ERRATUM

In our last issue (Winter 2007) our article Whither Goest Thou, Gentleman Johnny implied that the troop movement mentioned was connected with the battle of Saratoga. It was meant to be a continuation of our Spring 2005 article which dealt with general accounts of troop movements. Member Jim Waller was kind enough to point out that the dates mentioned exclude any connection with either Saratoga or John Burgoyne. BG regrets the error.

Nathan and Simeon Read of Windsor, Mass.

(Notes by G. S. Stewart, 105 Langdon Ave. Watertown, apparently in a letter to Mr. Browne)

Nathan⁴ Read b. Norwich, Conn., 2 July 1720; d. Windsor, Mass. 3 Sept. 1795, "ae 75"; son of William³ (Josiah², William³, "of Batcembe"? , Weymouth & Boston) & Anna (Stark) Read; m. Norwich, 21 May, 1747, Mary Gay of Norwich.

Children, recorded at Norwich, Conn.:

1. Susanna b. 20 June, 1748
2. Nathan b. 18 Oct., 1750
3. William b. 11 May, 1753

Nathan⁴ was at Windsor, Mass. in 1779, when he bought land of Daniel Bishop, of Norwich, Conn. (Berks. Deeds, Vol. V, p.573, Adams). In 1790, Nathan Divides 62 acres equally between Jeremiah & William Read, (his sons?) all of Windsor; Jeremiah's lot bounded by land of Simeon Read (Berks. Deeds Vol. V, p.527, Adams).

I do not learn whether Nathan⁴ died intestate or not?
 Simeon Read (b. abt. 1761), "of Windsor," m. Dalton, Mass. 8 Mar.
 1792, Thankful Hovey, (b. abt. 1760), dau. of Luke & Eliz.
 (Armstrong) Hovey, of Dalton; she d. Windsor, Mass. 11 July,
 1830, "ae 70"; Simeon Read d. Windsor 10 Jan. 1833, "ae 72."

Children of Simeon & Thankful, bapt. Windsor, 15 Aug. 1802, Daniel, Festus, & Nathan Read.

Festus Read b. 22 Oct. 1795 (in Windsor?) (Family Record) m.
 25 Jan. 1825, Rebecca Blackman of Dalton (1798-1870) Res. Windsor, Dalton & Pittsfield; he d. Mar., 1879 in Pittsfield, Mass.

(The following is an attached query, apparently directed to Mr. Browne. His answer, if any, was not preserved.)

Who was the above Simeon Read & have you not taken part of his record for your Simon, son of Joshua? viz. his children, & death date?

I thought it possible Simeon was a son of Nathan⁴; if so, he was a cousin of Joshua⁵, the father of Simon⁶.

Descendants of Simeon (above) & his son Festus, now reside in Pittsfield, but they have no data back of Simeon, & lack record of his birth and parentage, tho' they have his marriage & death as above.

Is there a possibility that your Simon⁵ & my Simeon (above with wife Thankful) were one & the same person? In a least one instance, these two names have been used for the same man in Dighton branch of the Read family. In what town was your Simon⁵ born, & how early was his father in Mass.? Where do you find Simon's marriage to Judith Spaulding? & Rosca Lyon?

The following is also from the Browne Collection, origin unknown.

Jonathan⁴, Benjamin⁴, & Daniel⁴
Read, sons of Jonathan³ & Anna (Hanson) Read of Smithfield, R. I. 1746, (Jacob², Thomas¹).

Jonathan⁴ Read, b. prob. abt. 1723, d. ---? m. 11 May, 1748, Elizabeth Hoag of Dighton, dau. of Benjamin & Esther (Swett) Hoag. He was a potter, res. Salem & Amesbury 1757-'62. A Friend. Children recorded at Amesbury: Anna⁵ b. 22 Jan 1757, Asa⁵ b. 4 July 1760, Jonathan Hanson⁵ b. 14 Mar. 1762. The sons were in Conn. 1790, see Census & New Milford Hist.

Benjamin⁴ Read, b. prob. abt. 1730, d. ---? m. 1755, Elizabeth Yates of Uxbridge, b. 13 Dec. 1736, dau. of James & Taborah (Taft) Yates. res. Smithfield till 1764, rem. to Mendon. Children: Mercy⁵ b. 29 Oct. 1756, Taborah b. 5 Apr. 1758, Elizabeth b. before 1764. This man prob. not in good standing as a Friend.

Daniel⁴ Read, b. prob. abt 1735, d. ---? m. (1), 1760, Rachel Farnum of Uxbridge; m. (2), 1 July 1762, Eleanor Southwick of Mendon, dau. of Daniel & Ruth (Shove) Southwick. Children b. Uxbridge: Moses⁵ b. 26 Apr. 1763; Jonathan⁵ b. 14 Nov. 1764; Rachel b. 26 May 1766; Sarah b. 31 Dec. 1769; Mary b. 22 Jan. 1770. This man was certainly a Friend.

