Dr. Chase's Receipt Book

Submitted By Doris Wastradowski

Items of great interest may be found in the old "doctor books" or "receipt books," as they were commonly entitled. Many of us remember a book of this description, sometimes in the home of our parents, but more often in the homes of our grandparents. These books contained a wealth of information on symptoms and treatment of diseases of both humans and animals, recipes, advice on how to preserve food, remove stains from clothing, how to make cement, how to season fence posts, etc. They furnished the family with all sorts of advice and counselling, and often served as one of the few books, or perhaps the only one, available to read for pleasure.

The Title Page of Dr. Chase's Receipt Book, the Third and Last Edition, is of interest and perhaps amusement as it is so elaborate. His remarks are often amusing as well as filled with common sense. The style of writing includes capital letters at random and the excessive use of commas. He often quotes from popular medical magazines and papers.

The remedies for a complete list of diseases and ailments are listed in detail as to contents, preparation and dosage. The apothecary in the 1800's undoubtedly kept a vast variety of ingredients which could be purchased on demand.

DR. CHASE'S Third, Last and Complete RECEIPT BOOK and Household Physician, from The Life-Long observations of the author, embracing the choicest, most valuable and entirely new receipts in Every Department of Medicine, Mechanics and Household Economy, Including a Treatise on THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN: in fact, THE BOOK IN THE MILLION, With remarks and explanations which adapt it to the Every-Day wants of the People, arranged in Departments and most Copiously indexed, By W. W. Chase, M. D., author of Dr. Chase's Farrier, Bee Keeper, and second receipt book. "Why Conceal that which Relieves Distress?" Published by E. B. Dickerson, Co., Detroit, Mich. and Windsor, Ont. 1890 (The previous editions of Dr. Chase's Receipt Books were published in 1884 and 1887.)

Excerpts from the above publication are found on the following pages:

1. THE TRUE WAY TO HEALTH--Simmered Down to a Few Short Rules.--A recent writer, whose name I do not know, has given us the most facts, in the fewest words, of anything I have seen. He says: The only true way to health is that which common sense dictates to man. Live within the bounds of reason; eat moderately; drink temperately; sleep regularly; avoid excess in everything, and preserve a conscience void of offence. Some men eat themselves to death; some drink themselves to death; some wear out their lives by indolence; and some by over-exertion; others are killed by the doctors, while not a few sink into the grave under the effects of vicious and beastly practices. All the medicines in creation are not worth a farthing to a man who is constantly and habitually violating the laws of his own nature. All the medical science in the world cannot save him from a premature grave. With a suicidal course of conduct he is planting the seed of decay in his own constitution, and accelerating the destruction of his own life.

Remarks;--A truer item was never written. I would to God that not only our young men, but everybody, would heed its teachings. This may be properly followed by mention of a few of the ways by which many of the people bring ill health upon themselves.

2. Ill Health, How Many People Bring it Upon Themselves.

- I. By eating too fast and too much.
- II. By not chewing the food enough to make it fine, slushing it down with too much fluid, all through the meal.
- III. By drinking spirits, or intoxicating drinks, too freely and too frequently.
- IV. By keeping late hours at night and sleeping it off in the fore-noon.
- V. By wearing too tight clothing, which prevents a free circulation of the blood.
- VI. By wearing too thin shoes and not protecting the feet from dampness and cold.
- VII. By neglecting to take sufficient exercise to keep the feet and hands warm.
- IX. By changing the warm clothing of the day for light and inefficient, to attend evening parties.
- X. By starving the stomach, as some do, to have enough to gratify the frivolous passion for dress.
- XI. By being constantly in a fret and worry, lest this or that shall not go as desired, or, in other words, borrowing trouble.
- XII. By eating and drinking at any or all hours of the day or night, instead of eating at regular hours and in only moderate quantities--nine-tenths of the people eat twice as much as is necessary to sustain life and health."(pp. 82,83 "Treatment of Diseases.")

