"Know from whence you came. Because if you know from whence you came, There is no limit to where you can go."

In the words of James Baldwin, we hope your family searches take you on many challenges in 1997.

SOCIETY NEWS:

* Our Annual Christmas Party was held at a new location, American Legion Hall of Post #44 on December 18th. About 36 people attended and all had a great time. Rather than the "POTLUCK" of the past the group decided on "Finger Foods" and they were excellent and enough to feed an Army! We were able to have "both types of punch" (high test and regular) and even had "JELLO SHOTS". For the Christmas program, 3 members read a favorite Christmas story that appealed to young and old alike.

If you missed the party you really lost out on a great time. Plan on joining us for the festivities this year!

Member Jean Harsch listens as Terry Donnelly, Sandra Caden and Rosemary Michelin read favorite Christmas stories.

* Many of you have computer E-mail addresses. If you would like your address published in the May newsletter, please send by April 1st.

* GENEALOGY PRESENTATION AT IRON MINING MUSEUM

In early January 1997 Florence Olivier, and Marge and Don Small gave a presentation to the Jr. Historians Group at the Iron Mining Museum in Negaunee. These young historians are getting prepared to act as people who lived at Fort Wilkins in Copper Harbor during the early 1800's. They do background research about the people and their lives and then act these out during the summer season.

- * The Surname Index and Membership list will be mailed to all members with the May Newsletter. Send any corrections of your address or additional surnames to MCGS by the end of February.

- * If you have not sent your 4 or 5 generation ancestor chart to us, please do so, so they can be published in the newsletter. The editors also welcome your articles and ideas. Send to MCGS, c/o Joan Kapeller or Rosemary Michelin.

- * Correction from Oct. '96 newsletter: Sharon Kennedy, Register of Deeds, Chippewa Co. Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. Correct address is:
E-mail: sharon @ sault.com Website address: <http://www.light-house.net/sharon/>

- * PBS is broadcasting the Ancestors program this winter locally on WNMU, channel 13 at 6:30 pm on Saturdays. Programs left are: Episode 8-"Your Medical Heritage" on Feb. 22: Episode 9-"Computer and the Internet" on March 1; Episode 10-Final episode on March 8. Check for listings in your area.

-  The October issue of "Superior Roots" will feature a new page titled "Ancestor Gallery". We need your help! Please send photographs of your grandparents or great grandparents. Identify your ancestors with names, dates, place of residence and relationship to you. Be sure to put your name and address on back so we can return these photos to you. We plan to make this an annual feature so send 1 or 2 photographs to the MCGS address by August 31. Thanks!

REPUBLIC-A sad accident occurred here on Wednesday which resulted in the death of two men and injured another. Fritz BAUMGARDNER, Henry WILMOT and William ANDREWS were working together in No. 2 pit, when a mass of rock fell from the hanging wall and instantly killed BAUMGARTNER and WILMOT and seriously injured ANDREWS. BAUMGARDNER, who leaves an invalid wife and four children, was buried today (Thursday), at Clarksburg and WILMOT was buried here.

DMJ, 7 May 1887, p. 2, c.4

MICHIGAMME BREVITIES-The remains of Mrs. BAUMGARDNER, who died Thursday last, were interred in the Michigamme Cemetery Sunday, having been kept until that time to allow of her son, who was in Texas at the time of her death, attending the funeral. The funeral was one of the largest held here in some time.

The following death's, which occurred at Ely Township/Clarksburg, were registered with the Marquette County Clerk. Due to the loss of the Ely Township records by fire, it is unknown whether these burials took place in the Clarksburg Cemetery or not. Only the deaths for the years of 1872, 1873, 1874, and 1875 have been extracted because it appears that most of the burials took place during that time frame.

