SOCIETY NEWS:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE from Joan Ball

Welcome back to a new year of genealogy. This has been a very unusual year for everyone because of the unusual weather.

As genealogists, sometimes we forget to look at what's around us and to appreciate what we have since we are so deep into our research. Sometimes we also need to look outside of our own work and invest a little into the outside world. Many of us have done this and have put our time into activities other than research.

I am asking those who have not done so to consider putting some time into helping this society enter a new era. Remember, not everything you volunteer to do has to be a huge time drain....sometimes we just need someone to do something that someone else doesn't have time to get to .

As part of this transition, we need people to submit ideas for our monthly programs to the board for future planning. I know everyone gets a little tired if we have the same speakers or the same subjects over and over. What would you like to have a speaker about? Do you have any suggestions as to who might be a good speaker? We are looking into having some speakers from out of our area in the future, but more ideas are helpful. Please give this some thought and let us know...this is YOUR group and we want to do things you want to do, so speak up!!!

GENEALOGY RIDDLE

Put On Your Thinking Caps - - Below are the facts exactly as they were presented:

On June 1st, five couples who live in Trumbull will celebrate their wedding anniversaries. Their surnames are Johnstone, Parker, Watson, Graves, and Shearer.

The husbands' given names are Russell, Douglas, Charles, Peter, and Everett. The wives' given names are Elaine, Joyce, Marcia, Elizabeth, and Mildred.

Keep in mind that no two couples have been married the same number of years. From the clues given, try to determine the husband and wife that make up each couple and the number of years they have been married.

Joyce has not been married as long as Charles or the Parkers, but longer than Douglas or the Johnstones.

Elizabeth has been married twice as long as the Watsons, but only half as long as Russell.

The Shearers have been married ten years longer than Peter and ten years less than Marcia.

Douglas and Mildred have been married for 25 years less than the Graves who, having been married for 30 years, are the couple who have been married the longest.

Neither Elaine nor the Johnstones have been married the shortest amount of time.

Everett has been married for 25 years.

Using only the information provided above, you need to determine which husband belongs to which wife, their surname and the number of years that each couple has been married. Sounds pretty simple, doesn't it. Yes - that's what I thought too. But as good genealogists, we need to remember to NOT make any assumptions and to remind ourselves to NOT read anything into the facts. There is only one solution to this set of facts.

WHERE IS MY ANCESTOR'S TOMBSTONE ? ? ? ? ?

As genealogists, most of us try to locate the tombstones of our relatives. Many hours are spent walking around cemeteries searching for the location of our ancestors burial place with the goal in mind of taking a photograph of the headstone. We often come upon broken markers or worse yet, no markers or crosses where some should be.....

The following articles from the Marquette Weekly Mining Journal, September 1905, reveal why some markers will never be found. This story confirms my conviction that it is our responsibility to our ancestors to record information from the tombstones in our local cemeteries, so that future generations can learn about their relatives. CEMETERY VANDALS WRECKED
TOMBSTONES THERE LAST
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Damage in Two Cemeteries at Escanaba
Estimated at $5,000—Mysterious
Package Left by Unknown
Man at Oconto.

Oconto, Sept. 13.
Peshtigo, Sept. 14.
Birch Creek, Menominee county.
Sept. 16.
Escanaba, Sept. 19.
Gladstone, Sept. 20.

The above is the itinerary of the Catholic cemetery raiders during the past twenty days. At none of the towns visited have the officers been able to obtain a tangible clew to the mysterious vandals, although strict watch was maintained at all depots and public places along the lines of railways in northern Wisconsin and in the southern part of the upper peninsula.

Two Cemeteries Raided.

At Escanaba, the damage done in St. Joseph's and St. Anne's Catholic cemeteries is estimated at $5,000. Nearly every marble and granite cross in the cemeteries was either completely demolished or dislodged from its base, while wooden crosses were chopped down with axes, and piled up in great heaps in different parts of the cemeteries. The Escanaba authorities believe that three men constitute the gang of raiders, as the footprints of the men at places in the cemeteries show three different sizes of shoes worn. The officers also think that it would have been a physical impossibility for one man alone and unassisted, to have done the wrecking in the two cemeteries, as over two hundred monuments were attacked, and hundreds of small wooden crosses, chopped to pieces or uprooted.

For nearly a week prior to the raid, guards patrolled the two cemeteries, but owing to a misunderstanding, the watchmen did not appear Tuesday night, when the raiders carried out their work.

Left a Mysterious Package.

