Welcome to 2020!

Hi, I'm Laurie Johnson and this is 20/20—it does not have the same pizzazz as Barbara Walters but I always wanted to say that!

Don't you just love it when you finally find that record, a person or document that can tear down a brick wall, or two? But before you get all excited about finding this item be sure that it is the correct person or family.

I know that we as genealogists get so excited about finally solving a mystery or finding that link that confirms that this is indeed that elusive ancestor or relative we have been searching for; that we sometimes forget about the details. Yes, the little details like "does this make sense?" I think we all know of that one researcher who deems that a child who dies at the age of 2 and yet still manages to produce offspring or the woman at the age of 60 years who is still having babies. Both scenarios are not likely to happen—but it does appear on some family trees.

Online family trees can be useful in finding clues to help you locate those missing and elusive relatives. However make absolutely sure that this is indeed your relative or branch of the family. Be sure to look for source documentation to prove your supposition and before you download and merge the whole family tree into yours. It is easier to add the information in small batches, rather than to discover later on that the 38,000 names that you added to your family tree aren't even your relatives. Just because someone has the same name doesn't mean that they are "your" relatives.

There is a researcher who is convinced that his "James Brown" is the son of Joseph and Betsy Brown living in Cumberland County, Maine during the 1860 United States federal census and the next time he says he can locate them is in Des Moines County, Iowa in 1865. He surmises that it has to be the same family because A) they have the same name B) one is married to a Betsy (can be a diminutive of the name Elizabeth) while the other is married to Elizabeth and C) they both have a son James.

A number of people that have commented on his tree, pointing out that Joseph and Betsy Brown did not have a son James listed on the census rolls. Yes, it is true that a James Brown was living with the family, but his relationship is unknown and he is closer in age to perhaps being a sibling to Joseph. I think the folks that are commenting on his tree want to sincerely help him, but at this point he sees nothing wrong with his data. While we wish every family tree was accurate, it just isn't likely to happen, so be vigilant with your data and sources.

Tadych's Econo Foods Receipts

For those members that live or visit the Marquette area, please remember to keep your receipts and bring them to the next meeting or mail them to the Marquette County Genealogical Society, c/o Peter White Public Library, 217 North Front Street, Marquette, MI 49855-3710. We also have a collection box near the genealogy section at the library. The receipts are redeemed for cash (we receive 1% of the total value,) which we then use to purchase books and CD's for our collection. Please remember to save your receipts and THANK YOU for supporting our society.

Peter White Public Library: FamilySearch Affiliate Library

In September of 2017 the Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints ceased sending microfilms to the local family history center in Harvey, Michigan, with the idea that all available films would eventually be placed online on their website by 2022. Until that happens the Peter White Public Library has become a "FamilySearch Affiliate Library" which means that they have certain privileges to limited-access FamilySearch.org databases. However, there are exceptions and rules you must follow; these databases must be accessed inside the library—no remote access available. Another drawback due to copyright rules, there may be some materials that may not be available for viewing unless you are at a family history center with access to their portal. Public or university libraries, archives, museums, or genealogical societies can become affiliate public libraries. Even though affiliate libraries have some limitations and may not have all the services of a family history center, they are still are a valuable resource. If you have any questions, please visit your local library and ask your reference librarians for more information.

Program from 08 October 2019

Joan Ball, President of the Marquette County Genealogical Society led the participants in her Beginning Genealogy workshop at the Peter White Public Library from 6:30 until 8:00 p.m. The workshop covered the basics on “how to” start genealogy research, including ancestor/pedigree charts, family group sheets, research logs, source summaries, correspondence logs and genealogy programs.

Program from 09 October 2019

Joan Ball, President of the Marquette County Genealogical Society led the participants in her Beginning Genealogy workshop held at the Negaunee Public Library from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. The workshop covered the basics on “how to” start genealogy research, including ancestor/pedigree charts, family group sheets, research logs, source summaries, correspondence logs and genealogy programs.

Program from 11 October 2019

Laurie Johnson, Corresponding Secretary of the Marquette County Genealogical Society led the 7 participants in her Intermediate Genealogy workshop at the Negaunee Public Library beginning at 3:00 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. Topics covered included genealogy books that can be helpful in finding, sourcing and organizing their genealogy data. The discussion also covered birth, marriage, divorce and death records and where to find the information. Genealogy programs were discussed to let participants know that there are some free programs to help organize their data.

