1910 - 1987

The American-French Genealogical Society sadly mourns the death of one of its most dedicated members, Rachel M.C. Gaudet of South Attleboro, MA., who, after a courageous battle against cancer, entered into her eternal reward on Sunday afternoon, November 22, 1987 in Providence, Rhode Island.

Born May 30, 1910 in Ste-Brigide-Iberville, PQ, she was the daughter of Joseph-B. and Cecilia (Viens) L'Homme. She attended schools in Riverside RI and in Canada, returning to live in Pawtucket, RI. An active member of St. Cecilia's Parish, she was married there on July 16, 1949 to Charles A.A.

Gaudet of Centredale, RI, who likewise is an active member of the Society. They made their home for the past 37 years in South Attleboro, MA.

A long-time promoter of Franco-American heritage, Rachel held memberships in the Société-Généalogique Canadienne-Française in Montreal; the Acadian Genealogy Exchange; the French-Canadian Genealogical Society of Connecticut; the American-Canadian Genealogical Society of Manchester, NH; and also, in our Society. Here, she was a faithful and diligent worker, opening and closing the library each week, cheerfully greeting newcomers, making coffee, working on the research and library committees, and for the past few years, as a member of our Society's Board of Directors. She was also instrumental in the success of our past Christmas get-togethers at Le Foyer. Her contribution of time and talent is indeed noteworthy.

Equally involved in civic and parochial circles, she was a member of the Rhode Island Heritage Committee, Past-President of Council #336- Union St-Jean-Baptiste, and a member of the St. Cecilia's Senior Citizens' Club. As a pedigree dog exhibitor for the past twenty-five years, she and her husband were members of the New England Samoyed Club and the Samoyed Club of America. Rachel likewise enjoyed art, music and knitting.

Rachel was a true and loving friend to all of us, and her loss will be deeply felt by many. Our heart-felt sympathy and prayers go out to Charlie, her husband, and to her sister, Jeannette, and the members of their family. We thank God for Rachel's presence among us, for her example of service, and for having woven her into the fabric of who we are as a dynamic and active Society of friends. May she rest in His Peace.

[A memorial Mass will be offered for her on Mar. 20, 1988 at 9:30 AM in St. Cecilia's Church, Pawtucket.]

EDITORIAL

It is late November as I write this and Summer has been ushered quietly into the past--- as all Summers inevitably must be. Early Winter harkens darkly around the corner, evidenced by our recent, substantial snowfall here in parts of New England.

As 1987 draws to a close we, the entire staff of JE ME SOUVIENS, offer a deeply held and heartfelt "Thanks" to the membership and readership of our journal. However, a special debt is owed to those persons who during this year, as in the past, have contributed articles, anecdotes, family charts, etc. for publication. Not only has this material invariably expanded our fund of knowledge about the past and permitted us to share the particular history of your respective families, but, equally important, your generosity of time and spirit has made the very continued existence of our genealogical journal possible.

Finally, with Thanksgiving Day less than one week from the date of this writing, Christmas is but a heartbeat away. We, the staff of JE ME SOUVIENS, join in wishing each and every one of our members and readers the happiest of holidays and we hope that at this time of year, particularly, our wants not too far exceed our needs, and that all our needs be fulfilled.

See you in 1988!

Letters to the Editor

The mail has been pouring in, all with great comments on the operation of our Society and magazine. Evidently, we must be doing something right. Here's just a sampling of some of the items that have arrived in our mailbox:

I received the Richard and Drapeau scrolls and they were fantastic... I am also quite curious, was there a JE ME SOUVIENS book for the winter of 1987? [Ed. Here it is!]...Thank you in advance for all your assistance and cooperation.

Paulette Richard

You have served me well indeed. Just getting the marriage registers of the Madeleine Islands was worth belonging to the organization- and of course, I read every word of the publication, JE ME SOUVIENS, and enjoy it. An article in French in each issue would make it even more enjoyable.

Fabien Chiasson

I enjoyed the book [JE ME SOUVIENS] and was very interested in the story of the Deerfield Captives taken to Canada. My husband is also descended from Elizabeth, mentioned in the article. It really is a small world!

Wish that I lived nearer, so that I could volunteer my services to the Society.

Virginia M. Baril

I have been a member of your Genealogical Society for some time now, and I think it's about time I should let you know how much I appreciate receiving your publication. I find it always interesting, and soon, I hope to have some material to submit.

Alfred Velle

[Ed. Thanks, and we'll hold you to your promise!]

The Editor and Staff of JE ME SOUVIENS always welcomes any constructive criticism regarding our publication. We invite your comments and suggestions so that we might better serve you in the future. Tell us what you'd like to see more of, and we'll try to furnish it for you.

Likewise, we are also accepting manuscripts of family history and genealogy for our future issues. Everyone has a story to tell and we would like you to share yours with our membership. As in the past, we are open to helping you write-up your family history if you send us a rough draft. This will be subject to our editing for reasons of space and professionalism. Please also send us with your manuscript, any references you have used in compiling your data, so that if something doesn't jive, we might recheck it for you.

We wish to publicly thank Mrs. Michele (St-Pierre) LeClair of Pawtucket, RI for her beautiful pen and ink drawings which enhance the covers of this Winter '87 issue. We need talent of this caliber. Thanks too to all who submitted charts for Who's Who, several of which are and will be enclosed in this and future issues.

SUMMER 1987 - RESEARCH UPDATE

by George E. Christian, Jr. and Richard L. Christian

Our four major families are like hares to be chased, wherever they may lead.

Thanks to Canadian and French sources, we have been able to confirm that the Chrétien hare did in fact see the light of day in Loches (Touraine), France. Several years ago, we provided interested parties with photocopies of baptismal registrations for Michel Chrétien and two of his sisters. Moreover, we also found the notations of the father's two marriages. Jacques Chrétien was first married to Catherine Nivard on 17 January 1652 [sic], then to Marie Alliot on 5 July 1654.

Since the ancient registers for the town of Loches go back even further than the dates cited, we will have to hunt someday for Jacques' birth or baptismal date, and hope to learn the names of his parents. The task is not unrealistic, provided we first increase our knowledge of reading the handwriting of the 16th Century. We have seen the volumes and found the writing to look like a code or arabesques: with the 17th Century handwriting, we felt we had at least a fighting chance.

Be that as it may, our summer 1987 trip to France sought to pursue another hare named Harel, our maternal grandfather's family.

According to Canadian documents, Jean-Louis Harel was born in France, location unknown. Where to start our search? Fortunately, an item stored long ago in our memory banks surfaced to consciousness: somewhere in France there was a monument to the lady who "invented" Camembert cheese, named Marie Harel. Last summer we had made a few inquiries about her, but no one was able to help us.

In the fall, thanks to Mr. Gilbert Feugueur, owner-manager of the Hotel de France in Tourouvre (Orne; formerly Perche), we obtained sufficient information to lead us to Marie Harel. By the way, we had spent two days at that location last summer, but it was not until the fall that he began a "Livre d'Or"-- which is to say, a volume in which guests could record their comments. This year, we bowed to custom and added our own inscriptions, as follows:

Tel le chant de la sirène attire le marin hypnotisé, ainsi la généafole nous mène à de voyages improvisés.
C'est pas le naufrage, on a la chance qui nous attend as bout de la route.
Voilà, l'Hôtel de France
où l'on casse très bien la croûte.
Le bon accueil nous a remis
au monde du réel.
Mais, hélas, je parie
C'est un piège beau et bel.
Il faut revenir.

When we take to the road in France, we arrange to avoid as much as possible the superhighways ["autoroutes"], in favor of the smaller and less congested departmental routes. Based on the information we had received, we were heading toward a small town or district called Camembert. Nearby was a larger center called Vimoutiers, which we intended to avoid, lest we get caught in "downtown" traffic.