In connection with the cemetery raid at Oconto, A. V. Classon, prosecuting attorney of the county, furnishes an interesting story which may later suggest a solution of the mystery. Classon left Oconto on the date of the raid, going to the northern part of the state, and only returned Wednesday last. When he entered his office he found on his desk a package containing a number of copies of the Review and Sabbath Herald, a paper published at Washington, D. C., in the interests of the Seventh Day Adventist faith. The papers were wrapped in manila paper, and tied with black sewing thread. On the wrapper was written the following:

"Please study up the question of Sunday laws. You will some time be called upon to defend religious liberty, which is fast being taken from us. Will call upon you soon."

Gladstone Cemetery Raided.

The following, an Associated Press dispatch from Escanaba, was received by The Mining Journal Thursday:

"A large number of crosses and monuments were broken and overturned in the Catholic cemetery at Gladstone last (Wednesday) evening. This is the third raid made on Catholic cemeteries in this district within a few days, and the people are so wrought up that it is believed the vandal will be lynched if caught."

"A mysterious stranger who was arrested yesterday afternoon and was released later is suspected. When he left town he went along the Gladstone cemetery road. Later when watchers went to the cemetery to guard it for the night, they found the damage done. Scores of people are now searching for this stranger."

Suspect in Custody.

A later dispatch said: "A man giving the name of Charles Gallagher, of Battle Creek, Mich., has been arrested at Gladstone on suspicion because his shoes fitted footprints found near the damaged crosses in the cemetery."

WRECKER OF GRAVE STONES TAKEN HERE

Sept. 30, 1905

KOSE KAZIMER CAPTURED THURSDAY MORNING WHILE ENGAGED IN HIS NEFARIOUS WORK.

IS APPARENTLY INSANE

Offered No Resistance to the Officers—
Believed to Be the Man Responsible for All the Work of Ruin in Catholic Cemeteries.

Kose Kazimer, a thinly clad, half-starved Hungarian, forty-six years of age, is the man who has been engaged in wrecking tombstones in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan towns the past few weeks. He was captured Thursday morning by Marshal John Lehman and Deputy Marshal Emanuel Trevarrow, while in the act of breaking monuments in the Ishpeming Catholic cemetery.

Officers had been on duty at the Ishpeming cemetery for several days. Sunday morning, when news of the raid on the Negaunee cemetery was received, Mayor Persons ordered Marshal Lehman to put on officers during the day as well as during the night. The marshal and deputy went to the cemetery at 5 o'clock to relieve the two night men, remaining there until 7 o'clock, when the two day officers arrived. Thursday morning they left the city at 4:30, and entered the cemetery from the west end below the hill, taking secluded positions behind tombstones in the tall grass.

Heard Breaking of Stones.

Thomas Ryan and Gust Peterson, the night officers, departed as soon as Lehman and Trevarrow arrived. At 6:10 Lehman heard a noise. He looked up and saw a man in the act of breaking a stone. He crept within 100 feet of the fellow, before the latter turned and saw him. The officer covered Kazimer, who immediately threw up his hands.

Kazimer offered no resistance. Lehman soon saw that he was not a desperate character, and asked him why he had broken the stones. The reply was: "Good for the God." Kazimer was arrested in the act of breaking a stone cross he had pulled from one of the smaller monuments in the Volker lot. He had already broken crosses from the monuments in lots owned by the Perreault and Russett families, all being in the northeast corner of the cemetery, within a few feet of the Third street fence and almost opposite one of the entrances. Kazimer smashed the crosses by striking one against the other, and carried no hammer.

Belongings in a Bandana.

The officers hurried the man to the city lock up. Kazimer walked along willingly and talked freely in his broken tongue. The officers understood very little that he said, except when he repeated the expression with which he answered the marshal when asked why he was breaking the stones.

The marshal telephoned Prosecuting Attorney Bell, Sheriff Rough and other officers of the county. Kazimer's belongings were tied in a red bandana. In another bandana he carried several pieces of a large raw turnip, which judging from his appearance had constituted the principal part of his diet for some time past. The larger bundle contained a pair of socks, a shirt, a pair of spectacles in a case, an awl, a piece of leather about three inches square, a small piece of wire, a knife with half a blade, and about a dozen slips of paper on which were printed religious emblems and prayers in the French and Hungarian languages. In a carefully wrapped package was a St. Ignatus silver medal. In another package, even more carefully wrapped, were nine small sticks of wood, varying in length from one and a half to four inches, a short lead pencil and a large safety pin. From the care with which these were wrapped, it would seem that Kazimer valued them more highly than anything else he carried. He had two silver dollars.

Tallies With Description.

Kazimer's appearance tallies very closely with the description of the man suspected of wrecking tombstones at Gladstone, Escanaba and other points. He is about five feet, five inches tall, thin, weighing about 130 pounds, has a heavy mustache, gray and black, the former predominating, and a gray beard less than an inch in length. He wore a black slouch hat, with a white cord around the band, a faded blue frock coat, a light gray shirt, no vest, and a brown faded trousers. His shoes are worn and patched.

