The Priests of the Plague Summer

Irish immigrants felled by typhus remembered at Grosse Ile

by Gary Thomson

272 Charles Street Belleville, Ontario Canada K8N 3M8

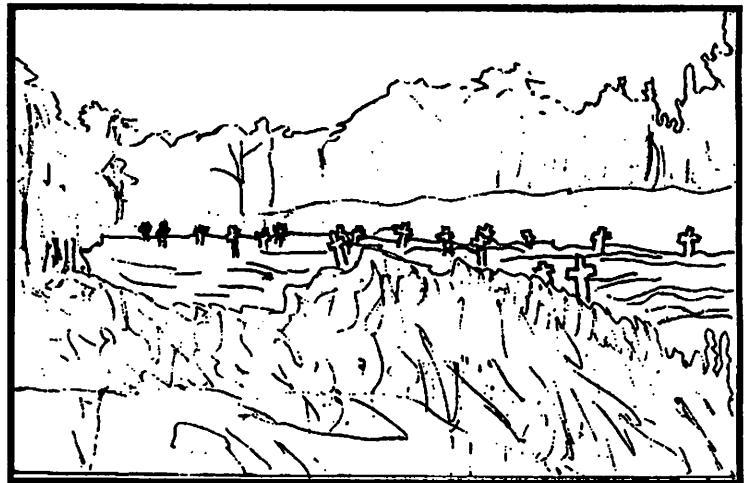

[Editor's note: Mr. Thomson is a free-lance travel writer with a special interest in historical sites and events. If anyone has a query as a result of this article, Mr. Thompson might be able to assist with some addresses in Québec that hold the records of the orphans and their adoptive families as he has a list of orphans adopted by French families in that terrible summer.]

The entry of Irish dead in the church register strikes a note of sorrow and monumental loss:

"The 16th of June, eighteen forty seven, I the undersigned priest have buried in the cemetery of this place, the bodies of Patrick Slattery, aged five months; of Judith Darcy, aged five years; of John Booth, aged forty years; and of forty-four others unknown coming from different hospitals of this place ...

P. Rose, priest."

"This place" is Grosse Ile, a narrow pine-clad island in the St. Lawrence River 30 miles down river from Québec City. In spring, wildflowers carpet the meadows, and in autumn, migrating ducks and birds rest in the shallow bays.

The rolling trenches of the common graves are dotted with simple white crosses. There were 5,300 reported deaths from typhoid during the summer of 1847, although some historians believe as many as 12,000 may have died.

The hospitals where Father Rose worked had served adequately since 1832 as receiving quarantine stations for arriving Irish immigrants. But in that horrible summer of 1847 it turned to a place of calamity and death for thousands of impoverished families seeking a better life in North America.

Many Catholic priest from Québec City and near-by parishes responded readily to the suffering. They risked their lives to put commitment to their faith into action.

In 1847, authorities in US and Canadian ports braced for a flood of tenant farmers driven from their land by foreclosures, hunger, and failed crops.

On Grosse Ile, Dr. George Douglas, the medical officer, supervised the repair of hospital sheds damaged by winter storms. He laid in food and medical supplies. Colleagues in New York wired him to expect unprecedented numbers of immigrants from the embarkation ports - Cork, Dublin, Sligo, and Liverpool.

No one warned Douglas of a dreaded ship's passenger — typhus.

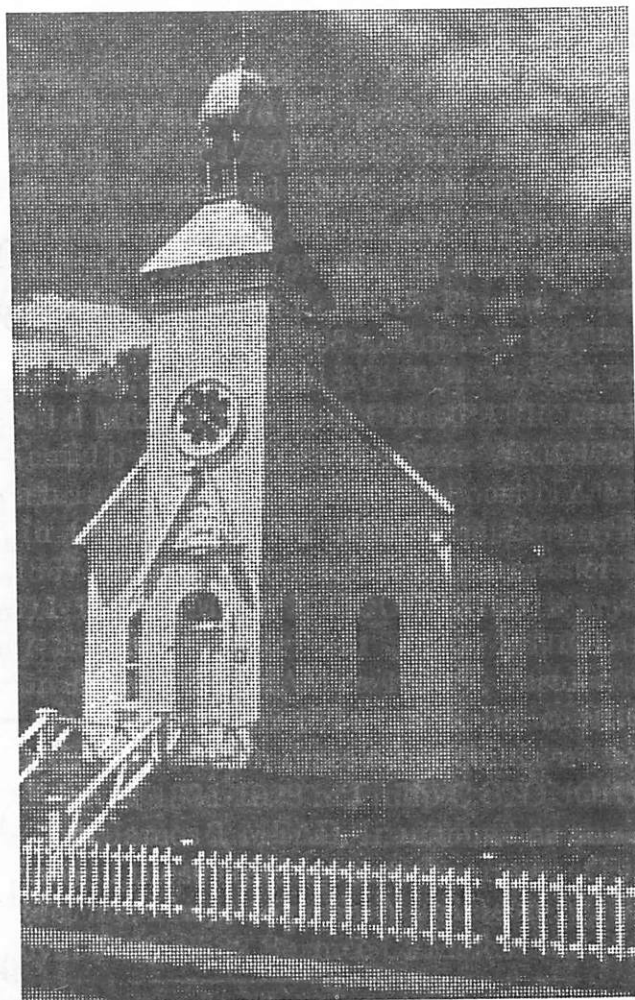

On May 17, shortly after winter ice left the St. Lawrence, the ship Syria anchored off Grosse Ile. Of her 241 Irish passengers 84 were sick. Nine had died on the sea passage. Another 40 were taken to the hospital, where they died within a few days.