COUGH SYRUP: Effectual remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness, etc., Mixture of "Syrup of squills, 1 ozs; paregoric 1 oz.; fl. ex. of licorice 1 oz.; fl. ex. of ipecac 1/2 oz.; antimonial wine 1/2 oz.; ess. of wintergreen and peppermint 1 dr." Dose--one teaspoonful every 2 or 3 hours, but not on an empty stomach.

EGGS--To Determine the Sex of--Tested.--In "Navin's Work on Poultry" he gives a test made by A. T. Newell, of Philadelphia, Pa., who says: "Pullet eggs, or those which will produce pullets, are smooth on the ends; while those which produce the roosters have a zig-zag mark or quirl on one end. In selecting 200 for roosters, only 1 produced a pullet; and out of the 50 for pullets he got 50 pullets.

Remarks--See "Positive Remedy for Hog Cholera" for further knowledge of Navin's reliability. I have no doubt of the facts stated in that, as well as in this case.

A MORTGAGE, ITS STAYING AND DESTRUCTIVE PROPERTIES.--In the whole range of sacred and profane literature, perhaps there is nothing recorded which has such staying properties as a mortgage. A mortgage can be depended upon to stick closer than a brother. It has a mission to perform which never lets up. Day after day it is right there, nor does the slightest tendency to slumber, impair its vigor in the night. Night and day, on the Sabbath and at holiday times, without a moment's time for rest or recreation, the biting offspring of its existence--interest--goes on. The season may change, days run into weeks, weeks into months, to be swallowed up in the gray man of advancing years but the mortgage stands up in sleepless vigilance, with the interest a perennial stream, ceaselessly running on. Like a huge nightmare eating out the sleep of some restless slumberer, the unpaid mortgage rears up its gaunt front in perpetual torment to the miserable wight who is held in its pitiful clutch. It holds the poor victim in the relentless grasp of a giant, not one hour of recreation; not a moment's evasion of its hideous presence. A genial savage of mollifying aspect while the interest is paid; the very devil of destruction when the payments fall. (Beware of them.-- Author)"(pp. 559 & 560, Miscellaneous).

DR. LEWIS' "BREAKFAST FOR TWO CENTS"--Good for Light Laborers--

Notwithstanding, a large amount of sport was made over Dr. Lewis' publication upon the "Two-Cent Breakfast," still for persons of sedentary life and and only light labor to perform, or perhaps no labor at all, his plan is most excellent for those who desire to enjoy good health and long lives. Let this class of persons try it, and they will soon realize a feeling of enjoyment and hilarity of spirit never before experienced. He says, "My experience and observation has been that meat is a large item in the cost of living. By using less meat and more oatmeal, beans, peas, etc., the same amount of nourishment may be obtained. Get a good article of Scotch or Canada oatmeal and to 1 qt. of boiling water slowly stir in 1 tea-cupful of oatmeal, to which add a little salt; let it cook slowly for half an hour, when it may be served with milk or cream and sugar. Three cents worth of oatmeal, 3 cents worth of milk, and 6 cents worth of sugar will make a good meal for a family of 6 persons. Some of the most healthy people I have ever seen had oatmeal morning and night, and had fresh meat and vegetables at noon. By this method of living we make the morning and evening meal so inexpensive that the cost of our food will be reduced at least one-half. Beans and peas are cheap and nutritious."

Remarks--If I could say anything more to induce people to pay a greater attention to what the great hygienic doctor has said upon this subject I would most cheerfully do so, but I will only add that it is of the most vital importance to all who do not work at hard manual labor for a living; they must have the meat, if they can get it; but even with them the supper may, or ought, to be only a light meal, if continuous health and long life are any object. (pp. 561, 562 Miscellaneous)

1. LIQUOR--A Cure for the Love of it.--At a festival at a reformatory institution recently, a gentleman said, of the cure of the use of intoxicating liquors: "I overcame the appetite by a recipe given to me by old Dr. Hatfield, one of those good old physicians who do not have a percentage from a neighboring druggist. The prescription is simply an orange every morning a half hour before breakfast. 'Take that,' said the doctor, 'and you will neither want liquor nor medicine,' I have done so regularly, and find that liquor has become repulsive. The taste of the orange is in the saliva of my tongue, and it would be as well to mix water and oil, as rum, with my taste."