John Fisher, engineer on the Northwestern passenger train running between Green Bay and Escanaba, called at the jail Thursday and identified Kazimer as having asked him for a ride out of Escanaba about 8 o'clock the evening the Gladstone cemetery was wrecked, which was the night following the vandals' visit to the Escanaba cemetery. Marshal Lehman was advised by an Escanaba officer that the man wanted there wore a shoe that had a patch on the sole. Both of Kazimer's shoes are patched on the sole. His appearance tallies exactly with the description given by Mrs. Frank Phinney of Oconto Falls, Wis., as the man she saw leaving the Oconto cemetery the night it was wrecked.

Kazimer Denies Charges.

While confined to a cell in the jail Thursday morning Kazimer talked freely to those who were permitted to see him, but his English was so poor that he could hardly be understood. He told several persons that he had been at Escanaba, but when examined later in the day he denied having visited either Gladstone, Escanaba or Negaunee. He said that a few weeks ago he was at Savannah, Wis., where he worked five days on a farm owned by John Britain, and asserted that he has no sisters or brothers living, but that his parents reside in Hungary, where he was born.

Kazimer denied that he had broken any stones or crosses, and maintained that he had not been near the Ishpeming or any other cemetery. His replies were interpreted by Andrew Zulkey of the Winthrop, who speaks the Hungarian language. While being examined, also later while posing for a picture, Kazimer mumbled to himself and acted as if displeased. As he sat in the chair facing C. D. Cole's camera Marshal Lehman commented on the improved appearance of his face, as a result of the two big meals he had received in the jail. The prisoner was bound over to the circuit court, the charge preferred against him by Prosecuting Attorney Bell being the malicious destruction of tombstones. His bonds were placed at $1,000.

Signs of Mental Derangement.

Kazimer shows unmistakable signs of mental derangement. The hording of the nine little sticks, so carefully wrapped in cloth, is a peculiar feature of his case. At the hearing he seemed to be very little concerned, and he paid no particular attention to the strangers who were permitted to see him. He talked about the breaking of crosses as being "Good for the God," and mumbled something about looking for work at a lumber camp. He seemed but little concerned because of his confinement. After people called and talked with him in the cell he would resume his place on the bunk, as if desirous of resting. He looked tired and haggard, but was calm at all times.

Slept Near Cemetery.

Kazimer slept in John Anderson's barn near the cemetery Wednesday night. Neither the marshal or deputy marshal saw him enter the cemetery, but it is thought he crawled through the grass and dodged behind the stones until he reached the point where he started to smash the tombstones. He was seen in the vicinity of the cemetery Wednesday, when he crossed one of the nearby fields. The officers then on duty saw him crawl through the barb wire fence and enter the barn. They paid no more attention to him, thinking he was a tramp. He carried the two red bandana handkerchiefs which he had with him when arrested Thursday morning.

Wednesday Kazimer was at the Deer Lake location, about a mile north of the cemeteries. He asked for and received food at one of the houses, but did not remain at the location long. It was after this that he was seen crossing the field and entering the barn.

Was in Ishpeming Tuesday.

Both Marshal Lehman and Deputy Trevarrow saw Kazimer in the city Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock. He then carried the larger bandana, which contained his belongings. The marshal spoke to him, and he said he was seeking work. He was asked if he had money, and reported that he was not "broke," whereupon the officer informed him that he must find a place to stay or get out of the city. The meeting took place on Main street, near the railroad crossing. That was the last the marshal saw of Kazimer until he captured him.

Could Have Been at Pound.

The raid at the Pound (Wis.) cemetery occurred last Monday night instead of Tuesday, as was reported here the previous day. Kazimer could have done the work there and arrived in Ishpeming Tuesday afternoon on the 4 o'clock train. It is not generally thought here, however, that he did the smashing at Pound, as his appearance does not indicate that he has had money enough to pay for his transportation to the different places. In view of the fact that he tried to secure a free ride out of Escanaba with Engineer Fisher, it would seem that he has been stealing his way. His appearance is such as would attract attention most anywhere.

Crowds at the Jail All Day.

Crowds of men and boys eager to get a glimpse at Kazimer stood about the city building most of the day. When C. D. Cole had the prisoner seated in a chair in Judge Andrews office preparatory to taking his picture there were nearly 100 men outside endeavoring to climb up to the windows. At 1:15 when it was thought he would be taken to Marquette there were several hundred men and boys at the South Shore station and another large crowd congregated at 5 o'clock, when he was finally taken away.

