Happy New Year!!

I hope that everyone had a wonderful holiday and that 2012 brings answers to your genealogy questions.

Our Christmas party was held on 14 December 2011 at 6:00 p.m. at the Women's Clubhouse on Ridge Street in Marquette. All the attendees had a great time and the highlight was all the wonderful foods and desserts that were brought in by the members and guests. Of course, a "genie" society Christmas party would not be complete without crazy bingo. I do believe that most popular "prizes" exchanged hands at least once. I highly recommend attending our Christmas party for an evening full of fun, friendship and laughter. Also a special thanks, to Michael LaTulip for making the rooms so festive...you did a wonderful job.

Peggy Letvenow checking out her goodies!

Bob Webb catnapping between rounds of crazy Bingo!

While the Christmas party was fun for the attendees it also has a philanthropic aspect, each attendee was asked to bring in an unwrapped present for a teenager that is then donated to the Mining Journal Cheer Club. The presents are then distributed to needy teenagers in the Marquette County area. This year our publicity chairman, Michael LaTulip, was featured on the front page of our local newspaper dropping off our contributions for this wonderful program.

QUERY CORNER

I am looking for information regarding FRANCES _____ DAILEY/DAILY/DALY. She was born in Canada circa 1862. She married RALPH BELMORE (RAPHAEL BELLEMARE) on 10 April 1890 in St. Ignace, Mackinac County, Michigan. According to their marriage record they were both previously married. I know that they are living in Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan in 1890 and by 1893 RALPH is listed as a widower. I would like to find her death and burial location. If you have any information regarding the elusive FRANCES please send it to;

SPEAKER FOR THE OCTOBER 2011 MEETING

Judy Webb, a Marquette County Genealogical Society member told us about 2 of her ancestors; Sarah Elizabeth Ham and Thomas Elmore. Her ancestress Sarah was born in England and was kidnapped and placed on a ship headed for the new world. The Captain of the ship deemed that it would be too risky to try and return her to her homeland, so he placed her with a respectable family. She was employed by the Ware family as a servant. Her future husband, Thomas Elmore was born in County Meath, Ireland and left for the new world, landing in New York. He was hired as a coachman for the Ware family. Sarah and Thomas were married in New York circa 1844. Their first child, a daughter named Mary A. was born about 1845. Sometime after the birth of Mary, they moved west to Wisconsin. They removed to Watertown, Jefferson County, Wisconsin where they stayed until the 1860's. By 1864 they had again removed this time to Marquette County, Michigan and Sarah and Thomas operated a boarding house on Superior Street (now Baraga Avenue). Sarah died 08 November 1888 and Thomas died 05 April 1874 in Marquette.

ANOTHER LOCK-IN SUCCESS

For the last three years the Marquette County Genealogical Society and Peter White Public Library have worked together, along with Onagominkway, a local chapter of National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, to do a genealogy workshop. On Friday October 21, 2011 people interested in genealogy research came into the Library after-hours, got "locked-in," and did concentrated work with volunteers dedicated to assist them. For three hours, attendees worked on genealogy, learned what resources are available in Marquette County, heard guest speakers and got help with troublesome "brick-walls." There were 30 participants at the 2011 workshop with 10 members of the MCGS, 6 PWPL staff, and 4 NSDAR members acting as volunteer helpers.

Everyone had a great time, especially Bonnie Hoff of Skandia, who won the six-month subscription to Ancestry.com-Home Deluxe Edition which had been donated by Ancestry.com/Proquest and solicited by MCGS.

Thanks to everyone who donated their time to volunteer and for all the goodies brought to the Lock-In share. See you in 2012!

A TOWN NEARLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

A very destructive fire occurred at Marquette, Michigan last night. Over 100 buildings in the business portion of town, including 40 stores, the United States Land Office, Customs house, County Treasurer's office, and all the records were destroyed. The railroad and other docks were also burned. The loss is estimated at $5,000,000, insurance very small.