From 7,000 Hudson-Mohawk Valley New York Vital Records, 1808-1850

"Thomas Maynhood of Saratoga married 10/22/35 (on board the canal boat 'Genesee' at Jackson, E. B. Briggs, Captain) a widow lady from Ohio. The lady came on board at Buffalo and the gentleman at Jordan strangers to each other. After a long courtship of 143 miles they proceeded to tie the nuptial knot - a magistrate at Fort Jackson officiating."

TAX RECORDS OF SAVOY, MASSACHUSETTS, 1799-1855

From the Elmer I. Shepard Collection, Berkshire Athenaeum, Pittsfield, Mass.

Taken from the tax records of the town; taxes are polls, real estate, personal estate, schools, defraying town charges, bridges and highways. Each name appears for the years indicated and is useful in determining the years of residence in the town. Years are as early as 1799 and as late as 1855. Not all years are represented, as Mr. Shepard copied only what records were available. The list for 1799 previously appeared in BG 8/4 and is repeated in integration here. (We have retained all of the original phonetic spellings.)

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST - PITTSFIELD MEMORIAL PORTRAIT GALLERY AND RELICS OF THE PAST

From Proceedings in Commemoration of the Organization of the First Church of Christ, 1889.

A few weeks before the celebration, some one conceived the novel and happy idea of collecting as many as possible of the portraits of the men and women who had from time to time been members of the Church or who had worshiped with it in its several meeting houses. Requests were sent to the families likely to have the desired pictures, and also published in the local newspapers. Brief as the interval was, the response was such as to render the memorial gallery the most unique feature of the anniversary, and one of the most exciting. Over one hundred portraits were contributed and hung upon the walls of the chapel, varying from the costly miniature of the era of Parson Allen and the cheaper small photographs of later days, to the life size portraits of varying merit as works of art, which illustrated all the periods of the Church history.

Many of the subjects of these portraits had been for years spirit-stirring members of the Church; not a few of them to such an extent that they builded large portions of their own lives into it, so that they seem still living stones in its walls.

All the portraits were of men and women whose earthly life is ended, while the floor of the chapel was crowded at such times as it was open, with successive throngs of their descendants or successors; so that there was seen what may not improperly be called a great, and in no small degree a homogeneous, congregation, composed of many generations all inspired with life; for if the painted lips were silent, those who listened to the animated and thoughtful conversation of the living, could not but recognize that it faithfully interpreted what those lips would have uttered had they, by some miracle, become unsealed.

There was some effort to arrange the portraits in family or other groups; circumstances rendered success in this so imperfect that we do not attempt to follow it, except in a single instance.

On the east wall of the room was in conspicuous black letters the text: "They rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Below this motto was the clerical group of portraits representing the first pastor, Rev. Thomas Allen; his son and successor, Rev. William Allen, D.D.; Rev. Heman Humphrey, the great pacificator; Rev. Henry P. Tappan, Rev. Dr. John Todd, and Rev. Stephen West, of Stockbridge, one of the clergymen who took part in the organization of the Pittsfield Church, Rev. Joab Brace, D.D., the father-in-law of Rev. Dr. Todd.

The portrait of Parson Allen does not at all give one's preconceived idea of him as the stern, uncompromising, combative, Revolutionary leader and hero. He appears here rather as the man of scholarly and refined thought, and of a gentle manner. And such, a lady who remembered him well in his later years, when she was a child, described him a few years ago: a man of tall and graceful figure, very benignant in his aspect to children, of extreme politeness to all, with a clear complexioned well shaven face, and a beaming, kindly eye as it appeared to her young view, although it doubtless showed determination enough in many circumstances under which the utmost determination was required of Berkshire's Revolutionary leader.

The portrait of Rev. Dr. Allen, near the end of his life, if correctly drawn - in this case it was an engraving - would be remarkable. Rev. Dr. Humphrey had a noble face for a portrait, full of lines every one of which was the record of deep thought and conflict. Rev. Dr. Todd's portrait is also full of character; but, although doubtless modified by the experience of a not altogether restful life, the lines there seem to have been those originally impressed by nature, whom he rather followed than resisted.

The portrait of Rev. Dr. Samuel Hopkins, the first pastor of Great Barrington, should have been in this group, as he wrote the creed and covenant under profession of which the Pittsfield Church was organized, and preached a sermon on the occasion; but it was, for some reason, placed in another part of the room. Dr. Hopkins was the first great American opponent and denouncer of slavery, he was the originator of the Stockbridge Indian Mission, and the hero of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, "The Minister's Wooing;" but it is more to our present purpose to know that he was the author of a new system of theology - The Hopkinsonian - some traces of which he doubtless left in the fundamental constitution of the Churches of Pittsfield, Lee and Lenox, which were nearly, if not quite, identical in their tenor.