DECIPHERING OLD ENGLISH HANDWRITING

Just about anyone who takes genealogy seriously is destined to face the challenge of reading original (or microfilm copies of) records written in an unfamiliar cursive style. If your research takes you back to at least the 19th century, you'll encounter census records, wills, deeds, and multifarious other records that you'll strain to decipher. Records from the colonial period will elicit a double-take if you've never seen them before. You'll run into "ff" where you might expect an f," and an "f" will actually stand for "s." The ancient abbreviation "Maps" should be read as "Mass" for Massachusetts. The letters "U" and "V," as well as "u" and "v," were used interchangeably. On the whole, the following lowercase letters are most difficult to read, especially in 17th-century documents: "c," "e," "h," "r," "s," and "t."

Once you've figured out what the letters are, you'll need to bone up on old abbreviations for terms in common usage today. For instance, "o.s.p." is short for "died without issue." "Yt" stands for "that." "Als" signifies an "alias." "D.v.m." means "died while mother was living," while "d.s.p." also means "died without issue." Did you know that "B.L.W." means bounty land warrant, or that "do" was short for "ditto, or the same as above," a notation you'll encounter repeatedly in census records?

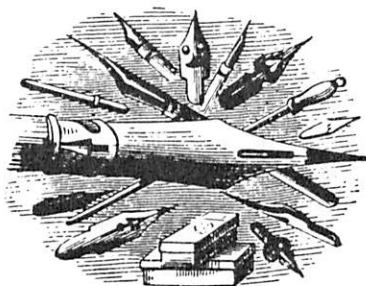

The challenges don't end there. One has to learn to decipher numerals as well as letters. Even after you get familiar with a certain era's lettering, you may find that what was conventional in 1700 is unrecognizable 50 years earlier. Then, of course, there is the problem of individual styles of writing.

For the novice, decoding early handwriting can be an intimidating task. If you are a beginner, you may wish to get your hands on Kip Sperry's excellent handbook, READING EARLY AMERICAN HANDWRITING, the best tool we know of for teaching you how to read and understand the handwriting found in documents commonly used in genealogical research. This guide explains techniques for reading early American documents, provides samples of alphabets and letter forms, and defines commonly used terms and abbreviations. Perhaps best of all, the volume presents numerous examples of early American records for the reader to work with. Arranged by degree of difficulty, from the relatively easy-to-read documents of the 19th century to those of the 17th, the documents showcase examples of handwriting styles, letter forms, abbreviations, and terminology typically found in early American records. Each document--there are nearly 100 of them at various stages of complexity--appears with the author's transcription on a facing page, enabling the reader to check his/her own transcription. This strategy allows the researcher to attain proficiency in reading the documents at a natural rate of progression.

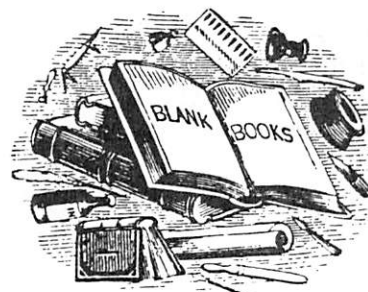

Listen to what the experts have to say about READING EARLY AMERICAN HANDWRITING: "The further back in time our research takes us, the more 'plain English' looks like a foreign language. That's why Sperry's 'plain English' guide to not-so-plain English writing is an absolute basic book for every genealogical shelf," says Elizabeth Shown Mills, CG, FASG. According to the "National Genealogical Society Quarterly," "Reading Early American Handwriting" is a timeless reference whose value will increase as more early-American documents become available to researchers of many disciplines."

If you're planning to consult original records of the 19th, 18th, or 17th century, or earlier, we encourage you to let READING EARLY AMERICAN HANDWRITING be your guide.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION:

* Born at Sea?

Question- If someone was born aboard an immigrant ship traveling to America, how and where is the birth recorded?

Answer- Babies born at sea are generally listed on the last page of a ship's passenger manifest, or at the bottom of a page where the ship's clerk could find room. Parents could seek birth certificates for newborns once they arrived at their destination. That doesn't mean they always did, particularly before state mandated birth recording. In modern times, when a birth or death occurs at sea or on an airplane, the birth or death is reported at the next port of call.

*British Telephone Books

Phone books back to 1880 have been made available online, making it easier to trace family histories. Telecom giant BT, joined forces with ancestry.co.uk to launch the new service which will also help residents of Britain explore the history of previous residents of their homes. The British telephone books from 1880 up to 1984, are a fascinating, important addition to the online records of Ancestry.co.uk.

