Editor's Note

A number of "special events" are taking place this fall at the Provincial and Regional levels of our Society. These events have all been planned to help you learn more about your favourite hobby, genealogy.

At the Provincial level a major cultural event, our annual Seminar, is just a few weeks away. After nearly two years of planning, the Prince Albert Branch, will be hosting the Seminar on the weekend of Oct. 25-27. This year's Seminar covers a wide variety of topics including: American East Coast Immigration; German History; Red Settlement: Genetics: RCMP: Eastern\Central Canada and United States Records; Roman Catholic Records; Jewish Genealogy; Computers; and Instructor Training. A detailed listing of the sessions and presenters can be found in the insert of the June Bulletin. There is still time for you to register for the Seminar if, you haven't already done so.

A General Membership Meeting is scheduled at the Seminar. At this meeting Elections will be held for 5 positions on the SGS Board of Directors. The Notice of Elections, and a proposed change to the Constitution appears in the coloured insert.

At the Regional level, Regional Elections, workshops and SGS Workshops are taking place at various locations. The advertising space in the Bulletin limits the amount of information we can include about the regional events. If you would like more information or have any questions about these events please contact your Regional Director or the Branch Contact in your area. The Notice of Elections, dates, locations and times may be found in the coloured insert.

I would like to encourage all SGS members living in a SGS Region to participate in the events planned for your region. With your participation, we can make these events biggar and better.

Included in the insert is an application form for the 12th edition of an important and useful genealogical research tool, the Genealogical Research Directory, published by Johnson and Sainty.

The week of November 12th to 16th has been designated Cultural Awareness Week. This is an ideal opportunity for all SGS members to celebrate our cultural activity, genealogy. A province-wide campaign is being mounted involving all lottery beneficiary groups in the area of culture. This is an excellent opportunity for us to promote our Society, by staging a display or special event during this week in our local community. We as Branches and individuals can let our community know the important role Saskatchewan Lotteries plays in our cultural activity.

Are you wondering what to tell your spouse to get you for Christmas? Have you dreamed of going on a genealogical research tour? How about a genealogical research tour to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City? An eight (8) day research tour to the Family History Library will be leaving on Sunday 24th November. Additional details may be found in the SGS Bulletin Board column.

YOU AND YOUR RECORD OFFICE A code of practice for family historians using County Record Offices

The following article is reprinted with permission of the Association of County Archivists and the Federation of Family History Societies (England).

Preparation

You will find a visit to a record office much more rewarding if you do your homework beforehand and arrive well prepared. If you are a beginner your first step, before a visit, should be to read a book on how to trace your family. Excellent value for money is Beginning Your Family History by George Pelling. It is published by the Federation of Family History Societies and costs £2.55 inc. postage. It is also a good idea to join a Family History Society and/or local history class in genealogy, details of which may be obtained from your Local Education Authority or Workers Educational Association. A list of the world-wide family history societies and a leaflet detailing the services of the Federation of Family History Societies and its publications can be obtained in exchange for a self-addressed, stamped envelope (or 3 International Reply Coupons) from the Administrator, Mrs. Pauline Saul, c/o The Benson Room, Birmingham and Midland Institute, Margaret Street, Birmingham, England, B3 3BS.

Contact the record office you need to use to make sure that they have the records you need to begin your research, and to discover details of opening hours, etc. and whether you need to book a seat or microfilm reader. Many county record offices now operate a reader's ticket system, similar to the ones in use in the Public Record Office and British Library, and about 20 of them use the County Archive Research Network whereby a ticket issued in one participating office is valid in the others. Whatever system is operated official proof of identity, bearing name and current address, will be required before a ticket is issued. Two county record offices (Devon and Gloucestershire) charge for access to the office. Record Offices: How To Find Them by Jeremy Gibson and Pamela Peskett, published by the Federation of Family History Societies, price £2.20 inc. postage gives addresses, telephone numbers and maps of location of the record offices in England, Wales and Scotland. Another useful guide is Record Repositories in Great Britain (8th edn, 1987). Many offices issue an introductory leaflet, and sell brief guides and lists of registers held for a small sum.

You should be quite clear about what you want to find out at the record office. This means collecting all the known facts about your family first and deciding what you hope to find out on your visit. A request for advise on ways of tracing the baptism of Mary Smith whom you believe to have been born at Spennymoor about 1825 can be answered by the search room staff quite easily. But a long story about your family will confuse the search room staff and possibly yourself, until the point of the enquiry is lost and time wasted.

Remember to bring copies of your notes with you in case you need to refer to them and come supplied with pencils, paper (and reading glasses if you need them).

At the record office

Almost all record offices have a signing-in book which you will be expected to sign on each visit. This usually implies acceptance of the record office rules which you should read carefully on your first visit. All offices forbid smoking, eating and drinking in the search room area and this should be taken to include sweets. Many offices require you to leave outdoor clothes, bags, briefcases and large files in a reception area or locker.

Whenever possible, avoid bringing extra people with you. Most offices have no room for people not engaged in research. Some offices may allow you to bring in a baby or a young child provided there is no disturbance to other readers but you should always check on local practice before making a visit. If disturbance is caused, you should leave the office yourself rather than waiting to be asked to do so. You will not be allowed to bring animals into a record office.

When you arrive, a member of staff will explain how to use the indexes and catalogues, or point you to relevant leaflets or instruction notices. You will also be shown how to order the records you wish to use, usually by filling in an application form. If you find a reference in an index, it is always best to check the catalogue entry for further information before ordering the document. If you don't find the information you required in the first place you look, other sources can probably be suggested.

Speak as quietly and as little as possible. If you have come with other people, divide the work up as well as you can and leave the search room if you need to discuss it. Nothing is more annoying to other readers than a running commentary between two readers on the progress of their work.

The use of tape recorders, typewriters, microcomputers and cameras is not normally permitted in record offices unless prior permission has been obtained.

Make sure that you have returned your records and packed up before the stated closing time, so that you can leave promptly at that time.

Using the Records

When original records are produced to you, remember that they are unique sources of information, which must survive to serve future generations as well as our own. Treat them with great care. Most record offices require the use of pencil only. Do not run a pencil or your finger down the record or rest your paper on it while writing. Staff will always provide advise on how to handle documents safely.

It will be to your advantage directly, and to the archivists' ultimately, to make notes as carefully and specifically as possible. Always head them with the proper reference to the document from which the information comes, and describe exactly the extent of the search made, e.g. "searched 1700-1720 and all Smith entries noted" or failed to find marriage of John Smith 1700-1720, though there are other Smith marriages, not noted. If you are methodical, it will save you having to re-use the records unnecessarily.

