VOTERS OF PITTSFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS - 1802, 1809, 1810

This is a cumulative list for the years 1802, 1809 and 1810. While alphabetical arrangement of the lists of 1802 and 1810 indicates completeness, the list for 1809 is labeled "Additional List of Voters, 1809." The basic original list for 1809 is not in our collection. The following preamble applies to the 1810 list only.

The following is a list of Voters which is drawn off our Tax Bills for 1810. Gentlemen: In examining the within att you find a check mark thus v at the end of a number of Names which in general are young men that their Fathers give in a list and pay taxes for them. Some however have this mark that do not pay taxes enough to make them Voters by Law, but I think that they an--- legally so. R. Francis, J. Dickinson Pittsfield Feb<sup>y</sup> 15th 1811. [Those names with a check mark are noted with an asterisk. Ed.]

MORRIS

Eleazer MORRIS b circa 1762 probably in Gt. Barrington, Berkshire Co. I believe he is the Eleazer who was soldier in Rev. War fighting in 1777, from Berkshire Co. I believe his father was John MORRIS b 1745 in New Haven CT, who moved to Mass in 1758, living in Gt. Barrington in 1762. In census of 1790, there is a John listed with an Eleazer in household. This John also had a brother named Eleazer, born 1749, in New Haven. I am trying to find out if the Rev. War soldier was John's son, Eleazer, or his brother, Eleazer. Also would like to contact researchers of the CT, MA, MORRIS family.

THE BOOKSTALL

Reviews by J. Bradley Cooper

Taking the High Road - A Two Hundred Year History of a Hilltown, Savoy, [Mass.] 1797-1997, by Jane Benedict Phinney, 1997. 168pp, softbound, 8½" X 11". Price $18.00 plus $2.00 S/H. Order from Berkshire Family History Assn., Inc., P. O. Box 1437, Pittsfield, MA 01202-1437.

This nostalgic work celebrates the two century existence of Savoy, not only from its first town meeting in 1797 but also presents data on earlier land transactions. The stories accounting for the naming of a town are always interesting. That of Savoy is no less so. The intimate interweaving of text and photograph effectively displays the beauty of the area and the interesting events which have taken place. There are some reflections of our country at large. That Savoy was the home of three CCC camps during the "Great Depression" is such a reminder.

The genealogist will be interested in the names of some of the villages comprising the town of Savoy in the early 1800's - The Brier, Spruce Corner, New State, Savoy Center, The Tannery, Savoy Hollow, The Bush, and Babbittville, later called Allenville. A listing of the town's veterans of our several wars is also helpful.

The nature of the terrain is more adapted to grazing, rather than the raising of crops. Lumbering was an active industry, with six sawmills at one time. An unusual industry was the distillation of spruce oil from 1800, well into the 1900's. A very remunerative vocation was "ferning" or the picking and packaging of fern fronds for floral displays. Good pickers could process ten to twelve thousand ferns a day. There are a number of illustrations on maple sugaring.

Attention is directed to the school budget of $80 in 1797 to more than $600,000 in 1997. There are a number of pictures of the several schools and their scholars.

There is much, much more, all illustrating that to the two traditional verities of death and taxes must be added a third - change.

Massachusetts Privateers of the Revolution, by Gardner Weld Allen, 356pp, softbound, illus., index, 5½" x 8½". Price $30.00 plus $5.00 S/H. Order from Heritage Books, Inc., 1540-E Pointer Ridge Place, Bowie, MD 20716.

This is a very enlightening book in that it dispels the notion that privateering was a form of piracy. With no existing naval establishment, controlled use of private shipping was a way of quickly marshaling force to counteract the shipment of supplies and armament to the British forces.

The sixty-three page introduction describes in detail the development of the privateer system in which the individual ships posted a performance bond to the Continental Congress and to the state as well. The commission granted the particular ship spelled out in detail the scope of permitted activity and the responsibilities assumed by the master of the ship. There is a detailed explanation of the procedures for dividing the proceeds from a capture, and the exchange of prisoners who might be involved. It was usual to divide the spoils fifty/fifty between the privateer and the government. The crew of the successful privateer were rewarded by a share in the division. This became much more rewarding than being a foot soldier and the source of some difficulty in recruitment.

The remainder of the book is concerned with records of much of the privateer activity involving Massachusetts ports, from 1779 to 1781. Most of the accounts are very detailed as to dates, personnel, ports and activity involved in the action.

GUIDE TO INTERPRETATION OF THE 1855 MASSACHUSETTS CENSUS

The taking of a census in 1855 was mandated by an act of the General Court of Massachusetts, 21 May 1855. The act provided that a census of each city and town be taken between 1 June and 1 October 1855. The census was to be "as of" the first day of June of the census year.

Reports on the taking of the census stated that the instructions were generally "well observed". Some enumerators, however, were so negligent or heedless that their reports were "scarcely fit to be received". Cautions, still appropriate, were given against relying too absolutely on the census because of "the great liability to error", and the "usual difficulty of arriving at the truth" arising from ignorance and prejudice.

To secure uniform reporting, blank forms were provided and the following data were to be recorded:

1. Dwelling houses numbered in the order of their visitation.
2. Families numbered in the order of visitation, ("family" being all those living in one house, public house or institution.)
3. Name of every person whose usual place of residence was in this family 1 June 1855. Note: Excluded were those born after 1 June. Included were those who had died after 1 June and those temporarily absent. Relationship of household members to the head of the household was not recorded. An aid in establishing relationships exists, nevertheless, in the requirement that the enumerator arrange names in a given order:
  - (1) Master
  - (2) Mistress
  - (3) Children in order of age
  - (4) Male domestics, etc.
  - (5) Female domestics, etc.
  - (6) Boarders, etc.
4. Age. To be given as of last birthday unless next birthday would be within four months, then age at next birthday.
5. Sex.
6. Color. B for Blacks, M for Mulatto, no entry for Whites.
7. Profession, occupation or trade for each male over fifteen. For clergymen, initial letters of denomination.
8. Place of birth. State or territory if native born; country if foreign born.
9. Whether deaf and dumb, blind, insane, idiotic, pauper or convict.