“I have not a bed to lay them on or a place
to put them in.”

Sensing imminent disaster, Douglas sent urgent messages for aid to the immigration agent in Québec City. But already he was too late. Within four days, eight more ships arrived. Their crews off loaded 430 feverish passengers.

Now Douglas was writing his superiors in Québec: “I have not a bed to lay them on or a place to put them in.”

Before month's end, 40 ships holding 15,000 passengers stretched in a two-mile line down the river. All held dead or sick agonizing with delirium, thirst, headache or diarrhea. The hospital sheds filled to overflowing. Medical personnel spread families of sick on the beaches, under shady oak trees, inside

The Catholic church on Grosse Ile is dedicated to St. Luke. Its register lists the names of Irish immigrants who died of typhoid during the summer of 1847.

sprawling canvas tents. The little wooden Church of St. Luke echoed with sickly groans and pleas for water.

The crushing June heat intensified the suffering. Since many of the ships' crewmen were ill, soldiers on the island had to assist in unloading passengers. One report tells of bodies being winched out of a hold, the golden hair of a young girl moving in the breeze.

Soon the priests were recording 50 deaths daily on average. Douglas himself became ill and had to be restrained from his duties. Father O'Reilly, an assisting priest, noted: “It was a wonder to us all that he could withstand the horrible fatigues he had to undergo.”

To aid the doctors in their Herculean task, both Catholic and Protestant clergy hurried to Grosse Ile from Québec City.

Father Bernard McGauran of Nôtre Dame de Québec brought the first group of priest, teaching professors from the seminary. Though typhus felled Father McGauran, he recovered and returned later in the season, remaining until the station closed in late autumn.

His brothers moved uncomplaining among the fetid sheds, fetching barley water and tea for the sick, or rowing out to the ships to administer last rites.

Because of their numbers these determined clergymen were able to rotate their periods of service and recuperate off the island. Still, four priests and two other clergymen fell victim to the plague.

Willingly the priests assumed care for the flood of orphans. The hospital steward made careful note of unclaimed funds from the dead, which helped later to house and feed the children.

One treasure for historians and genealogists that survives this tragedy is the 1847-48 register of these children kept by the Québec City Charitable Society. These careful records include a child's name, date of arrival, parents' name, parish, county, vessel, and adoptive family if known.

Reading its pages pulls at the heart.

Consider the agony of Ellen, Michael, Mary and Richard Bible, age 10, 12, 17 and 6 respectively. Parents unknown, parish unknown, county unknown, vessel unknown. "Deceased Aug. 6 and 9."

Or rejoice with James, John and Margaret Mahon, age 8, 12 and 14; father John, mother Ellen; of Riseisver Parish, County Leitrim; off the ship Argo. "Left Oct. 28 Toronto for their father John."

Families along the St. Lawrence opened their homes and hearts to these orphans. All those having no family or refuge elsewhere were soon adopted by French-Canadian

If You Visit

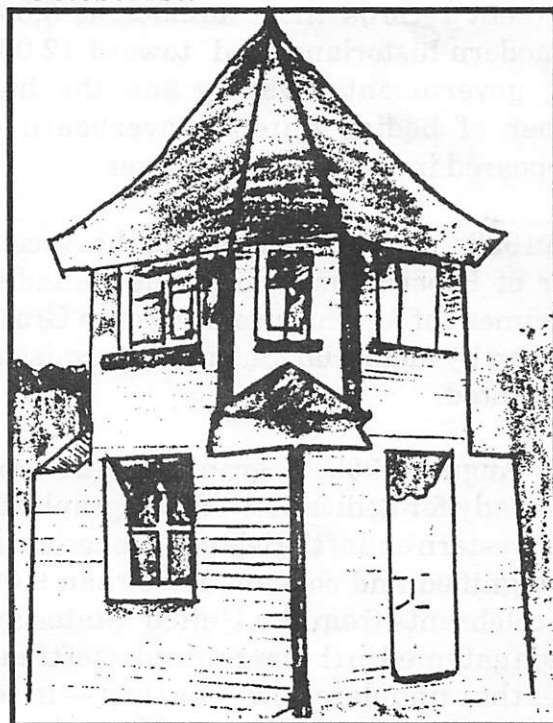

Day or half-day tours can be arranged with Corporation pour la mise en valeur de Grosse Ile at 6 rue Bernatchez, Montmagny, Québec G5V 1H2 (418) 248-4832.

Transportation to the island is by a new 75-passenger boat. English speaking guides-interpreters accompany each group.