Remarks--I will add to this, keep away from where it is sold, taking the oranges as directed, and you will be safe. If you go into saloons, no matter how much you may try to avoid drinking while there, there will be pretended friends to the bar, and try to force it into your mouth. I speak from knowledge. I once had two young men--I was then young myself--get a cup of brandy, and one of them behind me and the other in front, tried to force me to drink it; but I got a chance to get a foot against a bureau and pushed back enough to get room for a kick, and that cup and brandy went, as the saying is, "higher'n a kite."--it went to the ceiling,--and then I said "Boys, if you don't let me alone, I will kick you, too, but drink I will not." But I should have had to fight, if the boss for whom we all worked, had not stepped forward at this juncture, and said "Boys, you ought to be ashamed of yourselves. You know Chase told us this morning he did not drink, and, hence, went and borrowed a rifle and gave it up. The occasion being when a saw mill, in which we worked, had been sold--this was in 1834 or '35--and the giving possession had to be done with whiskey and a high day. The difficulty is, people--men or boys--do not say "no" with sufficient vim. When enticed to evil, let the "no" have a ring as though you meant just what you said; then, unless the enticers are drunk, as they were in the above case, you will generally have no trouble, especially if you do not put in your presence at their haunts of vice. In the above case, it was a boarding house for the mill, and I had nowhere else to go. I will only add, if a man does not want to drink, he need not; if he wants to drink, nothing can save him. He is bound to destruction. He is, like Epharaim, "joined to his idols,"--you may just as well--"let him alone.:" (p. 167, Treatment of Diseases).

12. COLDS--GENERAL WASHINGTON'S CURE.--The Baltimore American informs us that Gen. George Washington gave the following recipe for a cold, to an old lady now living Newport, when she was a very young girl 1781--103 years before this writing. He was lodged in her father's house, the old Vernon mansion. As she was being sent to bed early with a very bad cold he remarked to Mrs. Vernon, the mother of this lady: "My own remedy, my dear madam, is always to eat, just before I step into bed, a hot roasted onion if I have a cold."

Remarks.--It may be taken for granted that this simple remedy will be found very efficacious, and, if the cold is of recent taking, with the help of either toasting the feet before the fire or stove through the evening, otherwise soaking them in hot water for 15 to 20 minutes before going to bed, it will be the more likely to succeed. If necessary, however, to effect a complete cure, repeat it for one or two evenings. And if a hot roasted onion was eaten two or three times during the day it would also help the cure.

The above paragraphs are copied in their entirety from Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. It is amazing that one man would be so knowledgeable on such a wide variety of subjects. He gives advice or recommended treatment for almost any anticipated situation or disease, including how to dye one's hair, how to become a blonde, the use of cosmetics for the young ladies, how to encourage the growth of hair on the scalp for men whose hair is thinning, warns the young ladies on becoming involved with young men who drink intoxicating liquors, and goes into great detail on the importance of temperance in the use of alcohol and tobacco. For singers and public speakers with loss of voice, hoarseness, etc., he prescribes holding a lump of borax in the mouth and letting it slowly dissolve. By doing this, the voice will be completely restored. A long listing of food to be given to those who are ill is included in the book. It is, of course, certain that the owner's of this book or a similar one, took the contents seriously. It was more than likely the only medical information available to those who found themselves miles from any physician or any type of medical facility.

NOTES & QUOTES

Richard N. Grafton

Dear genealogists;

I believe that the QUERY section of the Trail Breakers is not being used to its proper advantage by our members.