ITALIAN HISTORY

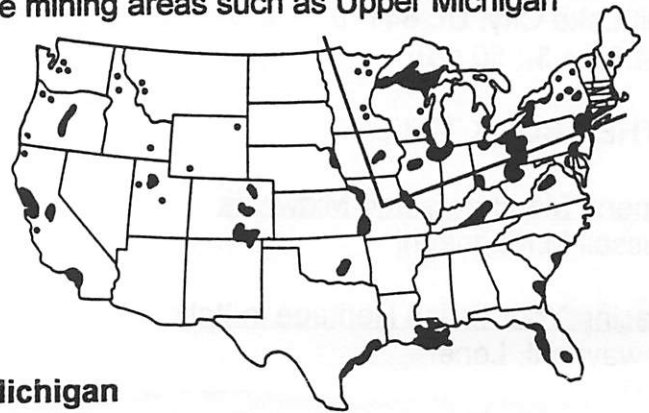

After centuries of foreign domination, Italy finally became a free state in 1866. Italy had the potential to become a powerful nation because of its good climate, industrious people, diversified agriculture, prosperous silk production, some mineral wealth and a good merchant sailing fleet. One thing lacking in this new nation however was the capital needed to compete with other industrial countries. In 1870 the price of grain fell, a customs tariff war began with France, and a blight devastated the vineyards and silk cocoons. The Italian countryside soon became impoverished.

Thus between 1880 and 1920, more than 4 million Italians immigrated to America, the largest wave of immigrants from any particular country during a 40 year period. It is estimated however, that from 30 to 50% eventually returned to Italy, dissatisfied with life in America.

Italians entered America mainly at the ports of New York City, Baltimore, and Boston. They settled in major northern and western cities and in remote mining areas such as Upper Michigan and Northern Minnesota.

Italian Settlement Patterns

Italians in Upper Michigan

By 1900, Upper Michigan boasted 74% of the state's Italian populations with the main concentrations in Houghton, Dickinson, Iron and Marquette Counties. The major settlements of Italians in Marquette County were in Gwinn, Austin, Princeton, Negaunee and Ishpeming. Generally the Italians in most towns except Ishpeming, came from Northern Italy: Piedmont; Lombardy; Venetia. Those in Ishpeming emigrated from Southern Italy: Calabria; Sicily.

The earliest Italian pioneers were Philip and Josephine Marchetti (Marketty) who arrived in Negaunee in 1864. Marchetti joined with Batista Barasa to form the Barasa Iron Mining Company. Other early Italian families were the D'Angelo, Borgi, Bastedo, Mazona, Dighera, Tasson, Chiabetto, Valenti and Marietti families.

In 1910, over 80% of the Italians in the county were employed as iron ore miners and resided in the above mining communities. Other occupations they held were railroad workers, saloonkeepers, and grocery or bakery owners. In the 1900 census over half the Italian families listed had boarders, often single men from their home town in Italy. This occupation kept women and children busy with household chores and supplemented the family's income.

Many Italian organizations were formed to provide accident, sickness, and death benefits to members. For a 50¢ monthly fee, members could receive $100-200 for funeral expenses. Social groups planned ethnic events such as dances, bocci ball tournaments, parades and celebrations of the 4th of July and Columbus Day. Over 125 Italian organizations formed in Upper Michigan. Today the Paisano Club and the St. Rocco Society promote Italian heritage to third and fourth generation Italians.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION:

* Thank-you to Kay Grady for providing her manuscript "Clarksburg Cemetery" for this issue! Her original copy can be researched at the J. M. Longyear Library or the Marquette County Genealogical Society collection at Peter White Public Library.

* Helpful Hints for Census Searches:

Census enumerators were instructed to take the census "as of" the census date, regardless of the visit date. Babies born after the "date" were not included, but deaths were. Although not all enumerators applied this rule you should know and heed it when researching.

Sometimes the early census was taken over a year after the "as of" date. Other times the census was begun much earlier than the "as of" date. This would account for the difference in ages from one census to the next, i.e. 11, 19, 30, etc.

The census dates 1790, 1800, 1820 - 1st Monday in August were: 1830 through 1900 - June 1st

1910- April 15th

1920- January 20th

1930 through 1980- April 1st

POLL TAX

What Is A Poll Tax?

A poll tax, or head tax is a uniform tax levied against each adult person in a community. The poll tax is the same regardless of each person's income or property.

Poll taxes were originally levied on conquered people by the ancient Greeks and Romans. In England a poll tax was first imposed in 1377 and re-imposed at intervals until 1678. In the 17th century, this tax was an important source of revenue for financing wars. In medieval times, taxes were paid not in money, but in the form of labor or other payments, such as work on local roads or supplies of grain or other farm produce.

