THE PRICE THEY PAID

Have you ever wondered what happened to those men who signed the Declaration on Independence?

Five signers were captured as traitors by the British, and were tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the Revolutionary Army; another had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 fought, and died from wounds or the hardship of the Revolutionary War.

What kind of men were they? Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants; nine were farmers and large plantation owners -- men of means and well-educated. But they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured. They signed, and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKean was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his reward.

Vandals, soldiers, or both looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Rutledge, and Middleton. Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months.

at the Battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson, Jr., noted that the British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. The owner quietly urged General Washington to open fire, which was done. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and grist mill were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home after the war to find his wife dead and his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and a broken heart. Morris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

Such were the stories and sacrifices of the American Revolution. These were not wild-eyed, rabble-rousing ruffians; they were soft-spoken men of means and education. They had security, but they valued liberty more. Standing tall, straight, and unwavering, they pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

They gave us an independent America! Can we keep it?

EARLY CLARK COUNTY PLACES

Shot into spotlight, junction now quiet

(printed by permission)

Duluth is a tiny, quiet community about 10 miles north of Vancouver.

However, nearly 15 years ago the community was catapulted into the headlines as the result of bizarre and senseless shootings. It was on a warm Saturday afternoon in July 1965 that John Frederick Anderson, then a 20-year-old college student, burst into a Duluth barbershop and began firing a pistol wildly at everyone in sight.

Today, the barbershop building is gone, and Duluth has reverted to a quiet crossroads neighborhood where newsworthy events seldom happen. The residents say they like it that way.

Duluth's roots go back less than 50 years. Its history dates to 1930, according to oldtimers.

It was in that year that the late Fred Pearson, who came to be known as the Mayor of Duluth, opened a fast-food restaurant on the southeast corner of the intersection of Northeast 10th Avenue and Northeast 219th Street. At that time, 10th Avenue was the route of Highway 99, a torturous and crooked two-lane road that offered the only link between Portland and Seattle.

The name Duluth was assigned to the community by Adolph Sauvie who opened a service station and store near the intersection. Sauvie's firm also served as a bus stop and the bus company insisted the community should have a name. Sauvie chose Duluth for his old hometown of Duluth, Minn.

Bob McIntyre, who moved to Duluth in 1935, recalled that in that year Sauvie's store and Pearson's restaurant made up the entire business district.

Today, a Minit-Mart convenience store, Harry's Duluth Tavern, a Texaco service station and a driveway and excavations firm have been added.

Pearson's original building was constructed of wooden boards covered with slabs from a sawmill. These slabs, with the bark intact, gave the building the appearance of a log cabin.

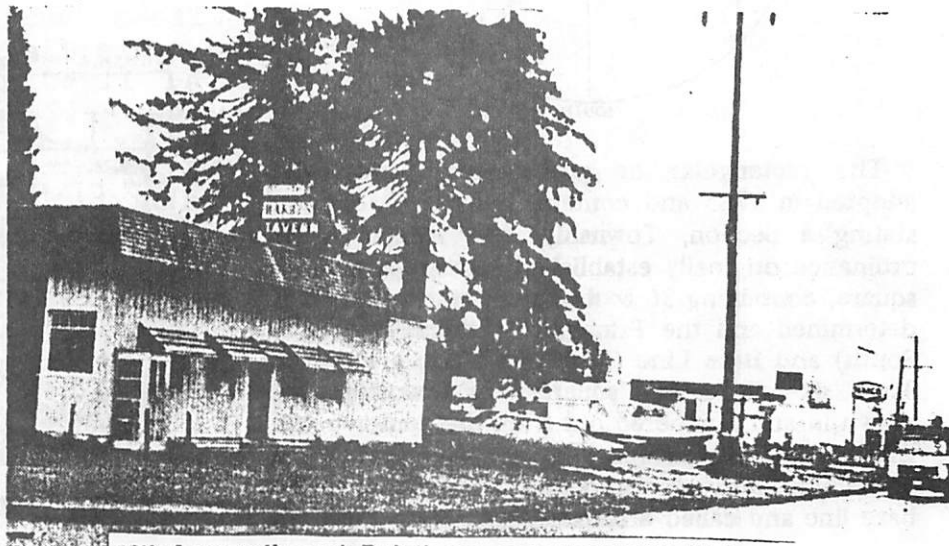

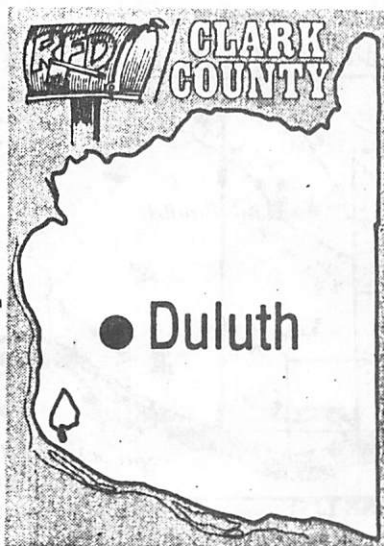

Today, a drive-in cafe occupies the same site as the hamburger haven, but a cement block building has replaced the original wooden structure.