But an unseen hand was guiding us [perhaps that of Jean-Louis Harel?]. A wrong turn, a missed road sign, and we were in the center of Vimoutiers. Since it was lunchtime, we stopped at a food store and collected provisions for lunch at some roadside park. Much to our surprise, in the window of a newspaper and variety store next to the market, was a poster calling attention to the Camembert Museum: an establishment dealing exclusively with Camembert, the local cheese. And this museum was only two blocks away, not in the village called Camembert.

We drove immediately to the building, only to find it closed for two hours. We were ready for lunch also, so we chose a route taking us out of town towards a park. As fate would have it, we found a small park with a monument of World War II: a German tank, the last intact specimen of some 40 of them abandoned by the Germans in their retreat. In a few minutes, we were followed by some Dutch and British tourists, also eager for a bite to eat.

After lunch, we headed straight for the museum.

The visit, while pleasant and interesting, did not satisfy our need for genealogical facts. One important document we were able to but was a mimeographed booklet published by the local historical society concerning Marie Harel and her cheese. Separating fact from fiction was not an easy task for the writers but they were able to identify the key persons involved.

1. Charles Harel, a farmer in Guerquesalles (another local village), married Marie Leloup.
2. His son, Jacques, a laborer in the service of Mr. Perrier at Roiville (another local village) married Marie-Catherine Fontaine on 10 May 1785 at Camembert, before the Abbe Pichonnier. This 23 year old bride was to become known as THE Marie Harel, associated with Camembert cheese. She was the daughter of Jacques-Etienne Fontaine and his second wife, Charlotte-Jeanne-Catherine...
3. Their daughter, Marie, was born on 29 Dec. 1787 at Roiville and died at Champosoult (yet another local village) on 15 March 1835. At age 26, in 1813, she married Thomas Paynel of Champosoult. It was through their efforts that the production of Camembert was standardized (incidentally, it was originally a "blue" cheese) and its expanded marketing successfully brought about.

All this was very interesting but not to the point. We had to find out if there were any ancient documents at Vimoutiers, or some other location, so that we might be able to connect our Jean-Louis Harel with the local Harel family.

The museum attendants directed us to the town hall. The receptionist was unable to help us directly but she volunteered to call the town historian and place our question before him. Mr. Maurice Boittin, the gentleman of the hour, agreed to meet us an hour later, at the museum, since he lived across the street from it.

To while away the time, we walked around the center of town and learned that there were two statues of Marie, and both in Vimoutiers itself. There is a stone marker in Camembert. The town of Vimoutiers was liberated by soldiers of the Canadian Army on 22nd August 1944. A bronze plaque on a park wall next to the church, attests to the gratitude of the townspeople. They were amazed and gratified that their liberators could speak French, and to this day, they still speak of the event. The plantings in front of the wall reproduce a red maple leaf in a circle, with a lighter-hued green filler.

The first statue of Marie Harel (to the left of the church; 1928) is headless, due to a bombing on 14 June 1944, when the town, mistaken for another target, was 90% destroyed. The second statue, facing the town hall, was presented by employees of a Borden factory in Ohio, and dedicated in 1956.

With a glass of cider (the "wine" of the country) in hand, we spent an enjoyable hour with Mr. Boittin, who did his best to clarify and separate fact from legend. In addition, he urged us to visit a friend of his, Mr. Pierre Mercier, the mayor of Roiville. This is a village of some 150 persons, where, as we were later to learn, quite a number of Harel's had lived.

Mr. Mercier greeted us at his home, an impressive stone house dating from the 18th Century (with four or five matching buildings). After introducing us to his wife, he opened a bottle of sparkling cider, of his own making. We showed him part of our work, including charts of the Harel and Chretien lines. He was impressed by the work and by our determination. After a conversation that lasted for over an hour, Mr. Mercier suggested that we consult the regional archives at Alencon.

Our destination for the following day was thus settled. We returned to Tourouvre for our baggage, then headed for Alencon. There, we settled on a small hotel, the Hotel de Paris, across the street from the train station, owned and operated by Mme. Odile Faucheur. She was pleased to have Americans as guests, recalling previous guests during two world wars as well as numerous tourists-- not to mention her previous three trips to the United States. She found it difficult to believe that we were Americans because, as she said: "Vous avez l'accent du terroir" [you speak like natives of the area]. In her charming way, she stated explicitly what others we met this year had only alluded to: that our accent is definitely French, and therefore, masks our nationality.

Luckily, the archives building-- a 14-story structure-- was within walking distance from the hotel, only two blocks away. The reading room is on the 14th floor, where full width windows provide the maximum of natural light. After checking the files, we requested a number of promising documents. Unfortunately, the religious records were not old enough to reveal links with our Harel line. Civil documents were no older.

We consulted registers from Champosou, LaFresnaye-Fayel, Guerquesalles, Roiville and Ticheville:

all of them too "young". We did find two judicial documents dating in the early 1600's, but neither one was helpful.

Our search in this eastern section of Normandy was related to the fact that so many early Canadian immigrants came from here, and neighboring Perche (e.g. Tourouvre). It seemed reasonable to suppose that young Jean-Louis Harel had been invited by friends or acquaintances to join them in leaving for Canada. Young man that he was (born around 1649, he was said to be 17 at the census of 1666), he could have been attracted by the spirit of adventure, of danger, or perhaps simply because there were too many mouths to feed at home.

Among the documents we consulted, there was frequent mention of a notary (lawyer) by the name of Giffard. Would he have been a relative of that Giffard, member of the Company of 100 Associates? Perhaps the Giffard's lived in the same region as the Harel's at the time when recruits were being sought. Are the record books of this Giffard still extant? Could we find in them some link with a common Harel ancestor?

These are some of the elements that drew us to work on the Harel family this year. Unfortunately, we were unable to arrange for a meeting with Mme. Pierre Montagne of Tourouvre, an authority on early immigrants from the Perche region. We plan to write to her, to draw on her expertise, for possible leads in our search for the Harel family roots in France.

To this article we append a copy of our Harel ancestral chart, and invite interested parties to contribute their charts to our collection. In return, we may be able to fill-in some blanks on their line.

THE MARRIAGES OF ST. JEAN-BAPTISTE
CHURCH, MARQUETTE, MI

PART II

With this issue we complete the publication of the marriage repertoire of St. Jean-Baptiste parish in Marquette, Michigan.

We are truly pleased to have been able to acquire this data and publish the same for our membership. It is our expectation that, over time, we shall publish more of this genealogical information which is not always readily available to our membership for their own research, but which, nonetheless, offers a potential treasure trove of data.

LOUIS WHITE
By K.A.White

According to various census reports, Lewis/Louis White was born in Canada, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New York, Vermont, or Maryland! The most consistent birthplace is Canada, and family tradition confirms he was indeed French Canadian. Louis was born about 1810 in Quebec. He was "engaged in agriculture" in 1840, and was a "day laborer" in 1850, and a "farmer" in 1860.

Mary Atwood, his wife, was born in Vermont on 27 October 1816. The township where she was born is not known, nor are her parent's names.

Around the beginning of 1832, Louis, age 21, married a very young Mary Atwood, who was barely 16 years of age. They were possibly married in Vermont. They first lived in Westford township, Vermont, where their first son, Francis (Frank) Lewis White, was born on 5 November 1832.

Nothing further is known of the life of this family while in Vermont, except that three additional sons were born to the couple: William was born 27 September 1834 "near Underhill", or "in Underhill"; George, was born 16 July 1836 in Westford; and Charles was born in 1838, also in Westford. The fact that William was born "near" Underhill raises the possibility that the family lived in Westford township very near to the Underhill township line, close to the village of Underhill. Another possibility is that Mary was visiting Underhill, perhaps at a relative's home, when William was born.