**Source: Boston Daily Evening Transcript, 13 June 1868, Saturday

The fire that occurred in Marquette on 11 June 1868 was started at the machine shop for the Marquette and Ontonagon Rail Road on Main Street. A night watchman, James Anthony, employed by the Marquette and Ontonagon Rail Road, discovered the fire. By the time he signaled the town, the blaze was already out of control. The Marquette and Ontonagon Rail Road trestle dock along with the Lake Superior and Jackson Docks were destroyed. This fire destroyed all businesses north of Superior Street (now Baraga Avenue) and between Washington, Front, Main, Third and Spring Streets. The newly built Town Hall which was located on Superior Street also burnt, along with the Post Office. Postmaster T. Moore, lost his post office to the fire, but did not lose any mail or packages. The fire destroyed the Burt Block, said to be the grandest of buildings, it was four stories high and housed many businesses. It was built of brick about 1866 and was on the east side of Front, between Washington and Main Streets. The Adams, Frazer and Company building which was located on the corner of Spring and Front Streets, succumbed to the fire. The Cleveland Block which was owned by Peter White, had a tavern, pool hall and a historical society went up in flames. The Everett Block where the library was located with 1,500 volumes also burnt. Another victim of the devastating fire was the Murray & Robbins Store. The iron doors and shutters buckled in the immense heat allowing flames to ravage the inventory. This store was located next to the Wetmore & Brothers Company, which was a store warehouse, which did survive the inferno with water buckets and persistence. The uncompleted First Presbyterian Church on the corner of Front and Bluff Streets remained standing, however the furnace, pulpit, pews, wainscoting and finishing lumber which were stored in a railroad dock went up in flames. The church was dedicated in November 1868. The Tremont House, which was a boarding house on the north side of Superior Street, was saved because a party of citizens kept the boarding house drenched by throwing water on it and covering it with wet carpets.

The Lake Superior Mining Journal, (the precursor to the present day Mining Journal) couldn't publish the biggest story ever, because their only printing press was destroyed by the fire. Instead the people of Marquette had to get their news from the Negaunee newspaper, which at that time was the "Manufacturing and Mining News", which ceased publishing on 15 August 1868.

After the devastating fire of 1868, the city decreed that all business buildings must be built with sandstone, which was readily available in Marquette. The city of Marquette also installed fire hydrants throughout the city, in the hope that city would never again deal with such devastation. On 03 March 1869, Peter White, J. W. Edwards, F. B. Wetmore, S. P. Ely, W. L. Wetmore and Hiram Burt met to organize the Board of Water and Fire Commission.

Note: In 2009, while excavating for the new hotel located on the shore of Lake Superior, charred debris from the fire of 1868 was found.

RAKKAUSTARINA MISTÄ SUOMI AMERIKKAN

The following is an account of the lives of two Finnish immigrants who met in America, fell in love, subsequently married and raised a family in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Much of this information is taken from a memoir written by my maternal aunt, Helmi Wayrynen Loosemore, who resides in Skanee, Michigan.

Matti Vayrynen—Born in Saraisniemi, Oulu Province, Finland on 30 September 1884
Died in L'Anse, Baraga County, Michigan

Tilda Hiltunen—Born in Rantsila, Oulu Province, Finland on 19 February 1887
Died in South Range, Houghton County, Michigan on 24 January 1955

Matti left Finland about 1902 and settled in the Copper Country of Michigan's Upper Peninsula where he had relatives who had immigrated to America earlier. He settled in South Range. At the time of his arrival there were many friends from his homeland in the area and he connected with them and the relatives who were already here. Matti first worked on a farm as he had done in Finland, but later found a job in one of the copper mines.

An aunt through marriage often talked to Matti about her beautiful young sister Tilda, who was coming to America and Matti became interested and looked forward to meeting her. Between 1903 and 1905, Tilda's sister Anna Greta (who lived in Hancock) wrote to Tilda and urged her to come to join her and her husband, Kalle Halonen. Tilda had no money for the voyage but agreed to borrow the money needed and in July 1905 she and a cousin (Sofia Isoviita) left their homeland. After a dreadful journey by ship to Liverpool, England, the young women boarded a larger ship for the three week Atlantic crossing. Their accommodations were in steerage but conditions on this ship were much better. There even was music and dancing on board. It was then that Tilda met a handsome young man named Jack. The two saw each other repeatedly during the trip and discussed the possibility of seeing one another in America. When the ship arrived in Boston, the two parted, each traveling to different destinations. Tilda and Sofia boarded a train for the Upper Peninsula where they were met by Tilda's sister, Anna Greta and her husband. When the young women arrived at the station; Matti Vayrynen was waiting to greet them as well.