McIntyre said the tavern was just under construction when he arrived there 45 years ago. Since then, not much has happened, although a big shopping center nearly located there. The plans for the center were dropped because of sewage problems.

In July 1965, Anderson, a journalism student at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, flew to Pearson Airpark in Vancouver in a rented plane. He subsequently robbed and killed a woman taxi driver, stole the cab and was pursued through the county by lawmen at speeds of 100 mph.

At the Duluth intersection, Anderson failed to negotiate the corner and the cab crashed into Howard Morford's barbershop. Anderson leaped from the cab and began firing wildly. He killed Morford, who was trying to protect his customers, and wounded two barbershop patrons.

Anderson pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment. The state Board of Prison Terms and Paroles set 35 years as the minimum sentence to be served by Anderson, but the man was released from the state penitentiary in 1975, 10 years after the crime.

10th Avenue through Duluth was once the Pacific Highway.

LAND RECORDS:

by Jane Germann

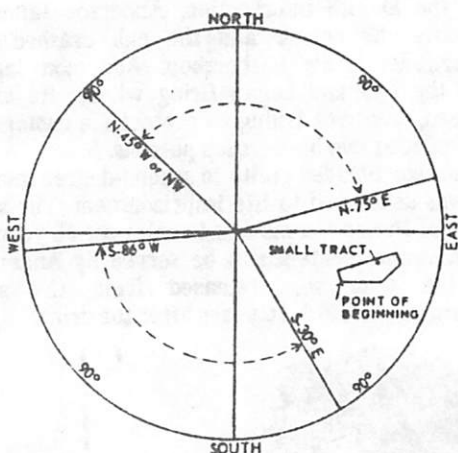

You've just found the name you've been searching for in the land records and you are bewildered by what it says.

Wilson, Thos. J. H#473 Sec 19 T3N R2E

Translated, this reads that Thomas J. Wilson, Homestead #473 found in Section 19 of Township 3 North and Range 2 East. To locate it, you need to know about townships, ranges and sections.

At first land was simply described often using monuments such as rivers, lakes, rocks, fences, etc. to describe the area. "Along side Brown's land" or "to the middle of Rock Creek and up to the top of the hill" lost meaning after Brown moved or the creek changed course.

The metes and bounds method uses a starting point and describes the property as so many feet (meted or measured) in such direction (bounded). Usually found only in cities that have already been surveyed, plated and recorded, this method is worthless if starting point is in error. Using the degrees of a circle, lines are established are shown below:

The rectangular or government survey was adopted in 1785 and contains a legal description stating a Section, Township, and Range. The ordinance originally established townships 6 miles square, containing 36 sections. A starting point is determined and the Principal Meridian (North & South) and Base Line (East and West) are drawn. Then six-mile sided "squares" or townships are drawn in and numbered out from the center point. Every four townships (twenty-four miles) a correction line is drawn in that runs parallel to the base line and called a standard parallel. However, true north-south and east-west boundary lines were geographically impossible and some alterations were necessary. "Added acreage" will be found on the north and west lines as shown below. [The border between Clark and Skamania Counties show an example at the First Standard Parallel.]

The location of a township is determined by how many "squares north, south, east, or west" it is from the center point. It will be ___ North or South of the Base Line (called a township) and ___ East or West of the Principle Meridian (called a range). Thus a description of T2N, R4W means this township is two North of the Base Line and four west of the Principle Meridian:

The lines for this area were drawn when Washington was a part of Oregon and the starting point is near Portland. The main North-South line is called the Willamette Meridian and runs through Ridgefield, and the standard parallels number all the way to the Canadian border.

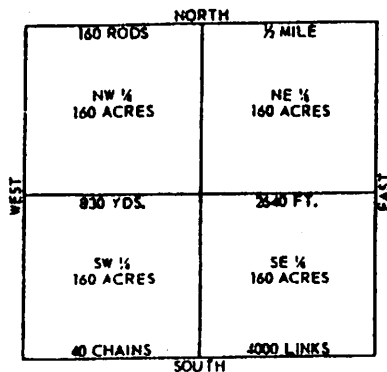

Once the township is located, then the section can be located. A section is 1/36th of a township and equals 640 acres or one square mile in area. Note the numbering of sections begins at the north-east corner, goes "backwards" or west, down one and then to go the east, then west, etc.