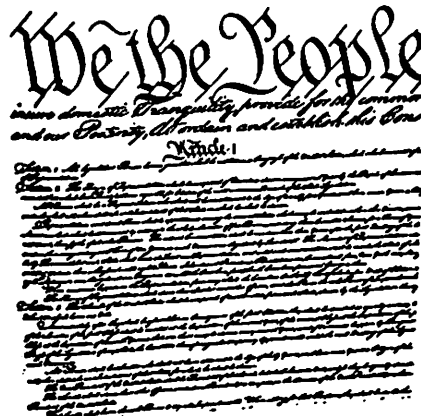

Poll taxes have been criticized as an unfair burden on the poor. In the United States, poll taxes were levied infrequently until after the Civil War. They were then adopted by the southern states as a way of circumventing the 15th Amendment to the Constitution, which guaranteed former slaves the right to vote. Poor people without the means to pay the tax were refused voting rights. Not until 1964 were poll taxes prohibited.

Poll Tax Lists As A Genealogical Tool

Tax records are an important source of genealogical information and are usually located in the Treasurer's office or the Register of Deeds office in each county. Tax records can be used to locate an ancestor in a community. When many census schedules were lost, they were replaced by poll tax and property tax lists.

Adult males between the ages of 21 and 50 were taxed annually. However, poll tax lists are not successful in locating some ancestors such as women, children, slaves, men older than 50, paupers, ministers, justices of the peace, military officers and tax assessors.

Poll tax lists arrange the names in initial order. In other words, the surnames beginning with "A" are together, but not alphabetical. By examining several years of poll tax lists or property assessment lists, one can find an ancestor in a community, often in years between the federal censuses.

[illegible]

Pages 7-10 are published Marquette City Poll Tax lists from the Weekly Mining Journal, June 1876.

The following is an excerpt from the 1891 Marquette City Charter, explaining poll taxes:

Section 9. The common council shall have power to assess and collect from every male inhabitant of said city over the age of twenty-one years and under the age of fifty years (except paupers, idiots, lunatics and persons otherwise exempted by law), an annual capitation, or poll-tax, not exceeding one dollar, and they may provide by their by-laws for the collection of same; provided that any person assessed for a poll-tax may pay the same by one day's labor upon the streets, under the direction of the street commissioner, who shall give to each person so assessed and electing to pay the same in labor, notice of the time and place, when and where such labor will be required, and the money raised by such poll-tax or labor in lieu thereof, shall be expended or performed under the direction of the common council.

NOTICE TO COMMUTE FOR POLL TAX.—The following named persons are hereby notified to be and appear at the corner of Front and Superior streets, in the city of Marquette, on Saturday, July 1st, 1876, at eight o'clock in the forenoon of that day, for the purpose of performing labor on the streets of said city and to commute for their poll tax, in accordance with the provisions of the charter of said city and an ordinance for the collection of poll tax, adopted June 4th, A. D. 1875:

THE ELUSIVE ANCESTOR

I went searching for an ancestor. I cannot find him still.
He moved around from place to place and did not leave a will.
He married where a courthouse burned. He mended all his fences.
He avoided any man who came to take the U.S. Census.

He always kept his luggage packed, this man who had no fame.
And every 20 years or so, this rascal changed his name.
His parents came from Europe. They should be upon some list of passengers to U.S.A., but somehow they got missed.

And no one else in this world is searching for this man.
So, I play geneasolitaire to find him if I can.
I'm told he's buried in a plot, with tombstone he was blessed;
but the weather took engraving, and some vandals took the rest.

He died before the county clerks decided to keep records.
No Family Bible has emerged, in spite of all my efforts.
To top it off this ancestor, who caused me many groans,
Just to give me one more pain, betrothed a girl named JONES.
by Merrell Kenworthy

U.S. MILITARY RECORDS

I. General Information

Military records of the US many not provide a solution to every genealogical problem, but they often contain excellent supplemental pedigree information.

Records relating to conflicts prior to the Revolutionary War are mainly historical accounts and contain little genealogical data. Records created since the Revolution often contain facts relating to birth, marriage, death, parentage, migration as well as other important genealogical events.

Military records of major genealogical importance consist mainly of service and pension files. Service files contain documents relating to events which affect personnel during their tour of duty; from enlistment or induction to separation or discharge. Pension files often include more genealogical information than service files and relate to the individual after he was released from service.