The Query section in the genealogical quarterlies are a valuable tool in helping to locate lost or missing (to you) relative or someone who can give you that all important clue of where to look.

For instance, three times I have read queries in different publications that were tantalizing enough for me to send off a brief description of my people that could be in the lineage they were looking for. In return, I found in one instance, a divorced great uncle, a deceased infant of his, and the maiden name of his Marion Co. OR divorced wife, and the name of his new wife, plus a telephone conversation with a very nice lady, a descendent relative of the divorced wife.

Another treasure trove opened for me in the Portland Gen. Forum's quarterly by a query asking information on a Neely Gray, my g g grandfathers name. I had no info to give, but I wrote to the party anyway and her answer cleared up two long standing mysteries for me. It seems that my g g g grandfather was a Neely Gray, unknown to me before. His son, my great great grandfather was also a Neely Gray. Both Neely Gray's had married women with the family name of Sill which had been causing me much trouble with conflicting names and dates. The kind lady also furnished previously unknown names of my grandfathers brothers, sisters and their spouses.

My own queries in the "Trail Breakers" over the years have brought responses of great interest and value.

Granted that not all queries are answered or that the answers contain the correct family. Be not discouraged; as a printed querie is like money in the bank. It might lay dormant for several years and suddenly someone, perhaps new to genealogy, will write asking you for information or giving your long sought information.

Just last month I sent off an answer to a query I had found in another Washington Gen. quarterly. The answer I recieved last week put another related family on my list, much information and a Photo of my Great great grandfather Neely Gray. I was also pleased that I could add some names and dates to her records.

QUERIES ARE A VALUABLE TOOL! LET'S USE IT!

THE MATCH GAME.....On Wednesday last the Occidental Base Ball Club of this city played their match game with the Pioneer Base Ball Club of Portland, resulting in favor of the Pioneer Club, who according to the decision of the Umpire, made seventy-nine runs to sixty-two made by the Occidental. A great deal of interest was manifested and a large number of spectators had assembled to witness the game. We do not propose to publish a full account of the game, as the same has already been published by the Portland dailies, but simply desire to call attention to some errors in the report made probably inadvertently in the Oregonian. In the first place according to the new rules of the National Base Ball Association no "home runs" were made at all during the match. It is only considered a "home run" when the player reaches the home base before the ball is again in the field. If Mr. DE HUFF of the Pioneer Club made a "home run," then three "home runs" were made by the Occidentals. The following "fly balls" were caught by the Occidental nine: H. C. MORSE, one; W. LEAHY, two; J. PROEBSTEL, one; J. A. ORR, one. In the second innings of the Pioneer, after two had been put out, the catcher, D. LEAHY, put out the third man by catching a foul ball that had been tipped, and immediately called for judgement, but the Umpire decided he was "not out." This decision of the Umpire was so palpably incorrect that even the members of the Pioneer Club admitted the mistake. It was alleged by the Occidentals that this was the third mistake made by the Umpire which operated against them, and accordingly a new Umpire, in the person of Mr. BARCLAY of the Clackamas Club was chosen, whose conduct and decisions gave the highest satisfaction to all. The Occidentals claimed at this juncture that they were entitled to the inning having put three men out, but the Pioneers did not concede the point and succeeded in making twelve more runs on the same inning, which, if the first Umpire had decided correctly, would have reduced the runs of the Pioneers to sixty-seven. We are not an expert in the game, but we have endeavored to state the case fairly without prejudice or partiality. We sincerely trust, that the little difference which arose during the game will not have any tendency to disturb friendly relations between the Clubs. As far as the Occidentals are concerned, we feel authorized in stating, that they cherish the kindest feelings of regard for their late competitors of the Pioneer Club.