DIAGRAM SHOWING HOW SECTIONS ARE NUMBERED IN A TOWNSHIP

6	5	4	3	2	1
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

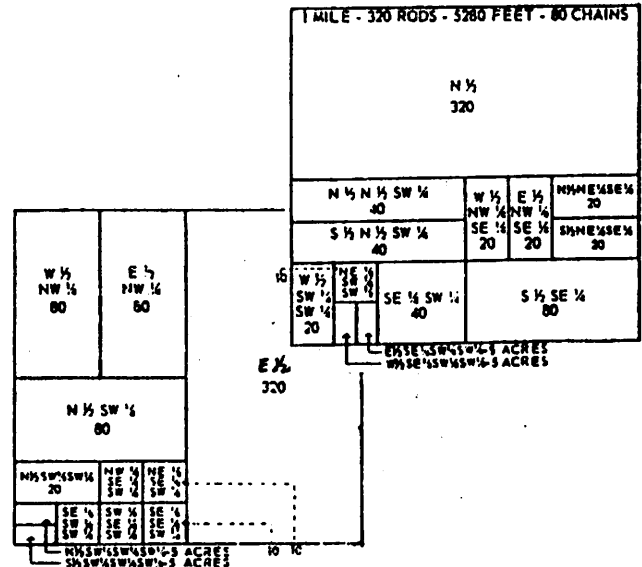

Each section can be divided into a variety of ways. Quarter-sections of 160 acres each are common.

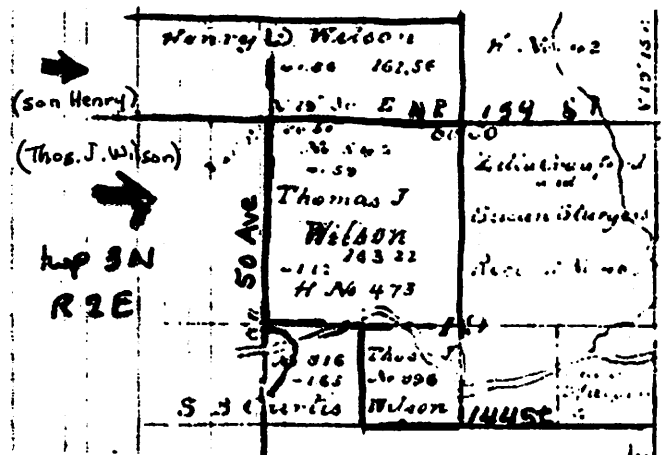

Another division of the section into sixteen squares indicates where the expression "the back forty" comes from!

80 RODS	1320 FEET	440 YDS.	20 CHAINS
NW 1/4 NW 1/4 40	NE 1/4 NW 1/4 40	NW 1/4 NE 1/4 40	NE 1/4 NE 1/4 40
SW 1/4 NW 1/4 40	SE 1/4 NW 1/4 40	SW 1/4 NE 1/4 40	SE 1/4 NE 1/4 40
NW 1/4 SW 1/4 40	NE 1/4 SW 1/4 40	NW 1/4 SE 1/4 40	NE 1/4 SE 1/4 40
SW 1/4 SW 1/4 40	SE 1/4 SW 1/4 40	SW 1/4 SE 1/4 40	SE 1/4 SE 1/4 40

Various divisions are possible and may use various measurements: 160 rods - 1/2 mile - 880 yards - 2620 feet - 40 chains - 4000 links, etc. As property was divided up either to be sold off or inherited, land descriptions have become more complex. Other examples of how a section can be divided up:

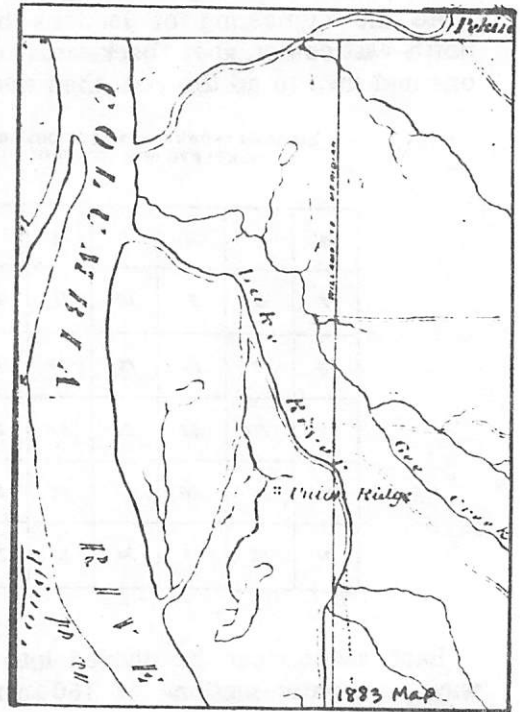

Here in Clark County, Arnold's county map shows the township and ranges. Also, the Historical Society has a set of township maps for Clark County that show property owners about 1880 and have drawn in location of modern streets, so it was easy to locate the property of Thos. J. Wilson a bit north of Pleasant Valley School.