Full-day tours run Saturday and Wednesday. Inspection of the entire island, including the Celtic cross, the graveyards, fever sheds, and Cholera Bay costs $65 (Canadian) and includes brunch and a four-course dinner at the end of the tour.

Half-day tours run Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Visitors see the western half of the island, graveyards, Cholera Bay and Celtic cross. Cost is $45 (Canadian) and includes brunch.

Tours run from June 1st through October 1st.

A guardhouse in the center of the island prohibited quarantined immigrants from moving around.

families. One mercy was that the children should keep their Irish surname so that their heritage would endure with them.

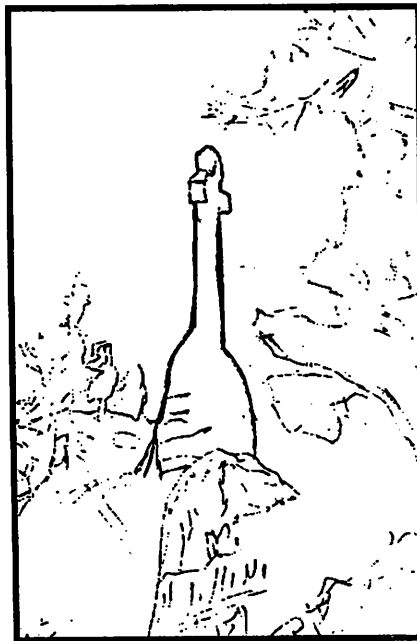

As the cooler weather of autumn approached, the suffering diminished. Recuperatives moved upriver in steam barges to Kingston, Toronto, Niagara Falls and into distant US cities. Many, like John Ford from County Cork, journeyed alone, having buried a spouse at Grosse Ile. He moved to Detroit, where later his grandson Henry Ford created a new industry. In their own fashion all these survivors soon gave their energy and labor to shaping a new continent.

As time passed and grieving healed the terror, many Irish planned for a suitable monument to remember the victims and to sanctify their burial ground.

Douglas had already raised a small stone pillar to commemorate the medical personnel and Irish dead in that summer of sorrow. His monument records their number at 5,300. But modern historians tend toward 12,000, citing government cover-up and the high number of bodies dumped overboard or disappeared in the woods and river.

In 1898 the Québec chapter of the Ancient Order of Hibernians lobbied the Canadian Department of Agriculture to raise on Grosse Ile a worthy memorial. Soon that permission was granted.

By August 1909, a granite Celtic cross stood ready for dedication on Telegraph Hill on the western end of the island. The ceremony was dignified and solemn. More than 9,000 Irish celebrants from the United States and Canada gathered in the large meadow of trench graves that undulate now—as then—in soft rows colored with daisies, goldenrod, and whitewashed crosses.

The 40-foot Celtic cross erected in 1909 commemorates the Irish plague victims.

Redemptorist Father John Haney, pastor of St. Patrick's Parish, Québec, celebrated the requiem Mass. He reminded his listeners of the great suffering here, of sacrifice, endurance and love.

Father Haney urged them to take hope from the inscription on the monument, written in Gaelic and English:

*Sacred to the memory of thousands of Irish emigrants who, to preserve the Faith, suffered hunger and exile in 1847-48,
and stricken with fever,
ended here their sorrowful pilgrimage.*

The victim's courage and heroism, and the strength of their survivors, is the greatest memorial of all. □

The Old Catholic Cemetery of

Marquette, Michigan

submitted by Lester Bazinet #182

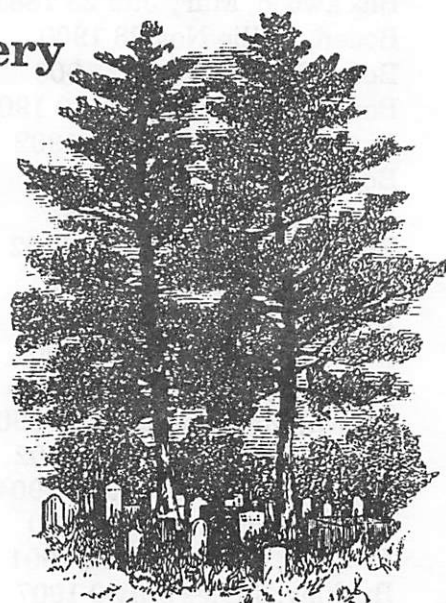

The old Catholic Cemetery (Pioneer Road & County Road 553) will be moved. The Diocese of Marquette (Michigan) printed the names and dates of burials recorded there in the local newspaper. A good many of them are French-Canadians who were attracted to this area by the mines, railroads, and lumber industry. This was a legal advertisement dated July 7, 1992 and published July 27, 1992.

The last paragraph read as follows:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 24th day of August 1992, 3:00p.m., a hearing will be held in the Marquette County Circuit Court before the Honorable Edward A Quinnell, Circuit Judge, upon a Petition of the Diocese of Marquette seeking an order of Disinterment from the grounds known as the Old Catholic Cemetery, through vandalism and other causes, no longer provides a place of dignified repose. The Diocese of Marquette proposes to sell the parcel to the Knights of Columbus and proposes to establish an appropriate memorial at the Holy Cross Cemetery for those persons buried in the Old Catholic Cemetery. Consent is sought by the Diocese of Marquette pursuant to the statue provided to obtain an Order of Disinterment to relocate any final resting places as may be needed ...