As far as Matti was concerned, it was love at first sight! Tilda was a bit reticent, still thinking about her brief shipboard romance with Jack. However, as she got to know Matti better, she realized he was the one she loved and Jack became a romantic memory. Tilda and Matti became engaged. In order to repay money she had borrowed from her sister and to buy warm clothing for the upcoming winter, Tilda found a job at the Douglass House Hotel in Houghton. In spite of the language difficulties, she was a hard worker and performed her duties well. It took her many months to earn enough to repay her financial obligation to her sister.

On 28 April 1906, Matti and Tilda were married at the Baltic-South Range Evangelical Lutheran Church. Matti and Tilda became parents of 13 children, 11 of whom survived to adulthood. My mother, Helga Anna Sylvia, was their second child and was born in January 1909.

My grandfather worked many years for M. Kivi & Company in South Range, a retail store. For the first few years of my grandparents' marriage they lived in rented homes in the area. In about 1910 they settled in a home they purchased at 25 Fourth Street in South Range, where they resided for the rest of their wedded life. They had been happily married for almost 49 years when Tilda passed away in 1955. My grandfather missed her terribly and was never the same after her death. He continued living in their home until he began suffering from dementia and other ailments and for his safety began living in an assisted living facility in Covington.

My mother married my father, Edward Isaacson, in 1928 and after living in several local apartments, they purchased a home at 22 Fourth Street, across the street from my grandparents. My parents lived in this house until December 1985 when my father passed away. My mother died in April 1992.

An interesting footnote to this story is that the home at 25 Fourth Street (where my grandparents resided) is now owned and lived in by my first cousin and his family.

A DREADED DISEASE STRIKES HOME

In May of 1936, my mom, Joan Hainault, who would not be four years old until September, contracted what was called infantile paralysis, now more commonly known as poliomyelitis (polio). No one at the time knew what caused her illness; she had been playing in the garden while her dad was working manure into the soil for planting so they thought perhaps there was something in the soil or manure that caused it. She shared a bed with two of her sisters and neither of them got sick. She ran a high fever and was in a coma for 7 days. During that time, her aunt, who was a registered nurse, took care of her. She also had two doctors, Dr. Burke and Dr. Wickliffe, who would come to the house to check on how she was doing. There were nine older siblings still living at home. All of them except the oldest, had to go live with relatives or friends because the disease was thought to be highly contagious. They were gone for three weeks before being allowed to return home. I talked with one of my aunts who said she was just staying across the street from home but had never been away from home before and was so homesick. They weren't even allowed to go to school during this time but would visit the nuns just the same.

There was a young boy in Lake Linden, Mercer Fisher, who also had infantile paralysis. He had recovered from the illness. One of the doctors, mom doesn't remember which, extracted fluid from the boy's spine and injected it into my mom. Her oldest brother told her that they laid her on the dining room table to do this. Imagine that happening today! Mom doesn't remember how long it was but she thinks it was only a matter of a day or so and she woke up. Her mom, being a devout Catholic, had a great devotion to our Blessed Mother Mary as well as to Lourdes water. While my mom was in the coma, her mother would put Lourdes water on her neck. One day, the doctor walked in and saw her doing this. He asked when she died and Grandma said she didn't and she wasn't going to! As a kid, I remember the story and how it was told that Grandma and Grandpa had been told that she would not live and prepare for her funeral. Thank goodness they were wrong.

One of the things mom remembers after she woke up was asking for the ice cream she was eating when she went into the coma. Being that they didn't have any refrigeration at the time, the ice cream was long melted.

Mom says she had to learn to walk again. She doesn't know if she was told or if she remembers but she would crawl across the street to her favorite neighbor's house. My aunt says that mom was very thin after this and became quite spoiled. In the years to follow, my mom said she wondered if the polio would affect her ability to have children. Not a problem! Mom and dad had 7 children, which I am the oldest.