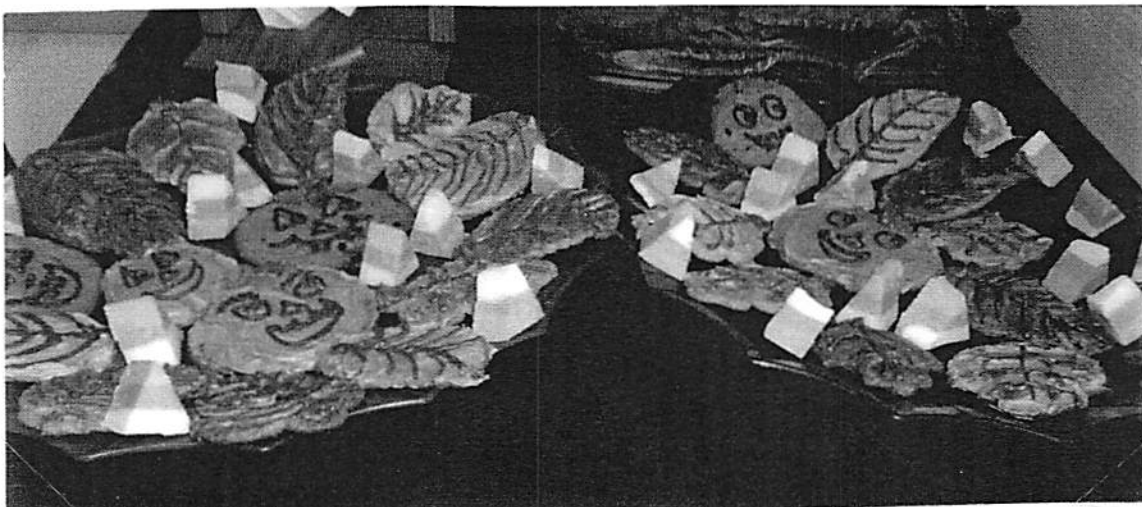

Program from 15 October 2019

Laurie Johnson, Corresponding Secretary of the Marquette County Genealogical Society presented an Intermediate Genealogy workshop titled Internet Genealogy at the Peter White Public Library from 6:00-8:00 focusing on Ancestry.com's databases. This evening's program was centered on the “Card Catalog” and how it can help you narrow down the results, to a place or time. Ancestry.com is available at the Peter White Public Library on the four computers nearest to the Genealogy Collection.

For a special treat Florence Olivier provided the attendees with delicious pumpkin chocolate chip and sugar cookies, all decorated in an autumn theme color palette. She also brought along with her special candy corn fudge—perhaps she will share the recipe and we could make this an annual treat—Florence, what do you think of that idea?

Program from 16 October 2019

This evening's program was presented by Jeremy Hansen owner and operator of the Swanson/ Lundquist/ Fassbender/Hansen funeral home. Swanson's funeral home opened in 1922, by Albert and Emil Swanson. Marvin P. Fassbender started his funeral home circa 1933. Fassbender and Swanson-Lundquist funeral homes merged in 2018. Mr. Hansen told the 16 attendees that he has records from the early 1900's to present day. The earlier records were from previous funeral homes starting with the Oates and Carter and then Hager and Oates. The older records have less information than present day however unless you are next-of-kin you may not see private information. As of 2006 all new burials, cremations and obituaries are stored on a computer program. If you would like to view the records please call the funeral home at 906-226-6589 and schedule an appointment. In 2003 25% of the bodies were cremated and then in 2019 nearly 80 % of the bodies are cremated. In 2019 the first Green Burial was at Park Cemetery in a designated area. If you would like to be buried in this section, there will be no headstone just a medal stake with GPS coordinates on it.

Jeremy Hansen

Program from 17 October 2019

Laurie Johnson, Corresponding Secretary of the Marquette County Genealogical Society presented a second part of the intermediate genealogy series "What Do I Do Now?" A discussion was led regarding genealogy books that can be useful in finding, sourcing and organizing their genealogy data. Such topics covered were a review of ancestor/pedigree charts, family group sheets and their usefulness in keeping your information organized and accessible. Also covered were cemetery, church, funeral home, naturalization and census records. Genealogy programs were covered to let the participants know that there are some free programs to help organize their data.

Program from 25 October 2019

The annual Genealogy Lock-In was held at the Peter White Public Library this evening from 6:30 until 9:00 p.m. Samantha Ashby, Reference Librarian made sure that everyone who signed up got through the doors. Norma Miller, Recording Secretary for the Marquette County Genealogical Society signed in the participants and handed them their packets. The topic this evening was "Searching County Records" and the keynote speakers were; Carla L'Huillier, Register of Deeds of Marquette County her office has records beginning in 1850 and primarily deals with real estate property; including warranty and quit-claim deeds, mortgages, leases and land contracts, for more information contact her at clhuillier@mqtco.org Jackie Lykins, Deputy Director of Equalization, her function is to maintain current ownership and description records for 19 townships and two cities, print assessment and tax rolls, prepare tax statements among other duties. For more information you can contact her office at 906-225-8405. Linda Talsma, Marquette County Clerk, has many duties including the Chief Election Official of the County, clerk of the Circuit Court, Clerk of the County Plat Board and Vital Records registrar. Her office has marriage records from 1850 to present, divorce decrees from 1869 to present, death records from 1867 to present and birth records which are restricted to those named on the certificate or older than 110 years. She has DD214's which are restricted to next of kin or the service person named on the document. If you have any questions regarding her duties or records please contact her at 906-225-8330.