— ANNOUNCEMENTS —

La Société généalogique canadienne-française

Founded by the Reverend Father Archange Godbout of the Franciscan Order, our society registered its 10,000th member in 1991. We now have some 3,800 active and paid-up members dispersed all over the world.

The founding meeting was held in Montreal on September 15, 1943 with the election of its first board of administration. The library received its first donations the following month and the first edition of the periodical Memoires was published in January, 1944. Thereafter, local chapters were established in various areas between 1944 and 1953: Québec, Valleyfield, Ottawa-Hull, St-Hyacinthe, Trois-Rivieres, LaSarre, St-Boniface (Manitoba), Rouyn-Noranda, Arvida, Amos, and Chicoutimi.

Because of distances and increasing membership, certain chapters such as Québec and Ottawa-Hull became autonomous in 1961. However, most of their adherents retained their membership in our society as well.

The society, headed by its current President, Norman Robert, will be celebrating its 50th anniversary at a special convention to be held in Montréal from October 9-11th, 1993.

We wish to extend our most sincere welcome to our Franco-American members to come and help us celebrate this 50th anniversary of the S.G.C.F., the first French Canadian genealogical society to arouse an interest in researching the roots of our families.

Our FRENCH-CANADIAN Ancestors

Such was the atmosphere during an embarkation for Canada about 350 years ago.

SPEAKING OF A "RIPPLE EFFECT.."

This scene from Volume XI—the latest in our ongoing and widely read Series entitled "Our FRENCH-CANADIAN Ancestors" shows an event whose significance reaches all the way to our present times. Those were real people, risking everything, about to board ship for that great unknown land, Canada.

Perhaps one of your own forebears was on that very ship. Well, now you can read about the lives, loves and times of these early Canadians. Our Series documents hundreds of Ancestors...with dates, places of origin, names...in fact, just what you need to help trace your own fascinating family tree!

And yes, judging by your interest and that ever-widening response so far, we may well say our Series is creating quite a RIPPLE EFFECT of its own!

Inquiries invited.

ANDERSONVILLE CEMETERY

TOWN OF GLOVER, ORLEANS COUNTY, VERMONT

by: John E. Parry #29
Compiled on 30 June, 1992

Andersonville Cemetery is in a rather remote location of the Town of Glover, quite near the Glover/Albany town line. There are no doubt a myriad of different ways to get to this location, but the simplest would seem to be turning onto Roaring Brook Road in the town of Barton and proceeding past the Orleans County Fairgrounds just 2.6 miles on the paved road to West Glover. Turn right and stay on the paved road exactly 2 miles to where it becomes a gravel road. Continuing on for another 4.8 miles taking no turns will deliver you right to the cemetery, which is located on the right hand side of the road.

Andersonville is approximately 175 feet across by 150 feet deep and is fronted with an ornate white iron fence. The three remaining sides are a combination of barbed wire, scrub trees and accumulated field rock. The peaceful serenity of this place is broken only by the many swallows that inhabit the numerous birdhouses placed around the fence line, and the occasional hum of farm equipment operating off in the distance.

Standing in the center of the cemetery and looking to the west, visitors are treated to a panoramic view of forested hillsides and well carved out farm land with what appears to be Craftsbury Common partly exposed on one hillside. This cemetery seems well cared for but still has a number of stones that have been broken over the years and left unattended.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Loiselle Marriage Index

With Notes on Other Indexes

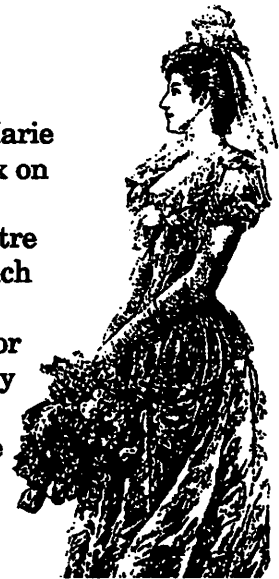

a letter from Edna Finn #9C

In the Spring 1992 issue of Lifelines, mention was made by our President, Marie Gennett, that our society had recently purchased the Loiselle Marriage Index on microfiche for use by our members.

This index was compiled by Father Antoine Loiselle of the Parish of Nôtre Dame de Grace in Montréal. Fr. Loiselle passed away in 1986 and left this rich legacy of information for use by researchers.

Members should be aware that our society published the film numbers for surnames, with guidelines for using the microfilm format, as the index originally appeared. This appears in the Fall 1988 issue of Lifelines.

While those film numbers may not coincide with the fiche format, the guidelines for using the information contained in the Loiselle Marriage Index are the same, and are re-printed here to especially benefit our newer members who may not have the Fall 1988 issue at their disposal. These guidelines are a definite asset to use in viewing either format.

