921, we read that "on motion Alex Carter and Albert Colpitts were appointed to wait on Fred Robinson to see if he would sell us a strip of ground at the back of Cemetery" (Minutes, 12). Fred, the son of John and Jane Robinson, had succeeded his father on the Robinson farm. Another evidence of shortage of land is raised in the 11 May 1935 minutes. "W.A. Trueman and Arthur Trenholm reported that the trees in the Cemetery back of where the old church stood might be taken down and the ground used for lots. After some discussion it was decided the board should meet at the Cemetery and if thought best to have the trees removed the Committee in charge would proceed with the work" (Minutes, 17). There is no record of the board doing that, and no mention of the trees in the minutes of the next recorded meeting in May of 1937 (Minutes, 18). But I assume the trees were cut - alas!

Appeal for Cemetery Funds 1922

The minutes of the Cemetery Trustee Board are somewhat sparse; yet they do give us an idea of what was on the minds of members. Frequent mention is made of the ongoing work – filling up lots, cutting underbrush, fixing fences. Work parties were arranged for particular days. A reiterated theme is that lots have been unpaid for. There can be little doubt that the Trustee Board struggled financially. In 1921-22, the Board made a concerted effort to enlist a wider community in its efforts. A special letter was drawn up, printed, and distributed. This well-written letter, headed in bold black print "Re Point de Bute Cemetery"¹⁸ gives the state of the Cemetery at the time, mentions an existing cemetery plan,¹⁹ outlines the efforts to keep it in shape, and finally issues in an appeal for financial assistance, with the hopeful suggestions of a perpetual care fund. The letter is concluded by "William A. Trueman, Secretary Treasurer, Point de Bute Cemetery,

Point de Bute, N.B. July 5, 1922.²⁰

Three matters are to be noted. First, the cemetery which was established and run by the Methodist congregation (and its successor, the United Church),²¹ has been the final resting place of many nonMethodist folk.²² In that sense, it has been and is a community cemetery. Secondly, the letter indicates that persons had been buried in the cemetery since 1788, although existing records put the earliest burial there as 1797.²³ Thirdly, although the letter did not seem to result in an immediate financial gain, there can be little question that monetary gifts over the years have materially helped; moreover, the management of the cemetery, reinvigorated at that time, and persistently carried out, has resulted in the excellent cemetery at Point de Bute today.²⁴

The Memorial Archway 1925

Headed Methodist Memorial, an article in the 26 January 1925 issue of the Sackville Tribune read: "What meaneth these stones?" Someone clearly had the idea of erecting an archway which would pay tribute - first, to the building of the Methodist Church in 1788; secondly, the contribution of Yorkshire settlers to the region; thirdly, the missionary zeal of Rev. William Black. The spring of 1925 "would be a most fitting time to unveil such a monument." This was especially true since the Methodist Nova Scotia Conference was to meet at Amherst and that of the Methodist New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island at Sackville, "on either side of and near to the historic spot on which the first church stood." Contributions were therefore solicited.²⁵ The article and the idea undoubtedly came from Rev. Dr. F.W.W. DesBarres, professor of Mount Allison University, biblical scholar and historian. A committee, consisting of persons from both conferences was struck, Dr. DesBarres acting as treasurer.

Cemetery Trustee William A. Trueman informed the builders that the land where the gateway was a little low, which should be taken into consideration. It was - the job was handed over to Trueman.²⁶ He and his men dug down to a level four feet beneath the surface and filled that opening with concrete - which probably accounts for the fact that not a single crack has appeared in the gateway in its 75-year history. Obviously, the gateway was at the front (eastern end) of the cemetery.

Saturday, 30 May 1925, was the day for the official unveiling of the new archway. The weather was fine "apart from a slight shower."²⁷ The sub-heading of the report in the Sackville Tribune of June 1 captures a good deal of the event. "Large Concourse of People Gathered at Historic Spot Where First Methodist Church in Canada Was Erected - Appropriate Program Was Carried Out in a Fitting Manner - Bronze Tablets Unveiled by Mrs. Howard Trueman and Hon. Josiah Wood." The main headline proclaims "Unveiling of Handsome Stone Arched Gateway as Methodist Memorial at Point de Bute." The January report had indicated that there would be one tablet; at the unveiling, there were two. One of them, fulfilling the early announcement, read:

METHODISM BEGAN IN CANADA IN 1772
WITH THE ARRIVAL IN AMHERST,
POINT DE BUTE, AND SACKVILLE OF SETTLERS FROM YORKSHIRE, ENGLAND.
NEAR THIS SPOT THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH IN CANADA - A STONE BUILDING
WITH THATCH ROOF - WAS ERRECTED
IN 1788

The other read:

TO THE GLORY OF GOD AND IN MEMORY OF THE
REVEREND WILLIAM BLACK
THE FIRST METHODIST PREACHER IN CANADA
WHO BEGAN HIS MINISTRY
IN THIS COMMUNITY
IN 1781
HE TURNED MANY TO RIGHTEOUSNESS AND HE LIVES
FOREVER IN THE CHURCH WHICH HE ESTABLISHED
1760-1834

In 1995, the archway remains today much as it was when it was erected. With the gift of hindsight the archway might have been constructed somewhat wider. The wooden gateway under the arch has long since disappeared, though the hinges stayed for a time. The memorial gateway is deservedly the most prestigious of the cemetery memorials. Others are worthy of mention: the one to William Sr. and Ann Trueman, erected in 1875;²⁸ another Trueman memorial was erected in 1975.²⁹ The Chapman cairn, erected in 1939, has already been mentioned.

John P. and Carthel Robinson 1958

According to the registered deed John P. and Carthel Robinson gave an acre of land "more or less," for which they were paid a nominal sum of one dollar, to "Point de Bute United Church of Canada" on January 28, 1958. This John P. Robinson was a son of Fred Robinson, who was to be 'waited on' and 'seen' about getting more land for the cemetery, in 1921-22; and a grandson of John and Jane Robinson from whom the Trustees received a gift and made a purchase in 1902.³⁰ The addition was on the northern side of the cemetery. In connection with the transaction, the Robinsons appeared before Board Trustee and Justice of the Peace Howard Trueman. There is no record of the transaction in the Cemetery Trustee minutes.

Need for further Land and Congregational Controversy

In the early 1960s, the Department of Highways was resurfacing the highway. New surveys were done. The outcome of that survey was not pleasing to the Cemetery Trustees. The result was that the space at the front was greatly reduced, and although this land was not used for burial plots, the cemetery was placed right on the road-edge, rather than being pleasingly set back from the highway.

By the early 1980s, there was an awareness that more land would soon be needed, and a slice of John P. Robinson's property seemed the best hope. At a meeting on April 6, 1981, there is this minute: "a committee consisting of Arthur Oulton, Howard Trueman and Clifford Trenholm was appointed to see John P. Robinson about buying land at the back of the cemetery in order to procure land for more lots" (Minutes, 27-8). Evidently, the hope didn't materialize. At a meeting of the Trustee Board on February 8, 1983, "it was noted that nothing had been done re the purchasing of property from John Robinson for enlarging the cemetery" (Minutes, 34). By October 1983, the Robinson property had been sold outright.³¹ Would it be possible to purchase land from those who now held the former Robinson property?

Before the question was answered, a controversy arose between the Wesley congregation and the Cemetery Trustees; a controversy which caused a rift within the Trustee Board itself. The difficulty arose out of a desire on the part of the congregation to put a new church hall in the basement of the building; and the expectation by some in the congregation that money could be loaned for this purpose from the Cemetery Board of Trustees.

How did the Board itself react to the perception that it could be persuaded into giving or loaning the funds required by the congregation? On the one hand, some members of the Board felt that this could and should be done. After all, Point de Bute was a small community, the church and the cemetery were both United Church. Moreover, the Board members who thought this way had no intention of touching the principle invested in cemetery funds; but they honestly felt that it was appropriate and proper that interest on accumulated funds might be used for church purposes, granted the approval of the Cemetery Board. On the other side, some members of the Board were unalterably opposed to the whole idea of cemetery funds being used for anything other than cemetery purposes. In their view, the suggestion that the congregation get funds, even from accumulated interest, was such an inappropriate way. The situation seemed the more complex in that the Cemetery Trustees were virtually the same persons as those who were trustees of the Wesley congregation, Point de Bute.³²

The matter came to a head at a meeting of the Cemetery Trustees on 30 September 1984. After a few opening preliminaries, "a letter to the Trustees — from Walter Stewart, a member of the [Church] Renovation Project Committee was distributed giving a progress report on this project to date. It also contained a motion — by the Renovation Project Committee [asking] that the Trustees consider a donation — from the accumulated interest portion of the Cemetery Fund to assist in the financing of the Church Foundation Project." A lengthy discussion followed, both for and against this request. Finally, a motion was placed before the meeting, and duly seconded "that the Trustees of the Point de Bute Cemetery Board donate the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) towards the Church Foundation Project — Motion lost" (Minutes, 40-1).