Event from 07 November 2019

Once again our talented genealogists came up with some very clever ornaments for our holiday tree for the annual Winter Wonderland festivities at the Peter White Public Library. While some members decorated their wooden cutout mittens with pictures of ancestors, others painted their mittens in their countries colors. The tree was also festooned with the words "Merry Christmas" in different languages.

Program from 20 November 2019

This evening's program was presented by Lynette Suckow, Reference Librarian at the Peter White Public Library and MCGS member. She informed the 21 attendees that with a valid PWPL card you can access magazines to download or read from your computer or electronic device. The magazines that she focused on were Family Tree and Military Family History.

Program from 04 December 2019

Our final meeting of 2019 was held at the Lost Creek Community Center, located at 200 Lost Creek Drive in Marquette Township, where 17 attendees indulged in the spirit of the holiday. We feasted (but not on roast beast!) on oh so many exquisite desserts, exceptional food and extraordinary company. The attendees: Joan Ball, Betty Belanger, Michael and Vikki Beltz, Dean and Laurie Johnson, Peggy Letvenow, Norma Miller, Marlene Nier, Florence "Pokie" Olivier, Sue and Paul Rau, Crystal and Bob Swanson, Judy Webb, Bea and Karen Wertanen. It was an enjoyable evening, laughing, socializing, eating and appropriating coveted gifts. A very special thank you goes to Bea Wertanen for reserving this wonderful space and also to the kind members who donated presents and gift cards for the Marquette area teenagers.

Program from 15 January 2020

This evening's program was presented by Dr. Paul Mann, Department Chair of Clinical Science and Dr. Matthew Jennings, Assistant Professor in Clinical Science who are affiliated with Northern Michigan University. The twenty-two attendees were treated to a broad overview of DNA and its components. Dr. Jennings started the program with an introduction of Gregor Mendel who is credited with creating the science of genetics. Using pea plants as his test subjects he discovered that some plants carry some specific genetic coding or traits. His early discoveries (before the science of genetics) explained in ways that traits are passed on from one generation to following generations. Dr. Jennings did tell us that in 2001 to have your entire genome sequenced it would have cost you 100 million dollars and in 2019 it would cost you about $1,000. Dr. Mann began his program with his results of a DNA test from Ancestry.com to confirm his genetic background. Sometimes, with DNA you find out information that you wish you didn't. Dr. Mann did say that the more people that test, the more refined the data becomes. DNA is reliable, the interpretation is the variable—DNA doesn't lie! We learned some new terms; genotype—part of genetic makeup of a cell, phenotype—result of genetic sequence, autosomes—any chromosome that is not a sex chromosome and centimorgans (cM)—the total length of DNA you share with another person.

St. John the Baptist Catholic Church

The original French-Canadian church of Marquette started its life in 1856 as the first church for the First Methodist Episcopal Church located on lots 2 and 3, in block 5 of Harlow's Addition, near the northwest corner of Washington and Fourth Streets. The church was made entirely of logs cut and hewn within the city limits by Reverend Addison C. Shaw. It was used until 1872 when they built a new brownstone structure on the northeast corner of Ridge and Front Streets.

The building was purchased for $2,500 in 1872 and soon after the purchase the parishioners remodeled the church suitable for the Catholic faith. It was dedicated on 08 August 1872 by Bishop Ignatius Mrak. The first pastor was Reverend W.T. Roy and he was appointed in early November 1872. The first christening occurred on 19 November 1872 of Marie Celina Chartier. The first marriages that were recorded, Hermenegilde Dion and Valerie Tranchemontage on 24 November 1872, he was the son of Noel Dion and Marguerite Gauvreau, she was the daughter of Xavier Tranchemontagne and Julie Sevigny. The next day on 25 November 1872 the nuptials of Charles Cheney and Philomene Mars were held, he was the son of Alexis Cheney and Genevieve Trottier and she was the daughter of Antoine Mars and Victoire Demers.

Reverend Roy built a residence for himself on the lot west of the church for $3,000 and was promptly kicked out of the residence because of financial improprieties.

Mr. Hampson Gregory, contractor and builder took possession and leased it as a boarding house. By 1881, Reverend J. Elie Martel allowed it once again to be used as the home for the clergy.

In 1889 Reverend Antoine Vermare updated and added clapboard siding on the outside, purchased altars, statues and other religious artifacts all for $35.00. The purchase of a statue of the St. John the Baptiste made in Paris, France and weighing over 600 pounds and cost 500 French Francs. It was less expensive to purchase and ship the statue here as it could not be built for that price in the United States.

In July of 1890 the congregation which served over 400 French Canadian families needed a larger church to fulfill their parishioners' needs, they desperately wanted more space. Even though St. Peter's Cathedral is a large church it wasn't large enough to accommodate the roughly 3,000 Catholics of the city. A decision was made to build a larger and more ornate church to once again serve the French-Canadian population.

The new church with land purchased from George Cummings is to be built on the south side of lots 17, 18 and 19 (each 50x78) and lot 15 (50x69) next to the old church. The property was purchased for $3,385. The new church will be built in the Spanish renaissance style with a capacity of 770 in the main auditorium and 230 in the balconies.

The cornerstone was laid 16 September 1906.