If you work backwards in your family history, which is always advisable, you should find that you can read the more difficult earlier forms of handwriting without too much trouble. Archivists will generally help with a few difficult words, but have no time to sit down and read extensive passages. They can recommend books which will help you in this field.

As you develop your history, you may extend your searches into documents which need more skill to understand, such as deeds and manorial records. Again archivists can in some instances assist and suggest helpful books.

When documents are finished with, the utmost care should be taken in returning them exactly as they were received. In strong rooms where millions of documents are stored, misplaced documents are virtually impossible to trace except by chance, so one wrongly folded inside another may be 'lost' for years. Find out from the staff to where documents which you have finished using should be returned. Some offices will require you to hand them to a member of staff and wait while they are checked, and in many cases the number of items produced at one time will be limited.

Owing to problems of wear and tear from excessive use, more and more records are being produced to searchers in the form of microfilm or fiche. Microfilm copies held elsewhere, such as the census returns, may also be available. These too must be treated with care. Most offices require roll film to be wound back on to the spool it was on to begin with. This is particularly important where the office operates a self-service system for microfilms.

Postal and telephone enquiries

If you are unable to visit a record office, it may still be possible for you to obtain the information you need. Though an extensive search is usually better carried out personally, some offices will carry out a minor search involving a small number of years in a single parish without charge. Others will make a charge, and others again will only answer enquiries as to records held and will not search within them. Most offices will be able to supply you with a list of record searchers who will carry out searches for you for a fee. For any other than the most straightforward inquiries, it is better to write to a record office than to telephone and it is courteous to enclose a pre-paid envelop for a reply. An increasing number of offices provide a paid research service, the use of which is limited only by the client's resources.

The work can be slow and at times frustrating, but there are many exciting and satisfying moments. Each year tens of thousands of people get pleasure and fascination from using the marvellous heritage of records which we have in this country. With proper care and respect for the documents you too can benefit and at the same time, ensure that future generations will also be able to enjoy the privilege.

Research in Galicia, consisting of the present Ukrainian oblasts of Ternopil, Ivano, Frankivsk and Lviv, as well as the Polish wojewodztwo of Rzeszow is one of the most difficult research areas for genealogists. There are many sources in various countries, due to the number of kingdoms Galicia has belonged to, that must be checked. I am going to present many of them to you here.

As with any foreign research begin using your home sources. Next contact your relatives to find the names of ancestors, vital dates, and where they came from. Your relatives may have some old documents that give you the place your ancestor came from. The time spent collecting this information from your relatives will save you research time and money.

For Galician research, a knowledge of Ukrainian, Polish, Latin, German and/or Hungarian is a great help. With no knowledge of the language you will have to use a dictionary or you will have to find someone to translate.

For Galician research you must have the jurisdiction of the place your ancestor came from. This includes:

- 1. its name in Ukrainian, Polish and Hungarian, if it is in the Carpatho-Ukraine (Ruthenia) region.
- 2. its current raion or hrabstwo (County)
- 3. its current oblast or wojewodztwo (Province)
- 4. present country it's in (Poland or Ukraine)

The SGS Library has gazetteers and maps available for determining the jurisdiction of a place.

The Li Ra Ma consular records housed in the Public Archives of Canada, are worth checking, as there is sometime incredible information in these records. However, most of these records are for families around Kiev, with very few Galicians. It has been unfortunately overrated.

The LDS Family History Library has various records under different countries for research in Galicia. When starting your research check to see what records they have available before writing across the ocean. If they have filmed documents from the area you wish to do research in, you can save yourself a lot of time and trouble in trying to find records.

Census

The 1828 Hungarian Land Census (under Hungary/Census) covers Ruthenia. It lists only landowners (about 20% of the people) in Latin. They are arranged alphabetically by megye and then alphabetically with the megye.

Once you have checked the LDS Family History Library for available records and done all you can, you are now ready for the sometimes difficult task of writing to other countries.

Overseas Sources

authorities Ukrainian are very uncooperative when it comes to doing research in their archives, due to communist law and the large amount of un-indexed material. However. certificates sometimes be obtained through the USSR Embassy. If the person whose name is on the certificate is still alive, to obtain information vou must have written permission from that person or they must request the certificate themselves. For a deceased person proof of death may be requested.

EASTERN GALICIA

From 1340-1772 and again from 1918-1939, parts of Eastern Galicia were ruled by Poland. These were in the present boundaries of:

If your ancestors came from one of these areas, write to the following address and ask if they have parish registers from that area (the records cover more years than those listed as the Austrians transferred many records to them) enclosing a $20.00 US bank draft to the Bank of Warszawa (Warsaw).

Narzelna Dyrekcya Archiwow Panstwowych Ul Dluga 6 Skr, prczt, Nr, 1005 00-950 Warszawa Poland If they do, you can use the sample form letter (Example 1) to ask for certificates.

AUSTRIA

From 1772 to 1918 Austria had control of Galicia. Some records from the Austro-Hungarian Empire are still in Austria. However, some were returned to the Ukraine and others, like many parish registers, have not been released. The following records are available from this period in Austria.

Census Returns (Personenstandsgesetz)

For the entire empire these were taken in 1869, 1890, 1900 and 1910. The first place to check for the census returns is at the following address:

Statistisches Zentralamt Heldenplatz, Neve Burg 1010 Wien (Vienna) Austria

Many of the Census returns have been transferred to the Polish and Ukrainian archives and it will be necessary to write to them if they are not available in Vienna.

Movement Registrations (Einwohnerlisten)

These exist from the early 18th century to 1918 from the whole empire. They list all movements in the Empire from this period. The first place to write is the National Archives at this address:

Osteriechishes Archiv Wallnerstrasse 6a 1010 Wien (Vienna) Austria

Since the lists are located at various places ask them to refer you somewhere else if they don't have the lists for your area and year.

Genealogical Organization (Familienverbande)

The following organization has members who will do research for a fee in the entire empire.

Heraldisch

- Genealogische Gesellschaft "Adler" Haarhol 4a 1010 Wien (Vienna) Austria

Include 2 IRC's and a self-addressed airmail envelope with your request. Fees will be decided between you and the person doing the research.

Military Records (Krieglisten)

In 1868, universal conscription came into effect in the Austro-Hungarian Empire. This required every male to serve 3 years in the army or navy (changed to 2 years in 1912).

The following records are available:

Conscription Lists (Konskriptions Register)

These give the names of every soldier conscripted from a certain area each year, giving various personal information and the names and addresses of next-of-kin.