The controversy was a difficult one, on both sides of the problem, some were bruised and hurt. Yet it is a tribute to the Trustee Board and the Wesley congregation that it did not disrupt either church or community. The supposed difficulty that the Cemetery Board Trustees and the Wesley congregation trustees were virtually the same had the result that the Cemetery Board had to face the issue squarely, and come to a clear decision, and it did so. And the decisions made thereafter by the Cemetery Trustees — the putting up of the fences, and the successful conclusion to the protracted issue of the addition to the cemetery — illustrates that the Trustees were able to overcome the hurts and bruises and put the best interests of the cemetery first. On the other hand, the Wesley church renovations did go ahead, and money was found for the payment of the renovations. Indeed, some of those who were opposed to money coming from cemetery funds were generous in assisting the congregation to complete its project.

Erika Fassauer, Alwin and Hannelore Zerb, 1986
William R. Trueman, in memory of his wife, Helen Erika Fassauer, Alwin Zerb and Hannelore Zerb sold to "The United Church of Canada Cemetery at Point de Bute" for a sum of $1000.00 a "parcel of land." The Trustees of the cemetery were to pay for the necessary surveying and for drawing up the deed. The deed was registered on 2 January, 1986.³³ The parcel of land — some 4,043 square meters — extended along the entire northern side of the existing cemetery.

Erika Fassauer was the widow of Alfred Fassauer; Hannelore Zerb was the Fassauers' daughter, Alwin Zerb was Hannelore Fassauer's husband. The Fassauers were a German couple who, late in life and after successful careers as restaurateurs, came to Canada from Friedberg, in the state of Hessen, and purchased the Robinson property.

The matter of adding land to the cemetery had been formally before the Cemetery Trustees for at least five years; though, as we have seen, nothing had come of the 1981 committee to contact John P.

and Carthel Robinson. The matter of additional land was further discussed at a meeting of the Trustees on 3 March 1985. Board Trustees were well aware that now it had been sold, no land could be purchased from John P. and Cartel Robinson. The idea surfaced — why not contact the new owner, Mr. Alfred Fassauer?

Negotiations were commenced, somewhat delayed by the untimely death of Alfred Fassauer, 1 July 1985. He was buried in the Point de Bute Cemetery.

In a separate but related matter, a close personal friend of John Carter, Mr. William R. Trueman, made known his willingness to donate a sum of $1000.00 for the purchase of additional land for the cemetery. The donation was made in honour of William R.'s deceased wife, Helen.

The Fassauer-Zerb family offered to sell outright the land beside the cemetery, for the sum of $1,000, the Trustees bearing the cost of the necessary surveying. They also asked that a gate be placed in the side of the cemetery to make an easy access-walkway for the family to the final resting place of Alfred Fassauer. The deal was completed. Though the matter of the gate is not mentioned in the deed, it was placed in the fence which went up along the new boundary of the cemetery in the spring of 1986.

Cemetery Board Persons and Personalities

From the original deed, we know the Trustees in 1788. And from existing minutes of the Board, the Board Trustees for 1902 are known. The following table gives the Trustee Board membership at three different periods.

1788	1902	1986
George Fokinther	A.C. Carter	John Carter
Richard Lowerison	James W. Colpitts	Donald Colpitts
James Metcalf	J.H. Goodwin	Arthur Oulton
Stephen Read	R.L. McLeod	Ronald Ogden
Thomas Watson		Harold Stillman
William Wells	Hiram Trenholm	Clifford Trenholm
Wm. Trueman, Jr.	Howard Trueman	Howard Trueman
	Martin Trueman	George Trueman
(Deed, 1788)	(Minutes, 1902)	(Minutes, 1986) ³⁴

It's clear that certain names are relatively common, although only the Trueman name is found in all three periods. The Carters, Colpitts and Trenholms are found in the latter two columns. There is evidence of a strong tradition of stability.

When it comes to choosing outstanding persons from among the Trustees, one is undoubtedly on shaky ground. From 1902 until 1919, James Colpitts was secretary-treasurer, when he was replaced by William A. Trueman, who held the position from 1919 until 1965. He was succeeded by Eva Trueman, who held the position from 1965 to 1986. William A.'s son, Howard, has given long and faithful service. So have Cliff Trenholm, John Carter and Donald Colpitts. I risk seizing on one person from among the Trustees – Mrs. Eva Trueman. She served the Board as secretary- treasurer for over 20 years, officially from 1965 until 1986. And she kept the books for her father-in-law for an additional five years before 1965: she served very capably indeed. Her sense of fairness is particularly noteworthy. In the tense Cemetery Board meetings of 1984, at the time when there was a serious rift among the Trustees, Mrs. Trueman stood very clearly on one side. Yet her reporting of that meeting is remarkable for its equity – putting forward the views of the other side clearly and cogently.

Mention has been made of the Carters and Colpitts, the Trenholms and Truemans. Stalwart names and true, long-time family friends of the Point de Bute Cemetery. May their names be long associated with the place! Of course there are others: mention may well be made of Harold ("Buddy") Stillman. He was a Trustee for over fifteen years. Yet he made an outstanding contribution. There have been others of that sort.

No doubt, those intrepid immigrants from Yorkshire have played a very prominent role. Yet there have been others, certainly Planters and United Empire Loyalists – the Ogdens and the Oultons among others. And a look at the lists of those buried in the cemetery reveals names like Landry and Cormier – Acadians – whose bones lie in the dust together with those English- speaking Yorkshire persons, Planters and United Empire Loyalists. We have no records of any earlier; though it wouldn't be very surprising that the eye of God can see, as well, the dust of the bones left by the original Canadians of this region, the Mi'kmaq. Closer to own time – the last purchase was made from the Fassauer-Zerb family – German names and a German family.

Commemorative Plaque 1988

A ceremony of the unveiling of a new memorial plaque on the Memorial Archway took place at that archway at 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, 28 May 1988.³⁵ The new plaque, placed on the interior of the archway, names the original donors - William and Jane Chapman - together with the others who have given or sold property to the cemetery since. The 1988 plaque reads:

THE POINT DE BUTE UNITED CHURCH CEMETERY

Founded September 18, 1788 through the generous donation of land to John Wesley, London, England, by Wm. and Jane Chapman. Over the years the Cemetery has been expanded through the kindness, co-operation and generosity of the following members of the Community.

JOSEPH AND MARY CHAPMAN	1868
JOHN AND JANE ROBINSON	1902
GIDEON AND ELIZA CARTER	1903
JOHN AND CARTEL ROBINSON	1958
ERICA FASSAUER, ALWIN AND HANNELORE ZERB	1986
WM. R. TRUEMAN IN MEMORY OF HIS WIFE HELEN	1986
"ONE GENERATION SHALL PRAISE THY NAME TO ANOTHER"

It is praiseworthy to be Mi'kmaq, Acadian, Yorkshire person, Planter, United Empire Loyalist, German. It's even greater when, being proud of our own past and heritage, we can be genuinely open to hear the contributions of others. The gifts of all are needed. To paraphrase the writer of the Gospel of John: 'There are also many other things which various persons did; were every one of them to be written, this essay would be great deal longer!' (John 21:25) These many other things are not written here: nevertheless, 'these things are written', (John 20:30) that some record be made of those who contributed to the cemetery, those who worked on its Board and those who are buried in the cemetery in the 200 years-plus of its existence.

21. It is possible to trace the relationship between the Cemetery Trustee Board and the Wesley congregation for the period 1902 to the present. In the early years - 1902 to 1945 - the relationship is illustrated in a number of ways. First, mention is often made in Wesley Church minutes of a person from the Cemetery Board being appointed representative to the Wesley [Methodist, later United Church] Quarterly Board. Second, Cemetery Board Trustees were appointed to the Cemetery Board by the Board itself: the [church] Quarterly Board meeting seems to have had nothing to do with such appointments. Thirdly, personnel of the Cemetery Trustees and of the congregation tended to be very much the same. In the Quarterly Board minutes between May 12, 1912 and May 15, 1925, the Cemetery Board is mentioned but twice. At a Quarterly Meeting held on Feb. 26, 1913, there is this entry: "Bro[ther] J.W. Colpitts ... reported from the Cemetery Trustee Board cash on hand $32.94 (Mount Allison University Archives, 8280, 1/2, "Quarterly Board Minutes.") At the December 1925 Quarterly Board Meeting, there is this brief note "Adjourned for Cemetery meeting at the close of the last named [Quarterly Board] meeting" (Ibid.) The Cemetery Board members have been largely from Point de Bute. Since the time when Fred Oulton came on the Board in 1925, it has been the practice to have someone on the Cemetery Board from the Jolicure [United Church] congregation. Since the 1950s the relationship between the Cemetery Trustee Board and the Wesley congregation has been more formalized.

22. See Ayer, D., comp., Cemetery Inscriptions Westmorland County, N.B., which discloses, for instance, that many Acadian names are recorded in the records of the Point de Bute cemetery.

23. Ibid. The earliest record is of "William Trueman who immigrated to N.B. from Yorkshire with his family in 1775, d. Feb. 28, 1797 at 77 yr."

24. For instance, families from Jolicure who had formerly used the Jolicure Old Presbyterian Cemetery in that community (e.g., the Oultons) switched to using the Point de Bute Cemetery. The chief reason was that the Point de Bute Cemetery was in much better condition.