Shortly after Charles was born, Lewis moved his family from Westford across Lake Champlain to the town of Westport, New York where they lived for at least two years, as the 1840 United States census lists the family as living there. George's obituary confirms this assumption, in that it relates that he, George, moved to New York with his parents when he was two years old. George, in fact, was two years of age in 1838. George's brother, Frank, would have been about 6 years of age at that time and it may be that his boyhood memories centered around Lake Champlain and Westport, as in later years, his wife, Emeline, was known to remark that her husband had been born in New York, on Lake Champlain. I believe Frank talked frequently about his boyhood on Lake Champlain to Emeline. His memories of that area most certainly were fond ones.

At some point in history, there were three ferries that began their courses in Vermont, east of Westport. But at the time Louis and his family lived in Westport there was a road between Westport and Hopkinton, known as the Northwest Bay Road. It is possible that the family travelled that road when they moved to the Hopkinton area. It is unknown why the family migrated from Vermont to New York. Quite possibly the reason was to follow old friends or relatives who had gone before, or even to find a "better life." The year 1838 was that of the "Papineau Wars" during which an attempt was made to overthrow the British rule in Canada. A number of refugees fled to the United States during that period. Many came through Vermont, and some of them crossed Lake Champlain into Westport. There was also an economic depression throughout Canada in 1837. Simultaneously, sheep raising was fast declining in Vermont. There existed at the time some "local knowledge" that New York farmland was somehow "better" than Vermont farmland. One has a choice of reasons why Louis went to Westport in 1838.

In about 1840-1841, the couple's first daughter was born in New York. She was named Mary Ann. The New York state census for 1845 shows the family living in Hopkinton township at that time. The census was taken between June and October of that year, and it indicates that the Whites lived there for at least one growing season. Therefore, I believe they moved there no later than June 1844. The family raised barley, beans, potatoes, oats and owned two hogs as livestock. They farmed 3.5 acres, although they lived on only 2 acres. Hog raising was common in the Hopkinton area. In fact, the area exported hogs to northeastern New York and the Lake Champlain area by herding the animals along the roads. Louis had no other livestock at the time the 1845 census was taken.

A fifth son, Alfred, was born in 1846 and Sarah Jane, the couple's second daughter, was born in 1849.

In 1850 the family was still living in Hopkinton township. Dwelling numbers in the census report as well as an early history of the town seem to indicate that the family lived south of the village of Nicholville and west of the St. Regis River. Nicholville lies on both the east and west banks of the river, the west part in Hopkinton township and the east in Lawrence township, both within St. Lawrence county. At that time Frank was living with the George Eggleston family in Hopkinton. He was 17 years of age and was working for the Egglestons as a farm hand. Louis and Mary were also living in Hopkinton, Louis doing "day labor" and Mary being at home with all the couple's children, except for Frank. One of their neighbors was William W. Dewey and his wife, Harriet. They were the son and daughter-in-law of Jared Dewey, one of the original settlers of Hopkinton. The Deweys appear to have been friends with Judge Roswell Hopkins, after whom the township was named. The Dewey family included a daughter, Alzina Rachael.

On 9 May 1851 the White's youngest son, Alfred, died. He was buried in the family plot in the Mound Hill cemetery just outside the village of Nicholville. A proper marker was set at the five year old's grave. That marker is still standing to this day. On 12 July 1851, another son, the sixth, was born to Louis and Mary. He was named Porter Eugene. Louis was about 42 years old at the time, while Mary was approximately 35.

Louis is shown on the available tax rolls of Hopkinton for 1851 through 1854. He paid 66 cents in taxes in 1851 on 47 acres of land; in 1854 he paid 39 cents on 35 acres. In 1853, Louis is shown on two 25 acre lots, one of which is described as the "I Dewey Lot." That year he paid taxes in the sum of 83 cents. Frank (who was called Francis on the township tax rolls) was paying taxes on 10 acres until 1857, at which time he was taxed on 20 acres, and later still upon 100 acres (75 of the last being a "wood lot" or "back lot"). Frank's property is called a "farm" of some 55 acres in 1865; he added the "wood lot" the following year. Frank continued to pay taxes until 1869, the last year in which he lived in Hopkinton.

On 22 January 1853, Louis and Mary's second son married Emily V. Hugaboom, a local girl who had been born in Canada. They were married by Justice of the Peace Darwin Peck.

The following year, Louis and Mary had another child, their ninth. The baby was named Martha. About 1854, Louis and Mary moved their family from Hopkinton to Dickinson township within Franklin County, probably to an area southwest of the present site of the village of St. Regis Falls on the old Northwest Bay Road. Dickinson tax rolls are available only for the years 1868 and 1872. During those relevant years, Ben Tromblee, Francis, and Mary White were paying taxes on property identified as Lot #2, Town 10, while Mary was paying taxes on Lot # 2, Town 10. (Editor's note: Typically in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, as well as other states, real estate taxes are assessed and collected on a county-wide basis, rather than the more familiar city/town-wide basis in other parts of the country. Town 9 and 10 referred to above, then, is most likely the town # assigned to those respective towns by the county of Franklin. This system exists to this day).

On 11 April 1854, William and Emily had their first child, a son, whom they named Alfred, probably named after and in honor of William's deceased brother who had died some three years previously at age 5.

On 1 January 1856, Frank, the eldest child of Louis and Mary, married Alzina Rachael Dewey, the daughter of the White's former neighbors in Hopkinton. Frank and Alzina were 24 and 17 years of age, respectively at the date of their marriage. They established themselves as farmers in the Hopkinton area. On 22 October 1856, the couple had their first child, Harriet (Hattie) Arvilla.

Louis and Mary had their tenth and last child on 1 June 1857. He was named Harvey Judson. Mary was 40 years old.

On 10 June 1857, William and Emily had their second child whom they named Lyman D. and on 6 July of the following year Frank and Alzina had their second daughter, Rosina (Rosa) Amelia.

On 18 March 1860, Justice of the Peace Archibald S. Tucker performed a double wedding ceremony at Stockholm, New York, in which Charles White married Martha M. Decker of Stockholm and George White married Charity C. Decker. The grooms were brothers, while the brides were sisters. (The year of the marriages is given in certain documents as 1859; other documents, as well as family tradition, relate the year as 1860.) At approximately the same time, Marry Ann, first daughter of Louis and Mary, married Benager Tromblee near Hopkinton. Although the precise date of this couple's marriage is not known, they lived near Louis and Mary in July 1860 having been married "within the year."

In 1860, Charles Adams, his wife Hannah (Siples) and most of their children (excepting Emiline) were neighbors of Frank and Alzina White. Alzina's parents were near neighbors to the Adamses on the opposite side. After their marriage, Charles and Martha White lived on the James Burdrone place, near Hopkinton. Charles worked for the Burdrones as a farmhand while Martha was a domestic for that same family. George and Charity lived on their own place at that time, but it is not known whether they owned or rented it.

On 6 July 1861, Lottie A. White, first daughter of William and Emily White, was born.

What with the unrest caused by the beginning of the Civil War, it passed that bounty payments were offered to young men volunteering for military duty. The bounty at this time was in the sum of $100.00, a sum which would purchase a substantial parcel of land. (Note: The bounty was payable to volunteers only upon discharge from the Union Army, i.e., if a volunteer should be killed during the war, the bounty was not payable to his surviving widow and/or children.) Therefore, in September 1861, William left his small family and enlisted in the Union cause. He was assigned to the 98th Regiment of the New York Volunteer Infantry, Company G. He signed for a three year stint.

There arose problems for and changes in the White family during 1862. Alzina died on 21 February of that year, possibly in childbirth. Frank, her husband, laid her remains in his family plot in the Mound Hill cemetery outside Nicholville. Alzina's grave was set with a marker which has since been repaired. It may been seen and easily read today, 125 years after her death. There are also two infants buried in the family plot. (Also buried there is a Mrs. Russel and her infant child, buried in 1871. Mrs. Russel may be Emiline Adams's sister. There is also a Mr. Adams who was buried in the same plot in 1869. Most probably, this is Emeline's father.)

