WEST STOCKBRIDGE TAX VALUATION LIST - 1792

by Margaret Angelini*

[The original, from which this transcript was made, is in the custody of the Town Clerk at the West Stockbridge Town Hall in a volume entitled Valuation Lists, 1792.

Some valuation lists give the amount of poll tax and taxes on real and personal estate. The list transcribed here reports the number of taxable polls per family, and the number each of dwellings, saw mills, barns, and acres which were taxable. It is the earliest such list found among the West Stockbridge town records. Editor.]

GENEALOGICAL RESOURCES IN BERKSHIRE COUNTY LIBRARIES

by Charlotte P. Davis*

WEST STOCKBRIDGE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Main Street

Mrs. Vicky Cooper, Librarian

This is a small but pleasant library housed in the Town Hall. The genealogical material here is limited but it is refreshing to witness a local volunteer effort to assemble what they have and make it available. I refer principally to the Massachusetts Acts and Resolves and Plymouth County Records published by the state and often containing valuable information for the genealogist. These books have been stored in the Town Hall for years. Now they are being sorted and put on book shelves in order. Since the job is not complete, it is a little early to say but it appears that West Stockbridge will have a complete set. Very few cities or towns in the state can claim that honor!

At present the Town Reports are being inventoried by this group of volunteers working under the direction of the Town Clerk. The first Town Report was hand written and found in the safe. It now appears certain there are a few reports missing - the exact number will not be known until the inventory is complete. Thanks to these knowledgeable people there will also soon be available a 1790s West Stockbridge tax assessment list.

There are a few books in the library to prick one's interest in genealogy, Family History and Who Do You Think You Are? At present the library strength lies in State, County, and local histories. They have the standard books by Beers, Childs, Morison and Bradford as well as other interesting histories. One also finds Beers' atlas of 1896 (reprint) and Barnes & Farnham's 1904 atlas.

The only history of the town of West Stockbridge, written by Town Historian Edna Garnett, is here. Copies of the second printing are being sold in the library.

There is only one printed family genealogy - that of Jotham Barnes. His old 1806 Bible is here as well.

Fortunately West Stockbridge was included in the series Massachusetts Vital Records to 1850. There is a copy here of this book as well as books of the vital records of ten other Berkshire County towns. (The State of Massachusetts sent a copy of each of the 239 books to every town in the state between 1903 and 1946.) The town vital records are complete from 1740 to the present and are in the Town Clerk's Office upstairs. The Latter Day Saints microfilmed these early 1740 to 1903 records. This film is now on loan from the town to the Berkshire Athenaeum in Pittsfield, since the town does not have a microfilm reader.

FAMILY ASSOCIATIONS (a reader replies)

Henry J. Perry, 5 Tucker Lane, Lockport, NY 14094, has responded to an article by J. Bradley Cooper in the last issue of Berkshire Genealogist on family associations, and to our invitation to readers to share their experiences.

Mr. Perry is member #499 of the Parke Society which Mr. Cooper discussed, finds their publication excellent and their regional meetings filling a need. He has not found other family group organizations too useful. Some of the more formal seem stuffy, uncooperative and not really very helpful. (Are you listening out there?)

He reports that he subscribes to, and finds useful, several newsletters, including Ketchum Kables, 2133 Hermitage Dr., Davison, MI 48423, Up Perry Scope, RD 1, Box 171B, Hermon, NY 13652, and The Second Boat, Machias, Maine.

We thank Henry J. Perry for sharing his knowledge with us.

All our readers are invited to share their Family Association experiences, good or not so good, with other readers.

QUERY SECTION

J. Bradley Cooper*

The Query Section is for the convenience of all members. Queries are printed on a space-available basis.

More Thoughts on Queries

While perusing the queries sections of my genealogical publications, I turn down the corners of the pages on which there are queries relating to families on which my files might contain data. If it appears that my material might be of much help, I answer the query and keep a copy on file, should further correspondence ensue.

The other day while purging the file, I made a very disappointing discovery. Of all the persons whose queries I answered, only about a quarter acknowledged my attempted help. Worse yet, only ten per cent returned the postage spent in their behalf.

It is extremely important to the effectiveness of a query system that there be two-way correspondence. Not only is this what courtesy requires but it makes possible further exchange of information. Just because someone answers a query does not mean he has all of the answers. An offer to share information will probably be greatly appreciated.

Queries continue to arrive giving little information, or a great deal but with no indication of what is desired. While there has been no insistence on a particular format for submission of queries, it is helpful if the queries which have been published in the quarterly be used as a guide. Particularly is this the case where a great deal of information has been sent to the Family History Association's researchers for the conduct of a Berkshire Athenaeum search.