DeMarsh (President, Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada). Members of the Westmorland Historical Society were also in attendance. The annual meeting of the Society took the form of a dinner in the Wesley, Point de Bute United Church (basement) Hall, and the substance of this essay was the subject of a lecture given in Wesley Church in the evening by the author. □

by Tony LeBlanc, C.G.(C).

First Generation

1. James¹ Keefe was born by 1755, his place of birth uncertain. He died sometime after June 1833, probably on or near Kennebecasis Island (note that Kennebecasis Island is sometimes known as Milkish Island in records). His place of burial is also unknown, but there is a family cemetery on Kennebecasis Island, Kings Co., N.B., near the family homestead. James Keefe was a Loyalist who arrived in Saint John, N.B. in the spring of 1783.

The first solid reference to James Keefe occurs in a victualling account of newly arrived Loyalists done 25 May 1783. At that time, James' family consisted of one adult male, one adult female, one child under 10 and one child over 10 years of age. Further victualling accounts done in May and June of 1784 reveal the same family makeup.¹

On 22 September 1783, James Keefe (listed also as Keif) obtained a grant of land in Parrrtown, which is today part of the City of Saint John, N.B. These grants of land were given to Loyalists by the British crown to accommodate them as they arrived in what was then Nova Scotia (New Brunswick not being formed as a province until 1784). James obtained lot 1013, which was a 40 by 100 foot lot located on the south side of Queen Street.²

James Keefe's origin in the then thirteen colonies is uncertain. He definitely sailed from New York in 1783 with the Spring Fleet to arrive at Saint John, but that provides little clue as to his origin. By 1783, New York had become the last British holdout in the former colonies, and persons loyal to Britain had fled from all parts of the colonies to the relative safety at New York. The few records regarding James Keefe in New Brunswick give no clues as to his former home, and neither do any commonly-used sources on Loyalist individuals. Esther Clark Wright, however, gives James' occupation immediately prior to leaving New York as a member of the Engineering Corps in the British Army.³ A James Keefe is listed on the "Muster Roll of Artisans, Lawyers and employ'd at the Under-mentioned Places under the Direction of Orders of Cap. Alex Mercer, Commanding Engineer," taken at New York. 26 Aug 1781.⁴ In this Muster roll, this James Keefe is listed as a lawyer at Hornshook, NY. While this James is indeed a member of the above-mentioned Engineering Department, it would seem strange that he would not pursue a law career after arriving in Saint John, but instead take up farming on Kennebecasis Island. There is also a James Keefe listed with "His Majesty's Garrison Battalion whereof Major William Sutherland commandant," John Grant Capt., muster roll of 3 Nov 1778.⁵ Either of these individuals may be the same James Keefe, but there is no evidence to solidly link them.

In 1807, James petitioned the crown for land on Kennebecasis Island. In this petition, he stated that he was the owner of lot number 5 on the Island, had been living on that lot for 12 years (placing him there about 1795), was the only inhabitant of the island, and was asking the crown for lot No. 9, which had originally been granted to a Maybee who had since emigrated to the U.S., as well as lots 7 and 8, all of 50 acres, and all unimproved.⁶ In an affidavit made 5 June 1833, James asserted that he had purchased lot number 5 from Michael Butler about 44 years earlier (placing the purchase about 1789).⁷ Michael Butler was the original grantee of lot number 5, on 14 October 1785.⁸

The affidavit of 1833 contains some interesting information about James and his son Thomas. The affidavit seemed to have been prompted by James Keefe selling a portion of land to the same Charles Gibbons on 10 November 1832.⁹ In it, James claims that he held a copy of the deed given to him by Michael Butler at the time of purchase, but that in spring 1831 it was "feloniously taken away" from him. He accused Thomas Keefe of being the culprit, and further claimed that this Thomas Keefe was not, in fact, his son, by virtue of the fact that he had been absent from his (Thomas') mother for 15 months (presumably before Thomas was born), and that he had never been married to Thomas' mother. He does confirm that the said Thomas Keefe was living in the same house with him (James'), so it appears there was a falling out between James and Thomas in the latter part of James' life (James being at least 78 by this time). One Charles Gibbons also swore an affidavit that Thomas' wife Jane had shown him a copy of the deed to lot number 5, and that she would not return it to "old Keefe" (James), to prevent him from selling the land, as the deed was not on record, which presumably meant the copy she had was the only one in existence. The fact that these records exist appear to indicate that James' ownership of the land was recognized by the Kings County office. This affidavit is the last record we have of James' life.

The name of James' wife is, unfortunately, unknown to us. James apparently did not leave a will, and the few other documents that have survived do not provide us with that information. The number of James' children is also uncertain. If the two individuals who arrived in 1783 with James and his wife were both his children, then he would have had one child born before 1773 (aged over 10 in 1783 victualling account), and the other child under 10 in 1783, making him or her born sometime between 1773 and 1783. James' son Thomas, the only child known to have left descendants, was born about 1785 at the earliest, so it appears that James had at least 3 children.

Children

- i _____ Keefe, born before 1774.
- ii _____ Keefe, born between 1774 and 1783.
- 2 iii Thomas Keefe, born c1785.

Second Generation

2. Thomas² Keefe (*James*¹) born c1785 (aged 27 in 1812 petition), in New Brunswick, married about 1811, in New Brunswick, Jane Hayter, born c1786 in New Brunswick, daughter of John Hayter and Mary Monk.¹⁰ Thomas and Jane both died some time after 1871, when they were listed in the 1871 census of Westfield Parish, Kings County, N.B., aged 87 and 85 respectively.¹¹

Thomas petitioned for land in 1812. He asked for lot number 5 on the east side of Grand Bay, opposite Brandy Point in Westfield parish, Kings Co., N.B. At that time he stated that he had been born in New Brunswick, was 27 years of age, married, and with one child.¹² In a later petition, dated 5 August 1823, Thomas stated that he had settled on lots 5 and 6 opposite Brandy Point; apparently the same lot no. 5 he applied for 11 years earlier. In this petition he asks for both lots 5 and 6, as well as an additional half-lot adjoining number 5 originally owned by Isaiah Parker, sold to Benjamin Darby(?), who left N.B. some 25 years ago. At this time (1823) Thomas stated he had a wife and six children, and was a native of New Brunswick, and had lived on these lots since the fall of 1813.¹³

In 1825, Thomas sold 300 acres of land located on the west side of the Saint John River to Obadiah Purdy of Saint John.¹⁴

In 1832, Thomas sold lots 7 and 8 on Kennebecasis Island, consisting of a total of 100 acres, to his sons John and James. These lots are the same ones the elder James Keefe petitioned for in 1807; no record has been found to indicate whether James obtained them and gave or sold them to Thomas, or whether Thomas obtained them directly.¹⁵ This deed identifies Thomas as a farmer and both James and John as "mechanics". According to the late James Keith of Saint John, Thomas' son William had also been a mechanic, and he had several tools that had been used by William.

Another transaction exists dated 6 January 1840 where Thomas sold 40 acres of lot number 8 to his son John – who just bought the same lot in 1832! This deed also lists Thomas as the owner of lot number 7, when in fact the 1832 transaction sold that lot to John as well. Possibly ownership of lots 7 & 8 reverted to Thomas when his son James moved to Maine in the 1830's? There appears to be one part of the land trail that has not survived to the present.¹⁶ In 1865 Thomas sold this same lot number 7 to Henrietta H. Goddard. At that time, lot 8 was occupied by John Keefe (he having purchased it in 1840), and a strip of land to the southeast of lot 7 was occupied by Thomas' son William.¹⁷

Some time in the 1840's or 50's Thomas went to Solon, Maine, where his son Michael was living. Michael wrote a series of letters from Solon to his family on Kennebecasis Island from 1850 to 1875. In the first letter, dated 25 January 1850, he relates that his father (Thomas) is with his (Michael's) brother Joseph, and are both well. His mother (Jane) was living in another place.¹⁸ In a letter dated 9 May 1851, Michael asks his brother William, who was living on Kennebecasis Island, to tell their mother (Jane) that he would send some money, so it appears that Jane was back on the island by then. This letter also includes a note from another of Michael's brothers, James, who comments that he had seen their father (Thomas) and brother Joseph last winter, so Thomas and Joseph were not in Solon, Maine at that time.

Thomas and Jane had both returned to New Brunswick by 1861, where they are listed in the 1861 census of Westfield parish, Kings Co., N.B. In this census, Thomas and Jane were living on their own, and a Robert Logan, aged 1, was listed as an "adopted son," living with them. In the 1871 census, again of Westfield parish, they were aged 87 and 85 respectively, living with their son William. In this census, Jane was listed as being "unsound of mind." Neither Thomas nor Jane are listed in the 1881 census, and from their ages we can speculate that they both passed away some time between 1871 and 1881.¹⁹ Unfortunately, no record of the death of either has come to light.

Children:

- i Catherine Elizabeth Keefe, born 22 Feb 1806.²⁰
- 3 ii James Keefe, born c1813.
- 4 iii John Thomas Keefe, born 12 May 1815.
- 5 iv William Lloyd Keefe, born 3 May 1817.
- 6 v Michael Keefe, born c1820.
- 7 vi Joseph Keefe, born c1822.
- 8 vii Margaret Ann Keefe, born 1825.