BREWERY.....Messrs. DAMPHOFFER and PROEBSTEL are building a new brewery on 6th street near the military reserve. It is a large two story concern and will be finished in the course of next month. [3/2]

****

IMPROVEMENTS.....Mr. JOHN EDDINGS contemplates the erection of a large store on the corner of Main and Fifth street. A portion of the timber is already on the ground. We also notice that Mr. BEATTY is moving his dwelling from the corner of Main and Fourth street, to make room for a large drug store to be built by Dr. WALL, who recently purchased the lots. The new building will be built of brick probably. [3/1]

A LETTER FROM FRANK CLARK

(Mr. Editor - Enclosed to my address I have received the following and request its publication in your columns in justice to Mr. CLARK.
J. D. POTTER)

Mr. GAY HAYDEN, Esq.

Dear Sir: It has just come to my knowledge that some of FLANDERS' friends in this place have stated that I was in favor of a division of the Territory.

This is like many other reports of his supporters that have been circulated since my nomination. It is untrue.

I have always - as the Legislative journals will show - opposed any division of the Territory, and am now opposed to any division just as much as I ever was; and have to assure you that if any part of our Territory is taken from us it will be done over my active opposition.

I have the honor to remain

Truly your friend,
FRANK CLARK

JACK MUGGINS.....HIRAM SMITH's celebrated Jack Muggins will stand the balance of the season at the stable of GAY HAYDEN, in Vancouver; any person wishing to secure his services will do well to call soon.

Said Jack is 15 hands high, and has sired some of the best mule colts in Oregon.

****

A CEMETERY.....It is high time that some decisive action should be taken in the matter of procuring a suitable burial ground for the use of the city. We have received a letter from Mr. JACOB FRITZ, of the Dalles, wherein he proposed to donate ten acres of his donation land claim three miles north of Vancouver, provided the city will construct a good road to his place. Mr. JAMES COCKRELL has also made proposition which is now being considered by the Common Council. If nothing better can be done, we would propose that our Delegate to Congress, whoever is elected, be urged to use his influence at Washington City to procure ten acres of the northern portion of the Military Reserve for that purpose. The Military authorities have no possible use for the same, and the grounds for the purposes of a cemetery would be far more eligibly located than any other known of in the vicinity. We urge our citizens to immediately move in the matter. [3/1]

****

SALMON.....We learn that a large number of men are engaged at the Cascades in catching salmon for California and Eastern markets. Mr. SUMNER BARKER of this city has a number of hands engaged in the business, which promises to be quite profitable. We are told that the demand for Columbia river salmon has been somewhat lessened in California owing to the fact that the barrels in which they were shipped were badly made, not being sufficiently tight to hold the brine, in consequence of which the fish became tainted and spoiled. It is to be hoped that more attention will be paid hereafter by shippers of all sorts of produce, and that their articles will be more neatly and securely ....., failure in this particular has been damaging to our producers and exporters generally. [3/1]

****

LEVER.....Col. HODGES, the very efficient Quartermaster of this Depot, has caused the driving of piles along the banks of the Columbia, on the Military Reserve, to prevent the washing away of the banks. The same will be capped and planked as soon as the water recedes, and abundantly secure the safety of the banks against inroads by the high water and besides add to the appearance of the city front. [3/1]

****

The Dalles Mountaineer gives our friend CRAWFORD the following first class puff. We concur in what brother HAND says,

JAMES CRAWFORD, Esq., of Vancouver, W.T. the Government contract man, arrived in this city on Thursday evening. He looks well and hearty, and to all appearances as if he had the same appreciation of this life as he had several years ago. He is decidedly the Prince of Contractors, and one of the best natured gentlemen it has fallen to our lot to ever become acquainted with. [3/1]

****

CORRECTION.....Mr. M. WINTLER of this town shipped a considerable quantity of wool to Portland during the past week, which the Herald notices as coming from Springville. That's not fair. [3/1]

Catty community naps in suburbia

From "The Columbian"
Feb. 25, 1980"

Felida

Early-day Felida school was built in 1896.

Felida, the once-tiny community with the odd name, is suffering growing pains.