The government survey method does not apply to the original thirteen states, New England states, Atlantic Coast states (except Florida) or West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas -- land descriptions using the old method were in use. In general, each state using the government survey method has its own starting point.

EARLY CLARK COUNTY PEOPLE

↓ The Columbian, Sunday, February 5, 1989

WILLIAM HENRY and JANE BRINN SHOBERT

William Henry Shobert married Susan Jane Brinn in Vancouver on May 6, 1878 and they lived to celebrate sixty-three years of married life. Henry's mother Catherine Mace was the daughter of William Jacob Mace and Polly Rebecca Kettner. She was born in Pennsylvania on February 18, 1818, and was six years older than her husband Frederick who was born February 2, 1806, in Luzerne Co., Pennsylvania. Frederick's parents were John Shobert and Catherine Harmon. William Henry Shobert was born September 14, 1849, Elk Horn Creek, IL.

Susan Jane Brinn was born May 6, 1878/9, at Salmon Creek, the daughter of Clark County pioneers Andrew Jackson Brinn and Mathilda Weigle. Andrew "Jackson" was born in 1830 in White Co., IL, and came to Portland, OR, with a cattle drive. He met the Weigle family and moved to their DLC on Salmon Creek where he met and on January 2, 1853, married Mathilda. Her parents were George Weigle and Susan Klingensmith.

According to the family, both the Shobert family and Weigle family came west in the same wagon train in 1852. Henry was only three and had an older brother Stephen who was 15 and three sisters, Amanda, Polly and Catherine. Uncle Napoleon had been a scout for the train. "Jackson" Brinn had come west the same year, helping drive a herd of cattle.

The first Shobert home was a log house 18 by 15 feet with three or four windows and stood not far from their house which in 1988 was added to the National Register of Historic Places. An intermediary "box house" was built and used until the mid 1870's and the old log cabin was used as a store house. This was at "Shobert's Landing" and up on the ridge that became Union Ridge and is now known as Ridgefield.

There were Indian paths along the river and Indians would often come to the house to sharpen their knives on the Shobert's grindstone. At one particular time, the Indians in the area had become somber and rumors had spread that local Chief Umtux was planning to attack the whites and that the Yakimas would join them. A warning came one night when Henry's father was away and his mother got the children quietly away and up the trail, and they spent the night in a hollow stump cuddled about the family dog. The family then took temporary refuge across the river to St. Helens blockhouse as did many of the early pioneer families.

They got their first kerosene lamp in 1878, taking care to not let it "blow up" as many did. The children still used the tallow candles made from their own rendered tallow with their candle molds. Many of their tools were made with the anvil that had crossed the plains with them.

Game and fish were plentiful and it was reported that Henry had killed 60 dozen ducks in one day's shooting for market in Portland. Even the duck feathers were traded for goods. The founder of Meier and Frank department stores, Aaron Meier, began his trade in the area by tramping through the Ridgefield area selling goods from his peddler's pack.

One of the early pleasures in the area was a barn-raising. It was a great social event and Henry would fiddle while someone else would call favorites "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "Girl I Left Behind Me."

The Shoberts and related families have been written up in Clark County Pioneers: A Centennial Salute. The first issue of the Fort Vancouver Historical Society's annuals has an excellent story on the Shobert family (p64-66) and other stories on the Ridgefield area. The Vancouver Columbian's Washington Centennial Issue published July 31, 1953, was the source of the photo in this article and is a rich resource of local history. William Henry Shobert was interviewed in the late 1930's for the Federal Writers' Project. A short typewritten biography included a reference to interviews with Mrs. Minnie Shobert Mills and a March 10, 1966 article in The Columbian.

Volunteer Spotlight

If you have needed assistance in locating information on your Clark County ancestry, you've no doubt encountered one of your happiest research experiences. Our research correspondent, Mary Snell, is an exceptional find. She goes way "beyond the call of duty" in trying to find the solution to your problems. In addition to checking the many C.C.G.S. resources, she travels to funeral homes, libraries and cemeteries leaving no stone unturned in her efforts to track down the elusive records.