Third Generation

3. James³ Keefe (Thomas², James¹) born c1813 (aged 37 in the 1850 census),²¹ either in New Brunswick or Maine. The 1850 census lists James born in Maine, his wife and oldest child in N.B., and all other children in Maine. There is no other evidence that Thomas and family were in Maine around 1813. Thomas was definitely in N.B. in 1812 at the time of his land petition, and in his 1823 petition he stated he had been settled on the lots he was petitioning for since 1812. It is possible Thomas and family were in Maine for a time, during which James could have been born, but there is no evidence to indicate this. James married Mary _____, around 1833, place unknown.

James was apparently still living on Kennebecasis Island in 1832 when he and his brother John purchased 100 acres of land from their father.²² He was living in Anson, Maine in the 1840 census,²³ where we find him with 3 males under age 5, 1 male between 20-30 (this would be James), one female aged 20-30 (his wife), and one female aged 15-20. One of the three boys would be his son George, the other two are unidentified. The female 15-20 must be daughter Mary Jane, although she would have been only 6 in 1840. In 1850 we again find James, in North Anson, Maine, with wife and children (as listed below). In this 1850 census, James' occupation is listed as a tailor. James' brother Michael reported in a letter dated 26 April 1852 that James had left on 20 March 1852 for California in search of gold. In 1855, James was back in Anson, Maine, from where he wrote a letter to his mother. In this letter he stated that he had 7 children at that time.²⁴

Children:

- i Mary Jane Keefe, born c1834 (16 in 1850 census), married in the fall of 1851 a man named Gutchill, who was a cabinet maker.²⁵
- ii George Keefe, born c1839 (11 in 1850 census).
- iii William Keefe, born c1842 (8 in 1850 census).
- iv James Keefe, Jr., born c1845 (5 in 1850 census).
- v Odden? Keefe, born c1847 (3 in 1850 census).
- vi Isabel Keefe, born c1850 (1 in 1850 census).
- vii _____ Keefe, born between 1850 and 1855.

4. John³ Thomas Keefe (Thomas², James¹) born 12 May 1815,²⁶ prob. Kennebecasis Island, married 5 Oct 1846, in Hampton, N.B.,²⁷ Letitia Kerr, born c1826 (aged 25 in 1851 census), in Cork County, Ireland.²⁸ Letitia died 26 Apr 1872, prob. Kennebecasis Island, buried Bayswater United Church Cemetery, Hwy 845, on the Kingston Peninsula, N.B.²⁹ John died 31 Jul 1898, in a boat off Kennebecasis Island, buried Bayswater United Church Cemetery Hwy 845.³⁰ John died of an apparent heart attack while rowing to church one Sunday morning. The Saint John Globe reported his death; "On Sunday morning, Mr. John Keith, a respected resident of Kennebecasis Island, started with his son to row to Bayswater to attend church. When only a short distance from shore he fell over in the boat and died. Deceased was 84 years of age."³¹ According to the 1851 census, Letitia arrived with her brother John Kerr in June 1839, from Ireland. John lived on lot number 8 on Kennebecasis Island, containing 50 acres, which he purchased from his father in 1840.

Children:

- i Mary Ann Keefe, born c1846 (age 5 in 1851 census). Mary Ann was living with her parents in the 1871 census, aged 23, but was not with them in the 1881 census.
- ii Letitia J. Keefe, born c1848 (aged 3 in 1851 census). Letitia was 13 in 1861 census, living with her parents, but was not listed with her parents in the 1871 census.
- 9 iii Elizabeth Keefe, born c1850.
- 10 iv John J. Keefe, born Dec 1854.
- v George Keefe, born c1856 (aged 5 in 1861 census). George was living with his parents in the 1871 and 1881 censuses, but not in the 1891 census.
- vi Henry T. Keefe, born c1858 (aged 3 in 1861 census), died 5 Nov 1882.³²
- 11 vii Adelaide Keefe, born 15 Dec 1861 (1901 census).³³

First Keeper of Bird Rock Light

James Chapman Dead at 83

by Carman Williston

Editor's Note: This article is from the Miramichi newspaper The World, Vol. 28, No. 20, 10 March 1909. It was transcribed by Carman Williston of the Miramichi Branch.

James Chapman, keeper of the Bay du Vin Island lights, is dead at the age of eighty-three. He was a notable man on the Miramichi, and no yachtsman ever anchored in the basin without making his acquaintance. If the party didn't land, Mr. Chapman would scull out to the visiting craft. He was genial and talkative, and was the central figure of many a merry cabin party in the basin. A Chatham gentleman, one of our oldest residents, who knew Mr. Chapman from his arrival here as a boy to his death says of him:

"The late James Chapman was an eccentric individual. He was born in Scotland, and articled on a ship in his boyhood. He tired of the rough usage that was given to marine apprentices in those days, and ran away. He walked hundreds of miles, through lanes and fields and over moors, across country to another seaport, his chief diet being turnips. He shipped on a timber vessel, bound for the Miramichi, and came to Douglastown. He liked the look of the country, and did not want to return to Scotland, so he ran away and found shelter with the farmers in the settlements until the ship had sailed. This was in the fall of 1842 and Chapman was sixteen years old.

"The young Scot spent that winter in Chatham, at a hotel which stood on the site of the late skating rink, corner of St. John and Church Sts. Politics raged fiercely – an election campaign was in progress. The south side of the river had never had a representative, and it demanded one. Rankine and Street were the sitting members, and the late J.T. Williston, as the most popular man available, was nominated against Street. The house of Rankine ruled the county at that time, and all the public money that was voted for county purposes went through it's hands. But the Chatham man was elected after a great fight.

"It was during this exciting contest, in the winter of 1842, that young Chapman came into public notice and was voted a hero. Alex. McBeath, who kept a big hotel on the site of the present Canada House, who was a strong Williston man at the opening of the campaign, suddenly changed sides and became a supporter of Rankine and Street. This created great excitement. Feeling ran very strong, and it seemed likely that the house would be mobbed and sacked. But the owner knew his peril and stood on the defensive with an armed guard. Over every door appeared, one morning, in letters of tar, the brand, McBeath the Traitor. The writer remembers seeing a big crowd of men before the house, threatening to storm it and sack it (the stock of liquor in the house added fuel to the political fire), but the crowd was without a leader and did not attack. The muzzle of a gun projected from every window on the first and second storey, showing that a large garrison was inside, but the house would have been quickly captured if the passions of the crowd had been aroused by a leader or by a shot from within. And then the Scotch (sic) sailor lad came upon the scene, gazed on the guns and turned to the crown, crying out: 'What do you want ME to do?' One of the rabid members of the crowd replied: 'Clean out the glass in the traitor's house.' Young Chapman, without a moment's hesitation, seized a sled stake, walked up to a window, and smashed the glass, the fragments falling on the man behind the gun. He went from window to window, smashing every one, but not a shot was fired. The men on guard feared the mob too much to shoot. Chapman was a popular hero from that moment.

"After going to sea for a time young Chapman hired to work around a hotel in Point aux Car that was owned by an old gentleman named Moud (Robert A. Mouad – CW), a relative of the North West Goodfellows. The proprietor's niece was the housekeeper. Chapman fished for salmon, did the farming, and worked about the hotel. He married the niece after a time, and became the proprietor after the death of Mr. Moud.

"The call of the sea came to him, and he sold out and accepted the post of light keeper on Bird Rock after Confederation, his family moving to Chatham, where Mrs. Chapman died some time afterwards. The isolation and solitude on Bird Rock had no terrors for Chapman, though he was one of the most sociable of men, and he accepted the post after it had been refused by others. He lived there almost alone, like Alexander Selkirk, through the storms of winter and the breezes of summer, for two years. And then a Quebecker demanded the job, and Mr. Chapman was persuaded by his dear friend the Minister of Marine to resign and make way for the new claimant. The beacon lights on Bay du Vin Island were built soon afterwards, and Mr. Chapman was appointed light keeper. There was no house for him to live in, unless he boarded with the fishermen, and he built a residence for himself, half cave and half shack, which he decorated with shells and made into the most picturesque of miniature dwellings. It was large enough for a small cookstove and a narrow bed, and he was content. The Department of Marine built a house for him a few years later. He was married again, and leaves a widow and several children.

"Mr. Chapman was a model light keeper. His lamps were polished every day, and all the metal work shone like a yacht's brass work. He was an enthusiast in the service, and no complaint of failure to attend to his duties was ever made against him. We hope he has found, or will find, the harbour lights burning brightly when his barque reaches the other shore of the great ocean on which he has embarked, and that his welcome home will be at least as warm as the greeting he was ever ready to extend to all comers at his island home."

The Goodfellows referred to in the article are from the family of James Goodfellow, a brother of John who married Mary Williston and raised their family in Northesk, and Alexander Goodfellow Esq. of Lower Newcastle. James died early leaving his widow, nee Isabella Walls and three daughters. His widow remarried to Robert A.C. Mouad, and the three daughters; Janet married George Williston in 1828, Margaret married Benjamin Williston in 1832, and Ann married James Chapman in 1848. James remarried in about 1884 to Alice Jane Helman who was less than half his age and with whom he had 6 more children.