With the exception of a few record groups which were destroyed in 1800 and 1812-15, most service and pension files have been preserved. Most records in existence which related to early wars, and in peacetime during the same periods, are in the National Archives in Washington, D.C. Most Confederate veteran's records are not in the National Archives but are mainly located in their respective states. A majority of existing records relating to World War I have been centralized at a Federal Records Center in East Point, GA. Records relating to personnel who served during World War II and in later conflicts have been centralized at a Federal Records Center in St Louis, Missouri. Personnel currently in the service, whether on active duty or in the Reserves, usually are of record in Headquarters Unit of their parent organization. Duplicate and supplemental records relating to service personnel who have served since the beginning of World War II may also be found in regional offices of the Veterans Administration.

II. Revolutionary War Records

Service files relating to the Revolution were destroyed when the British burned Washington during the War of 1812.

Pension records relating to service in the Revolutionary War were created under various Congressional acts beginning in 1776 and continuing to the 20th century. The burden to provide the actual benefits rested first with the states and applied mainly to officers. Important pensions acts in 1818, 1828, and 1832 liberalized pension requirements; allowing the enlisted man, his widow, and his orphans certain benefits. Under acts beginning in 1776 and continuing to 1855, "Bounty Lands" were granted to veterans of U.S. service or of State Militia.

Documents relating to a particular soldier, his widow, or to his children, have been combined in a single packet or file in the National Archives and are available to the genealogist. Xerox or microfilm copies of existing documents can be obtained from the National Archives at a reasonable cost. The files have also been microfilmed and are available through the LDS Genealogical Society in Salt Lake City. The microfilmed files are alphabetically arranged by the name of the soldier and a published index also exists.

III. American Loyalists Records and Regular Army Records.

After the peace treaty of 1783, both the U.S. and Great Britain provided means whereby "Loyalists" could be compensated for property losses and records pertaining to these claims have been preserved. Microfilmed copies of "American Loyalist's" Claims, Series "I" are in the Genealogical Society in Salt Lake City and are indexed on microfilm GS #62,010. Several volumes of published material relating to Loyalists can also be found at the Society in Salt Lake City.

The Regular Army also known as "The United States Army" was created as a permanent establishment in 1789 and records relating to its personnel have been preserved. Records of both officers and enlisted men are reflected in registers of enlistment which were prepared from various original documents created during the actual period of service. Registers are in the National Archives arranged in two major groups; those for the period 1789-1821-1912.

IV. Pension Files of other Early Wars

The "Old Wars" series of pension application files relate to claims for service rendered between the end of the Revolution (11 April 1782) and the beginning of the Civil War (4 March 1861). The files are currently in the National Archives. An alphabetical name index has been reproduced on seven rolls of microfilm and is available at Salt Lake City and Brigham Young University.

The War of 1812 Pension Records are also in the National Archives. The records related to service between 1812 and 1815 and are similar to those of the Revolutionary War. The face side of each jacket or envelope has been reproduced on 102 rolls of microfilm.

Indian Wars Pension Records and Mexican War Pension Records are also in the National Archives. Indians War Pension Records related to service between 1817 and 1898 and are indexed on 12 rolls of microfilm,. Mexican War Pension records related to service between 1846-48 and are indexed also.

V. Civil War Records

Service and pension files relating to Union forces are in the National Archives and are well indexed.

Service and Pension files relating to Confederate forces are in their respective states though "A Consolidated Index to Confederate Veteran's Compiled Military Service Records" has been created.

Conscription is the compulsory enlistment of persons to serve in the armed forces. Also known as the draft, conscription began in the United States as a result of the Conscription Act of March 3, 1863, during the War Between the States, or Civil War. If you know the state and county where your ancestor lived in 1863, you can look up the congressional district in the "Congressional Directory for the Second Session of the Thirty-Eighth Congress of the United States of America" published by the U.S. House of Representatives. Once you know the congressional district, you can request that the National Archives staff search for the registration file for your ancestor.

There were two types of records produced as a result of the Conscription Act of March 3, 1863: consolidated lists and descriptive rolls. The consolidated lists provide the person's name, birth date, state or country of birth, place of residence, occupation, and marital status as of July 1, 1863. The descriptive rolls add a physical description and a place or birth to the information found on the consolidated list. These records are all maintained in the Provost Marshall General's Bureau.

The conscription and service records for the Civil War are in the process of being transcribed in a project sponsored by the National Parks Service.