The following narrative is from the official history of the 98th NY Vols (in which William served) and official records of the Civil War.

The 30th of May it commenced to rain slow and fine, and the soldiers ate the usual army fare of boiled rice and sugar, corned beef, and coffee. Some of them had woolen blankets, but others had to make do with the rubber blankets because of the wool shortage. During the night the weather deteriorated into a terrible storm which lasted until mid-morning of the 31st. The troops were set to throwing up earth-works in front of their lines. By 11 a.m. firing along portions of the picket line became frequent and the enemy was massing large bodies of troops before his outposts. A little later two shells sent by the Confederates screamed through the air, signaling the start of the Battle of Fair Oaks. The Federals dropped their tools and stood to arms. The 98th was posted in front of the breastworks, behind a pile of cord-wood, overlooking a slashing through which soon came their Union pickets driven closely by the enemy, while at the same time a solid mass of men in grey came down the Williamsburg road toward the position of the 98th. Into the slashing and the Grey mass on the road the 98th poured its volleys as fast as it could reload and fire, and mowed the men down, while Union batteries, somewhere behind, lobbed shells at the same targets. Some Federal cannon fire killed and wounded "half a score" of the 98th's men, though there were no losses to the 98th by enemy fire. Following a lull and near 4 p.m. Union batteries opened fire again, filling the air with lead and iron and the 98th left its dead and dying, retreating to the rear in the face of the Confederate power.

Everything was in confusion, and the 98th lost its regimental books and papers, camp equipage, clothing not worn, and its rations in the retreat. During the night pickets fired constantly and at intervals on different portions of the line; the battle was renewed and died away. At some point during that day William had been wounded by an exploding shell, whether the 98th's or the enemy's is not known, but shrapnel struck him in the left leg below the knee and left arm below the shoulder. A large piece of shrapnel impacted his stomach but did not penetrate and one piece entered his throat. The Battle of Fair Oaks ended around 5 p.m. that day, and the Battle of Seven Pines commenced a few miles down the road. This latter ended around 10 p.m. Of 385 men sent into battle, 85 enlisted men and 3 officers were killed or wounded. All night William endured his wounds alone on the battlefield. He used the collars of his shirt and coat to plug the hole in his throat, in order to keep his breath from oozing in and out of the hole as he breathed. The next forenoon, the battle was renewed, but lasted only about two hours. William was finally found and his wounds dressed. He was sent to the rear, and listed as "mortally wounded". His comrades thought they would not see him again, but he recovered at Douglas U.S. Army Hospital near Washington, D.C.. William was discharged on 21 July 1862 by reason of wounds received. Possibly because of the loss of the regimental papers, William's discharge was misfiled, and for the next several years he was listed on the Deserter roster for the 98th Regiment!

Sometime during 1862, Louis White died. He was laid to rest in the family plot near little Alfred, his son who had died 11 years previously. (Louis' grave was marked with a small marble slab by his descendants in 1987.)

Frank White and Emeline Adams had known each other's families for a good number of years, and doubtless had been friends. In August 1862, both were working away from home and, after supper on the 26th, they found their way to a magistrate named Briggs about seven miles from Hopkinton and were married. No member of either family was present. They took up housekeeping next to her father, Charles. Frank's two daughters by his first marriage to Alzina lived with them, as they began a new life together. Doubtless, the young girls missed their mother who had died some eight months before.

In 1863, Elizabeth M. was born to William and Emily White.

On 21 February 1864, George and Charity had their first child together, Fanna Adella; Charles and Martha had their only child, Adelbert Eugene, on March 12th of that same year; Frank and Emeline had their first child, Lewis L., on 24 May 1864; and William and Emily had their fifth child, Freddie, also during the month of May 1864.

By the summer of 1864, the Civil War was in its third full year. Newspaper articles began appearing describing the imminent draft. An article in the Malone, New York Frontier Palladium read as follows: "The time fixed for the draft under the President's call for 500,000 men is near at hand. Voluntary enlistments will be received up to the 5th of September, when volunteering and the payment of all bounties will cease and the draft will immediately take place." This meant that unless one volunteered by September 5th one stood a good chance of being drafted, with no bounty payments. By this time in the war, the districts had been given quotas of volunteers to fill. In order to meet these quotas the towns and counties added their own bounties to those to be paid by the Federal government. It was possible to "forum shop" in order to find a town and/or county which was paying the highest bounty. It was possible, among town, county, and Federal bounties, to accumulate as much as $1000.00! The threat of the draft, together with the possibility (remember, one had to survive the war and be discharged in order to collect his bounty) of receiving significant sums of money, coalesced to persuade Frank, and Charles, and, possibly, George, to volunteer in September 1864. William, having already served in the 98th Regiment, considered himself to be exempt from the draft, but someone led him to believe that he would have to volunteer again or be drafted. Accordingly, he re-enlisted for another tour of duty. George was granted an exemption from the draft because he was blind in one eye. He, therefore, was able to attend his business at home.

Frank and Charles were assigned to the 106th New York Volunteer Infantry, the so-called "Ogdensburg Regiment." They were both in Company E. William, on the other hand, was assigned to the 39th New York Volunteers.

Frank and Charles were at Hart Island, New York Harbor by October 7th. Meanwhile, General Grant was already considering his final moves against Petersburg and Richmond, which were to take place during the following Spring. Part of his plan involved withdrawing the Sixth Army Corps (which included the 106th) and the 19th Army corps from the Shenandoah Valley campaign, and positioning them in front of Petersburg. He had already begun to make arrangements for this withdrawal when it appeared that there would be a major battle at Cedar Creek, in which these two Corps would be needed. On October 19th the Battle of Cedar Creek, in Virginia, was fought by the 106th and the 19th. It is not clear whether Frank and Charles took part in that battle, although the official reports mention "45 new recruits" who had "joined the regiment only two days previously, and who behaved all through the action in a most praiseworthy manner." If they did get into the fracas, their first engagement resulted in a "complete route of the enemy." If they did not see action at Cedar Creek, they were to sit on their blankets most of the winter, because they remained mostly inactive in the camp at Winchester through November, eating that famous Federal boiled rice and sugar, corned beef, and drinking coffee. In December, according to Grant's plan, the Sixth Army Corps began its withdrawal, and Frank and Charles broke camp at Winchester 3 December, marched to Stephenson's Depot, and boarded a train for Washington, D.C.

They arrived at 7 a.m. the following day, and, by 1:30, had transferred to steamboats on the Potomac river. Confederate spies reported to General Lee that 21 steamers filled with Union troops had been spotted going down the river, reportedly going to City Point, Virginia, the great field supply depot of the Union Army in the Field. By 9:30 a.m. on the 5th, they reached City Point and marched to Parke's Station. The remainder of December, all of January and February, and into March, nothing of military significance occurred; however, Charles came down with a case of the "soldier's sickness", intestinal fever or chronic diarrhea. His first complaint was recorded on 18 February. On 9 March the enemy made a desperate attack on a part of the Federal line, which proved futile. Then the quiet and boredom returned. But on 1 April Frank and Charles moved with their Brigade (First) to the front at Fort Welch in the Confederate line, so that by 12:30 a.m., 2 April, the troops were within 150 yards of the Confederate line, unnoticed by the enemy! Approximately one half hour later a sudden and very severe picket-fire was opened by the rebels and it continued for nearly one hour, during which time Frank and Charles, as well as the rest of the Federal troops were required to remain silent, not answering a single shot, although a number were killed and wounded. The boys lay there until about 4:30 a.m., at which time the signal gun at Fort Fisher sounded the advance. Frank and Charles charged the breastworks (12 to 15 feet high at this point) at the double quick and came under an instant, terrible fire of musketry and artillery. They drove the enemy before them, the first colors within the enemy's works being those of the 10th Vermont Volunteers, the second following immediately behind belonging to the 106th N. Y. Vols. Both units were immediately re-formed inside the works to make the first line of battle, wheeled to the left, and charged down the enemy line at a double-quick, driving them and doubling them up. The balance of the Union command entered the works behind them. The fighting lasted until 4 p.m.. Most of the Petersburg works were taken that day, and the 106th threw up earth-works to protect its position for that night.