James Chapman was born about 1825 in Scotland. He arrived in Miramichi aboard a lumber ship as part of the crew in May of 1842, and liked what he saw of the country and decided to stay. He was said to have hid out until the ship departed. He spent the next several years as a sailor and other jobs, eventually working at Mouad's hotel at Point aux Carr, where he married to Mouad's step daughter, Ann Goodfellow, dau. of the late James and Isabella (Walls) Goodfellow, on 5 August 1848. Ann died some time after 1871 and he remarried to Alice Jane Helman about 1884. He was the first light keeper on Bird Rock at the mouth of Miramichi Bay, but was forced to resign to make way for a Quebecker with more influence with government. When a light was erected on Bay du Vin Island, he was appointed as keeper, a job which he served at until his death in March of 1909.

By Way of New England: Hoar and Newcomb Pioneers in America*, by William S. Hoar.

In 1640, Joanna Hoare of Gloucester, England, emigrated to New England with five of her children. Andrew Newcomb, a seafaring man, established residence in Boston in 1663. They were among the 20,000 English immigrants that settled the Bay Colony between 1630 and 1640. This book discusses the English background and traces the histories of these two families through five generations in New England, and follows some of their descendants to Nova Scotia after the deportation of the Acadians.

An Honourable Independence: The Irish Catholic Settlers of Johnville, Carleton County, New Brunswick, by William Patrick Kilfoil and Mary Kilfoil McDevitt

The impact of Irish immigration to New Brunswick during the first half of the nineteenth century was profound, changing forever the social, religious, political and economic fabric of the province. Beginning early in the century, it continued unabated throughout the 1820's and 30's. However, these waves of immigration were only the prelude to an inundation of unprecedented proportions in the 1840's, when Ireland, already weakened by a staggering economy, was brought to her knees by the Great Famine of 1845, '46, '47. The failure of the potato crop, her primary food source, decimated the population of Ireland. A million people starved to death and a million more were forced to flee their famine-ravaged homeland. Tens of thousands sought refuge in New Brunswick, whose population was already comprised of even greater numbers of their countrymen who had immigrated there earlier.

By the time Irish-born John Sweeny was made Bishop of the Diocese of Saint John in 1860, the Irish comprised the largest single immigrant group in the province. But for many, particularly the later arrivals, conditions in the New World were little better than those they had left behind. The quality of their lives had not improved significantly, particularly for those who stayed in the urban centres. Huddled together in squalid ghettos, they eked out subsistence-level existences with little hope for a brighter future for themselves or their children.

Heartsick over their plight, Sweeny organized the Emigrant Aid Society in 1860. Its main objective was to assist emigrants in obtaining land grants for settlement. Sweeny took advantage of legislation that had been recently enacted providing more favourable conditions for land settlement, and in 1860, obtained 10,000 acres in northern Carleton County.

Like many of his contemporaries, Sweeny felt that the urban environment was detrimental to the emigrants' physical and spiritual welfare. Cohesive pastoral communities, where men tilled their own soil, far from the squalor and evil influences of the city, would surely foster both spiritual and temporal fulfilment.

His passionate insistence that hard work, perseverance and faith in God could transform the wilderness into a sanctuary was articulated again and again in speeches such as this one to the Emigrant Aid Society in 1860: ..."In a few years, with ordinary thrift and industry, a man may have a comfortable farm house, affording him every convenience he may desire. And this house is his own and his children's. No man can claim rent or tithe from him. He may feel as independent in it as the proudest and wealthiest peer of the realm in his castle. And it is in the power of the poorest labouring man to achieve this independence for himself and his children, if he so chooses..."

Sweeny worked tirelessly and travelled extensively to promote these objectives. Though other settlement projects were launched in Westmorland and Queens Counties, Johnville in Carleton County – named in his honour – was by far the most successful. It prospered and became an exemplary settlement of this type, and continues to this day.

This, in some small way, is the story of those courageous men and women who shared Sweeny's dream of an honourable independence, and laid the foundations of Johnville: Allison, Barry, Bohan, Bowen, Boyd, Brennan, Bryson, Burke, Burns, Callaghan, Cammack, Campbell, Canavan, Carroll, Carter, Casey, Clancy, Collins, Colton, Commins, Connors, Conroy, Corbett, Corcoran, Corrigan, Coyle, Crain, Cronin, Crossin, Cullen, Cummings, Daley, Dawson, Deignan, Denny, Dineen, Doherty, Donahoe, Donnelly, Donovan, Dooley, Doolin, Doucette, Doyle, Dugan, Eagan, Faraher, Feeney, Foley, Freeman, Furlong, Gallagher, Gillespie, Gorey, Gormley, Goulden, Guest, Haley, Hall, Hannigan, Hennessey, Higgins, Holleran, Howell, Huricy, Irvin, Kane, Kearney, Keenan, Kelly, Kilfoil, Lapointe, Leonard, Maddox, Mahon, Mahoney, Malloy, McAdam, McAllister, McAuliffe, McCann, McCartney, McCormack, McCready, McCullough, McDermott, McDonald, McElroy, McGaffigan, McGinley, McGowan, McGrath, McGroty, McGuire, McIsaac, McKim, McLaughlin, McNeill, McSheffrey, McVane, Meade, Mitchell, O'Neil, O'Brien, O'Connor, O'Donnell, O'Keefe, Owens, Pickard, Pierce, Quinn, Quirk, Ready, Riley, Ryan, Shea, Shepard, Shugrue, Sloan, Staten, Stitham, Sullivan, Sutton, Sweeney, Tucker, Vautour, and Vicars.

Guide to Family History Research in the Archival Repositories of the United Church of Canada, compiled by Committee on Archives and History, The United Church of Canada, published by The Ontario Genealogical Society, 1996.

The United Church of Canada is a religious denomination that is unique to Canada. Although unions between different Christian denominations have since taken place in other parts of the world, the 1925 union of Canadian Methodists, most Presbyterians, and Congregationalists to form the United Church was an internationally-acclaimed first.

The records preserved in the various archives of The United Church of Canada are a treasure for those interested in learning more about their family history. Many people, however, who might find valuable resources in this archival network may not know what is there, or how to go about using it. Here, for the first time in a single source, is information about the complete network of United Church archival repositories. It also includes a concise summary of the rather convoluted history of the denominations that eventually joined in 1925 to form the United Church. This booklet will be an indispensable guide to researchers who can do more thorough and efficient work when they understand how the archival resources are organized and what finding aids and indexes are available.

The purpose of this booklet is to help the researcher use the United Church archival system more effectively. It provides information on the historical background of the United Church and its uniting denominations, its current organizational structure, and the organization and nature of the United Church archival network throughout the country. The booklet also provides some information on how to conduct family history research, with particular reference to the church's archival holdings.

Appendices

This work in progress undertakes to investigate and describe these people from the dual orientation of family and heritage. It attempts to provide accurate vital statistics on this family and their descendants in as complete detail as possible. It also attempts, when possible to "flesh out" the bare genealogical facts by also providing individual and family biographical and anecdotal information.

The heritage perspective generally is seen through inklings of the past and ongoing world in which Hopper lived and more specifically through the interpersonal and family relationships which may have influenced his and their development. Heritage is also seen as the ongoing immortality which the developing family bequeaths to their descendants.

Following this perspective has lead to the inclusion of some of the educational, architectural and religious history of New Brunswick from mid-19th century to the present time.

Numerous excerpts from family records, marriage, birth and death records, early and more recent newspaper articles and editorials, cemetery and census records, etc., as well as from books on biography and religious history and many personal letters have been appropriately used to authenticate and develop these objectives.

Also included is linkage of about seven generations of this branch of Hopper family descendants, as well as information on such inter-related families as Smith, Titus, Kierstead, Mott, Hoben, Baker, Tufts, Cowan, Bugar, Greene, Keith, Nugent, Leavitt, Dekker, Berry, Taylor, Myles, Patton, Withers, Newcomb, Wallace, Peck, Crandall and a variety of well-known clergymen and religious leaders.

Finally, some indication is also provided of the life experiences and thinking which directed the author, John Beyea, B.A., M.Ed. of Fredericton, NB in the crafting of this book.

Announcements

National Archives

The National Archives of Canada is moving to the new National Archives of Canada building in Gatineau, Quebec. The new facility is an unmatched state-of-the-art building for the preservation and storage of the archival heritage of Canadians. Its opening is scheduled for June, 1997. From January 1997 until April 1998, the National Archives will be moving some of its staff, laboratories and records to its new preservation and storage facility. For this reason, services normally provided to researchers by the Archives may be delayed or unavailable for short periods of time before and during the move, starting in May 1996. All services to the public will still be delivered from the Ottawa location. Information: web

Letters

☛ V. "Bing" Geldart, Box 494, Salisbury, NB, E0A 3E0, a member of Southeastern Branch and a former editor of Generations, sent the following comments on the article Yorkshire Passenger Lists to Fort Cumberland, which appeared in Generations, Vol. 18, No. 2, Summer 1996.