Foundation Books (Grundbuchblatter und Stellvnglisten)

These list each soldier on a separate page, giving details of his movements with each regiment.

The first place to check for conscription lists and foundation books is at the archives in Vienna at this address:

Kriegsarchen
Sifhgasse 2
1010 Wien (Vienna)
Austria

If the desired records are not available in Vienna the next place to check is with the Polish military archive at:

Centralne Archiwun Wojskowe 00910 Warszawa 72 Poland

Any letter written in German or English, to the Austrians should end with Mit Freundichen Grossen (With Friendly Greetings).

WESTERN GALICIA

Western Galicia, or the part of Galicia now in Poland, requires a totally different approach to research. It is much easier to deal with Polish authorities.

The following counties (hrabstwo) of Rzeszow wojewodztwo were part of Galicia: Przemysl, Krosno and Rzeszow.

These addresses can be used for genealogical research in Western Galicia and some for the area.

 Archiwum Glovne Akt Dawnych Dluga 7 Warzana Poland

The records available include:

- parish (parafie) records prior to 1918 from all over Galicia.
- passports (Akta Paszportowe) from 1851-1945.
 - 2. Wojewodzki Archiwum Panstwowe w Rzeszowie Rzeszow, Poland

The records available include public, municipal, denominational, and private records.

These include:

• marriage records (Allegata do Akt Slubu) from 1790 to 1900, which give details of the family background of the bride and groom.

- Notarial Records (Akta Notarialne) from about 1800 which includes wills and estate inventories.
- wills (testamentary) from outside the notary records.
- county court documents (Akta Wiejskie).

A FEW TIPS for Your Visit to Salt Lake City

by D. Eileen Martsch

This spring I spent several days in the Family History Library in Salt Lake City. I noticed how much busier it was this time, as compared to my visit three years ago. Friday and Saturday one had to look hard to find a microfilm machine not in use by the afternoon.

I would like to offer a few suggestions to anyone planning a visit there.

Don't be intimidated by the computers, which are located on each floor. There are several sit down stations as well as stand up stations. Twice a week they offer a class on computer use, but really all the instructions are shown on the screen for you to follow. The computers on the British floor are limited to two 15 minute sessions which you have to sign for. The USA floor has no time limit. Plan to spend some time on the computer, preferably the first thing you do, and early in the morning.

Three programs are offered on the computer. The Family History Library Catalog is one of these. Since I had spent considerable time before I went, looking up numbers, I did not spend time trying to use this program. The second is Ancestral File which contains genealogies contributed to the Family History Dept. since 1979.

The other program is the International Genealogical Index or IGI. I rechecked all my names even though they had been previously found, and laboriously copied from microfiche in earlier days. When using the IGI program, be sure to consider the filter option. This is particularly useful when the general area is known for certain. If only the name is known, then a search of all of Britain, or USA would be in order and the filter option would not be used. One must use the computers on the correct floor. USA names cannot be searched for on the British floor.

Another thing to remember, is to make use of the hold file when selecting entries that you may wish to print for future reference. Names of interest can be marked and thus entered into the holding file. You can look at the holding file after making your selections and delete any of the entries you wish, before printing. The holding file holds 200 entries. When printed out, one page will hold approximately 14 entries and costs five cents. If the holding file is not used, each individual entry is printed on a page and still costs five cents. This seemed to be the most common mistake people made when using the computer the first time.

When using the library when it was located in the Church Office Building, one could eat at the employee cafeteria which was located on the lower floor. This is still possible, but you must first obtain a visitor's pass from the information counter at the main floor entrance to the library. The Church Office Building is one block east of Temple Square. Meals are very reasonable and a wide variety is offered. No tea or coffee is available however. A menu for the week may be picked up at the cafeteria.

A lunch room is located on the main floor of the library and snacks, salads etc. may be bought from a vending machine and even heated in a microwave. Your own lunch may be eaten here as well.

All purses, bags and briefcases are now hand searched when leaving the library.

Many of the female researchers, young and old alike, were wearing the new pouch type purse or bag which is belted around your waist. This seemed ideal as hands were free to carry microfilm etc. without handling a handbag as well, and coins were always with you for copying or printing charges.

Be sure to check the microfiche section on each floor. Many of the often used records have been put on microfiche and a list is available. There is a cabinet separate from the fiche carousel, where these are located.

Postage in the USA has just been increased. Letter rate to Canada from the USA is now 40 cents for up to one ounce. First class rate with the States is 29 cents for the first ounce. You will be reminded then when enclosing a SASE to the USA that it requires 40 cents postage.

Enjoy your research trip!

THE G.R.D..

YOU MAY ORDER THE NEXT BOOK without placing entries in it.

The next edition will be published in APRIL and distributed in MAY.

... is the simplest, cheapest and most effective means of overcoming duplication of research which others may have already undertaken. It is also an excellent way of sharing with others your own research.

It is by far the largest Directory of its type in the world.

The Directory lists in alphabetical order the family name being researched, the time period and place. Each entry then refers the reader to the name and address of the contributor. By corresponding with the contributor, much useful data may be exchanged by family historians.

Whilst it is an International Directory, it is not only useful for family historians undertaking research in other countries, it is equally effective for discovering relatives in your own country.

The G.R.D. is widely promoted in many countries and distributed to many genealogical societies and libraries and also sold to non-contributors. This wide distribution greatly increases the chance of contributors receiving a letter from someone able to assist them.

NO you do not pay to extract information like a computer based service; each contributor receives a copy of the next Directory that contains their entries.

IMPROVEMENTS TO THE GRD From the 1990 edition there have been several improvements made to the Directory. ■ One is the new GEOGRAPHIC order of names within a single SURNAME — Thus all the SMITH entries start with those being researched in Australia and end with those in the USA. ■ A ONE NAME SOCIETY or ONE NAME STUDY section has been commenced — write to our Agents for a special entry form. ■ SUBJECT ENTRIES: This Special Interests section has been greatly improved and has been divided into CATEGORIES as listed below. These entries may be made as ADDITIONAL PAID ENTRIES or as SUBSTITUTES for SURNAME ENTRIES. They appear in a SEPARATE SECTION of the Directory. BOOK REVIEWS

by Laura Hanowski SGS Librarian

Directory of Resource Centres at the University of Winnipeg. University of Winnipeg, 515 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg, MB R3B 2E9. $5.00.

This small booklet gives the location, hours of operation and details about the various resource centres at the University of Winnipeg. Of particular interest to genealogists is the Rupert's Land Research Centre, Inc. which assists researchers to make the best use of the Hudson's Bay Company Archives.