Located about seven miles northwest of downtown Vancouver, Felida has fallen victim to urban sprawl. Where once large farms and orchards graced the countryside, now streets are being paved across the fields, followed by rows of houses.

Although there are still several beautiful farms in the Felida area, they are fast being swallowed up by subdivisions.

Probably the major development is Columbia Gardens, a residential area north of Northwest 119th Street and east of Northwest 36th Avenue. This is an area of beautiful, expensive homes and yards which were developed about 11 years ago.

How Felida got its name presents a strange tale, although the authenticity of it is buried in the mists of time.

According to the book "Washington Place Names," when the post office was established in 1890, the name Powley was submitted in honor of a pioneer settler. The postal department countered with the name Polly.

Offended at having their community named for a parrot, the townspeople resisted. C.C. Lewis suggested the post office be named Thomas, after his cat. This irritated the citizens even more.

Lewis then suggested the Latin word felidae, for the genus cat, and this name had enough class to be accepted.

However, this version of the naming of Felida has been challenged by some longtime residents. One has said Felida was actually the name of a dog. Another said there was an Indian named Felida.

The Felida post office was opened in 1890 with Marion Edward McIrvin as postmaster. Felida lost its post office 16 years later with rural free delivery.

Once an independent community with a separate school district, Felida is now a "bedroom" community for commuters who work in Vancouver or Portland.

Last year, to meet the burgeoning population, the Vancouver School District opened Felida Elementary School at 2700 N.W. 119th St. This 20-classroom structure houses 500 pupils who used to attend Eisenhower, Lake Shore and Salmon Creek schools.

Felida still has its general store — 1978 style. This is a modern Minit-Mart that stands next to the old IOOF Hall.

"When I first visited this area in 1943, it was all farms," said Mary Sturrock, a clerk at the store. "Now there is a house being built on every vacant spot."

Despite the intense growth, she said, people still identify with the community and like to say, "I'm from Felida."

The school that my daughter started her first grade in is now a dwelling house. The dining hall is gone. The church of which I taught Sunday School class and played the piano for services is now gone and dwelling homes have obliterated all signs of a church. --Ed.

HERE'S A FUNNY story from Sunnyside, over in Yakima County, as told by Ginger Steffen in her column "Add Ginger and Stir."

A Sunnyside woman with relatives in Connecticut got a letter from them telling of receiving a package from the man's mother containing a jar with a piece of tape on top marked "Ashes."

"Steve, your mom sent us somebody's ashes," the wife exclaimed. "Who died?" They began to search the box for a note, Steve mumbling. "Mom sends the weirdest things."

They found part of a note with the words "Helen's ashes." "Who in the world is Helen, and why did your mother send us her ashes?" the wife asked. "I don't know a Helen--it must be Uncle Jim." Steve replied.

The rummaging around the box caused some of the ashes to trickle out. "Oh, Steve, some of your Uncle Jim or that Helen spilled on my hand!"

Fortunately, they found the rest of the note explaining Mom was sending some volcanic ash from Mount St. Helens that had rained on the Sunnyside area. She thought they would like to see what it was like, and remembering the family is from Spain where cremation is customary.

The wife's relief was great as she said to her husband "Thank God! I thought I had scrubbed part of your relatives down the drain."

Notes & Quotes

If it be the case of old age or laziness, we all have our off days and gradually learn to accomplish a feat with the easiest and least work as possible. This cannot always be done but there are helps for us if we only read enough to find them.

Spending time in libraries is one excellent way to find these helps. In the "Anoka County Genealogical Quarterly" is one helpful idea for a searching guide that can be taped inside your genealogical notebook. It is a list of most often used records and how to use them. For us older people it is a helpful reminder and for the beginning genealogist's it can be a big help. It is found in the 1986 Quarterly Vol. 8 No. 5.

There are many lists for this purpose. While taking lessons given by Dr. Arlene Eakle she supplied us with a very long list such as these. However they were of several pages and one had to have a list for each surname, which makes for quite a bundle to carry around. This could be worked up into a smaller packet but to me it seems like a lot to carry with me, especially when I am going to Salt Lake for research.