Mr Kincaid's Yorkshire Passenger Lists is a welcome addition to the collection of useful research data through "Generations". As with many published and republished data lists, each has its own variations in text interpretation that may produce "missfacts".

It would be impossible to suggest any one version is correct and therefore all others incorrect, but as always a reminder to the researcher of a conflict is in order.

There are at least three other versions that I am aware of that provide slight differences in text. (1) A listing that (I believe) appeared in the 1935 Report of the Public Archives of Nova Scotia that had previously been discovered in a Massachusetts repository (my memory is not more exact). (2) WC Milner, Records of Chignecto in one of the publications of the Nova Scotia Historical Society (date unknown) and a more recent publication (3) Michael F Cooney, Emigrants of Yorkshire 1774- 1775, Kingston upon Hull England (1994) [reference for the Albion passenger list "T47 Vol 9 1774"]

Mr Cooney's pamphlet, which was advertised in recent issues of "Generations", is a listing of some 20 sailings from English ports to Nova Scotia and New England during the period cited. His data was copied directly from the records generated by British Customs officials at the ports of embarkation. The listings therefore are of Departures vs the documents of Arrivals that are frequently used in determining base data.

The correctness of any one source over the other, as mentioned earlier, is not now known, but a fact that is incorrectly interpreted in several of the lists is the date of sailing. The statement that appears at the head of the list is "Sailing W/e..." [and a date] means the included sailings were those that occurred the WEEK ENDING [the date]. Reports of Sailings from the port did not record the actual date of departure but were sent by Customs as a weekly consolidated report.

In the case of the "Albion", actual departure is suggested by Nathaniel Smith, one of the passengers, in a letter to his brother Benjamin, and mailed just before sailing. In it he establishes the departure as 11 March.

A subsequent letter from Fort Cumberland dated May 29, 1774, confirms arrival at Halifax after near grounding on Cape Sable Island and an outbreak of smallpox on board that resulted in the vessel being quarantined before being permitted to land at Halifax. The passage included "...three weeks of excessive stormes and dreadful horicanes...". The ship is thought to have continued on to Fort Cumberland (now Fort Beausejour) before landing her passengers. Other information places the ship's arrival at Halifax as May 6, 1774 and arriving at Fort Cumberland on May 14 [A History of Fort Lawrence 1986]. If correct, this would refute (at least for the ship "Albion" and her passengers) the account by some that the ship disembarked her cargo at Bay Verte on the north of the Isthmus and that the male passengers had travelled across country on foot from Halifax.

☛ Dawn Norton, 8 Scholars Court, Nepean, Ontario, K2E 7S2, is searching for ancestors of John Kehoe (Keogh/Keough), son of Michael and Isabelle (Pirie) Kehoe, who was born in Jun 1860 in Windsor Jct., Nova Scotia, and later emigrated to Boston, Mass. Known to have had one son, Claude Kehoe.

She has access to the National Archives of Canada in Ottawa, has extensive knowledge of the Ottawa area, and is willing to exchange research with anyone who is willing to share information on the John Kehoe family and his ancestors.

☛ Christopher Slack, Historical Research, 446 Piccadilly Street, London, Ontario, N5Y 3G3 (519) 438-6996, writes:

I am taking this opportunity to contact you so that I may provide you and your society with information about services that are now available.

Research is often time consuming and travel often cost prohibitive. As a result it has been brought to my attention that many people coming to the London area cannot complete their research due to time constraints and the inconvenient hours that many of the libraries and institutions are open. As a result a great deal of material goes unseen and further expense and time is required. Our company offers an alternative to these problems.

We have experience in the historical research field and the libraries, repositories, and government offices in and around the London area as well as their collections and what they offer. We would like to ask that Historical Research be added to your list of sources as one of those that offers genealogy as one of its services. We hope that this service will fill a need that many travelling to this area have made apparent. Our rates are competitive and we hope that we will be able to aid others with their historical pursuits.

☛ Mrs. Jean Jones, 2 Lytham Road, Ashton-in-Makerfield, Lancashire, WN4 9RU, England, has written to ask if there is anyone who is researching the surnames Powell or Hill of Chester, England. Jean says her grandfather, George Powell, married Agnes Mimie Elizabeth Hill Dec. 31st, 1898, in St. Johns Church in Chester, England. This marriage did not last, and Agnes, with three children, is believed to have emigrated to Canada to start a new life, date unknown. George Powell remarried June 3, 1916, to Ellen Rogers, in England. Their marriage certificate shows George as a "widower," but Jean does not think his first wife, Agnes Hill, was dead at that time. She would like very much to communicate with anyone with information about Agnes and the three Powell children (given names unknown) who came to Canada.

☛ This letter, addressed to Presidents of the Canadian Federation of Genealogical and Family History Societies Inc. (CanFed), dated 12 Sep 1996, was received recently by our President, Joan Pearce.

Re: 1996 Annual General Meeting

The enclosed Notice of Meeting contains information on a motion that the Manitoba Genealogical Society would like considered at the Annual General Meeting. This motion provides for the cessation of operations and the ultimate dissolution of CanFed.

For the last three years CanFed has been struggling. Member involvement has been minimal throughout this time. An annual meeting has not been held since October 1994 and it was attended by only two voting members. Only one member society responded formally to the management reports sent out in 1995 and 1996. That society withdrew their membership.

At the 1994 annual meeting it was decided to try to keep CanFed going. This was difficult as we did not have an editor for the newsletter which is the highly visible part of CanFed. In 1995 Lynn Hawkeye volunteered to be the editor and with the assistance of Mary Holland has succeeded in producing a professional quality journal. However, even with a quality newsletter, membership levels and participation continue to decline.

By presenting a motion for dissolution the Manitoba Genealogical Society is addressing this malaise. The outcome of the motion will either be a viable national organization or the demise of the federation. Either option is preferable to the current position.

While the dissolution of any national organization is a sad occasion, it is better to dissolve the organization properly rather than let it die a lingering death through continuing declining membership and lack of participation. There are still funds available to produce one final Newsletter and to dissolve the organization properly.

As the internet was one tool used by the CanFed editors from Manitoba and BC, the internet may be one avenue to explore as a means of maintaining a national organization and encouraging member participation. It may be the way to hold meetings and involve members in the operation of CanFed. Geography in cyberspace is not the costly insurmountable problem that apparently faces CanFed in the physical world.

As my term is up at this annual meeting I do not intend to seek re-election to any position.

Your society needs to be represented at this annual meeting. This meeting will be crucial to the future of CanFed.

Harry Skene

The Annual General Meeting was to be held at 12:15 pm at the Menonite Brethren Collegiate Institute, 180 Riverton Avenue, Winnipeg Manitoba on October 20, 1996.

The purpose of that meeting was to receive and consider the officers reports, financial statements, appoint or dispense with the services of an auditor, elect directors and to consider and conduct any other business necessary for the continued operation and welfare of the organization; including the following motion that the Manitoba Genealogical Society wished to have considered at the meeting:

Motion:

"The Canadian Federation of Genealogical and Family History Societies Inc. cease operations as of its fiscal year end of December 31, 1996 and its affairs be wound up and the organization dissolved. Any residual funds, after the settlement in full of all obligations due and any wind up or dissolution costs incurred, be divided equally amongst the voting members (Full Membership category) who are fully paid up members as of the date of the annual meeting."

We have not heard whether the motion passed or was defeated. When we do, that information will be communicated to you.

☛ Sharon Howland, 15 - 1 Summer St., Waltham, MA, 02154, (617) 893-6401, wrote to the Charlotte Co. Branch to say she is indexing the Calais Advertiser (Calais, Maine), and needs to locate the issues for 1861 through 1870. The last known reference to these issues was about 1950 when Harold Davis wrote International Community on the St. Croix. Can anyone help Sharon?

☛ Myrtle Hemphill, R.R. 2, Glassville, N.B., E0J 1L0, has written to say that the Highlands Cemetery, located on the old Avery property in the Parish of Kent, Carleton Co., N.B., will be restored and a new fence will be built in the spring of 1997 by the Knowlesville Womens' Institute. Surnames of families buried there are Anderson, Branscombe, Carr, Chute, Derrah, Dingee, Dougherty, Frazier, MacKenzie, McBrine, McDermid and Scovil. A listing of the tombstone inscriptions was published in Generations, Issue 27, March 1986. Photos of tombstones will be sent to descendants by request.

☛ Helen C. Cooper, 2308 Lillooet Cres., Kelowna, BC, V1V 1T1, has written to say that she recently purchased at a garage sale a book entitled Sermons on Several Occasions, by Rev. John Wesley, M.A., Late Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford. It is Vol. 4 of 6 volumes, 6th edition, printed in 1803 for the Methodist Book-Room, No. 13 Whitefriar-street, by John Jones, No. 90 Bride-street, and sold at the Methodist Preaching outlets in Town and Country. The book is in good condition, and Helen will sell it for $50.00, postage included. ☐

Information Sheet

How to research N.B. records at home

Write to The Provincial Archives of N.B., P.O. Box 6000, Fredericton, N.B., E3B 5H1, and ask for a County Genealogical Guide for the county in N.B. where your ancestors lived. The Guides list the material that is available on microfilm, such as marriage, church, probate court, land and other records, with reel numbers for most items. Once you know the reel number, go to a library near you that has a microfilm reader and ask it to borrow for you from PANB up to 3 reels at a time, which the library may hold for up to 21 days while you review them. Census records for the years 1851/61/71/81/91 and 1901 are available on inter-library loan from The National Archives of Canada, 395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0N3. You will need to specify the County, the Parish and the year, or the microfilm reel No.