1. The Loiselle index is an index to the marriage records in Québec; Madawaska County, New Brunswick; and Manchester, Hillsboro, New Hampshire, 1642-1963.
2. It is an index in one alphabet to brides and grooms.
3. Each index entry gives the name of the bride and the groom, the date and parish of the marriage. If the bride or the groom is not widowed the entry will also record the names of his or her parents.
4. If either the bride or the groom is widowed the record of the marriage will indicate the name of the previous spouse. To find the names of the parents of a widow(er) it is necessary to find the index entry for the first marriage.
5. If either parent of the bride or groom is deceased this is indicated on the index.
6. If the parents of either spouse were married in a parish other than the one in which their child is married the index will indicate the parish of the parents' marriage.
7. Most of the entries are typewritten.
8. A list of abbreviations used for first names and localities, and a list of all the parishes which were indexed (with beginning and ending date), are filmed at the beginning of each reel of the index.
9. The alphabetical order of the cards is only approximate. The Parishes covered are listed at the beginning of each film.

For those of our members who find this method of researching rewarding, there is also the Rivest Marriage Index, as well as the Fabien Index.

Rivest Marriage Index

The Rivest index covers the marriage records of the parishes located in the notarial districts of Joliette, St Jerome, Mont-Laurien, and Sorel, Québec from the 17th century to 1972.

Letters continue on next page

Fabien Index

The Fabien index is a collection of seventy 16mm films containing 270,000 entries of marriages from 1857- 1974. It covers the parishes north and south of the Ottawa River in Québec, as well as Ontario, Eastern and Northern Ontario, Pontiac County, the Island of Montréal, the Huntington and Chateauguay regions of Québec, and a few others.

This index is a complement to the Loiselle Index and they do overlap in a few areas. There are also a few marriage contracts and newspaper clippings.

Please note that the National Archives of Canada, 395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, P.O. Canada K1A 0N3, has the Fabien index on 16mm film which may be borrowed from them through your library if it subscribes to their services through inter-library loan. They do not have the Loiselle or Rivest marriage indexes on microfilm. These are, however, available through the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at their libraries throughout the country.

The Smallman Collection

Many researchers are familiar with Mary Smallman, and her late husband, C. Walter Smallman. Walt was Franklin County Historian for many years while a resident of that county, and Mary held the same post in St Lawrence County for many years.

They also conducted a genealogical research enterprise called Search and research from their home in Hermon, New York. Their area of expertise was primarily confined to St Lawrence and Franklin Counties.

A few years ago, following the death of her husband in 1985, Mary became less involved in doing research and more recently, donated much of their material to a few select archives.

Genealogists will be interested to know that she placed the family file cards, correspondence, and other material with the Later Day Saints Library in Potsdam, NY, where they are available to the public. It is located at 21 Castle Drive and is open on Wednesday evenings from 7-9 p.m. (phone: 315-265-6228).

The Wead Library was the recipient of material on subjects dealing primarily with Franklin County, i.e. prohibition, rum running, etc. Wead Library was also instrumental in purchasing from Mary, seven reels of microfilm of the newspaper Facts and Fallacies, published in Brushton (formerly Brush's Mills) area of Franklin County. These newspapers date from 11 May 1899 to 11 November 1954 and the films do not circulate. The Wead Library is located at 64 Elm Street in Malone, NY. Hours - September through June from noon to 5, and 6-9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Also, on Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. During July and August they are open from noon to 6 from Monday through Thursday, and on Friday from 10 to 4, and 6-9 p.m. (Phone: 518-483-5251).

Finally, Paul Smith's College Library in Paul Smith's, NY received miscellaneous Adirondack material, maps, books, etc. The books are integrated with the stacked books. The Librarian will be glad to locate other items, upon request. (Phone: 518-327-6313) □

Dear Bill [Wm. Marquis],

Greatly enjoyed the recent Journal (V.9, #1, Spring 1992. The stories were especially good.

One comment reference page 60, "Civil War Declaration" — young Cassius M. Burby died at Hilton Head, South (not North) Carolina.

Hilton Head was a large staging area for Union troops during the Civil War and I understand many are still buried in the vicinity. It is quite a fashionable resort area today. (Expensive!)

Sincerely,

Ken Anderson

P.S. I hope Mrs. Burby was successful in receiving a pension.

THE THIBERT dit MARION FAMILY IN FRANCE

submitted by William H. Marquis #1

Joachim Thibert & Marie Guillimin, of St-Jean, Bourgogne, France, did not come to New France (Canada); their son Jean-Marie Thibert dit Marion came in the early 1740s. Jean-Marie Thibert was married 17 Feb. 1744 at St-Michel de Yamaska, Yamaska County, PQ. At least two of their children settled at Chateauguay, Chateauguay Co., PQ. They were Pierre, who first married M-Louise Bonneau 1780 Chateauguay, PQ at St-Joachim de Chateauguay, and also married M-Francoise Poissan 1805 at the same parish.