Tay Valley People In North America, Part 1 and 2. Available from Miss Doris Henderson, 3 Lammerton Terrace, Dundee DD4 7BP for £3.50 including postage. Sterling cheques should be made payable to Tay Valley Family History Society or use Mastercard or Visa (include your expiry date).

These 2 books contain short histories of some of the people from the Tay Valley who settled in North America. It is nice to see a few members of the SGS have made valuable contributions to this collection.

In Search of Your Roots - A Guide for Canadians Seeking Their Ancestors. Baxter, Angus. 1991, 331 pages. $18.95. Macmillan of Canada.

The review copy of the Revised and Updated Edition of this book arrived in the Saskatchewan Genealogical Society office today. The book is set up in an easy to follow style so it is most unfortunate that so much of the information, which was wrong in 1979, has not been corrected. For example; Canadian passenger lists are available until 1919 not 1900. Crucial errors for those searching in Saskatchewan include the address for Vital Statistics which should be 1919 Rose St. Regina, SK S4P 3V7, the location of the Archives in Regina which is 3303 Hillsdale St. and the location of the Saskatchewan Genealogical Society Library which is at 1870 Lorne St.: Monday -Friday 9:30am - 5:00pm. In the Ouebec section two out of four society addresses are wrong. While many addresses change shortly after books are published the examples sited have been in effect for 5 or more years. Furthermore, many of the street addresses which are correct have the wrong postal codes. No information is provided for either of the territories. Lastly, the bibliography fails to mention the many fine new books that have been published since those quoted in the 1979 edition. When "revising" this book the author/publisher could at least have consulted their book In Search of Your Canadian Roots and avoided many of the noted errors.

This is one book which will not be placed in the Saskatchewan Genealogical Society collection. There are many other books which give more detailed and correct information on searching beyond Canada but In Search of Your Canadian Roots - Tracing Your Family History In Canada by Angus Baxter/Macmillan of Canada is still the best book on the market for Canadian sources.

PRAIRIE PIONEER

George Frederick Harris

Art L. Harris, B.A., M.D.

This is a story which was entered in the 20th Anniversary Project requiring stories about our ancestors who settled in Saskatchewan.

My grandfather, George Frederick Harris, was born on 5 February 1858, at Watford, Ontario. His parents were Robert Harris of Township of Metcalfe. County the Middlesex and Eliza Jane Brown of the Township of Warwick, County Lambton, Ontario, according to the record of their marriage on 28 October, 1856, that was entered in the Family Bible. documents recording their marriage and the birth of their son have not been found. The first official record of them, as a family, is found in the Ontario census of 1861 for the Township of Metcalfe. At that time they were residing in the town of Strathroy and George was three years old.

A brother, Francis William, was born in October, 1861 and lived only one year. Within about one year following the death of that brother, George accompanied his parents as they set out for Richmond Virginia. However, their plans were derailed by the American Civil War and they went to Bermuda instead, remaining there until 1865. A sister, Emily Bermudas (Bird) was born in the township of Warkwick, Bermuda on 5 May, 1864.

June, 1865, saw the family on the move again, to complete the original plan of going to Richmond, Virginia. A second sister, Mary Virginia, was born there in 1871. A transcript of the registration of her birth has been obtained from the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Department of Health, in which the occupation of my great grandfather is recorded as "Letter Carrier." There is an additional story in our family concerning the time in Richmond which states that George was apprenticed to a printer but there is no confirmatory evidence of this. He would have been in his mid teens at the time.

By September, 1875, they were back in the town of Strathroy, Ontario, for it was there that my great-grandmother died on 11 September, "in the 39th year of her age." The timing of their return and the reasons for the move are not known, nor is the cause of death of Eliza Jane Harris. For want of evidence it is assumed that she was buried in the Strathroy Cemetery but the records for several years including 1875 have been destroyed by fire.

The stay in Strathroy, for the rest of the family, was brief and by 1879 grandfather, together with this father, his uncles. Frederick Harris and Thomas Frederick Brown, and his cousins, Christopher Harris and Francis Brown had settled in Perry Township, Parry Sound District. Their individual farms are recorded in The Guide Book and Atlas of Muskoka and Parry Sound Districts, 1879, 1972. Page, H.R. & Co., Toronto. It is interesting to note that the individuals who became three grandparents all lived, with parents and siblings, within a radius of five or six miles at that time.

On 25 August, 1884, George Frederick Harris married Rachel Ritchie, the seventh child and elder daughter of James Ritchie and Ann Farquharson. They took up residence in Perry Township where George continued to farm, and they remained there until 1900. In the interval, my father, Robert James Harris, was born on 24 December, 1886, followed by three girls and two more boys. Also in their household were George's two sisters and a "Barnardo" boy about whom little is known except his name which was Alfred Warren.

It seems, from stories told in the family, that farm life in Perry Township was very hard, indeed. The land was heavily forested and very stony so the labor of clearing and cultivating was very onerous. In any case, by the spring of 1900, Grandfather followed the famous words, "Go west, young man, go west," and took his family to Oberon, Manitoba. Many years later he told one of my younger brothers of having stopped in North Bay in early July 1900, on the trip west and of watering the horses at a well at the end of Main Street, then sitting in the shade of some large maple trees to eat lunch.

Manitoba was the family home for only a few years and, while they were there, two more daughters were added to the family. The next move took place in 1907 and it was to a temporary home near Naisberry, Saskatchewan until 1910, then to a homestead four miles east of where the village of Pleasantdale now is located. There George and Rachel put down their roots. Their three sons also became farmers in the vicinity, and the two youngest remained there for many years.

The Rural Municipality of Pleasantdale was formed in about 1912 and my father, Robert Harris, was elected to the first Municipal Council, to represent the Division in which they lived. A few years later, at the conclusion of his term, he was followed in that office by my grandfather, George Harris.

George and Rachel Harris were active in the affairs of their district for many years. Their home was a large log house with lumber siding over the logs. Shortly after World War I, George, with sons Geoff, and Bert, built a large, hip-roofed barn that remains a landmark in the district to this day. George served at least one term as municipal Councillor and was always interested in the politics of the day. He attended political meetings which were held anywhere within walking distance - fifteen to twenty miles was within his range. Rachel was president of the local Ladies Aid and active in the affairs of their church. She also loved to dance and taught the dances of the day to her children.