Our own society has put out some lists that would tell what you have searched and if you had found anything on that search. This is fine for your "at home records". I believe it is a most needful way of keeping your mental capacity in tune with your family work-sheets and history.

Now after writing these few paragraphs I have suddenly came up with several ideas. I hope it has done the same for the readers. My main theme is that you can get many ideas by reading the periodical's in our library. Libraries are our most useful tool for genealogist's.

U. S. EXCERPTS FROM THE "PARISH REGISTERS AT THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES, OF CANADA"

"Reproduced with permission of the Minister of Supply and Services of Canada"

The national Archives has given us permission to print the United States portion of their "Checklist of Parish Register, 1986" in our quarterly periodical, and may include an advertisement of the same. Anyone needing information of ancestors in Canada would probably find this an applicable book for their own library.

Bear in mind that this material in the lists consists mainly of transcript of documents in the French language which are for the most part both brief and fragmentary. One can usually decipher it easily enough to understand it.

The National Archives of Canada have a small number of these records. This collection comprises only a small fraction of the parish registers, of the country and is in no way comprehensive even for the National Capital Region, which is the area of greatest coverage. In most cases the archives have only, copies of either transcript, photocopies, microfilms or microfiches. It does not reproduce them for sale.

Researchers wishing to borrow the microfilms, may do so through the intermediary of any institution that possesses the necessary microfilm readers for their use and participates in the interlibrary loan arrangement. The call number of the microfilm reel or microfiche on which an item appears is shown on the right of each description.

Copies of individual entries may be obtained from the National Archives of Canada, [395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada K1A 0N3]. No requests for copies of complete register will be entertained.

Checklist of Parish Registers

1986

Fourth Edition, revised by Patricia Birkett

National Archives of Canada

The Checklist of Parish Registers, 1986 is an expanded update of the third edition of 1981 which has been out of print for over two years.

This Checklist provides a cross-reference listing of parish registers on microfilm or microfiche at the National Archives that contain records of births/baptisms, marriages and deaths/burials, and that may be borrowed through the interlibrary loan arrangement. It presents the registers in alphabetic order by place name within each province or region, with descriptions in English or French, according to the language used in the registers. The call number of the microfilm reel or microfiche on which an item appears is shown in bold type at the right of each entry.

A new feature of this edition is the comprehensive geographic index. Under the names of the counties, or other comparable provincial subdivisions, users will find the titles of all the entries found in the main alphabetic listings. Although this edition contains mainly Canadian parish registers of which most are from Ontario and Quebec, a few from other countries such as Great Britain and the United States of America are also included.

Locality Cards

Contributed By Jane Germann

Many of you have filled out LOCALITY CARDS for the card file at the genealogical library. These can be of great help in finding other people working in same areas to help "bounce" ideas or come up with suggestions when one gets "stuck." But, how many of you have made a set for your own use? Mine are as important as family sheets or pedigree charts. And I use them frequently to keep me on track.

My locality cards are on orange 3 X 5 index cards, but you may use any color or size. On the top line place the name of the country, or, if it is United States, the name of the state. Under that line, place the county or parish name. Next line down is any other locality information: city, township, etc. After all the locality information is on the card, put dates and names for that location. Do this for each person you are researching. Some ancestors moved frequently and may have many cards. Sometimes the only locality information you may have is the country or state. Sometimes the only date will be "early 1800." Put on what information you do have. You now have a valuable tool.

Take these cards along any time you travel or visit a library. Instead of trying to remember which ancestors were in West Virginia when, pull the West Virginia cards and you will know exactly. You remembered a relative in Knox County. Was it Ohio, or Missouri? Both have a Knox County. Pull the cards. You can easily verify who was in which state, and at what time period! As you work farther back in your history, townships are a valuable time saver when searching for information.