Regarding his brother Joachim, I have not yet found his marriage, but all his children—as well as Pierres' children—were married at St-Joachim de Chateauguay. The family branches out to Beauharnois and others in the area. The dit or called name of Marion does not seem to extend down past the first generation of Jean-Marie Thibert. Much research still needs to be done as it appears the family branches off to Northern New York.

These are my dead ends; I cannot fit these members of the family into the decending genealogy above. If I could solve the 56 marriages below and find their parents and marriage, I could add about 300 hundred more decendants to the above chart. Congratulations!

A heartfelt congratulations goes to NNYACGS member

David Kendall Martin

for having been made a

Fellow of the American Society of Genealogist

This is probably the highest honor a genealogist can receive. The American Society of Genealogist limits its membership to fifty. A person is nominated and elected by the members in the society, and the Fellow is a member for life. The society, more than fifty years old, was founded by Donald Lines Jacobus, a noted genealogist, to promote scholarship in genealogy. The society meets yearly at various sites throughout the United States.

A genealogist is awarded this honor for the quality of work they make public, mainly publications. In the area of publications, David has seven books and 30 magazine articles to his credit.

The Chateaugay Thaw . . .

submitted
by
Elizabeth Botten #31

This satire on winter weather first appeared in Northern New York. Its fame is known throughout the United States and Canada. Although the author of this poem is unknown, it remains a masterpiece of 19th century rugged humor.

*A story is told of a traveler bold
—in the days of the Hartford coach—
In a big blanket rolled for the weather was cold.
Here he was just as snug as a roach.
But the snow gathers deep as onward they creep,
And the snow rising higher he saw,
And the driver, he cried to the man by this side,
“We shall soon get a Chateaugay thaw.”*

*Then the man in the coach, lying snug as a roach,
Gently smiled, like an infant at sleep;
But the horses’ slow gait never told him his fate,
In the snow drifts so wide and so deep.
At last came a shout and they tumbled him out,
And a sleigh was his fate; then he saw
But a man with a sigh, pointing up to the sky saying,
“Here comes a Chateaugay thaw.”*

*“Let it come,” said our man, “just as quick as it can,
For I never was fond of the snow;
Let it melt from the hills, let it run down the rills,
Then back to our coach we may go.”*

*But the wind raised its song and snow sailed along,
And the cold it was piercing and raw,
And the man in the rug, from his covering snug
Wished and prayed for the Chateaugay thaw.*

*When the sleigh with its load, reached the old Malone road,
Where the drifts reared themselves mountain high,
Malone on the west buried deep out of sight,
Left a white desert plain 'neath the sky.*

*Not a fence or tree could the traveler see,
As he covered close down in the straw,
And the driver he sighed, as the prospects he eyed,
"By George! here's a Chateaugay thaw."*

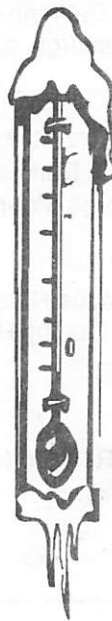

*Then, the old gossips say, he arose in the sleigh,
And he extended his hand o'er the scene,
And he laughed and then shrieked.*

*And the sleigh groaned and creaked,
And he said, "I will tell you what I mean!
When the North wind does blow, and there's ten foot of snow,
And the ice devils nibble and gnaw,
When the snow fills your eyes and the drifts quickly rise,
This is known as a Chateaugay thaw."*

*Then the traveler arose and he smote him with blows,
And they sank in deadly embrace,
And none knew the spot till the July sun was hot,
And a hunter by chance, found the place.*

*Here they made them a grave where the storms loudly rave,
And the epitaph lately I saw.*

"Two men lie beneath and they came by their death, Frozen stiff in a Chateaugay thaw." □

— CORRECTIONS —

Regarding the article in the 1992 Spring journal:
The Search For Dominic Richelieu by Veronique Gassette #152

Correction 1. Page 26, the third paragraph in the left column, the sentence should read:

In 1767, Marie Louise Richard dit Lavallée, daughter of Jacques and of Marguerite Gregoire, married Alexis Hamelin, son of Alexis and of Marie-Joseph Belisle.

Correction 2. Page 28, the end of the second paragraph of section 3 of the second column, should read:

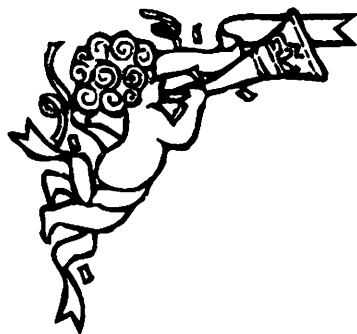

The record would establish the lineage of three children, a daughter who married in Montréal and two sons who married in Burlington.

Correction 3. Just below the above; section 4 should not read "no data" but rather should include the following:

Michel Hamelin dit Larichelière, born today, baptized at St. Hyacinthe, 11 Sept. 1824. Parents were Francois Hamelin dit Larichelière and Thérèse Laroque. The father was present at the baptism.

Correction 4. The parish of Nôtre Dame du Rosaire should be referred to as such and not as Nôtre Dame de Rosaire.

The editor apologizes to the author for these omissions (underlined) and error.