Many years ago I lived in a small town near Hopkinsville, Kentucky and I would visit the local library to see if I could finish my quest to research my family history. At this library was "Miss Vada", Miss Vada was a retired school librarian and apparently felt the need to continue with the mission to make sure everyone knew how to read a book!! She also seemed to know just about everyone in the local area by first name. In her spare time she volunteered at the Genealogy section of the library. Miss Vada had the keys to all the locked cupboards and shelves....and no one else ever touched her keys. One day while I was there a young woman about 20 years of age, stopped into the library and told Miss Vada that she wanted to "find" her family genealogy. After Miss Vada had the woman to fill out a 5-generation chart (which surprisingly she was able to do), Miss Vada was getting some Kentucky Vital Records (they are in book form) off the shelves and handed them to the young woman. The young woman seemed to be perplexed that Miss Vada would hand over the books to her, and approximately 20 minutes later the young woman said to Miss Vada who was sitting at her desk doing other tasks, "Do you think you could hurry it up a bit, my boyfriend is waiting in the car with it running". Miss Vada in her silky sweet southern voice said to the clueless young woman "perhaps you should find another hobby that won't consume so much of your busy social life."

CITING YOUR SOURCES

How do you want your research described by others?

Many factors combine to create "quality" in genealogy. But there is one so obvious, so fundamental that quality is never possible without it: proper source citations.

There is only one fault so obvious, so fundamental that instantly brands your work as the product of an amateur or careless researcher: poor source citations.

We may know of a set of records better than anyone else, however if the material extracted is not identified in a manner which allows others to relocate those records that were used, our information is suspect. Neither our knowledge nor our skill will be trusted.

Whether we are family historians, genealogists, writers or researchers, there is no other standard than to document and we must document well.

Reference notes will address two basic research needs: the need to know where a specific record is located; and the need to understand the record.

Source citations have their own basic elements that we must learn.

Book:

- Name of author
- Title of book (either in italics or underlined)
- Place of publication
- Name of publisher
- Year of publication
- Page and (possibly volume) number

Periodical:

- Name of author
- Title of article (in quotation marks)
- Title of periodical (in italics or underlined)
- Volume number
- Date of publication (month & year)
- Page number

Original Record:

- Title of document
- Date(s) written or recorded
- Collection name (Probate Files, etc.)
- Book or page of document (if recorded in bound manuscripts)
- File or box, and document number
- Repository name
- Repository location (city & state will suffice for public institutions), if document is in someone's possession give street address

FAMILY CREST & COAT OF ARMS SCAMS

In early December I went to a craft show and was appalled at the blatant selling of family crests and the ubiquitous coat of arms. This is a cautionary tale, because a woman at this show plunked down $125.00 for 5 different family names. I wanted to run up to her and tell her of the fraud that was perpetuated upon her. There is absolutely no such thing as a family crest unless of course you are a member of a Royal family in Europe or the Scandinavian countries. A coat of arms belongs to an individual, not to a family or a surname. The coat of arms was then passed on to a single child (a son), who then in turn passed it down to his son. Using someone else's coat of arms is akin to taking their genealogy and adopting it for your own. As a general rule, commoners did not have a family crest or a coat of arms, so beware that most of what these companies are selling you is a false bit of information and lineage.

OVER THE BORDER RESEARCH

I checked into this resource while in Ashland, Wisconsin on other business. I had been honored by Northland College with an invitation to speak at the 100th Commencement of this private Liberal Arts College, which had grown considerably since I first attended 66 years ago. As one of the old grads, who could still stand and talk at the same time, I spoke for thousands of graduates all over the world who earned their degrees and kept returning for their reunions.

We roamed my old haunts in Ashland and finally found the Northern Great Lakes Visitor Center, which I had been meaning to visit for quite a while. It "is a four-season facility, capturing the unique qualities of this multistate region". A theatre, exhibits and special programs are designed to tell the stories of the regions cultural and natural history. A friendly hospitality staff and visitor information services will help guide you on your journey. The highlight for the genealogist is the archives of the Wisconsin Historical Society.

We Michiganders often forget that much of our history might be found just over the Michigan-Wisconsin border, and it is good to take a wider perspective.