On 25 August, 1934, there was a major celebration at the home of George and Rachel Harris - their Golden Wedding Anniversary. It was attended by many members of the family and by large numbers of their neighbours. I was not as fortunate as other children. Threshing time came early that year and I had a job on a threshing crew - very briefly, as it turned out - so missed the festivities. However, very shortly thereafter I went to Pleasantdale to live with Bert Harris and to go to high school. His home was less than a mile from his parents so, for the next two years, I was able to see my grandparents quite frequently.

Shortly after the Anniversary celebration Rachel became disabled with Parkinson's disease. She was able to remain at home, with constant care from her youngest daughter Blanche, and a granddaughter, Margaret McLean. She died in March, 1944, at the age of 82.

George sold the Pleasantdale farm and moved to Surrey, British Columbia, with his bachelor son Geoff, in the summer of 1946. There, he raised chickens and grew raspberries and generally enjoyed life. He enjoyed hockey games and stories are told of his attendance at games with Geoff, following which, Geoff would take the bus to go home and George would walk. There is also a story in a local newspaper about his first airplane ride at the age of 99.

In the spring of 1946 I took my new wife to Vancouver and district to meet many members of my family for the first time. One who we visited was Grandfather. He had just spent his first winter in British Columbia - a very harsh winter by local standards - but, to him, it had been a winter in paradise. The fact green grass was present all winter was a source of amazement to him. Said he, "If I had known there was a place like this I would never had spent those forty years on the Prairies."

Some sixty-five members of the family gathered at the Anglican Church hall in Cloverdale on 5 February, 1958, to help him celebrate his 100th birthday. His legs were a bit stiff and he had some difficulty walking but his mind had retained all of its old keenness. He knew each one of us, where we lived, what we were doing and which of the children belong to which branch of the family.

The Surrey district remained his home until his death on 24 June, 1963 at the age of one hundred and five and one half years. He left behind seven of his eight children, fifteen grandchildren, and many great grandchildren and a host of treasured memories.

Footnote

Rachel Harris' younger sister, Isabelle Ann, married Duncan McKenzie and they, too, came to Saskatchewan, settling in the Tessier District around 1910. They had three children, Annie Sophia, James and Jessie. Jessie is reported to have died in 1920 and Duncan in 1923. Annie Sophia is said to have married and move away from Tessier to a destination unknown to me. After Duncan's death, his widow and his son also left Tessier, to live near Annie Sophia (Tales and Tails of Tessier). So, far, I have been unsuccessful in my efforts to locate this branch of the family.

Any Genealogist doing French Canadian research during the period of New France, from the first permanent settlement in 1608 until the era of British Rule starting with the fall of Quebec in 1759, is aware of the extensive records that are available to researchers for this period. Genealogists are privy to Notarial Records (Transactions recorded by a Notaire), the Jesuit Relations (Letters to France, by the Catholic Holy Order on conditions and events in the colony), Seigneurial Records (Accounts of the Noble Landowners), as well as church records including births, marriages and deaths recorded in each parish. But, what was life like for the ordinary Habitant, who was the back-bone of the semi-feudal society and whose life is found in these records?

Records show that infant mortality for New France (Canada) between 1630-1739 was 211 per thousand live births and 246 per thousand between 1700 and 1750.1 These cold hard facts do not tell of the sorrow and heartbreak that the Habitant family must have gone through when they lost children. In my family, Jean Poitras (1639-1711) and his first and second wife (Marie Xainte-Vie 1650-1691 and Marie Anne de la Voye 1673-1711) had a total of 27 children of whom 13 never made it to adulthood. A high child mortality rate in New France is, of course, a reflection of a high fertility rate, since mortality increases with family size. However, other factors are also involved including congenital defects. birthing mishaps, and poor conditions of hygiene and sanitation. By our present standards, conditions were appalling in the 18th and early 19th century. Modern ideas of sanitation and health care were, of course, completely unknown. The Habitant had a hard enough time just surviving without worrying about sharing a cup or having the well water contaminated by barnyard run-off during spring thaw.

Between the first landings on the North American continent until Callieres made peace with the Iroquois in 1701, the threat of attack by Iroquois Confederacy was a constant worry to the Habitant because the French Fur Traders allied themselves to the Huron Nation, Hereditarial enemies of the Iroquois. The peasant farmer had to be prepared for numerous small Amerindian sorties against them, as well as massive large scale attacks like the one on Lachine in August of 1689. Women and children were butchered along with men, their bodies horribly mutilated. Still others were taken prisoner to be tortured in a more leisurely and criminal fashion. Between these attacks the "censitaire" as the farmer was known, farmed his small portion of the seigneurie. If growing conditions were good and he survived Indian attacks, the Habitant harvested his meagre crop of wheat and gave to his Seigneur, his "cens et rentes". The "cens" was a small payment made in recognition of the Seigneur's Lordship, and the "rentes" was an annual rent paid according to the size of his plot of land. There was also a "lods et ventes' or charge for a change of tenancy if he moved out of the seigneury. The Habitant also faced a "corvée", or unpaid labour for the seigneur, of up to six days a year. For a period of time the censitaire also paid a "banalite" or milling right, whereby he had to mill his wheat at the Seigneur's mill and pay him a portion of the flour, generally, about 1/14th.

The Habitant was indeed the back-bone of

New France as the records show that in 1666 they cleared about 9,300 acres, and by 1706 it was close to 40,000. Wheat, which was their primary crop totalled 100,000 bushels in 1685 and 212,000 in 1706.² By his hard work and determination, the small colony of New France was the genesis of modern Canada.

Response to question 1991:01 in the June 1991 Bulletin from R.W. Chamberlain, Biggar, SK.

The Swedish gazetteer, Geografiski-Statistiskt Handlexikon Sverige by C.M. Rosenberg, 1883, provides the parish and counties where these places are located.

Lingbo is a village in the parish of Årsunda, in Gävleborg county.

Håkanbo is a village in the parishes of Skog and Hanebo, in Gävleborg county.

The book Genealogical Guidebook & Atlas of Sweden, by Finn A. Thomsen, available in the SGS Library has a map, page 111, showing the location of these parishes in Gävleborg county.

Response to question 1991:03 in the June 1991 Bulletin from Nadine Small, Staff Archivist, Saskatchewan Archives Board, Saskatoon.

Chester Martin's Dominion Lands Policy should explain what South African Scrip is:

"In 1908 the Volunteer Bounty Act (7-8 Ewd. VII, c. 67) authorized the grant of two adjoining quarters sections of Dominion Lands without fee but with the usual homestead duties to volunteers (including female nurses) in the South African (Boer) war. Transferable scrip was issued by the Minister of the Interior on warrants issued by the Minister of Militia."