To Whom It May Concern,

I went searching for an ancestor, I cannot find him still,
He moved around from place to place, and didn't leave a will.
He married where a courthouse burned, he mended all his fences.
He avoided any man who came to take the U.S. Census.
He always kept his luggage packed, this man who had no fame.
And every 20 years of so, this rascal changed his name.
His parents came from Europe, they should be on some list,
Of passengers to the USA, but somehow they got missed.
No one else in this world is searching for this man
So I'm playing "Genie-Solitaire" to find him if I can
I'm told he's buried in a plot, with tombstones he was blessed
But the weather took the engraving and vandals took the rest.
He died before the county clerks decided to keep records.
No family Bible has emerged, in spite of all my efforts
To top it off, this ancestor, who's caused me so many groans,
Just to give me one more pain, betrothed a girl named Jones.

SOCIETY NEWS:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE from Joan Ball

As we come to the end of the meetings for this part of the year, I'd like to thank those people who have helped us to find a potential speaker or who have taken on some small (or large) task for the society. Every little part helps the whole.

We are looking for some "fresh blood" on our board of directors. Please give some thought to adding your name to the list of people who might want to be part of the active portion of the society. Remember, not everything is extremely time consuming...

I hope you all have a very nice (but not too hot) summer and I hope everyone can find time to come to the picnic in July! Its a nice time to get together to eat and not be as formal.

*** Volunteers Needed

After spending 5 different summers of reading tombstones in the Negaunee Cemetery, the committee is ready to work on the Park Cemetery in Marquette. The burials here are as early as the late 1850's. If there are enough volunteers, we can schedule work crews to read the tombstones in the daytime and early evening. All of us realize how important it is to record information from very old markers. The sexton is also looking forward to finding out where the earliest burial is, and hope we can help. If you would like to help with this project, call Rosemary Michelin at (906) 475-9308 or email at Wmichelin@aol.com. We will schedule work bees right after Memorial Day, to continue through Fall.

***Grocery Receipts

Remember to turn in grocery store receipts from Econo Foods. It's surprising how fast the totals add and soon we receive a check for our organization. Funds received help to buy books for our library collection. A drop off box is on the top floor of Peter White Public Library near our computers. You can also give the receipts to Florence Olivier.

***Membership and Surname list

Thank you to Sherrye Woodworth for compiling and typing the list enclosed with this newsletter. Check to see if you are researching the same family as another member.

THE CHASE INTERVIEWS

Over 350 residents of Marquette County were interviewed in the 1920's by college students of Professor Chase of Northern State Teachers College (now Northern Michigan University). These interviews were conducted in most of the Marquette County communities and tell the story of immigration, families and times of old.

MCGS member, Joan Kapeller has compiled an alphabetical list of the interviews and recorded each name, birth date, place of birth, residence, name of father and mother, children and whether a story or reminiscence is included in the interview.

The alphabetical list of these interviews will be printed in the upcoming issues of the newsletter. The complete interviews can be read at the Marquette County History Museum. Call the librarian at (906) 226-3571 for details.

CITY OF ISHPERING, FROM THE CITY SOUTH-SIDE.

John Dundon and Mary Coakley, his father and mother, were natives of Brooklodge, County Cork, Ireland. They came to the United States and located at West Stockbridge, Berkshire county, Massachusetts. In 1860, with seven sons and one daughter, they came to Marquette county, Michigan. The older brothers became proficient in the manufacturing of iron while in Massachusetts, and after coming to Marquette county they engaged in the same line of business. In the early days, Richard and Patrick were foremen at the Pioneer furnace at Negaunee. Richard afterwards had charge of the furnace at Clarksburg, and later of that at Menominee, Michigan. Patrick had charge of the furnace at Collinsville, and afterward of that at De Pere, Wisconsin. James had charge of the furnace at Champion, and later of that at Appleton, Wisconsin. Maurice had charge of the furnace at Greenwood and Lawrence that at Morgan, going later to the furnace at Green Bay. Edward succeeded James at Champion. In 1882, Richard and Edward moved to Washington, to take charge of furnaces in that state. It is doubtful if in any other family could be found so many members of which have been prominently identified with the iron industry of the upper peninsula.

May 9, 1892, Thomas J. Dundon married Miss Margaret Stack, and they are now the parents of two daughters and four sons.

Any facts or anecdotes relative to the history of Marquette County, Michigan, may be added here or on the reverse side of the sheet.

When I arrived in Ishpeming in 1881, I found a bustling overcrowded, little town. Living conditions were very congested. People considered themselves very lucky if they were able to rent a few little box-like rooms over a store. At that time the city extended only as far as the top of the hill, in the northward direction.

The population was a little less than 16,000.

All the mines were operating and it is safe to say that Ishpeming has never since passed through such a prosperous period.