And where was William all this time? At 1:00 a.m. on 2 April, William and the 39th NY Vols moved rapidly to the vicinity of Dinwiddle Court House, where they remained until 6:00 a.m. At that time they returned to their former position on the Petersburg line, ready to the attack, but discovered that the enemy's works at that point on the line had been evacuated. They pursued the enemy through the works until they found them entrenched at the South Side railroad. The 39th was ordered to charge the enemy, and although the men were exhausted from lack of sleep and the rapid marching they had undergone, they advanced through a piece of woods and across an open field, exposing themselves to the fire of two enemy batteries. They were forced to withdraw. The 39th were on the extreme left of the Brigade. Line was again formed in the edge of the woods, and a skirmish line was thrown out on the left and in advance. Most of the 39th was in the skirmish line. During this fight William sustained a wound when the ring finger of his left hand was shot away by a rebel musket. In time, this damage caused his hand to contract and become nearly useless in his later years. William was sent to the rear and he spent the remainder of the war at David's Island, New York Harbor.

The city of Petersburg was evacuated by the enemy during the night of 2 April and the city was surrendered the following day. It now fell to the 106th to pursue the retreating rebels, and there began a grim week of rapid and fatiguing marches and fighting. At 8 a.m. on the 3rd, the unit broke camp and marched down River Road to the south of Petersburg and bivouacked for the night at about 6 p.m. near Sutherland's Station on the South Side Railroad. On 4 April they marched out at 5 a.m. following the river road. The roads were in terrible condition. They camped near Winticomack Creek, the men very much exhausted. The following day they moved out at 4:30 a.m. marching in the direction of Jetersville. Reaching that town Frank and Charles may have learned of William's having been wounded, because the 39th was encamped nearby. At noon they moved in the direction of Amelia Court House and camped at 7:00 p.m., first building entrenchments to protect their position. The 6th found them moving out at 6:00 a.m. marching about three hours. Finding no enemy, they turned toward Sailor's Creek where General Philip H. Sheridan was holding the enemy in check. About 4:00 p.m. they came upon the rebel army suddenly, finding them strongly entrenched in front of Sailor's Creek. The enemy was routed by a strong frontal attack, and they withdrew and entrenched again on the elevation across the Creek. The rebels then opened a brisk and heavy fire against the Union pursuers. The 106th were in the first line of battle that charged across Sailor's Creek under the galling enemy fire, and the ground on both sides of the creek was so marshy and soft that the men sometimes sank hip-deep into the mire. The 106th lost 11 men wounded, but none killed in this charge. They were re-formed under cover of some pine bushes at the base of a hill and resumed the charge against the enemy line immediately. The enemy surrendered the "entire right wing of the Army of Northern Virginia" at that fight, with the surrender of general Ewell. But early Friday morning they marched out again in pursuit of the remaining rebel forces and camped near Farmville. 8 April found the unit camped at New Store and the following day they were at Clover Hill, near Appamatox Court House, where the remainder of General Lee's army surrendered that Palm Sunday afternoon. Frank and Charles saw it all.

The 106th spent Monday, April 10 at Clover Hill; on the 11th they moved out toward Burkesville, reaching the latter on the 13th where they camped for 10 days. Frank and Charles said goodbye to one another for the last time. Charles was in the Sub Depot Field hospital of the Army of the Potomac at Burkesville, Virginia. On the 24th he was sent to the Depot Field Hospital of the 6th Army Corps at City Point, Virginia, and on 28 April he was admitted to the U.S. Army Hospital Steamer, Connecticut and transported to Washington, D.C. where he died of typhoid pneumonia on 7 May 1865 at Emory U.S. Army General Hospital, the converted barracks of the 6th U.S. Cavalry. It is not known where he was buried; his record was not completed in that regard. Generally, however, soldiers who died of causes other than wounds suffered were buried in "Harmony Burial Grounds", a location which has disappeared from current knowledge.

(A contemporary map of the Washington, D.C. area does show a "National Harmony Memorial Park", but it is a recreational park and it is not known whether it bears any relationship to the Civil War era burial grounds.) It is known that Charles was buried on 9 May 1865.

After leaving Charles on the 23rd, Frank marched to Keysville. The troops were en route to Danville, the rebel manufacturing center where railroad equipment, cannon, musketry, etc. were made for the Confederate cause. They arrived at Danville 27 April and accepted the surrender of that city, capturing numerous arms, projectiles, and machinery for manufacturing. The distance marched from Burkeville to Danville was 100 miles and that distance was covered in four days and four hours. The unit marched a total of more than 300 miles during the month of April alone!

According to official records, William was discharged from the Army on 31 May 1865 at David's Island, DeCamp U.S. Army General Hospital, New York harbor; also, on 1 June at the same location; and on 7 June near Alexandria, Virginia! Simultaneously, he was still carried on the Deserter Roster of Company G, 98th Regiment of the New York Volunteers Infantry!!!

Frank camped with the 106th at Danville until 16 May when the unit broke camp and took the train to Manchester and encamped near that town. On 24 May they again broke camp and took up a line of march for Washington, D.C. The troops were reviewed in Richmond, Virginia by Major General Halleck. They reached Fredericksburg on the 29th. The march continued towards Washington and, arriving there, were reviewed by the President and members of the cabinet. The unit encamped upon the heights surrounding the capital. It is not known if Frank visited Charles' grave, or if he was even able to locate it. Frank was mustered out on 22 June 1865 "near Washington", and the 106th NY Volunteer Regiment made one last march.

The troops marched the 40 odd miles from Washington to Baltimore where they boarded the Northern Central Railway to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and then on to Elmira, New York, Watertown, New York, and finally arriving at Ogdensburg, New York on the morning of 26 June. The "gallant" regiment was paraded through the principal streets of the town and then marched onto Eagle Hall where a formal reception took place. Frank then went home to Emeline and his son and daughters and mother in Dickinson. He spent a short time with them, and in visiting William and the rest of the family. Frank returned to Ogdensburg to be paid off and receive his Springfield rifle and accoutrements. (Soldiers were given the choice of paying a fee for the rifle in that there existed a surplus of weapons and it was cheaper for the War Department to sell them to the troops as opposed to gathering them all up and shipping them to a central location.) Finally, on 3 July 1865, Frank returned home permanently. He had been gone for 10 months.

News of Charles' death was met with shock and sorrow. For a time depositions were taken on Martha's behalf in order to secure whatever benefits were available to a deceased Union soldier's widow and minor children.

Charles H. was born to George and Charity on 11 September 1865, but he died 3 May, the following Spring. He was buried near Alzina in Mound Hill cemetery outside of Nicholville. His gravemarker can still be seen today.

Benager and Mary Ann Tromblee had their first son on 2 January 1866, and he, too, was named Charles. The following year Mary Ann gave brith to her second son, named William.

Martha M. (Decker) White, Charles White's widow, remarried Joseph Turner in Stockholm, New York on 7 April 1867. Her second husband adopted her son, Adelbert.

Finally, the military records indicate that on 20 April 1867, the charge of desertion against William White was officially purged from his records with Company C, 98th Regiment, with the notation that he had been properly discharged 21 July 1862 by reason of wounds received at the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia on 31 May 1862.

Stories in the local newspapers kept the public informed about the settling of the West and advertisements of travel companies told how easy it was to move one's family "out west." The railroad was selling land along their trackage and the railroad schedules described the western farmlands in glowing terms. I have little doubt that this family had been considering a move westward for some time, perhaps even before the end of the Civil War. Such a trip usually entailed taking a ship or boat from Ogdensburg to Chicago or even as far west as Duluth, Minnesota. From either terminus the railroad would move on to various westward points. If necessary, travel cross-country could be negotiated by covered wagon! The major cross-country migration by wagon train had by this time ended, having been replaced by railroad travel in the late 1860's.