However, within a year, half of the scrip was held by land speculators. Also, until 31 December 1914, the grantee was allowed to receive $500 in cash when he surrendered his right to the land.

Questions:

I have reached a dead end in tracing my maternal grandmother's lineage.

My great-great- grandfather was Thomas Harrison b. at Cumberland House in 1813. He married Pauline Lagemodiere in 1835 at St. Boniface, Man. and d. 24 Sept. 1881, aged 78 at Ste-Anne-des-Chenes, Man. He was one of three boys born to Thomas Harrison and Josephte (or Sarah) a Cree. Who are the other two sons? Thomas Harrison senior came from Scotland - When? Where in Scotland? Was he a Selkirk settler, or did he come to work for the North West Company or Hudson Bay Company? What do I try next? Any help would be greatly appreciated.

SRI REPORT: THE BUILDING OF AN INDEX

by Marie Svedahl SRI Project Coordinator

With the advent of the computer the ability to create an index has become greatly simplified. Family historians or anyone with a penchant for making lists have been quick in making use of this tool, witness the IGI and other indexes that we use regularly.

The Saskatchewan Resident Index would not have been attempted without the aid of personal computers. We will be able to merge thousands of names, gathered from scores of local history books into one huge data bank. While the current project is aimed at indexing names from local history books, there are a number of other sources which will eventually be used and added to the SRI - such as cemetery lists, newspaper items, tax assessments, family histories, etc.

To accommodate the inclusion of such a variety of source material it has been necessary to create a database that is informative but still simple and straight forward. The Project Committee was anxious that the index should contain a definite amount of information on each individual listed: name, where they had lived in Sask.; the time frame in which that person lived; (if available) where they had lived before coming to Sask.; and such genealogical information as spouse or parents. The decision for database questions had two considerations: 1] that for future researchers, the data on each individual be as informative as possible and 2] that the extraction and entry process be as simple as possible for those doing the indexing.

A major problem has been that while all entries must be in a uniform format for the purpose of merging on the data-bank, our source material (Sask. local histories) are far from uniform in format or style. books, which have been produced quite prolifically over the past 25 years, are a great source of information about local communities. Written mainly by a committee of local residents, they touch on the settlement and formation of the community - the school, local government, numerous churches, the local business people - before delving into the family histories of the community residents (written say, in each book every person who wrote a story/article have their own style, consequently not every story has all the info needed for an SRI entry, or sometimes there is more info than can be used in our index. This creates problems for Indexers - and for the Project Committee when they must make decisions over and above the original indexing guidelines.

by members of those families). Needless to

An ideal story for indexing would begin: "John Brown was born September 1888 in Ohio, and came to Saskatchewan in 1900 with his parents, Jack and Sarah, when they homesteaded at Milestone".

This would give data for three entries - thus:

Brown, John - pts: Jack & Sarah Brown Brown, Jack - sp: Sarah ? -Brown, Sarah - sp: Jack Brown B - 1888 - Milestone - USA/OH - page S 1900 Milestone USA/OH "

S 1900 Milestone USA/OH

Many books and stories do give this, or other data, that can be easily worked into our database fields but there are always some stories that don't. Over the past months, the Committee have received numerous pleas for guidance from Indexers seeking clearer definitions of what data to use when faced with a story of a different format.

with the same people mentioned in more than one story, and often with different spelling for the same name - do we need to index these people more than once?: First of all, remember that this is an EVERY NAME index. Do an entry for each occurrence of the name unless it reoccurs within the same story/article. These multiple entries (of a teacher, for example) may give different pieces of info for a future researcher. In one story the writer may recall the teacher as being strict, another will remember her/him for the love of English installed in the pupils. Naturally the index won't show these differing bits of info but it will do what any good index should do: Point the way for future researchers to find the information for themselves. As for the different spelling: Use the spelling of names as given in that particular story - even if you

We decided to share some of these questions and the answers with our SGS readers, not only to be of assistance to other Indexers, but for those members/ readers who anticipate making use of the Index when it is unveiled in 1994, it will give background of what to expect from the Index.

1. Stories about school memories - often know the spelling is wrong. Our creditability as indexers would be damaged if researchers find that the index does not coincide with what is printed in the original source (the history book). We are merely indexing a source, we are not judging its accuracy.

- 2. A map showing land-owners with names crossed out when homesteaders did not "prove up" on their land - do we need to record these names?: Yes, do record these crossed out names - if they are readable. On the whole it must be assumed that these people did reside on the land in question even though they never obtained I know (from my own family research) that sometimes one family member would come to Saskatchewan and file on land for himself and also for a number of other family members. Occasionally some of these relatives never even came to Sask., let alone tried farming on that particular piece of land. However you (as Indexer) have no way of knowing which, of the many cancelled patents, were the few who never set foot in the province, so you must enter all these people. Better to list a few people who never came to the province then to omit recording the many who did.
- 3. What to do when a picture accompanies a family story how should that be entered?: This is one of those times when the Indexer must make a judgement call. Put yourself in the shoes of a future researcher, keeping in mind that the EVENT column will be the key to the importance of information found when using this particular entry as a tool. As each individual is to be indexed only once per page/story that one entry should contain the single most - important EVENT and YEAR available. Each individual mentioned in the story/article must be considered on its own perhaps the fact there is a photo of John Brown might be of more interest to a researcher than learning that John resided in this community in 1920. On the other hand, a marriage year could be of more value than the reproduction of a fuzzy snapshot. The Indexer must decide what is the most important EVENT to be found on each person mentioned in a story. In many instances this will mean having to read to the end of the story before assigning a code to the EVENT column. Also remember to include the additional pages if a story/article is longer than one page (eg. 153-155). Otherwise a future researcher might request a library to send photocopies of only page 153, thereby missing all the family info on pages 154 and 155.

- 4. How to enter children who marry and live out of province: Keep in mind that this is a SASKATCHEWAN RESIDENT INDEX and our aim is to list all people in the book who have lived, even briefly, provincial boundaries. within our Sometimes a story will give birth years for children who later left the province - this birth year can be used for EVENT and YEAR columns (remember these two columns must always be used in conjunction Unfortunately many with each other). stories are not so informative, only saying "our daughter, Jane lives in Calgary where she married Tom Jones and has two children, Bob and Mary". You should list Jane under her maiden name and put her husband's name in the "GENEALOGICAL INFO" column as follows:

In want of other data for the EVENT column use "F" (for family information) and for YEAR column - because it must coincide with the EVENT column - use the year the story was written (when the book was published). Obviously this sort of entry is a last resort, to be used only if there is no definite year to affix to Jane's entry. As for her children - if it appears they never lived in Sask. then they won't be listed. Indexer must be alert to catch the slight differences in wording of stories - as example, had this story read: "daughter Jane married Tom Jones and they now live in Calgary" - then you would have to assume Jane and Tom were married in Sask. and later moved to Calgary - maybe moving only the year previous to the book being published. This would mean that not only should Tom Jones be separately indexed, but also the children. For the SRI project we are not interested in recording where people live now but we do want to know where they lived when they resided in Sask.