CAN ANYONE HELP WITH THIS REQUEST?

Query from Richard L. Belmore

I have never made a query like this before, but I have hit a wall and need help!

My grandfather, Ralph Belmore(Raphael Bellemare) was born in Trois Rivieres, Quebec, Canada on August 15, 1863 and died July 15, 1949 with burial at Holy Cross Cemetery, Marquette, Michigan. During this time he was married to Agnus Aubertin on Oct. 27, 1879. She was born Feb. 7, 1864 and died about 1886. All of this took place in Quebec. (Note: There is some confusion regarding Ralph's birth date. If in fact it was 1863 and he married Agnus in 1879, he would have been 16. I have some conflicting info that he was born in 1860, but have no birth cert. to prove it.)

My problem begins now. After Agnus died, my grandfather immigrated to the U.S. via St. Ignace, MI on Sept. 27, 1890. Earlier in that year, April 10, 1890, he married Frances Daily. The record indicated that both were married once before and Ralph was 30 and Frances was 28.

I next found them in Sault Ste. Marie, on Oct. 11, 1890 where they were residing and he had set up a snowshoe making business. The next information was in the "Soo" directory of 1893, Belmore, Frances(widow Ralph L) domestic, living in a house on the north side of Spruce St and three houses west of Stephen Rd.

I assume that sometime between 1890 and 1893 Frances died. I searched City Clerks and cemeteries in St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette, but with no luck.

Can you help solve this problem?

To continue with this saga, Ralph is now being married to Josephine Belmore(maiden name) on Nov. 4, 1895 in Marquette, MI. Their marriage produced 15 children between 1896 and 1930, when Josephine (my grandmother) passed away.

Do you think Frances Belmore could have been buried in Marquette?

I would appreciate any help.

Thank you very much.

P.S. One of these days I will send a copy of the family tree to Lake Superior Roots. I have the Belmore(Bellemare) family back to 1558.

My mother was a Baker and I have her family back to 1856 when they came from Germany in 1863 and settled in Marquette.

HowManyofMe.com

Just for fun, at this web site, you can find out the number of US residents who share your name, or any other name. The results give stats on given names and surnames. If your name is real uncommon, it will not be in the list.

Ed.note: For fun, I typed in my name and found 1,056 people in the US with the same last name as mine, "Michelin", and only one of me! Imagine that!

Try it for fun!

What's a "zygocephalum" of land?

Question: While searching my ancestry I found a reference that a distant relative of mine once owned a "zygocephalum" of land in the late 1700's. I can't find this term in a dictionary. Can you help?

Answer: In America's early days, settlers and farmers in many parts of the country had no surefire way to determine where their property ended and a neighbor's began, because a standard method to measure real estate hadn't yet been adopted. So they resorted to a measuring system that had been used for centuries in the countryside of Merry Olde England- the "zygocephalum", defined as the "area of land a yoke of oxen could plow in one day".

This wasn't exactly the most accurate way to establish property rights, perhaps because some oxen moved faster than others (and some farmers worked harder than their neighbors). So the zygocephalum eventually gave way to our current system of "metes and bounds," which uses a property's physical features to determine its boundaries.

What is a "bal maiden"?

Did you know that women had jobs at the tin mines in Cornwall? According to the book, "The Cornish Miner in America", older women hammered the rude ore to pound it down to a smaller grade and then passed it on to the "bal maidens", adolescents of 16 or so who "bucked" the ore with a flat iron hammer to reduce it to the size of ½ inch marbles. The wages at a mine near Gwennap were determined according to age; 12-14 years, twelve shillings a month; 14-17, fifteen shillings; and eighteen shillings for all women over 17 years of age. Stooping over piles of ore apparently affected the figure of a Cornish girl, increasing her chest size but doing nothing for her lower limbs. It appears that girls never worked underground but could really swing a stone mallet on the ore pile!

Umlauts, Acutes, and Accents: Using Character Codes

By Mary Harrell-Sesniak
maryh@volunteer.rootsweb.com

One of the difficulties with genealogy is entering symbols and characters that are not available on a standard keyboard. A prime example is a name that requires an accent, such as René. Many people don't know what key to press after typing "Ren," but luckily there is an easy solution.

Every character on the keyboard has a numeric code (number) assigned to it, and characters that aren't on the keyboard have their own assignments. For example, the capital letter X is assigned to ALT + 088. The é that is needed to type René is assigned to ALT + 0233. Luckily we don't need to use the ALT + 088 sequences to type X into a program such as a word processor, but you will need it for the é.