RELICS OF THE PAST

In addition to the portraits, there were in the chapel several interesting relics of the old time. There were a score of chairs in which once sat men and women now held in reverential memory; among them one which stood in one of the old square pews in 1808: a style of pews which prevailed long after that date.

There was the wreck of an old bass viol which was played in 1836 by Daniel Merriam, when the opponents of innovation in the music of public worship nick-names it "The Lord's big fiddle." There was a fragment of carpet upon which Lafayette stood in the 15th of June, 1825, when in the old church, - now Maplewood Gymnasium, - he was received by the authorities and people of Berkshire and said some very handsome things in return, especially in regard to the beauty of Pittsfield women; which it was very much like the gallant Frenchman to say.

But the relic most closely connected with the occasion and also otherwise of great value, was the carved oaken chest once the property of Deacon Daniel Hubbard, one of the "foundation men" of the church. It was brought from England by one of his ancestors. He, himself, brought it to Pittsfield, and during the last French and Indian war - 1754-1761 - it was often filled with family valuables, and deposited in one of the four Pittsfield forts. This fort stood on what is now the Buckingham place on the southwest shore of lake Onota, and was very near to Deacon Hubbard's "home-lot" or farm. The chest has ever since continued in the family, being now the property of Deacon Hubbard's grand-daughters in the sixth generation, Mrs. C. E. Burfitt, and the Misses C. W. and Leila Bull, of Pittsfield. The Hubbard family Bible is still preserved, and it was hoped to have it for the memorial collection, but it did not arrive in season. This exhibit and the presence of its owners, perhaps brought those who witnessed it nearer the foundation of the Church than any other. The nearest living descendant of any of the foundation members is, however, Miss Amanda Baker, the grand-daughter of Aaron Baker, who resides on the homestead in Barkerville.

From 10,000 Vital Records of Western New York, 1809-1850

At Cornwall, Connecticut on the 17th of January, 1824, by the Rev. Mr. Smith, the pious and delicate Miss Sally B. Northrop, daughter of John B. Northrop was married to a full blooded Cherokee Indian, late a member of the foreign mission school in that town. His present name is Mr. David Ridge - his true Indian name we have not learned. Those white ladies who are in want of Indian husbands must apply soon or there will not be any copper faces left. They must send their proposals to the trustees of the Cornwall School who have an assortment of unmarried Indians on hand.

GUIDE TO INTERPRETATION OF THE 1855 MASSACHUSETTS CENSUS

The taking of a census in 1855 was mandated by an act of the General Court of Massachusetts, 21 May 1855. The act provided that a census of each city and town be taken between 1 June and 1 October 1855. The census was to be "as of" the first day of June of the census year.

Reports on the taking of the census stated that the instructions were generally "well observed". Some enumerators, however, were so negligent or heedless that their reports were "scarcely fit to be received". Cautions, still appropriate, were given against relying too absolutely on the census because of "the great liability to error", and the "usual difficulty of arriving at the truth" arising from ignorance and prejudice.

To secure uniform reporting, blank forms were provided and the following data were to be recorded:

1. Dwelling houses numbered in the order of their visitation.
2. Families numbered in the order of visitation, ("family" being all those living in one house, public house or institution.)
3. Name of every person whose usual place of residence was in this family 1 June 1855. Note: Excluded were those born after 1 June. Included were those who had died after 1 June and those temporarily absent. Relationship of household members to the head of the household was not recorded. An aid in establishing relationships exists, nevertheless, in the requirement that the enumerator arrange names in a given order:
 - (1) Master
 - (2) Mistress
 - (3) Children in order of age
 - (4) Male domestics, etc.
 - (5) Female domestics, etc.
 - (6) Boarders, etc.
4. Age. To be given as of last birthday unless next birthday would be within four months, then age at next birthday.
5. Sex.
6. Color. B for Blacks, M for Mulatto, no entry for Whites.
7. Profession, occupation or trade for each male over fifteen. For clergymen, initial letters of denomination.
8. Place of birth. State or territory if native born; country if foreign born.
9. Whether deaf and dumb, blind, insane, idiotic, pauper or convict.

BERKSHIRE ATHENAEUM PREPARES FOR RENOVATIONS

As we go to press with this issue, the Berkshire Athenaeum is continuing with the development of plans for the re-design and renovation of the Local History and Reference Departments. Because many issues relating to this project build upon one another, it is impossible to be specific as to when construction will begin and what parts of the Library's Genealogy Collections will be available as the work proceeds.

We had hoped for a winter 2006-07 construction, but numerous unforeseen events have delayed the project. As of April 2007, we are still uncertain when construction will begin. Therefore, as there may be certain times when the Department is completely closed or specific materials inaccessible, researchers traveling from any distance should call the Local History Staff at 413-499-9480 ext. 204 before setting out on a research trip.