For men born from 1872 to 1900 and who were drafted for WWI, microfilm of their draft registration cards is located in the National Archives.

Annual MCGS Picnic a Success

On July 18th the Annual MCGS Picnic was held at the Presque Isle Park in Marquette. As in the past we had more than enough food, attendance was good and the Rainmaker did a brief dance on us at the onset but then Old Sol came through and smiled on the event the rest of the evening.

The attendees had plenty to eat, the chance to visit to their heart's content and lo and behold Don Small received a kiss on the cheek from Judy Webb as a reward for solving a family ancestral line she had been working on for 40 years.

Those of you who were unable to attend, please make the effort to join us next year, we promise you a memorable time.

*UPCOMING EVENTS:

Genealogy Help At Escanaba Center

Thanks to funding provided by the State of Michigan, through the Michigan Commission on Indian Affairs and the Michigan Family Independence Agency, the Anishnabeg Mom-Weh Community Indian Center of Escanaba is able to provide assistance to those wishing to trace their Native American ancestry.

Anishnabeg Mom-Weh Genealogy Library is continuing its quest to gather as many resources and documents of our early Native American Ancestors.

Through the grant just awarded, the Anishnabeg Mom-Weh Center will continue obtaining pertinent records being held in many archives across the United States, including Indian Census/Payment Rolls, Federal Census Rolls and many indexes and reference manuals directing the patron where to locate a particular record for their ancestors, be they Chippewa, Ottawa, Cherokee, or of Sioux descent.

The library will also be holding seminars periodically throughout this year. Please call us at the Library for more information on the dates for the seminars.

If you would like assistance on your Native American research, or would like to add to our library, please contact us by phone, or write to the address below:

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS OF MICHIGAN' SUPPER PENINSULA TO BE SPECIALLY REMEMBERED

Of the 90,000 Michigan men who went to war between 1861 and 1865, 1,209 were proud residents of the Upper Peninsula. Most of these men joined volunteer infantry and cavalry regiments that were organized in Michigan. Some would also serve with Wisconsin volunteer units. Those who survived and returned home, were joined by hundreds of other Civil War Veterans, drawn to the area by the expanding copper, iron and lumber industries.

Several veterans' groups were formed after the American Civil War, but the organization that is best remembered today, was known as the GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC (G.A.R.). From its beginning in 1866, the G.A.R. became the largest and most influential of the fraternal and patriotic Orders formed by Civil War veterans. It should be noted that the observance of MEMORIAL DAY, our nation's most honorable tribute to the memory of American Servicemen, was created by the G.A.R. Originally designated as "DECORATION DAY," the tradition began on May 30, 1868.

Local Posts of the G.A.R. were formed in communities of all states whose volunteer regiments served the Union - and in areas of the country where Union Civil War veterans resettled after the war. Seventeen such Posts were organized across the Upper Peninsula.

As membership was granted only to men who honorably served the Union during the Civil War, the G.A.R. was destined for extinction. The organization disappeared from the Upper Peninsula with the death of its last surviving member, James F. Lyon, in 1946.

Long before the demise of the G.A.R., its leadership supported the efforts of some of its members to establish a separate organization that would carry on the G.A.R.'s traditions as a "permanent and perpetual organization, composed solely of the sons of deceased or honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines who served the Union and descending in due time to their male descendants." Local chapters of such an organization began to appear in 1878. The first national session of THE SONS OF VETERANS, U.S.A. was held in 1882. In 1925 the name was changed to SONS OF UNION VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR (S.U.V.C.W.) To better identify the heritage. After its national encampment of 1931, the G.A.R. officially designated the S.U.V.C.W. as its legal heir. The S.U.V.C.W. was officially incorporated by an Act of Congress (Public Law 605) in 1954.

Today, efforts are under way to establish a local chapter (Camp) of the S.U.V.C.W. in the Upper Peninsula! This is a proud, first step to honor the memory of all who served in the Civil War, all across Michigan's U.P. This first Camp has been authorized to open with the name and number of the original G.A.R. Post No. 266 in Menominee. It was named in honor of James F. Lyon's brother, Albert, who was mortally wounded at the Battle of Kenesaw Mountain, Georgia.