ALT + indicates that you need to hold the ALT key down, and without releasing it, press the assigned numbers on the numeric keypad, one by one. If a code starts with a leading zero, you will need to include it. Don't use the number keys at the top of the keyboard; use of the number keypad is required. These have different codes assigned to them.

I recommend using your left hand to hold down the ALT key while your right hand types the desired number. Release both when through.

At the bottom of this article, the RootsWeb Chart has been reprinted for your convenience. These character codes work in many online websites along with other commonly used genealogy and word processing programs.

In most Microsoft products you can also insert special characters by going to the "Insert" menu and selecting "Symbol".

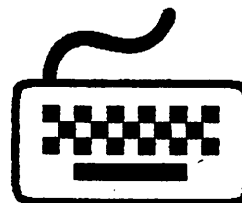

When using a computer with Windows, you can also insert special characters by copying and pasting them from a character map. To access a character map in Windows, click the Windows "Start" menu in the bottom left-hand side of the screen, then select "All Programs". Select "Accessories", then "System Tools", and then "Character Map".

SOCIETY NEWS:

***Tombstone Transcribing Began

This summer many MCGS members gathered on 10 different evenings at Marquette's Park Cemetery to transcribe tombstones. With clipboards and pencils in hand, many interesting stories were recorded just from the text on the stones. Many revealed where the person had been born (a great clue to the past) with some stones written in German or Swedish. Several unfortunate adults and children perished in drowning accidents or shipwrecks. Many war veterans were documented going back in history as far as the War of 1812. Three different burial vaults were located for the Ely, Kaufman and Breitung families and it was interesting to see the monuments erected by the early families of Marquette-the Harlows, Everetts, Graveraets and Whites. Most evenings were warm and sunny and we couldn't help but notice the flocks of ducks and geese in the beautiful ponds in the cemetery. In the early days, the Park Cemetery was a park as well as cemetery and it is a beautiful, tranquil setting! Those helping with the project were Bill and Joan Kapeller, Dean and Laurie Johnson, Mary Turvey, Norma Miller, Pavie Rasmussen-Donnelly, Nancy Grigg, Diane Tamulion Florence Olivier and Rosemary Michelin.

Picture at right: Nancy, Dean, Laurie and Norma slightly frightened, by the gruesome tale of bones being seen carried out from under the rusty door of the ELY family vault by a large grey squirrel. The vault was built in 1875 to house the body of Mrs. Samuel Ely, who died in Paris, France. Her husband and several adult children are also entombed here.

**Published Histories To Go Online

Thousands of published family histories, city and county directories, and related records are coming to the internet. The Allen County Public Library in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, Brigham Young University's Harold B. Lee Library and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Family History Library in Salt Lake City announced the joint project on Aug. 15, 2007. The digital history project will target more than 100,000 published family histories and thousands of local histories. Publishing collections from these 3 libraries will make a significant family history digital library online for genealogists and historians. Once digitized, the collections will have "every-word" search capability which allows users to search by name, location, date or other fields across the collection. Digitization efforts have begun.

**Need an idea for a Christmas gift? Or why not put a subscription on your "wish" list? Most of these magazines sell for less than $30.00 per year and can really keep you up to date on the latest resources for genealogy searching.*

THE CHASE INTERVIEWS

Over 350 residents of Marquette County were interviewed in the 1920's by college students of Professor Chase of Northern State Teachers College (now Northern Michigan University). These interviews were conducted in most of the Marquette County communities and tell the story of immigration, families and times of old.

MCGS member, Joan Kapeller has compiled an alphabetical list of the interviews and recorded each name, birth date, place of birth, residence, name of father and mother, children and whether a story or reminiscence is included in the interview.

The alphabetical list of these interviews will be printed in the upcoming issues of the newsletter. The complete interviews can be read at the Marquette County History Museum. Call the librarian at (906) 226-3571 for details.

GENEALOGY REBUS

What is a rebus? It is a kind of word puzzle that uses pictures to represent words. Rebuses were popularized by the television show, "Concentration" which aired from 1958-1973. Remember that show?

The answer to this puzzle is a genealogy question, 6 words long, 2 words on each line. If this brain teaser stumps you, look on page 10 for the genealogy question and then the answer to the question.