5. What to enter in the EVENT column when you have a Memorial page listing community residents who lost their lives in the two World Wars: Because this is a list of names one instantly thinks the event However one of the should be "L". guidelines we have for the use of "L" is that it is be used when you have a list of names with no corresponding year (example: a list of elevator agents who served the community 1920 to 1960, but no date given for the individual agent). When a YEAR is available then the EVENT code must be "R for reside" in that particular year. However when dealing with the above Memorial page we have a different set of circumstances in that we have a "list" with a vague date (1914-1918 & 1939-1945). After weighing the issue the answer is not to use "L for list" in this case; instead either of the following two codes would be acceptable: "R for reside - 1914c" or "D for died 1918c". As stated before, the purpose of the EVENT column is to alert future researchers to the type of information to be found about an individual on a particular page, consequently the use of these EVENT codes must be consistent: "L" is used only when there is a list of names with no identifying year. The addition of a date up-grades that piece of information, and tells us the individual "resided" there in that year, or "settled" or was "born" or "married" or what ever information is associated with that year. We must be consistent with the use and meaning of our EVENT code.

There is more to creating an index than the mere listing of names found in a certain It takes time, patience and document. dedication to sit with a history book by a computer (or with a note pad and pen) and carefully scan each page for names. You will note that I did not say "read each page". When one reads a local history, one becomes interested in the story and have a tendency to overlook some words (names!). However by scanning a page, line by line, looking at words individually and not reading sentences, names will be easier to spot. A suggestion is to use a ruler to slide down the page, looking for names.

Before I close off this quarterly SRI Report, I should like to again remind our readers of the need for volunteers to help at the SGS end of this project. Some of our indexers will have noticed that they are waiting a long while for answers to their letters/ extraction submissions: That is simply for lack of workers at this end. One or two volunteers can not keep abreast of the flow of mail - we do need your help.

"North Carolina - Military Records" Applications for Confederate Soldiers' and Widows' Pensions, 1885-1950s; alphabetical in two sets (105 microfilms).

"United States - Directories" The Family History Library has purchased an extensive collection of city directories on microfilm from Research Publications for 1790 through 1935. The number of cities covered depends on time period

1790 -1860	249 cities
1861 - 1901	79 cities
1902 - 1935	54 cities

Of the 50 largest cities in terms of 1910 population, the following are not included in the new 1902-1935 set of directories: Albany, Birmingham, Bridgeport, Chicago, Jersey City, Louisville, Oakland, Spokane, and Toledo. The Family History Library may already have acquired directories for these cities elsewhere. To find available city directories search the catalog under United States - Directories or State - County - City - Directories.

City directories are generally published annually and are arranged alphabetically (like a telephone book) by head of household. Directories do not always mention other family members. For example, the 1905 Lakeside City Directory of Chicago mentions only 688,000 of the city's 2,273,000 residents.

Periodical Source Index (PERSI)

The Periodical Source Index is a subject index to thousands of articles in genealogical periodicals. Using PERSI can save you many hours searching through unindexed periodicals. The index is published by the Allen County (Indiana) Public Library Foundation as a joint effort with the Genealogical Department of the Allen County Public Library. The microfiche edition of PERSI was produced by the Family History Library. The index on microfiche will soon be available at each family history center in the United States and Canada.

The Periodical Source Index has these features:

- Indexes 1,700 English and Frenchlanguage genealogical periodicals
- Provides subject access to about 500,000 articles
- Includes separate indexes to articles on families, localities and research methodology

The index does not:

- Index every name in an article
- Include queries, book reviews, ancestors charts, or family charts
- Include family surname magazines or newsletters
- Include the actual article
- Include page numbers for the articles

The Periodical Source Index has a retrospective index (covering articles in journals dated from 1847 through 1985) and annual indexes (for periodicals dated 1986 and later). The retrospective index is not yet complete, but it presently indexes about 200 of the most popular genealogical periodicals.

Hamburg Police Records

The city of Hamburg has a resident registration office [Einwohnermeldeamt] under the jurisdiction of the police department. It is responsible for recording the arrivals, departures and residences of the people in the city. The resident registration office also issues passports.

The original records are stored at the State Archives at Hamburg. The Family History Library has 941 films that list individuals who were not citizens of Hamburg from 1834 to 1929. These films can help you trace the birthplace of many emigrants who temporarily resided in Hamburg before their departure.

The information in these records varies slightly, yet includes much of the following:

- Registration number
- Full name
- Date of birth or age
- Place of birth
- Occupation or status
- Former residence
- Place of employment
- Verification of identity by a sponsor
- Physical description

The records available at the Family History Library include:

Passport Records for Citizens of Hamburg and Non Residents 1852-1929 There are applications for passports to America and other locations. They are indexed at the end of each volume from 1851 to 1897 and include a cumulative index for 1897 to 1929. These records are listed in the catalog under "Germany, Hamburg - Emigration and Immigration."

Registers of Non-Citizen Workers, 1834-1890

Many non-citizens working in Hamburg were registered under the year they arrived in Hamburg. Each time a non-citizen moved, his registration entry was updated with the new address. These updates continued until the person left the city, became a citizen or died. There are several sets of these registers covering various time periods. There are some separate registers of males and females. Each set of registers is indexed. Cumulative indexes are available for some, while others have yearly indexes. Microfilm numbers for these records can be found in the catalogue under "Germany, Hamburg, Hamburg - Occupations."

Planned Migration?

submitted by Thelma Caldwell

On 7th April 1902 the ship Manchester Clipper left the port of Christiana for Canada. The ship was 2542 tons and her master was W. Goldsworthy. Out of all the passengers, only two wives travelled with their husbands. The rest were all males in their 20's and 30's, giving place of birth as Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and a few Germany. All passengers gave their point of destination as Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

Source: Saskatchewan Archives Regina, Microfilm T-495, Passenger List for the Port of Halifax.

Could this possibly be a planned migration? Though I am not researching any of these ethnic backgrounds, I would still be interested in learning about this event.