On 18 April 1868, George and Charity sold their 34 acres of land located in Dickinson to D. F. Henderson for $245.00. Two days later, Benager Tromblee sold 50 acres, located near George's property---also to D.F. Henderson. There is no record of a land sale by Frank White in either Franklin or St. Lawrence Counties.

Frank and Emeline, together with Lewis and little Emma, migrated to Strawberry Point, Iowa in June 1869. There are no details known of their journey, or why they chose to live in Strawberry Point.

Sometime in 1868, Mary Ann Tromblee gave birth to her first daughter, naming her Mary (or Minnie). Shortly thereafter Mary Ann Tromblee died.

Charles A. White was born to William and Emily in July 1869, probably in Iowa.

Frank's mother, Mary White, went to Anita, Iowa at about this time and is found to be living with her children, Porter and Martha, as well as Harvey Judson according to the 1870 U.S. Census. She was living next door to Horace Atwood, a man 2 years older than she and his wife, Sarah Atwood who was born in Canada. (It is not known whether this couple was related to Mary White, whose maiden name was also Atwood.)

While living in Strawberry Point, Frank and Emeline White had a child named Alice Sophia, born 18 May 1870. They also had a second son, Homer Judson, who was born 12 September 1872.

Not later than July 1870, Benager Tromblee, widower of Mary Ann, married Sarah Jane White, Mary Ann's younger sister. It is not known whether this marriage took place in New York, en route from New York to Iowa, or in Iowa. In any case, Merton Tromblee was born to the couple in Iowa. Young Merton was his mother's first child.

Frank White's two daughters by his first marriage to Alzina Dewey lived with their new stepmother and their father for some time. At some point, probably when Frank migrated to Iowa, they went to live with their grandparents, the William W. Deweys, in Hopkinton until 1871. In that year the two girls petitioned the Surrogate Court (Editor's Note: also sometimes known as Probate Court in certain parts of the country) for the protection and guardianship of George Sheldon, husband of Mary (Dewey) Sheldon, their aunt. Shortly thereafter, they and their guardian joined the second party of the "St. Lawrence Colony" of migrants who traveled by boat to Duluth, took a train to Crow Wing, where the group disembarked and walked the remaining width of the State of Minnesota to Fergus Falls. The colony ultimately settled in Western Township.

This colony was led by Captain Peter Robertson who, incidentally, was the regimental commander of the 106th NY Vols., Infantry.

On 10 March 1872 Mary Melvina was born to George and Charity White in Anita, Iowa. Ruth M. was born to William and Emily White, also in Anita, in July of the same year. Frank and Emiline White and their family arrived in Anita from Strawberry Point in 1873. Harvey Judson White, Frank's youngest brother, married Angeline Rachel Taylor in Anita on 30 January 1876. Olie Albert White was born to Frank and Emeline on 23 March 1876 in Anita. The infant was named after a dear friend of the couple.

On 25 May 1874, Rosina A. White, Frank's second daughter by his first marriage, was married to Albert W. Coats, a New York born hotel owner. The nuptials took place in either Fergus Falls or Campbell, Minnesota Harriet, Frank's eldest daughter by Alzina, married Olaf J. Sundhal, a Norwegian-born merchant, in Fergus Falls, on 6 September 1874. Rosina and her daughter, Gertie May, were living with the Sundhals according to the 1880 census report.

Sometime during 1877, the home of William and Emily White in Anita was destroyed by fire. Included in the loss was a family bible which contained the records of marriages, births and deaths. On the last day of that year, William and Emily had a child they named Ira. George and Charity had a child on 21 June 1877, who they named Ethel Ermina. The Anita Times reported that William and George White built new homes in 1878.

On 24 March 1878, Eva J. was born to Frank and Emeline White in Anita and Edward P. Tromblee was born to Benager and Sarah Jane on 2 May of that same year.

The September 24, 1879 edition of the Atlantic Weekly Telegraph reported on conditions of poor sanitation in the Town of Anita. The article expressed concern with the manner in which waste from animal pens on the hillsides of the town washed down into household wells during rainstorms. The article mentioned problems with diptheria (there were 8 reported cases of the disease, as well as 3 cases of typhoid which appeared in the mortality schedules for the year 1879. Among these was the name of Francis White). The suggestion was that the cause of these diseases was the waste problem cited above. Willard White, born to George and Charity on 29 April 1879 died two days later and Frank White died in Anita on 9 November of that year, 4 days after his 47th birthday. Frank's cause of death was listed as typhoid fever. Frank had been under the medical care of Dr. W. Bradway. Frank's daughter, Rosina, came to Iowa from Fergus Falls, Minnesota to attend the funeral. Frank's head stone (provided by the United States government through an 1879 Act of Congress which allowed head stones for Union soldiers) is found in Evergreen Cemetery, with the wrong dates for birth and death. An obituary for Francis Lewis White has not yet been discovered because the Anita Times editions for the years 1873 through 1882 are missing.

Charles Tromblee, son of Benager and Mary Ann, died of consumption of 1 June 1880, aged 14 years, 5 months, and 29 days. He, too, was under the care of Dr. W. Bradway. On 2 January the following year, Charles's stepmother, Sarah Jane died in childbirth; however, the infant, Ross Vernon, survived. Sarah Jane was also buried in Evergreen Cemetery, next to her stepson.

On 23 April 1881, in Anita, Iowa, Emeline White (widow of Frank) married Edmond G. Worden, then a hotel clerk, and later an engineer at the grist mill. Porter White married Martha Scott on 29 July 1881 in Bedford, Iowas. The couple lived for a time near Anita and farmed for time in Lincoln and Grant Townships.

On 27 September 1882, Ole Sundhal sold his Fergus Falls Opera House block to J. T. Hutton for $14,600.00 and he and his wife, Hattie (White) Sundhal, left for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he hoped to find a cure for his rheumatism. Their mode of travel is not known.

In 1882, or thereabouts, Frank White's oldest son, Lewis L., married a local girl named Melvina. Her father was born in Ireland. Her mother was born in Iowa, as was the bride. According to the 1900 census, Lewis and Melvina lived in Scott Township, Mahaska County, Iowa and had three children: Francis, born in 1893; Ermina, born in 1895; and Edith, born in 1898.

On 22 January 1883, Genie H. White was born to William and Emily. On 2 June 1883, Ole Sundhal and his wife, Harriet, returned from their eight month sojourn to Hot Springs, Arkansas. Ole's rheumatism was very little improved. On 22 June the following year, he died of the disease at age 36. On 25 June the following year, Harriet Sundhal married W. Harvey Bannon of Saline County, Kansas. The couple relocated to Kansas the following month.

Rosina Coats remained in Fergus Falls, and lived with her uncle, William Dewey. It is known that Rosina's husband, Al W. Coats, drove the first stagecoach between Campbell, Minnesota and Fergus Falls in 1871. What is not known is why he is not listed in the census reports as living with Rosina and their children. It is possible that he was an entrepreneur of sorts and traveled frequently, necessitating his family living with relatives, at least at the time of the census reports. He is known to have leased his Pacific Hotel to one Mr. Knowles. Precisely where that hotel was located is unknown. The fact that son Floyd was born in North Dakota raises the possibility that Al Coats was engaged in business in that area. There is some evidence that a hotel venture would take the Coats family to Miami, Florida at some later date.

On 21 January 1890, Louis White's widow, Mary (Atwood) White, died at the approximate age of 75, presumably at the family farm in Anita. Her burial place is unknown. Some descendants fix her date of death as 22 January 1892.