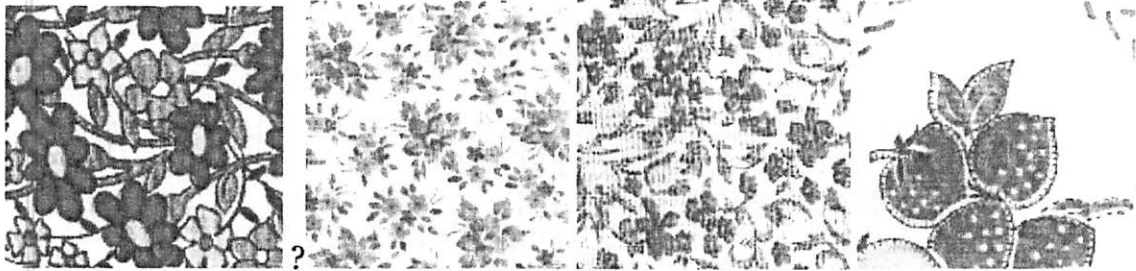

Each member is entitled to one free query per year, to be published in Lake Superior Roots. Send your questions now.....someone might be able to help solve that family mystery!!!

QUERIES: WHO, WHERE, WHAT AND WHEN: Deadlines: 1st week of April, August and December. No abbreviations, will edit if necessary. 1 query free, per year, per member, $1 each additional query. $2 per query, non-members. Send queries to: Joan M. Kapeller, 177 Miller Road, Gwinn, MI 49841.

If you don't remember these, ask an older parent or aunt or grandma!

THE FLOUR SACK

BY COLLEEN B. HUBERT

IN THAT LONG AGO TIME WHEN THINGS WERE SAVED,
WHEN ROADS WERE GRAVELED AND BARRELS WERE STAVED,
WHEN WORN-OUT CLOTHING WAS USED AS RAGS,
AND THERE WERE NO PLASTIC WRAP OR BAGS,
AND THE WELL AND THE PUMP WERE WAY OUT BACK,
A VERSITILE ITEM, WAS THE FLOUR SACK.

PILLSBURY'S BEST, MOTHER'S AND GOLD MEDAL, TOO
STAMPED THEIR NAMES PROUDLY IN PURPLE AND BLUE
. THE STRING SEWN ON TOP WAS PULLED AND KEPT;
THE FLOUR EMPTIED AND SPILLS WERE SWEEPED.
THE BAG WAS FOLDED AND STORED IN A SACK
THAT DURABLE, PRACTICAL FLOUR SACK.

THE SACK COULD BE FILLED WITH FEATHER AND DOWN,
FOR A PILLOW, OR T'WOULD MAKE A SLEEPING GOWN.
IT COULD CARRY A BOOK AND BE A SCHOOL BAG,
OR BECOME A MAIL SACK SLUNG OVER A NAG.
IT MADE A VERY CONVENIENT PACK,
THAT ADAPTABLE, COTTON FLOUR SACK.

BLEACHED AND SEWN, IT WAS DUTIFULLY WORN
AS BIBS, DIAPERS, OR KERCHIEF ADORNED
. IT WAS MADE INTO SKIRTS, BLOUSES AND SLIPS
AND MOM BRAIDED RUGS FROM ONE HUNDRED STRIPS
. SHE MADE RUFFLED CURTAINS FOR THE HOUSE OR SHACK,
FROM THAT HUMBLE BUT TREASURED FLOUR SACK!

ANSWER:

January 1, 1897

AS A STRAINER FOR MILK OR APPLE JUICE,
TO WAVE MEN IN, IT WAS A VERY GOOD USE,
AS A SLING FOR A SPRAINED WRIST OR A BREAK,
TO HELP MOTHER ROLL UP A JELLY CAKE,
AS A WINDOW SHADE OR TO STUFF A CRACK,
WE USED A STURDY, COMMOM FLOUR SACK!

AS DISH TOWELS, EMBROIDERED OR NOT,
THEY COVERED UP DOUGH, HELPED PASS PANS SO HOT,
TIED UP DISHES FOR NEIGHBORS IN NEED,
AND FOR MEN OUT IN THE FIELD TO SEED.
THEY DRIED DISHES FROM PAN, NOT RACK
THAT ABSORBENT, HANDY FLOUR SACK!

WE POLISHED AND CLEANED STOVE AND TABLE,
SCOURED AND SCRUBBED FROM CELLAR TO GABLE,
WE DUSTED THE BUREAU AND OAK BED POST,
MADE COSTUMES FOR OCTOBER (A SCARY GHOST)
AND A PARACHUTE FOR A CAT NAMED JACK.
FROM THAT LOWLY, USEFUL OLD FLOUR SACK!

SO NOW MY FRIENDS, WHEN THEY ASK YOU
AS CURIOUS YOUNGSTERS OFTEN DO,
"BEFORE PLASTIC WRAP, ELMERS GLUE AND PAPER TOWELS, WHAT DID YOU DO?"
TELL THEM LOUDLY AND WITH PRIDE DON'T LACK,
"GRANDMOTHER HAD THAT WONDERFUL FLOUR SACK!"

QUESTION:

When did Ellis Island first open?

All these girls dresses were from a flour sack
