LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Something comes to mind along the lines of "the best laid plans of mice and men ..." The day after Christmas we were called to Texas where Jim's brother was critically ill. A side effect of this tragedy is that I lost a month of work at the time when the February issue would have been prepared.

Joseph Donald Reisinger was born 23 June 1941 in Sparta, Wisconsin, the fourth son of Joseph and Leone (Schmitz) Reisinger. After graduation from Sparta High School, he attended Madison Business College in Madison, Wisconsin. He lived in the Madison area for about 20 years and moved to Austin, Texas in 1983 where he worked at Foley's Department Store. Joe died 14 January 1987 at the Seton Medical Center in Austin. Services were held at St. Patrick's Church in Sparta and interment was in the parish cemetery. He is survived by his brothers Bob and Jim of Sparta, Dave of Menomonie, Wisconsin, Tom of Roselle, Illinois, eleven nieces and nephews and one great-niece. We will miss our brother, uncle and friend.

Condolences also go to the family and friends of Elmer Courteau who died 31 October 1986 at his home in Inver Grove Heights, Minnesota. Elmer was well known to readers of LOST IN CANADA? as the author of two series: "The King's Daughters" and "The Carignan Regiment". With Paul Lareau, he compiled the French-Canadian Families of the North Central States: A Genealogical Dictionary (St. Paul, 1980) and was very active in many phases of the Minnesota Genealogical Society. He was a copy editor for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune and assistant editor of the Catholic Digest magazine. He will be missed by his family and many friends in genealogy.

When I did get back to publishing, the first thing that happened was that my off-set press completely broke down. Since I was already very late and had to wait for service, I decided to go to New Orleans with Jim for a national conference of heating, ventilating and air-conditioning contractors. The weather was worse than in Wisconsin, but we both needed the get-away and were glad that we went.

On the way home from Austin we spent some time in Dallas with our daughter, Mary. I visited the Dallas Public Library and Lloyd Bockstruck, the very knowledgeable director of the Genealogy Department. Their collection is excellent and I only wish I could have spent more time researching there. While in New Orleans, I spent a day in the Louisiana Room of the New Orleans Public Library hoping to solve the identity of some early settlers in Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin. Although their collection is very complete for Louisiana and the director was very helpful, a day is never enough time to research in unpublished material (there is a very complete collection of published material at the State Historical Society of Wisconsin).

Often I am asked to recommend someone who can translate Quebec documents to English. John Magerus, Ph.D. teaches French at the University of Wisconsin--LaCrosse. He spent several months in Quebec researching old documents and is familiar with the handwriting as well as the idioms of the language. I have had him make a full translation of a document when I thought I had extracted all the genealogically significant data. When he did the full translation he got a feeling that there were errors. There were indications of sloppiness and he came to the conclusion the document was less than reliable. In one instance, the identity of the father of the bride was in question because of data published in Jetté (Dictionnaire généalogique des familles du Québec, des origines à 1730) and Le répertoire des actes de baptême, mariage, sépulture et des recensements du Québec ancien. The marriage contract appears to be a cover-up of the fact that she was the illegitimate daughter of her mother prior to her mother's marriage. Only a full and accurate translation gave the total picture, although it didn't resolve the question. If you would like to have him translate your material, write him at 1518 Monroe, Onalaska, WI 54650.

GOOD HUNTING!

PARISH SACRE COEUR DE JESUS, STANSTEAD, QUEBEC
EXTRACTS FROM PARISH REGISTERS PERTAINING TO FAMILIES RESIDENT IN THE UNITED STATES
1826-1834 and 1848-1860
(Part 2)

The following extracts from the parish registers of Sacre-Coeur de Jesus, Stanstead, Quebec include only those records that mention a place of residence in the United States. They pertain to mission work performed in the U S. by the Stanstead priests, primarily in Orleans County, Vermont. A few pertain to New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Bound in the front of Volume I is part of an earlier register, starting 9 July 1826, signed J. Holmes ptre miss., M. Power ptre, H. Robson, ptre. The first page has no heading and begins with Baptism #35, so these pages must represent only a fragment of a larger original register. Acts in these pages were signed by J. Holmes, M. Power, H. Paisley and H. Robson, all Catholic missionary priests. The last two acts had initials only: "J. McC". Entries are in a mixture of French and English languages. Extractions were made (and translated) by Virginia Easley DeMarce from microfilms of the parish registers made by the Geological Society of Utah, reel 1 031 643.