At the turn of the century, Frank White's brother, Porter, was still farming in Iowa. Olie Albert White, Frank's son, was living at home with his mother, Emeline, and his stepfather, Edmond. Olie was recorded on the 1900 census reports as a brick yard worker. He had gone to Kansas with a man named Albert Gilbaugh to build and fire bricks kilns. He built two each in Kansas and Oklahoma. Olie filed a homestead claim near Woodward and then returned to Anita. It was at about this time that William Wesley White, son of George and Charity, traveled to Woodward, Oklahoma and also filed land claims. Charles A. White, son of William and Emily, and Homer J. White, son of Frank and Emeline, are reported in the 1900 census as being in Webster Township, Woodward County, Oklahoma. They are reported as living on adjoining farms, "west of range line between ranges 18 & 19." They are both single and living alone. These two men are apparently the first persons to have settled their claims in Oklahoma.

On 25 May 1904, George White died at his home. He was 67 years of age. He was buried in Evergreen Cemetery near Frank. Olie married Marjorie Walker in Woodward on 26 January 1905. On 24 December 1905, Olie and Marjorie had their first child, a son, Francis Nathaniel.

In 1904, Porter White and his family moved to Harrison Township, Hall County, Nebraska. Settling there, Porter farmed his own place. Porter and Martha White celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at Alda, Nebraska in 1931. Porter died suddenly on 22 March 1936. He is buried in the Alda cemetery.

Edmond Worden died in Woodward on 27 June 1909. Edward Tromblee died in the same town on 10 January 1914. Benjamine Benager Tromblee died, also in Woodward, on 16 April 1919. The entire Tromblee family is buried in Elmwood Cemetery.

Olie Albert White's wife, Marjorie, died 22 August 1922 in the Woodward Hospital. She was buried in Elmwood Cemetery. She was survived by her husband and five children: F. Nathaniel, Robert A., Albert R., Helen Rebecca, and Marjorie Hastie.

Emeline White-Worden died in Woodward on 26 February 1927 at age 83. Her cause of death is listed as double pneumonia. She, too, is buried in Elmwood cemetery. Harvey Judson White, youngest son of Louis White, died 8 February 1932 at Sharon, Oklahoma, a town south of Woodward. He is buried in North Persimmon cemetery. William White, Louis's second son, died at age 98 on 13 July 1932, at the home of his daughter, Genie H. Henderson, in Wiota, Iowa near Anita. He is buried in Evergreen cemetery near George and Frank. He was buried by his family and old friends of the Anita GAR Post, who obtained an American flag, with which they draped his casket.

Frank White's sister, Martha Turner moved to Hastings, Nebraska with her husband, Ash, in 1902. She died there on 16 October 1928 and was survived by five children: Mary Workman of Anita, Iowa; Mrs. John Richards, Mrs. E. Perry, John W. Turner and E. C. Turner, all of Hastings. She was also survived by three brothers, William, Judd, and Porter. She is buried in Parkview Cemetery.

Harriet Sundhal-Bannon died at Solomon, Kansas on 22 November 1934, at the home of her daughter, Mina Sellards. Her son, Claire Francis Sundhal was living in Topeka at that time and her sister, Rosina Coats, was living in Miami, Florida.

EDITOR'S NOTE

This lengthy, detailed, apparently well-researched article was recently submitted for publication in our journal and we are, of course, pleased to do so. The White family progenitor, as related in this article, was Louis White, whose origins are sketchy at best (see the first paragraph). Accordingly, I am assuming that the author possesses no genealogical data pre-dating Louis's birth, ca.1810. If any member/reader of this White family history has any earlier data on this particular White (LeBlanc?) family in Canada, I am certain the same would be appreciated by the author. Any such information can be forwarded to the author via the JE ME SOUVIENS editorial address.

LE RALLIEMENT INTERNATIONAL DES MARTIN THE MARTIN INTERNATIONAL RALLY

70 des Ormeaux, Ile Perrot, Québec J7V 7T3

The first, largest, most sensational get-together of Martins and Martin-related individuals will take place on June 25th and 26th, 1988, in Vaudreuil, PQ, some 17 miles west of Montreal.

Despite the many existing branches of Martins, all participants, whether they be Martins, Martens, Martyn, Martinez, etc., should, in all likelihood, be in a position to retrace their ancestry during this huge rally, which will be televised throughout. Most lines are interrelated, back through history, the initial branch originating from France.

Such a colorful group of people meeting for the first time in history on such a large scale, constitutes a lively mosaic of participants with one goal in mind: retracing ancestors who have bequeathed them with the greatest gift of all: LIFE. The best way to show one's gratitude is to trace one's ancestors, get to know their deeds and sacrifices, and extol their virtues to the fullest. That's a small price to pay for so much. After all, gratitude is not a one way street.

Our ancestors would fully approve of our participation toward the success of this grand rally, the first and only one of its type ever to be held. A detailed program of such a moving family reunion will be mailed on request by contacting:

AS IN A MIRROR: RESEARCHING TWINS

by Mary-Ellen Benoit and
Rev. Dennis M. Boudreau

When the American-French Genealogical Society sent out its questionnaire for its proposed volume entitled, WHO'S WHO IN THE A.F.G.S.? a couple of years ago, some very interesting data was returned. From time to time, in the local papers appears a notice for a meeting of the organization known as the "Mothers of Twins Society". Too bad such an organization was not around two hundred years ago, because our two families might have been among its charter members, perhaps with long-standing membership, as the next few pages of charts will indicate.

Sometimes, when doing genealogical research, we unearth a vast array of discoveries, some of which are taken purely for granted, while others, remain utterly fantastic. One such phenomenon in the compiling of our pedigrees was the number of twins, both identical and fraternal, down through the centuries. If anything, their presence and number has convinced us that they do "run in" some families more prevalently than in others.

Mary-Ellen Benoit of Providence, a collaborator in this article, writes:

I realized when I was still a child that along with my twin brother and myself, I had twin cousins, twin aunts, and many more other distant relatives who were twins. It was so common, in fact, that other family members had ceased to think it an unusual family characteristic.

Then, in the process of researching my genealogy, I discovered in my maternal family, ten (10) sets of twins in the five generations I was able to trace. These sets of twins occur in less than one hundred years, from 1861 to 1958.

My great-great-grandmother, my great-grandmother, my grandmother and my mother, all gave birth to twins, laying to rest the myth that twin births always skip a generation. All of the twins born were apparently fraternal twins, regardless of gender. Although I have two children, I did not have twins, nor did any of my cousins. Perhaps the "twinning" has stopped for now. (See enclosed chart).

Similarly, while researching the three branches of the Boudreau Family, who settled on the Madeline Islands in Quebec from 1765 to 1980, I too ran across some startling figures regarding the presence of twins in our family. I have found thirty-one (31) sets of twins descended from the male Boudreau lines alone. This number doesn't even take into account the fact that I'm sure an equally large number of twins have descended from this family through its female members, who have married into other Island families.

Also, in our direct line, I have two sisters who are identical twins (Anne and Jeanne); our paternal grandmother's aunts (Geneviève and Marine Doucet) were also identical twins; and our two paternal great-great-grandmothers (Mélanie Bourgeois and Philomène Turbide) were themselves, each a twin; one, fraternal and the other, identical. But, see for yourself...

Recipe

Tired of turkey sandwiches, turkey soup, turkey casserole? What can a person do with all those holiday leftovers?

Here's a tasty new way to serve a follow-up to our traditional holiday meals...

TURKEY CUTLETS IN MUSTARD SAUCE

- 1 lb. turkey breast cutlets
 1/4 cup seasoned flour
 3 Tbsp. vegetable oil
 1/2 cup chicken broth
 1/4 cup dry sherry
 1-2 Tbsp. Dijon mustard
 1/4 cup light cream

Lightly coat cutlets with flour. In a skillet, melt margarine or butter. Add turkey and sauté until lightly browned on both sides, about 5 minutes; remove to a platter and keep warm. Add chicken broth, sherry and mustard to skillet. Simmer until slightly reduced, stirring to loosen brown bits from the bottom of the pan. Add cream and simmer until sauce has thickened, about 2 minutes. Pour sauce over turkey. Makes 4 servings.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

Greetings from your Library Committee - Jan, Armand, Mary and Charlie . It is November in Pawtucket, RI and believe it or not we had 12 inches of snow this week !! Fall is supposed to be a time when tourists come to New England to enjoy the beautiful foliage ! Winter is when people are supposed to come to New England to ski !! Oh well, as long as the libraries, town halls, and historical societies stay open I guess that all the local genealogists will be able to survive.