The archives are open Tuesday-Friday 1p.m. to 4:30 p.m., or by appointment. It is located 2.5 miles west of Ashland, Wisconsin.

May 2012

Volume 25, Issue #2

Greetings members;

As I write this it is late spring for us, with temperatures in the 50's. It seems odd that it is the end of April and yet it almost feels like the calendar should be reading June!! I want to wish all of our members, whether near or far to have a safe and happy summer....see you in the fall.

This month we will celebrate two different holidays with celebrations, honoring some very special people in our lives. President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed the first Mother's Day on 09 May 1914. On the 98th anniversary of this day I want to wish all mothers a "Happy Mother's Day"...and thank you for the unheralded jobs that each one does.

Memorial Day will be celebrated on 28 May 2012, and while we are spending time with family and friends, let's take a few moments to remember why we have this holiday. The first holiday was called "Decoration Day" to commemorate all those who died during the Civil War. After World War 1 it included all those men and women who died during any war or conflict. At the end of World War 2, Decoration Day was changed to Memorial Day, to honor all those who served with the United States Armed Forces.

If you are in Marquette this summer and need help locating your ancestors, the Peter White Public Library (Second Floor) has all of our resources that we have either published or purchased. The Peter White Public Library has microfilmed copies of the local newspaper "The Marquette Mining Journal" from its inception in 1869 to present. We have two dedicated members; Sherrye Woodworth and Marguerite "Midge" Waters that offer their services at the library on Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00-4:00 p.m. The Peter White Library is open Monday thru Thursday, 9:00-9:00 p.m., Friday 9:00-6:00 p.m., Saturday 10:00-5:00 p.m. Please call (906) 228-9510 for more information.

ISHPEMING CEMETERY

Once again it is tombstone transcribing time! We will be working at the Ishpeming Cemetery starting in June or early July. If you are interested in helping on this wonderful project, please call Rosemary Michelin at (906) 475-9308 or e-mail her at; WMichelin@Aol.com

ANCESTOR'S GALLERY PHOTOS WANTED

Because of the tremendous response to last year's photo gallery, I will once again include them in the October edition of the newsletter. If you would like your family photos published please send them to me before 15 September 2012. Photos that are black and white (on photo paper) reproduce best; the size should be about 2 inch by 2 inch. If you want your photos returned please send a self addressed stamped envelope. Thank you for your participation. Please send to; Laurie Johnson, 2333 Werner St., Marquette, MI 49855.

**Please note: Your ancestors do not have to have an Upper Peninsula connection.

A GENEALOGY ODYSSEY

When our children were born in 1961 and 1962, I might have sent them back where they came from if I'd realized that I would someday look up into the family tree and find over 38,000 relatives!

The nudge that got me started was a centerfold of a magazine (not Playboy) that was handed out to new parents at the hospital where our son and daughter were born. It was my first issue of Parents Magazine, and the centerfold showed a blank form for a pedigree (yes, people have them, too) which provided spaces for parents and grandparents.

Nosy me...I couldn't make myself quit. So I found out more about the grandparents on both sides of the family (Cornish and Swedish), and found myself wanting more. I spent some time looking up the birth dates and places, spouses and dates of marriage, death dates and places and found that I had to cross the Big Pond to find out more.

My father, Johan Arvid Johnson's cousins had travelled to Sweden to visit their second cousins, so they had some names and addresses to write to. Inger Palmer, the wife of my father's second cousin contacted other relatives, a pair of sisters who lived and worked in Uddevalla, and spent their vacation time in Gothenberg's genealogy archives. They sent me a lovely hand-drawn chart of what they had learned, which gave me a lot more information.

The children were taking up my time, and I set aside genealogy for a while. After I went back to work in the schools as a Media Center Specialist, time to research for myself became even more scarce, until retirement. I learned of a tour to Scandinavia with Debbi-Tours. I found a traveling partner and wrote ahead to a cousin of a cousin of a cousin, for help in reaching more relatives, so that perhaps I could meet some of them on the tour.

The Swedish part of the tour fell into place nicely, but I was still searching for a connection in the Eastern part of Sweden, now called Finland, across the Bay of Bothnia. My primary researcher finally found my grandfather, Herman Abrahamsson Sparf Kock's family on the Raipaluotto Archipelago, a little west of Vasa, now reachable by a new elegant bridge. Hans Soderlund, my expert on Raipaluotto genealogy, set me up for years of excitement, with the data he gave me.