Use the back of the cards for making notations of the sources you have checked. Use a code, such as an "X" to indicate you have looked at that source. When visiting a library, you can quickly see if you need to check a book they have on a particular area. Sometimes you have come up with a new surname after checking a source. This way, you will know what names you need to check in a book already checked. Or use the back of the cards for the book or microfilm numbers to check. For example, in a large library such as the Salt Lake Library, you can concentrate your time searching one area at a time and change from books to microfilm easily. The cards can help you keep on track.

The cards can be a real help in a small library you just happen to visit as well as the large library. You can quickly check their collection and spend time in books you haven't used before. And you won't copy information out of a book "once again," just to be sure you have that source. You will know from the back of the card. Sometimes, a small library will have had someone donate their books and, as a result, will have an excellent collection on a specific area. You will be able to utilize their collection to your greatest benefit. [The "utility" menu of "Personal Ancestor File" has a sub-menu "print forms & reports"; use the "place" under the "sorted lists" menu to print a quick birth, death, marriage locality. Just fill in locations where the family lived where one of these major events did not occur.] Have fun researching!

Geraldine Frances Gilman

Volunteer Spot Light

Named for Gerald, a friend of her fathers, Geraldine Frances Angell Phillips was born during the worst blizzard to strike Chicago in the winter of 1915. The second child of George "Nelson" Angell Phillips and Lulu Iola Martin, she was born on December 30th.

Later the family moved to St. Louis, Missouri and when Gerry was six years of age her family traveled across the United States in a 1916 open touring car, with Los Angeles, California as their destination. After experiencing car trouble in Grants, New Mexico, they proceeded to Los Angeles by train. This was to be Gerry's home until 1945.

Gerry and her husband, Jim, met while attending college and were married on 25 April, 1937 at Los Vegas, Nevada. A paint chemist, James William Gilman, the son of Fred Wm. Gilman and Minnie Myrtle Gray, was born 16 January 1913, at Portersville, California. After being transferred by his company in 1945, the Gilman's spent the next few years in Seattle. They returned to Los Angeles in 1949, and were back in Seattle by 1954. Gerry worked with her husband as a paint chemist and for Boeing in Seattle, testing the paints, plastics and sealants used on planes. After Jim's retirement from American Cyanamid in 1973, he decided to take a job in Portland, Oregon, hence their move to Vancouver. He had decided to extend his career five years, but ended up working another twelve years, finally retiring at the age of seventy-two.

The Gilmans are parents of two daughters: Beverly Annette Gilman Lyle (b. 10 June 1938, Los Angeles, CA), and Doniece Lynn Gilman Wilson (b. 19 Sept. 1940, Pasadena, CA.) Their six grandchildren are: James David Lyle (b. 26 Jan. 1963), Bret Thomas Wilson (b. 30 Oct. 1967), Aaron Clark Wilson (b. 22 Mar. 1973), Sarena Marie Wilson (b. 6 May 1978), Rosene Lynn Wilson (b. 9 Sept. 1980) and Tawnya Jean Wilson (b. 18 Mar. 1983.)

Avid travelers, Gerry and Jim have visited sixty countries, including China, Russia, Finland, Norway and have recently journeyed to Egypt. Researching both her own and her husband's families has led to discovery of Mayflower ancestors and finding common ancestors in several families. Gerry has plans for publication of the Gilman ~ Gray Family and the Gilman ~ Angell Family. A member of the Congregational Church, Gerry also belongs to the Paint Production Club, the Aerospace Engineers, and the League of Women Voters.

An active volunteer in C.C.G.S., Gerry is always willing to help out in any capacity. She assisted in recording the cemeteries of Clark County and took over the duties as cemetery chairman in comparing the cemetery records with information gained from the tombstone readings, a monumental task that has richly paid off in added information for our publications. This past year she has helped to research and compile the material for our centennial book and is presently engaged in proofreading for yet another project.

Surnames being researched: Gilman, Gray, Angell, Martin