WILLETT FAMILY

UPPER CANADA, NORTH AMERICA, & THE UNITED STATES

by Albert J. Willett #592
451 Hallmark Road, Fayetteville, NC 28303

This family would have originally lived in New Jersey, and most likely had a Quaker background. At some point, about 1805, the whole family, including the adult sons would have removed to western New York state, settling in Ontario County, New York, which then included all of present day Ontario County, and parts of (present day) Yates, Livingston, Monroe, and Wayne Counties.

Family tradition has indicated that there was a Willets family living in the United States with the following children:

1. David m. Catherine Drake, in 1810 in Ontario County, New York. After 1811 he removed to near Ancaster, Canada; see X.1.1.
2. John, b 1773, New Jersey, m abt 1795, wife unknown, but of Orleans County, New York, he d after 1850 in New York. (This line will be followed at a later date.)
3. Mary, b abt 1784 m "Deacon" John Drake, b 23 October 1782 (New Jersey?), removed to Jerseyville, Canada, d 29 November 1853 in Wentworth County, Ontario and buried in Vansickle Cemetery.
4. Gideon, b abt 1787, m "out of" Quaker Meeting before 23 March 1810. Gideon Willets acknowledged his error, and was reaccepted on 27 September 1810. Later, about 1815, Gideon Willits and family removed to Ancaster, Canada. See 7X.1.40.

Notes on the spelling of the Willits surname

This family in the early part of the 1800s has switched from the spelling of Willits to Willitts, Willets, Willetts, and Willet, Wilett, and other variations. As often as possible, within this document, the exact spelling of the surname is indicated as it appears in contemporary records.

x.1.1. DAVID WILLITS and CATHERINE DRAKE

David Willits was born about 1765, probably in New Jersey. David Willet (sic) married at Harwick, Sussex County, New Jersey, on 17 November 1799, Catherine Drake, b 12 June 1779, the daughter of Joseph Drake, Jr and Sarah Carson (they were married 10 March 1775).

On other transcripts or records of this marriage, David Willet's surname is shown variously as Willitt and Willits. David Willits was originally a Quaker; however, it is not known if he practiced this faith for his whole life, or if it was passed on to his children.

The 1810, Boyle, Ontario County, New York, census, page 21 (133), lists David Willetts and family as follows:

- 1 male 45 up bef. 1765 David age 45? b 1765?

HARRIS/BURKE

submitted by Mrs. Robert Dinwoodie
Goffstown, N.H.

I was checking over the papers of my late brother-in-law, Ernest A. Harris, Jr. and thought your members might have some interest in his mother Jane Victoria Burke, who was born 16 November 1891 at Trout River, NY and died 16 August 1960 at Manchester, NH. She was the daughter of Samuel William Burke and Jane McGibbon. After Samuel died his widow sold the farm and business and moved to Manchester, NH.

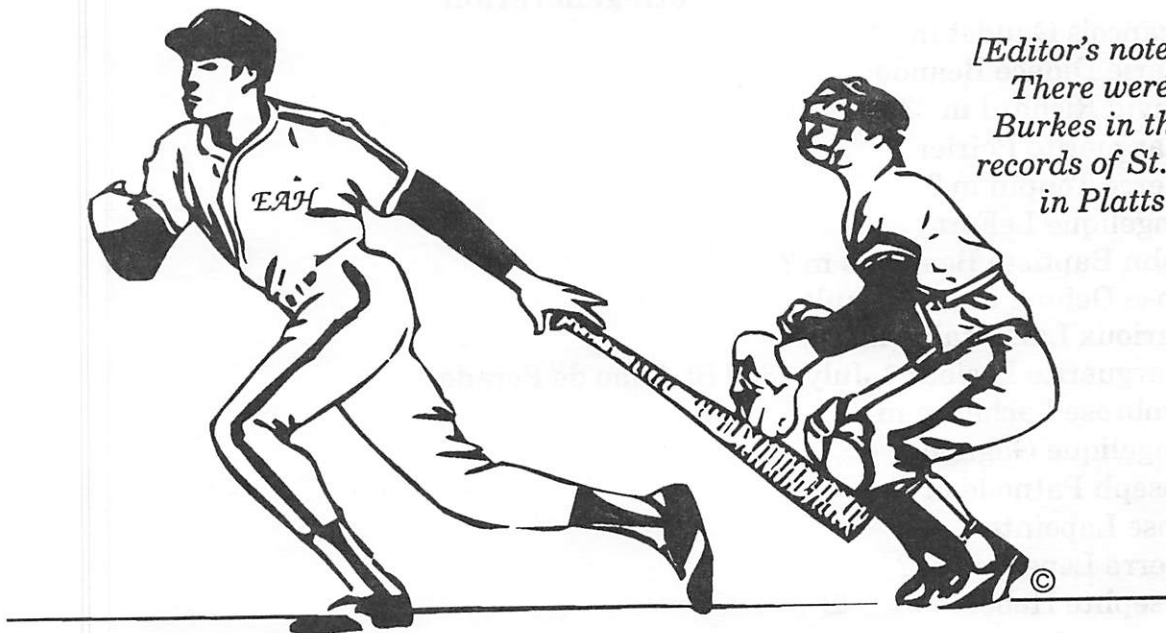

Jane married Ernest Alfred Harris Sr. on 8 February 1915. Ernest was the son of Joseph Frye Harris and Rebecca Sibley Rouselle. Ernest is known in New Hampshire as the "father" of Little League Baseball. He was born 6 March 1888 at Norwood, MA. He died 26 October 1976 at Manchester, New Hampshire. They had 5 children: Joseph Albert, Edmund Ernest, Ernest Alfred Jr., William Francis, and Robert Francis. All married and had children