The most recent fruit that fell from that tree appeared on my computer screen last summer. On my Cornish-L mailing list, I stared at a message from a Peter Gundry, who was from Zimbabwe, and I had to reply to him immediately!! You see, my 3rd cousin twice removed, Johan Gabriel Osterlund, had moved to that part of Africa even before it was named Rhodesia. You may remember it as a country rich in diamonds, and it was Cecil Rhodes who headed this industry. My Johan Gabriel, I found later, moved there at about the same time, as a young man, and got into the trucking/transportation end of that business.

I replied to the Cornish-L list, saying "Hey Peter, if you ever run across a man with the name Austen (which the family had changed from Osterlund), please ask him if he is related to my Johan Gabriel?" Well, within two weeks, Peter e-mailed me, and said that he had gone to a store where he did business, and noticed a name tag on a man there... "Austen". When he asked if this man could possibly be related to my Johan Gabriel, the man said, "Yes, he's my grandfather!"

Even though I have not yet had a response from him, after sending him some family information, I hope that he will get around to it someday and tell me what happened to his parents, 7 uncles and aunts who were born there, and fill in that story for me. Cross your fingers for me!

A NEGAUNEE MAN A BIGAMIST

There was a big wedding in Leadville, Colorado, ten months ago, the principals being FELIX PERROW of Negaunee and Miss KATIE CELL of Leadville. The police there received word from Michigan recently that a Mrs. FELIX PERROW of Negaunee, was looking for her husband, who had last been heard of in Leadville. Mr. PERROW confessed to wife #2 that Mrs. FELIX PERROW, of Michigan was his first wife and that he had secured no divorce from her. He then left the city and no one knew his whereabouts.

As I write this it appears as though our hot and dry summer is officially over! The past week we have had more rain than the past 8 weeks...the old adage "when it rains, it pours" certainly comes to mind. This summer was spent discovering new leads to track down and locate those long lost ancestors. Perhaps you have been successful locating your ancestors, please let us know your great discoveries and maybe your research ideas will help someone else.

On a "happy" note, this summer my husband and I went to a yard/garage sale and found the find of a lifetime. The find was an antique photo album and imagine our shock/surprise when we opened it and found most of the pictures intact and labeled. Some of the names were ANDERSON, BERGQUIST, HENDERSON, FRISK, HENDRICKSON, HOLLSTEDT, JOHNSON, LAGERGREN, LINDGREN, LINDQUIST, NOREN, OLSON, SJOHOLM, SUNDBERG, SUNDINE, and WAHLSTROM. Of course, this meant that we must try to discover the family members and hope to reunite them with their family pictures. We found that most of the families either lived in Negaunee or were buried at the Negaunee cemetery. After exhausting all we could discover by ourselves, we then turned it over to our "resident Negaunee expert", who is Marguerite "Midge" Waters. Thanks to Midge's knowledge of the denizens of Negaunee one of the pictures caught her eye and Midge "excitedly" told us that she was a former member of her church...The gal in the picture now resides at Norlite Nursing Center in Marquette.

DEVON RECORD OFFICE

For those who have ancestors located in the Cornish parishes of Devon, a wonderful resource has been found. It consists of Church Rate Lists for 78 parishes; some of the lists are from the first half of the seventeenth century, which may provide more information on your ancestor. The church rate lists were usually done annually so this may help in locating where your ancestors may have attended church in a specified time period. Be warned as some of the lists only contain adult males residing in the parish. If you would like more information regarding this resource; please go to their website for further details.

19 September 2012 Meeting

Joan Ball, President of the Marquette County Genealogical Society, gave a presentation entitled "Introduction to Naturalization Records". Since many of our ancestors came from other countries it was interesting to know what they had to do to before becoming United States citizens. Early immigrants who wanted to become citizens had to be a resident of the United States for 5 years and have references stating that they would be a good citizen. In about 1866 women and children automatically received their citizenship papers when the husband/father got his. Immigration and Naturalization records prior to about 1900 did not have much detail, other than the applicants name and the country where he came from. Records after 1900 have much more detail, which may include his birthplace, children's names and dates. In the early 1920's the "Married Women's Act of 1922" was passed which stated that women had to apply for their own citizenship papers, even though they may have been married to a United States citizen. For those lucky enough to have ancestors that left after 1925 these records can shed light of their journey to the new world... perhaps even telling you where they embarked for their journey, the ship's name and finally their new home.