Here are some comments from members. I will identify contributors by membership number only.

Great quarterly.

Mem# 406, on computer survey sheet

Please don't waste space publishing computer articles in your wonderful quarterly. There are too many other sources for computer information but only your magazine on N.B. genealogy. When are you going to include an index - surnames & subject?

Mem# 660, on computer survey sheet

Keep up the good work. Do not change format for publishing magazine. Would like to see more on resources for Camp Gagetown area.

Mem# 878, on computer survey sheet

You folks in N.B. are doing a terrific job putting out Generations.

Mem# 1989, on computer survey sheet

I'd enjoy seeing history of areas, parishes during early days of settlement, ie., 1820's, particularly their way of life, building, farming, helping one another, articles or recommended reading sources.

Mem# 2010, on computer survey sheet

Would not object to seeing the occasional article on computer use directed to people like me located away from centres large enough to enjoy the benefits of computer groups.

Mem# 2243, on computer survey sheet

I'll look forward to computer related articles, and the results of this survey.

Mem# 2497, on computer survey sheet

I am continuing to enjoy Generations. It would be great to see more articles on computer research. Maybe a column just devoted to helping people with computer research (questions and answers).

At our initial foray into genealogy, an Elderhostel at UNB in 1992, were fortunate enough to have George Hayward as a lecturer. His comments on the use of a word processor in genealogy has proven invaluable in research.

Mem# 2411, on computer survey sheet

After our first year of being NBGS members, we are very impressed with the content & quality of Generations. We look forward to each issue. Keep up the great work.

Mem# 2568, on computer survey sheet

Generations is great, enjoy each issue.

Mem# 2628, on computer survey sheet

I'd like to buy a genealogy software program, but I don't know what's out there. Could you publish a primer or guide for good programs? Thanks.

Mem# 2640, on computer survey sheet

Having only subscribed last year, I always look forward to your publication and helpful information. It always fills me with renewed courage to continue when I feel I've reached the end. And it works!

Mem# 2645, on computer survey sheet

I would also like to congratulate you as Editor of Generations. The quality of the material and your format have given it a great "up beat" look.

Mem# 146, 3 Oct 1995

I am enjoying your articles in Generations. Keep them coming!

Mem# 1644, 21 Mar 1996

Just a note to tell you that I approve of the changes in the cover of Generations, and of the switch to Volume and Number. The picture gives it a new dimension and more professional look. The old English masthead is a nice change too. All in all, the magazine has profited by your editorship and I can only say, keep up the good work.

Mem# 1880, 22 Mar 1996

Anyone I talked to loved the cover of Generations, and I thought the last issue was the best one yet!

Mem# 1569, 23 Mar 1996

... let me express my sincerest compliments on Generations. I receive many quarterlies. Yours has consistently been the best, most professional publication by far, almost since the first issue! ALL the editors and especially the Queries editor deserve standing ovations. The range and quality of material is outstanding. The cooperation of the professional genealogists in New Brunswick is most kind. Your contributions, D.F. Johnson's contributions, and the occasional material from Ms. Cusack are truly inspirational.

Mem# 406, 12 May 1996

First I want to tell you how very interesting the last few issues have been and how I admire the new cover and layout. It gives Generations a very professional, finished look when one sees it set on a rack with publications from other societies.

Mem# 625, 23 Jun 1996

It's always a joy to receive Generation as it is one of the best publications I have ever seen.

Mem# 2423, 7 Jul 1996

I just want to tell you that I, as one of your out-of-province readers, am delighted with the changes you have brought to our journal. Not that there was anything wrong with what went before by any means, its just your new approach.

Mem# 2243, 26 Sep 1996

Your contributions to Generations are always of the highest quality. Thanks for helping to make it such a valuable publication!

Mem# 1324, by e-mail

I must tell you how much I look forward to every issue of Generations. Your articles on the settlement of Mougerville really got me off on a binge of searching my ... family.

Mem# 2049, 8 Oct 1996

Approaching a country grocery store, a stranger noticed a sign posted on the glass saying, Danger! Beware of Dog! Inside, he noticed a harmless old hound dog asleep on the floor near the cash register. He asked the store keeper if it was the dog that folks were supposed to beware of.

"Yep," the proprietor answered, "That's him."

The stranger couldn't help being amused. "He certainly doesn't look like a dangerous dog to me," he chuckled.

"Why in the world did you post that sign?"

"Because," the owner replied, "before I posted it people kept tripping over him."

Queries and Answers

Genealogical queries and selected answers are published in Generations as a service to those who may wish to exchange data with other researchers. Queries should be brief and to-the-point. The charge per query is $1.00 for NBGS members and $2.00 for non-members. Submit as many as you wish, each one typed or printed on a 3 x 5 index cards, with your name and address on each card. Send queries, along with the appropriate fee, to the queries editor:

Betty Saunders
191 George Street, Apt. 11
Fredericton, N.B., E3B 1J2

If you respond to a query, kindly send a copy of your answer to the editor of Generations, indicating the query number and surname in question, and noting any references you consulted (giving author, title, date of publication if any), manuscript (at what library), family tradition, etc. While NBGS will not verify your family history, responses will be reviewed by certified genealogists and selected answers will be published so that others who may be researching the same lines may benefit from the exchange.

Answers:

Q3491: ALLEN: William G. Whitney, 86 Hayhoe Avenue, Woodbridge, Ontario, L4L 1S4, responded to M.A. Holmes' query about Thomas Carleton Allen and Louise Wetmore in the Summer 1996 issue. He said he has no information on descendants of Thomas and Louise (Wetmore) Allen, but does have a fairly extensive collection on the Wetmore family. He attached a pedigree chart which shows Louise's ancestry as follows:

1. Louise L. Wetmore, b. 1856
2. Andrew R.I. Wetmore, 1820-1892

3. Louise Lansdowne, b. 1827
4. George Ludlow Wetmore, 1795-1821
5. Harriett Rainsford, b. 1793
8. Thomas Wetmore, 1767-1828
9. Sarah Peters, d. 1827

Q3539. KIMBALL. Beverly A. Boardman, 43 Courtland Circle, Bangor, ME 04401-2958, has written to provide some information about the family of Samuel Kimball to supplement that given in the answer on pages 53 & 54 in Generations, Vol. 18, No. 3, Fall 1996. She said Samuel Kimball married Isabelle Crawford, and that their daughter Sarah who married John Retallick had children: Janet, b. 1847, John, b. 1849, and Annie Retallick. Annie married Leonard Lincoln. He was born in 1843, and they lived on a farm at East Hodgdon, Aroostook Co., Maine, not far from Beverly Boardman's great grandparents, Guy and Mary (Kimball) Alexander. Mary Alexander was Annie Lincoln's aunt. So it appears that it was a granddaughter of Samuel Kimball that married ___ Lincoln rather than a daughter as stated in E.W. Bell's Israel Kenny, His Children and Their Descendants.

Q3541. LAVIOLETTE. Pennie Barbour, P.O. Box 927, 511 Cameron Street, Dalhousie, N.B., E0K 1B0, responded to Jan Cronkright's query about the ancestors of Felix Laviolette. Pennie provided data from the 1851, 1861, 1871 and 1881 census returns for Restigouche Co., and from Saint Jean L'Evangeliste Parish Roman Catholic Church records. I will not repeat the data here for it is quite lengthy. However, those of you who are researching the Laviolette family of Restigouche County may want to contact Pennie.

Q3554. NICKERSON. Eunice M. Franks, 193 Lockwood Rd., Apt. 210, Regina, Sask., S4S 6G9, (306) 586-3777, has written to say an address she obtained in 1991 is: Nickerson Family Association, Inc., Arthur D. Bowles, President, 741 Orleans Road, Chathamport, MA, 02650-1164.

New Brunswick Strays

 Contributed by Donald H. Lennox, 18 Glendenning Drive, Nepean, Ontario, K2H 7Y9

Six of the seven burials in Lot 39, Section U, St. James' Cemetery, Toronto, were of persons born in New Brunswick. Their interment records have been transcribed as follows!:

- Thompson Raymond - Age 67. Born in Canada.

Died in Toronto September 24, 1885.

- Eliza Pugsley - Age 40. Born in New Brunswick. Died in Toronto August 17, 1887.
- Mary H. Raymond - Age 72. Born in New Brunswick. Died in Toronto April 17, 1909, Last residence 55 Hepburn St., Toronto, Ontario.
- Fred W. Raymond - No information on file.
- Clarissa Clifford - Age 76 years. Born in New Brunswick. Died in Toronto July 7, 1915. Last

- residence 55 Hepburn St., Toronto, Ontario.
- Margaret J. Pugsley - Age 76. Born in New Brunswick. Died in Toronto June 19, 1929. Last residence 76 Douglas Dr., Toronto, Ontario.