COMPUTER CORNER

The Family History System

by Bev Weston

There are many excellent genealogical programs available, ranging from low-priced shareware to the higher-priced programs. Our aim is not to convince you to buy this or that program, but to give you as much information as possible to make the choice that is right for you. May we suggest that you try at least two, before you purchase?

My own personal preference is The Family History System, a shareware program which I have been using for almost 2 years.

The instructions are not included with the disk, but are printed out from the disk, and are quite comprehensive. I have not yet explored the full capabilities of the system. However, I shall try to share what I have been learning.

Requirements for running the program

- an IBM PC, PCjr, PC XT, AT or compatible
- 2. 1 disk drive
- 3. an 80 column monitor
- 4. 256k of RAM memory
- 5. Dos 2.0 or later

Inserting Data

Individual Entries

Each person is entered individually, not as part of a family unit and you build your own units. For example, you enter the first person, who automatically receives #1 ID. #2 ID is probably the spouse, which you complete, and enter #1 under the Spouse entry. You would then fill in the pertinent marriage information. And so on. This feature allows you to chain from generation to generation, but also allows you to enter strays if you don't have all the data for someone. You can enter up to 9999 names.

Miscellaneous Information

There is room for such other information as military, work, residence, health, etc. There is also a "Comment" key, which allows you to fill in a small amount of extra data, such as christening or burial information, or where your data was obtained.

Searches

I can search by full name, surname, first name only, and within a range of years. If all fields are left blank all entries come up in numerical order, and you can then page down to look through the data.

The use of function keys is a strong feature of this program. Save, change data, add a new entry, add related information, are all activated by the function keys. I am particulary fond of the F3 Repeat function, and so enter my families in units. I can then simply hit the F3 in whatever field repeats, such as surname, date of birth (for twins or triplets), place of birth (usually), date of death (when it's unknown, and I have entered 9999), and parents' IDs. I really like this last, because after a while inserting numbers for parents starts to get confusing.

Duplicate Entries

Many users want a program which calls for confirmation when entering a repeat name. The program doesn't do this, but I simply indicate that I want to do a change, and then enter someone else into that file.

Dates

Entered as M/D/Y.

Printing Reports

Blank Family Group sheets.

Family Group Reports in a fixed format (sample #1), or a free format (sample #2).

Descendent Reports, by generations, (sample #3), or by families (sample #4).

Ancestor Reports. By the usual chart method, or a simple listing (sample #5).

Relative Reports. It is also possible to print out a report showing such relationships as first cousin twice removed (1C2R), or 2C1R, as well as the closer relationships (sample #6).

Extended Options

Index

I have just printed out a 19 page index of my 1085 names, which begins first with the nameless ones (John is married and has a son), then those with unknown surnames, and finally listing everyone alphabetically, with dates of birth, ID #s, dates of marriage and death, and sex.

Indices can also be printed out for Ancestor, Descendant and Relative Reports, Family Group Report Listing, Sets of Ancestor Charts and Ancestor Maps, and for Family Group Reports. Some of these reports would be useful for printing birthday or anniversary lists, as well as mailing lists.

Search/Select/LIST Program which will do substring and soundex searches on names and places and list the information.

Summary Reports, by surname and relationships. Relationship summary reports are further broken down into ancestry, descendant and relative summary reports.

Relationship Calculator to indicate the relationship between 2 individuals without creating an entire Relative Report.

GEDCOM Feature

A necessary part of any genealogical program to enable users with different programs to share/swap data. Although the FH System has this feature, since it is shareware, I could also send a program disk along to a user who wrote asking for my data.

SASKATCHEWAN GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY INC. RESEARCH POLICY

BASIC SEARCH:

The Saskatchewan Genealogical Society (SGS) will do basic searches of Saskatchewan sources for a $20.00 fee. Sources searched: 1. Homestead index & file. 2. Cemetery index. 3. Obituary index and file. 4. Newspaper index.

Additional sources, if location is known, or discovered as result of above search: 5. Local & school histories. 6. Sask. Archives card index. 7. Henderson & telephone directories if they exist for the area.

If specific date of an event is known (birth, death, marriage, etc.) we will search local papers. NOTE: not all editions of all newspapers are preserved.

You will receive a written report of the research, noting all the sources checked. Up to $2.00 worth of copying plus postage is included. Beyond that copying charges will be quoted. Current copying fees are $.25 per page for paper to paper copies and $.50 per page for microfilm to paper copies. NOTE that it takes as long to do an unsuccessful search as a successful search. Your chances for a successful search may depend upon how accurately you are able to describe the search you wish to have done.

These searches are done by knowledgeable volunteers. If you require a more in-depth search the Society can supply you with names of people who could do this.

IGI SEARCH POLICY:

- ONLY MEMBERS OF THE SGS may search the IGI and only for their own use.
- 2. Members using the IGI in person are charged $1.00 fee per day. Copies made at .25 @ page.
- 3. The SGS offers a search service for those members who cannot do their own: $4.00 for a five-name search, providing a specific location is given. A print-out of five pages is included. Additional location searches are $1.00 per name plus one print-out. You will be advised on the number of pages if there is more than the 5-page limit, with an estimate of printing & postage costs. For a successful search, please supply: surname, given name, AND a specific location.

There is a $1.00 charge each time the fiche are searched.

For further information on the IGI consult: SGS Bulletin, Vol.15, #1. 1984.

GRIFFITH VALUATION RESEARCH POLICY:

The Griffith Valuation Index and Valuation is the tax record or assessment of all households in Ireland during the years 1848-1864. Records list only head of household and describe the land being taxed. Need to know the location.

-MEMBERS ONLY search: $1.00 per time for in person searches, copies .25. -$1.00 per surname per county for mail-in searches of the index, this will tell you if your surname is listed and in which baronies. Search of the Valuation papers: $10.00 for two hours of research time, if more time is needed we will give an estimate.

For more details on the Griffith see: SGS Bulletin, Vol.15, #1. 1984.

POLICY FOR USE OF THE INDIRECT PASSENGER SHIP INDEX AND LIST:

The Lists generally give surname, christian name, all who travelled as one household with ages, original home, state or country of origin, plus destination in America. Written in German but fairly easy to read. Members only: $1.00 per time for in person searches. Society will do searches for out-of-town members for $10.00 - this will include up to two hours of research. Printing: .50 per page (takes 2 copies to copy one microfilm page).

For more detailed description, consult: "Hamburg Passenger Lists" in SGS Bulletin, Vol.15, #4, 1984.