The French-Canadian Genealogist's Prayer

Grant, O Lord, as I begin this search, that I may be descended from a couple named Onésime and Edemire. May their son Exupère have taken to himself a wife baptized Marthe-Clemente, daughter of Euclide-Chrysostome and Edesse. In the interest of greater human happiness, may all other French-Canadian genealogists be descended from couples with names like Celestin and Zoé, while the descendants of every Joseph who married a Marie in the Province of Québec take up golf or ceramics as a hobby. Amen. (Anonymous)

REFERENCE SHELF

Genealogical Research: An Introduction to the Resources of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, James P. Danky, editor. (Madison: State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 1986). Soft cover, 6" x 9", 50 pp., 2nd edition, revised and expanded. $ 6.95 postpaid from SHSW, 816 State Street, Madison, WI 53706-1488.

Contents: The Library, The Wisconsin State Archives and Manuscript Collections, The Map Collection, Genealogy in Wisconsin History: An 1855 Kidnapping Solved and a Rare Photograph Found, German Place Name Sources and Area Research Centers.

James L. Hansen, Reference Librarian, describes the scope of the holdings of the library. "The Library attempts, insofar as possible, to acquire all available published material relating to the history and genealogy of any part of the United States and Canada and has done so since 1849". There follows a description of some of the categories of interest to genealogists, such as: Family Histories, Local Histories, U.S. Censuses (they hold, on microfilm, the surviving original schedules of the Federal censuses of all the states from 1790 through 1910. They also hold microfilm of the censuses of Canada for 1850-1881), Wisconsin Territorial and State Censuses 1836-1905, Local Censuses (taken 1848-1959 prior to incorporation of Wisconsin villages and cities), Wisconsin Vital Records (prior to September 1907, held at the Wisconsin Division of Health), Passenger Lists (major east coast and gulf ports for most of the 19th century), Military Records, City Directories (all available ones for all U.S. cities up to 1860, many others 1861-1901), and Newspapers (2nd largest collection in the U.S.). There also is a section on "How to Use the Collections" which I strongly recommend you read before making a visit to the library in order to best utilize your time there. Much of the material circulates through Inter-Library Loan, with the exception of most of the strictly genealogical materials. Basic information about copy machines, staff limitations for research by mail (as well as what will be done), and Inter-Library Loan is also given.

The chapter on the State Archives was written by Joanne Hohler, Archivist in the Manuscripts Section, and Timothy Ericson, Project Archivist. There is an over-view of the scope of the collections, with descriptions of such categories as: Census Records, Military Records, County and Local Government Records, Naturalization Records, Other Records, The Draper Manuscripts (and Guide), Calendars and Documentaries (of various collections of papers), Church and Cemetery Records, and microfilm acquired through the Genealogical Society of Utah (probate, military, vital statistics, census, naturalization, land records, church sacramental records, cemetery records).

The Map Collection is described by Michael Fox, former Map Curator, with revision by Michael Edmonds, Public Services Librarian. This is not only a good description of the Society's map collection, but a good introduction to using maps in genealogical research.

Genealogy in Wisconsin History is written by John Holzhuetter, associate editor of the Wisconsin Magazine of History. It is a good description of the detective work he did, using genealogical tools, to solve the 1855 kidnapping of a Menominee Indian boy.