Thompson Raymond was the son of James Raymond and Clorine Fowler and the grandson of Stent Raymond, a United Empire Loyalist. James and Clorine lived in Hampton, Kings County where it can be assumed Thompson must have been born.² No birth record has been found to this point and the 1818 birth year that can be inferred from the interment record is in disagreement with the 1823 and 1826 estimates derived from the 1871 and 1851 census records, respectively.³ Thompson Raymond's first wife was the widow Charlotte Vail Fowler, the daughter of Daniel and Ann Sheck.⁴ Charlotte died in 18625 after the couple had had one child - Frederick James Walker Raymond.⁶ This must be the 10-year-old Frederick Raymond who is listed in the 1871 census and the Fred W. Raymond who was buried in Lot 39. Thompson Raymond married Mary Hoyt Pugsley, the daughter of Daniel Pugsley and Eliza Miller, in 18707. Daniel was the son of Benjamin Pugsley and Clarissa Manzer and the grandson of John Pugsley,⁸ a Loyalist emigrant to New Brunswick who eventually returned to England.⁹ Daniel Pugsley and Clarissa Manzer had four daughters - Mary Hoyt, Margaret Jane, Eliza and Clarissa.¹⁰ There can be little doubt that the first three are the Mary H., Margaret J. and Eliza of the Lot 39 interment record. This being so, we can be reasonably certain that Clarissa Clifford must have been the fourth Pugsley daughter.

EDGETT, C.E. - Col. C.E. Edgett, D.S.O., V.S., H.A.R.C.V.S., F.R.I.P.H., has taken up his residence in the city and will practice his profession here. Col. Edgett went overseas in August, 1914, and served as Lieut. and V.O. in the Canadian Artillery and 3rd Infantry Brigade, D.A.D.V.S., 4th Canadian Division, A.D.V.S., Canadian Corps, and later as Director of Veterinary Services and Remounts for the Canadian Forces. In the latter capacity he had charge and he had veterinary supervision of some 30,000 animals, having the final disposition of same, the majority of which were disposed of to the Belgian Government. A few weeks ago Col. Edgett received a letter from the R.C.V.S., London, England, informing him that he had been elected Honorary Associate of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons "in consideration of the conspicuous services rendered by him during the late war." It might be mentioned that only one such recognition was awarded to each of the British Dominions. Col. Edgett is a native of New Brunswick and after graduation at Toronto in 1906 took up post graduate work at Chicago, later entering the Dominion Government service as Veterinary Inspector. He practised in Saskatchewan until the outbreak of war. He brings to the community a varied veterinary experience which should be invaluable to the livestock interests of the Okanagan Valley. Vernon News, Vernon, B.C., 11 Dec. 1919, p. 10.

JACK THE RIPPER - Dr. Francis J. Tumblety, the Indian Herb Doctor from Canada, medical quack, born c.1835 Ireland, migrated with family to Rochester, N.Y. where he earned a trade from selling of pornographic literature. Arrested in Quebec c.1857. Escaped to U.S. border upon his white steed followed by his hound from Saint John after being found guilty in death of James Portmore of Saint John. Claimed to have been on General McLellan's staff of surgeons during American Civil War. Arrested as conspirator in the assassination of President Lincoln. In 1888, arrested for Whitechapel murders but eluded police surveillance, escaped via France to U.S. which then had no extradition treaty with Britain. (followed by a team of detectives from Scotland Yard). Died at St. Louis, Missouri 1903. Operated offices as far west as San Francisco, also Salt Lake City, Toronto, Quebec, Saint John, New York. Involved with police, law-suits, courts and newspapers wherever he went. Need assistance from researchers across U.S. to check local newspapers, particularly at time of his arrest for whitechapel murders in November 1888. - Daniel F. Johnson, P.O. Box 26025, Saint John, N.B. Canada E2J 4M3

BUFFALO BILL - According to the Charlottetown 'Examiner': We learn from a reliable source that William F. Cody, better known as 'Buffalo Bill' is a native of the Island. He was born at Hope River and is a son of Patrick Cody. When the now celebrated William was yet young the entire family emigrated to Ohio. After some years he entered the service of the American government as a scout in which capacity he soon acquired a world wide reputation. He has several relatives still residing at Hope River. Is this true? - Daniel F. Johnson. P.O. Box 26025

HATHEWAY - Soon after the fire of 1877, Mrs Thomas Hatheway removed from Saint John to Dedham, Mass. where she had some friends residing. She took her youngest son with her, a youth of 15 or 16 years. He remained in Dedham until about the year 1881, when he went out to Missoula, Montana, where his brother was. Soon after he removed to Big Horn city, Wyoming Territory where he established himself in business. He had been there but a short time when he was arrested by the U.S. authorities as a deserter. It was alledged that his proper name was Heath. Young Hatheway was thrust into prison and kept there for some time, being subject to all manner of indignities in order to make him confess that he was other than he was. Finding that he would not confess, the commanding officer at the fort let him go. Hatheway was residing in Butte City, Montana in 1886. - Would like to acquire accounts from western newspapers and what official records may exist. - Daniel F. Johnson, P.O. Under the agreement that we entered into with Canada Post in 1994, we can take advantage of a reduced postal rate only when we mail in bulk. The result is that those who do not renew in time to get a mailing label generated from the membership database for the March 1st bulk mailing will not receive their Spring issue of Generations until early June. And remember that your renewal payment goes first to your branch, then to the membership secretary. To insure that you get your Spring 1997 issue on time, mail your Membership Enrolment Form and your payment before mid-January, for it seems to take a long time for Canada Post and the US Postal Service to find us.

From the President's Desk

On Saturday, October 5, 1996, I had the pleasure of representing the New Brunswick Genealogical Society at the official opening of the Family History Research Service at the Moncton Public Library. This event marked the culmination of almost a year's work by members of Southeastern Branch and the staff of Moncton Public Library. Through the initiative of two members of the branch, the library was asked to provide a special section in their Heritage Room for the holdings of the branch. This meant that researchers would find all the relevant material in the one spot in a very secure environment. The library staff and members of the Board of the library were very receptive. Members of the branch have offered their services to "man" the room to help patrons find the information they are searching. This is true commitment – many, many hours a month. A member of the branch has provided a microfilm reader and a microfiche reader for the room. Throughout the welcome section of the programme, it was very evident that there is tremendous support from the City of Moncton, the Library Board and the library staff to see that the collections in the Heritage Room are maintained and enlarged. It was clear to me that the branch has developed a wonderful working relationship with the library. Southeastern Branch is to be congratulated for their hard work and dedication to achieving two of the goals of the society which state "To promote the study and enjoyment of genealogy and genealogical research and to assemble a library of genealogical guides, handbooks, reference sources, family and local histories and other books and materials which may assist the members, all of which will be available to the members."

In addition to the pleasure of the company of those present at the ceremony, the drive to Moncton was a delight. The trees were a riot of colour and the day was glorious.

There has been quite a bit of mail from the Heritage Canada Foundation on various subjects ranging from changes in legislation of heritage areas, awards, and suggestions on how to celebrate Heritage Day, February 17, 1997. Quoted from the last communication, "Why not plan your special event for Heritage Day involving the young people of your community?" Heritage Day kits can be obtained by writing or calling Helene Anne Fortin, Director of Youth Services, The Heritage Canada Foundation, P.O. Box 1358 Station B, Ottawa, Ontario, K1P 5R4, Tel. (613) 237-1066, Fax (613) 237-5987, E-Mail hercanot@interserv.com. Might I suggest that each branch hold a special event for the public to celebrate Heritage Day? Some suggested activities might be to offer speakers to the schools or to groups, to have a display in a mall, to encourage each member to find someone to tape an interview, to encourage young people to start a scrapbook or start a diary that would indicate their daily activities or items of interest in their life – any activity that might inspire someone to start their genealogy!

Just a reminder – Membership in the New Brunswick Genealogical Society is due Jan. 1, 1997. Your membership is valued. We like to encourage you to belong to the branch in the area of your interest.

On behalf of the society, I'd like to wish you and your family a happy Christmas season and all you might wish for in 1997.

Charlotte County Branch News

On July 13th our group enjoyed a pot-luck luncheon at Bonny River together with our guests from the Historical Society, followed by a showing and guessing of local artifacts.

Our summer student, Lisa Sutherland, has nearly finished her eight weeks of employment (under my supervision). She has managed to input on disk all the cemetery transcriptions from the town and parish of St. Andrews in addition to some work on the 1871 census for Charlotte County. Our first volume, that of St. Stephen Rural Cemetery, is expected off the press some time in September.

On August 20, 1996, our group will have desks set up in the County Courthouse (next door to the Charlotte County Archives), and at the St. Croix Public Library in St. Stephen, for the purpose of assisting the NEHGS research tour group members on their one-day visit.

September's meeting will be held at the Calais Public Library in conjunction with the Washington County Genealogical Society.