In my notes I find that Ernest Jr.'s great grandfather, Samuel William Burke, founded St. Brigit Church in Trout River in 1868 and it is in the History of Malone, New York. Samuel married Catherine McGibbon. A MacFarlane on the Burke side married a Mohawk Indian woman. According to Ernest their home in Trout River was partly in the United States and partly in Canada; his mother slept in Canada. There is a town of Burke, New York just south of Trout River, New York.

Just a bit of information I thought your society might like to print in your excellent journal in case any of your members might be looking for where Jane Victoria Burke removed to with her mother Jane (McGibbon) Burke and brother, Charles Burke. □

The Church would have issued a document annulling the marriage of Thomas CROMP and Marie BOUIN that took place in 1764. I do not know whether the document would be available to the general public.

The following is an excerpt from Les Européens du Canada des Origines à 1765, by Marcel Fournier (Editions du Fleuve, 1989) on Thomas Crompt:

Born either in 1727 (Mar no. 2) or 1734 (Mar no. 1) in Glasford, Wales, of the marriage of Thomas Crompt and Marie Worm. He arrived in Canada during the early years of the English regime. On 12 Nov 1764, Thomas Crompt married Marie Bouin dit Dufresne, born in 1737 at St-Laurent near Montreal, daughter of Francois Bouin and Marie Mainguy dit Lachausse, at Point-de-Levis. In 1768, unknown circumstances resulted in the annulment of the 1764 marriage causing a separation of the spouses. Following the death of Therese Gagnon, there occurred a rather special event for that period of time. On 26 Nov 1774 Thomas Crompt married for the second time his first wife, Marie Bouin, whose annulment had been pronounced in 1768. She was the widow of Joseph-Antoine Roupp. The new marriage also legitimized the two children born from the 1764 union as the marriage of 1774 stipulates. Thomas Crompt registered his will on 3 Sept 1788 at the Notary Foucher of Montreal (Dictionnaire généalogique des familles canadiennes).

Variations of the name: Crump, Crown (1774) and Crowen.
 The translation is mine.

— CORRESPONDENCE —

Direct all correspondence to the Society's address given above. If you want a quick reply, a self-addressed, stamped, large envelope will ensure faster response.

— QUERIES —

Queries should be brief; please type or print. Ask specific question; give dates and places where possible. Each member is allowed two free queries per issue; additional queries are $3 each. For non-members, the charge is $5 per query. Query deadlines are 1 April for the Spring issue and 1 September for the Fall issue. When you answer a published query, please send an information copy to the Society so that we may publish it for the benefit of all our members.

— SUGGESTIONS —

We always welcome your suggestions for improving the Journal — something we strive to do with each new issue. We read your letters carefully with an eye towards making changes in the Journal that increase its usefulness to you our readers!

— WINTER LIBRARY HOURS —

Winter library hours at our Keeseville Genealogical Center are:
by appointment only — 2 weeks notice requested

— ARTICLES ENCOURAGED —

We encourage our members to submit articles concerning family history and/or data, stories bearing on genealogical pursuits, and problems or unusual happenings in their search for family genealogy. When you submit an article please also give your membership number (this is appreciated in any of your correspondence with the Society). The article should be typed or printed double space if practicable.

If you submit an article that has been written on a computer, please also submit a floppy disc (Apple II, IBM-MSDOS, or Macintosh can be read; 3.5 in. disks are preferable, but 5.25 in. is O.K.). In addition, label the disk with your name, member #, article title, and type of system & software used.

Since we are using both an IBM and a Macintosh computer to format our Journal, all articles must be keyed — if you use a computer but do not send us a disc, we must re-key the entire article. Sending a disc with your hard-copy saves us much valuable time. Also, efforts to format articles using the spacebar rather than setting tabs can result in additional work; learn to format using your software's built-in features, i.e. tabs.

Additionally, the Journal now makes use of a scanner to enter photographs, line drawings, sketches, and other graphics such as cemetery maps. Black or red ink on white paper is preferred for scanning; blue ink is disaster! Size of graphic materials should be less than 8 inches wide and less than 10 inches high.

— EDITORIAL POLICY —

The editors of Lifelines reserve the right to edit all contributions submitted by authors. We will edit [with the exception of original documents quoted] for spelling, form, grammar, obvious error, and to shorten lengthy articles to fit the available space. Contributors are responsible for the accuracy of their information, and for their opinions. □