Often, when I make a statement about the collections and holdings of our State Historical library and archives, people (including librarians and prominent genealogists) look at me as if I had two heads. Believe me, a visit to this library can be a genealogists feast, and the menu is enhanced by studying this guide. If your travels take you anywhere within driving distance of Madison, Wisconsin, don't miss the chance to research in their facilities. Everyone anticipating a visit should have a copy of this guide, and I suspect it could help many a genealogist just by describing material they may not have known was available. One gold-mine of material that I use is not described--the Government Documents section. Their collection of Canadian Government Documents includes some material that hasn't survived in libraries and archives in Canada.

Shaking Your Family Tree: A Basic Guide To Tracing Your Family's Genealogy, Dr. Ralph Crandall. (Dublin, NH: Yankee Publishing Inc., 1986). Hard cover, 6" x 9", 256 pp. $15.95. Available in many book stores, as well as from the New England Historic Genealogical Society by mail (Dr. Crandall is director of the Society), postage not known.

For years I have collected many "how to" books on the subject of genealogy, some not worth the paper they are printed on. Ralph's book is written for the neophyte, as well as the more experienced genealogist, and is a reliable, well-written guide, available on a national level at popular bookstores. It is about time! There may be more comprehensive guides for the experienced researcher, available through the genealogical market, but this is a book that will start the new family tree enthusiast off in the right direction. True, he may place more importance on the value of tombstone inscriptions than I would, but then I don't research in New England where tombstones date back several centuries, and are made of durable material instead of sandstone that washes off with rain in 100 years.

1987 Gene-A-Rama
Genealogical Fair or Exposition
Saturday 30 May 1987
Holiday Inn, US Hwy 51 & N. Point Dr
Stevens Point, Wi

What: A Gene-A-Rama is a fair or exposition of genealogical ideas, beginners table, materials, books, publications, computer genealogy and door prizes! It is open to the public, clubs and interested people. Each genealogy organization or person has a chance on the program to tell what their club is doing, speakers used, publications-which leads to questions and answers-everyone learns something to take home to their club. It has been successful in Ca. with 3000 attending and Pa. with 500 attending. Our 1st was staged in Richland Center last summer. Those of us attending had a great learning experience and saw the potential for growth of an annual event in Wi!

How: To be successful-if everyone attends-bring a couple car loads from each club or those that publish genealogical materials. Great way to see everything genealogically published in the state and add to your personal or clubs library. If each club reserves a table (6' x 30") and brings their publications-if you don't have any how about membership brochures, charts, projects-we'll be successful! Be represented! It's fun!

Cost: The sponsor-Wi Genealogical Council is in its formulative stage and will have to meet expenses. Tables will cost $5.00 each, reserved in advance-but what cheap advertising! We will have coffee and rolls in a.m. and soup/sandwich lunch @ $7.50 per person which includes tip and tax. If everyone attending pays the $7.50, we'll have the room and cost of holding the event at Holiday Inn for free. We must have 100 people pay. We ask your cooperation in this. You'll have a whole day of genealogical fun and food for just $7.50

Program: 8-9 a.m. set up of book store and club tables; 9-10 a.m. coffee hour, registration, book sales; 10 a.m.-noon, program: club reports, Wi State Genealogical Society report, Wi State Old Cemetery Society report; noon-1:30 p.m. Door prizes and lunch; 1:30-3:00 p.m. panel-to answer questions on concerns of genealogy clubs-how to organize-how to get IRS and state tax exempt-how to publish a newsletter-how to stage a workshop-how and what to publish on a shoestring-where to get speakers-how to keep members interested in the club, etc; 3:00-4:00 Book Store; 4-4:30 Dismantle tables.

Thank-you for your consideration in joining us and hope to see you at the Gene-A-Rama! With your attendance, and your help in advertising this event, we'll be a success!

PILOTE GENEALOGY: DESCENDANTS OF A BARRELMAKER

by PAUL J. LAREAU

Léonard Pilote and his wife, Denise Gauthier, came to Québec from LaRoche, France, in about 1660. This is a genealogy of 22,500 of their descendants living in Canada, the United States, and elsewhere. It spans 15 generations over 300 years.

This book is an heirloom, and will be prized by future generations of family members, as well as by family history researchers. It would be a fine gift.