The Great Lakes Pilot
Vol 3, #2 1997

Spear-heading this effort is Mr. Patrick Kennedy, of Menominee. As this is the first Camp to form in the U.P., Mr. Kennedy is willing to rotate meetings at different cities in order to accommodate any and all who would be interested in joining. Activities of the S.U.V.C.W. include: the locating and proper marking of Civil War Veterans' graves; observing the care and upkeep of Civil War monuments & memorials; genealogical & historical research. The organization's purpose is to perpetuate the memory of the G.A.R. and all who served the Union. The S.U.V.C.W. also cooperates in doing honor to all who have patriotically served our country in any war and recognizes those who display outstanding examples of patriotism and good citizenship.

If you have an ancestor who honorably served the Union, you may honor your birthright as a member. Associate memberships are granted to those who do not have a "Civil War ancestor" but would like to join in the organization's efforts. For more information, please contact:

Lake Superior Cavalry Company.

The following persons have enlisted and took passage down on board the Planet yesterday, into Lake Superior Cavalry Company for Broadhead's Regiment from Marquette. We think that Marquette had nobly done her duty before, but what can we say now, when the banker, lawyer, merchant, justice of the peace, jobber, butcher, engineer, etc., have gone from our place? Desolate are we now, indeed! A more noble set of men could not be got together than have gone from Portage and Marquette in this company. Upwards of one hundred and fifty have left Marquette within a month:

When you have determined the name of the ship that your ancestor traveled on to America, you should contact the following resources for additional information about the ships:

The Steamship Historical Society of America, has a collection of over 100,000 engravings, drawings and photographs of steamships. Write to them at: Langsdale Library, University of Baltimore, 1420 Maryland Ave. Baltimore, MD. 21201

Books:

"They Came in Ships", John P. Coletta

"Ships Of Our Ancestors", Michael J. Anuta

"Morton Allen Directory of European Passenger Steamship Arrivals" (Lists passenger ship arrivals to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore)

20 WAYS TO AVOID GRIEF IN YOUR GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH

The following suggestions and recommendations will be helpful to beginners and hopefully will prevent misfortune when learning how to do genealogical research. Many of these tips are "old hat" to experienced genealogists, but it is always worthwhile to remind ourselves of the basics of sound research.

1. ALWAYS note the source of any material you photocopy. If the information is from a library book, note the name, author, date, publisher and also the library where you found the book, or photocopy the title page. Occasionally you will find that you need to refer to the book again, or photocopy more information from it.

2. Make photocopies or carbon copies of ALL letters you write. This will save you from wondering which of your correspondents' questions you answered already, and which of your questions they have or haven't answered.

3. Don't procrastinate in responding to letters or messages you receive. If you don't have time to write a detailed reply, send your correspondent a quick reply or postcard to acknowledge receipt and give him/her a rough idea of when a reply will be forthcoming. Then be sure to write back as you've promised to.

4. When searching for relatives in records, don't pass over the entries that are almost but not quite right. For example, if you are searching for the marriage of John Brown and Mary Jones in 1850, make a note of the marriage of John Brown and Nancy Smith in 1847: this could be a previous marriage in which the wife died shortly after.

5. When writing to libraries or genealogical/historical societies in your areas of interest, ask them for the names and addresses of out-of-print booksellers in the area. Write to the booksellers and ask if they have any old local histories or family histories pertaining to the area.

6. Don't forget to make frequent backups of your computer disks.

7. Store backup copies of your computer disks and photocopies of your irreplaceable documents in your safety deposit box or someone else's home.

8. Remember that "if it's in print, it ain't necessarily fact." Information in recently published local and family histories is often based on that from older published works. If the older books are incorrect, the erroneous information is simply repeated and further disseminated.

9. The earlier the time period in which you are researching, the less consistent our ancestors were about the spelling of their surnames. Also, many of them were illiterate and could not tell a record keeper how their names should be spelled.

10. Family traditions of close connections to famous figures are usually false, but there may be a more obscure relationship involved. Perhaps the famous person spent a night at your ancestor's country estate instead of (as the legend goes) marrying into the family.

11. Try not to let your research get behind. Establish a filing system for your papers (using file folders or 3-ring binders) and file each page of notes, document, photocopy, etc. as you acquire it. There are few things more disheartening than contemplating a foot-high stack of unfiled papers, wondering if the birth certificate you desperately need to refer to is somewhere in it.