It is with great sadness that your Librarian writes this report today. Rachel Gaudet, a treasured friend and valued committee member, lost her hard-fought battle with cancer and was buried the day before Thanksgiving. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Rachel was one of those quiet people who was always there to do the little tasks that no one else would remember to do - straighten out the books on the shelves, have people sign the attendance book, make the coffee, reserve the table for the library committee, answer research questions ... We will all miss Rachel's sense of humor, her dedication and her knowledge. I will miss her friendship. I know all your thoughts will be with her husband Charlie.

I would like to thank everyone who sent in post cards to say that they have read the Library Report. It was nice to have all those words of praise and encouragement as well. The Library Committee is quite small. We are all volunteers with a love for genealogy and a great loyalty to AFGS. We do our best and it is nice to know that it is appreciated. The winner of the prize this time around is Mr. Al Gaboury of Lincoln, RI. Please feel free to continue to write to your Library Committee. We really do like to hear from you.

I would like to acknowledge the donations of $35.00 which were made in memory of Mr. Albert Vermette. Mr. Vermette was the father of Therese Poloquin who is our Treasurer. We send our condolences to Terri. The money will be used to purchase new books for the Library.

The following books are now ready for sale. You may order them from AFGS. More information can be found elsewhere in "Je Me Souviens".

1. NEW BEDFORD:

A repertoire of marriages for New Bedford through 1920 is being offered for sale at a price of $40.00. This work was originally completed by Albert Ledoux and has been redone, with permission from Mr. Ledoux, by the Library Committee. The work contains Franco-American marriages.

2. ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST - ARCTIC, RI:

Marriages from this early parish (1874-1983) located in Arctic or West Warwick, RI will be very helpful to researchers. The repertoire is nearing completion and will be available for sale in January. The repertoire has over 600 pages and is being offered in two volumes so that it will be easier for the researcher to handle.

3. ST. CECILIA - PAWTUCKET, RI:

The marriages of St. Cecilia's Church are ready and being sold for 35.00. This repertoire covers the years 1910-1986 and is predominately Franco-American. This is a long awaited addition to our growing number of local repertoires.

4. ST. MATTHEW - FALL RIVER, MA.

This parish is currently at the printers and will be available in January. St. Matthew's, established in 1885, was and still is a Franco-American parish. I know that researchers will be very happy to have this important repertoire at their disposal.

We are grateful to all who have continued to make contributions to the Library Fund. The Library Committee is very grateful for your continuing support of our efforts. Books are so expensive that it would be difficult to maintain our superb library without your generosity. Donations of money are applied to books on order thus defraying expenses that the Board has already approved. We also receive donations of books, magazines and original works by our members. All of these donations are received with great excitement here in Pawtucket.

The Library Committee continues to collect obituaries. Feel free to help us out if you would like. Don't forget, we collect brides too. We would still like to hear from more of you. How about clipping some obituaries, wedding announcements, or fiftieth wedding anniversary notices? It won't take long and it will really help. COME ON - JOIN US !!

We are currently trying to compile a mailing list of libraries, genealogical societies and historical societies that might be interested in purchasing our publications. You could help by sending us the name and address of the libraries or societies in your area where you do your research. We will then send them a list of our publications to see if they might be interested in making a purchase. We would really appreciate any help that you could give us with this project.

We are still looking for people who are willing to give us a hand with some computer work. Most of us are using APPLE Computers but we also have help from people with IBM, Tandy, Commodore and TI Computers. If you are willing to help please let me know. We have a lot of work to do.

Also we are always looking for more records. We can use help gathering information from churches, town halls, funeral homes, town reports etc. Would you be able to gather any of this information from your local area. If you can, let us know what you have in mind and we will be glad to provide the correct forms for you to use. Or perhaps you have access to a copy machine and can just send us copies of the original information. You do not have to worry about transcribing the raw material. We can organize that back here.

Your Library Committee needs your help and thrives on your constructive criticism. If we omit your name from our report when it should have been included, please let us know. We appreciate the co-operation of the officers and the Board of Directors who have always been so supportive of our efforts. This library, however, belongs to the entire membership of AFGS. We want to serve your needs but please remember that we are only five individuals. Won't you write to us and let us know what you are willing to do to help us to serve you better ?

A.F.G.S. RESEARCH COMMITTEE-----

Are you having problems with your genealogical research? Have you run up against a stone wall?

Our A.F.G.S. RESEARCH COMMITTEE will be happy to help you locate your missing ancestors, using the numerous resources available here at our Library, as well as the Forget File, and Loisel and Rivest Indices in our microfilm collection. So don't hesitate to mail problem marriages to us c/o the Society address.

We ask that you would please confine your queries to Acadian and French-Canadian marriages only, as this is our forte. We do not do research on France-French families or French Huguenot ancestry. We can put you in touch with those who do however.

Fees for research are $2.00 per marriage (for AFGS members) and $4.00 per marriage (for non-members). So it pays to belong to our Society. Also, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope (except for Canadian correspondence) with your queries, or your letter will not be acknowledged, due to the rising cost of postage. Please send us as much information as you can to help us in our search. Research forms are available upon request, if you need them.

If we cannot find your marriage, your money will be cheerfully refunded, and your query will be placed in the next issue of this publication, so that someone else may see it, and if they have the answer, can forward it to us and you.

We thank you for your cooperation in regard to our policy, and we hope to serve you in this capacity.

The Research Committee

Please send any answers to

WHO'S WHO IN THE A.F.G.S.?

About two or three years ago, the Society sent out a questionnaire to all its membership, asking for personal data on you, your background, family, hobbies, education, a photo, and two ancestor charts, one starting with your father and the other, starting with your mother. Needless to say, the response to this project was overwhelming, and many have returned all that we had asked for back then. From Alaska and California to France and Netherlands, from Canada to Florida, charts have been collected, revealing some fascinating genealogies.

Due to the man and woman-power shortage of getting people to ready these for publication, as well as the fact that the present goal of the Society is to place all their efforts into publishing marriage repertoires, records of which have just recently become available to us, we had to place the idea of a WHO'S WHO IN THE AFGS on a back burner...until someone had a bright idea. Why not publish the ancestral charts, at least, in JE ME SOUVIENS? And so, with each future issue we are going to do just that, starting with our present Winter 1987 issue.

As you can see from the following pages, we are unable to include your pictures, but we'll hang on to them along with your biographical data, should we publish them as a collection in the future. Also, on each chart will be found the address and AFGS membership number, should you wish to correspond and share information. We will publish as many as we can each issue...and believe us, there's a lot more to come. At least in this way, most of us can discover common ancestry which we certainly share with each other. Have fun!!!

INDEX FOR JE ME SOUVIENS WINTER 1986 AND SUMMER 1987

Following each entry in this index you will see a series of numbers like this 18: 4-8. The first number is a code which refers to a particular volume of Je Me Souviens. The second set of numbers refers to the pages that should be consulted. In this case, 18 stands for Winter 1986 and 4-8 stands for pages 4-8.

Special thanks to Kathryn Sharp who worked hard compiling the information for this work; Mary Letourneau who put the information on the computer and Jan Burkhart who organized the information into this current index. We are not professional index makers but we hope that this attempt to index our fine journal will prove to be useful to you.

In this Index 18 represents the Winter 1986 issue and 19 represents the Summer 1987 issue.

Constructive criticism or comments may be addressed to the A.F.G.S. Library committee.