THANK YOU

As most of the society members are well aware we are in the process of transcribing the Ishpeming cemetery. We are going through a prodigious amount of paper and ink. Rosemary put out the call for some help with providing us with more sheets. I would like to say a HUGE THANK YOU to TIM COTE, NANCY GRIGG and DAVE KINGSTON for providing the society with cemetery transcription sheets.

ECONO FOODS RECEIPTS

For those members that live in the Marquette area, remember to keep your receipts and bring them to the next meeting. We also have a collection box near the genealogy section at the Peter White Public Library. The receipts are then redeemed for cash (we receive 1% of the total value), which we then use to purchase books and CD's for our collection. Please remember to save your receipts—Thank you for supporting our society.

CONDOLENCES

It is with great sadness that I announce the loss of a good friend and genealogist, WHITNEY L. JOHNSON. Whitney died on 07 June 2012 of natural causes at the age of 84. For many years, Whitney was a dedicated volunteer at the LDS Family History Center on Cherry Creek Road in Harvey, Michigan. I, along with many others will miss his stories and dedication to further the interest in genealogy. Farvel min ven.

The Marquette Scandinavian Midsummer Fest was held at Marquette's Presque Isle Park on 23 June 2012, with a perfect sunny summer day. The crowd was well attended by over 1,000 visitors and participants. The countries that were represented were Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden. The entertainment was filled with Finnish and Scandinavian music and dancing. Many events were held for the younger generation which included arts and crafts, and games with prizes. The adults had craft demonstrations and other vendors which included food, baked goods and drinks. The Marquette County Genealogical Society had a table which sold our published books with FREE help and information.

Note: In 2013 the Scandinavian Midsummer Fest will not be held so that the members can help plan Finn Fest 2013 in the Copper Country.

UPPER PENINSULA HISTORY CONFERENCE

Sherrye Woodworth and I had a great time attending the 2012 Upper Peninsula History Conference in Sault Sainte Marie (Soo), Michigan on 22nd-24th of June. It was put on by the Historical Society of Michigan and held at Lake Superior State University. On Friday afternoon I took a tour of the quarter mile long 1902 Cloverland Hydroelectric Plant on the River. I also did the historic walking tour of Lake Superior State University (which was special to me since I went to school there in the 1970's). Sherrye did the tour of the International Bridge Plaza. That evening we enjoyed an outdoor BBQ meal with a view of the International Bridge and Canada, listened to MIKE FORNES sing GORDON LIGHTFOOT songs. Saturday was a busy day at the LSSU Student and Conference Center. We heard the following talks; "Mackinac in the War of 1812", "The Habits of Civilized Life: Exploring the Impact of Missionaries on Native Americans in the Upper Peninsula", "Murder, Mayhem and Misfits: Murder Vignettes in the Upper Peninsula" "The Find of a Thousand Lifetimes: The Gorto Site Discovery", "Shallow Shipwrecks and Lighthouses of the Shipwreck Coast". In the afternoon we were able to tour Historical sites in downtown Sault Sainte Marie (Soo) for free. On Sunday we took a walking tour of the city hall and historic Water Street. We stayed at the Holiday Inn Express near the university and took the long way home via the Shipwreck Museum at Whitefish Point.

TAP -TAP

I can see this happening at a genealogist's grave.....

Two men were walking home after a party and decided to take a shortcut through the cemetery just for laughs. Right in the middle of the cemetery they were startled by a tap-tap-tapping noise coming from the misty shadows. Trembling with fear, they found an old man with a hammer and chisel, chipping away at one of the headstones.

"Holy cow, Mister," one of them said after catching his breath, "You scared us half to death—we thought you were a ghost! What are you doing working here so late at night?"

"Those fools!" the old man grumbled. "They misspelled my name!"