A three year member of C.C.G.S., Mary has been active in the society since first joining. In addition to answering our many inquiries, she has helped with indexing, working on vital records and researching the LaCenter area people for volume two of Clark County Pioneers. Her bubbly personality and cheerful disposition make her a joy to work with.

Born in Portland, Oregon on October 15, 1952, Mary is the daughter of Gilson V. Fitz and Esther Marie Boman. Her grandparents, "Colonel" James Fitz and Alice Carry Metcalf, were married in the Sara district in 1901. Mary was married to Kenneth Eugene Snell in Portland on June 24, 1979. A native of Fountainhead, Tennessee, Kenneth was born there on January 22, 1951 to Robert Emory Snell and Ruby Eldena Holbrook. He is employed at the Portland Adventist Medical Center.

Mary Louise Snell

Mary grew up in Clark County and attended Columbia Academy here. Later she was a student at Walla Walla College and Kettering College of Medical Arts. She has worked in nursing homes in Vancouver, Milton Freewater and Newport as supervisor in the housekeeping and laundry departments. She recently held a secretarial position at Hewitt Research Foundation, a home schooling organization, in Washougal.

Although the Snells have no children they are very family oriented. Mary sews for her niece and thoroughly enjoyed the company of Kenneth's nephew Karl last summer. He traveled alone from Virginia on his first airplane trip and completed the requirements for several church honor badges while staying with them. A devoted animal lover, Mary has a year old german shepherd, "Tasha", and a chocolate point siamese cat named "Squeakie." The Snells are members of the Meadow Glade Seventh-day Adventist Church where Mary is Sabbath School Secretary and Deaconess.

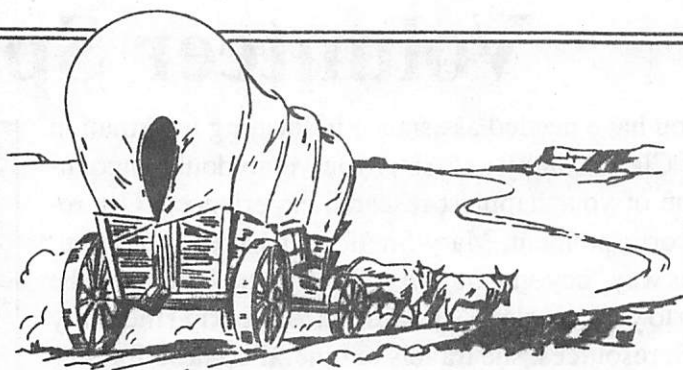

Attending classes taught by C.C.G.S. member Michael Thompson, she is studying with her mother to pursue her Swedish ancestry. She is also taking a computer class on Word Perfect. Her many hobbies include cross stitch, sewing, crafts, stamp and postcard collecting and photography.

Mary enjoys sharing her finds with family members and has made research trips to Salt Lake City, Whitman Co., Washington and Dallas, Oregon.

BOOK REPORTS

New books acquired by the Clark County Genalogical Society are reviewed by member Fran Harris. Come down to the library at 1511 Main Street, Vancouver, to see books listed below.

Ancestry's Redbook. American State, County, and Town Sources. Edited

R929.1 by Alice Eichholz. Salt Lake City: Ancestry Publications.
Eich Presented by June Andrews. To help you find research sources study the ten regional overview sections first, then move to your state of interest for location of vital records, newspapers, manuscripts and many other clues for research of that state. This should be a very helpful source. 1989.

Brothers, William P. Records of the Families of Brothers, Swan, 929.2 Bonar/Reeves, Beardsley. 1989. Presented by William P. Broth-
Bro ers, 430 Maple Way, Woodside, CA 94062. He follows these families in narrative style but including family groups with names, birth dates and places as well as marriages. Enhanced by newspaper clippings and photographs. Most of the early Swans were in PA and IA, others in VA. The early (1800) Brothers were in SC, AL, MS. Col. Nehemiah Beardsley, CT, was in the Revolutionary War.

Clark County Washington Marriages, Vol. Six. Vancouver, WA: CCGS.
1990. We are indebted to the volunteers who abstracted the H312.5 Clark County Clerk's records, typed and printed this sixth
WA of the series of marriage books. This book is for the year of 1916 listing about 1700 marriages. Lists name, age, birthplace, occupation of bride and groom as well as name and birthplace of parents. Alphabetized by groom with all names included in index.

Demographic History of the Comerfords. Compiled by Barney Comerford, 2627 SW Hamilton St., Portland, OR 97201. Presented by Kitty
929.2 Oman. This is a hardbound 550 page book. The first half is Com in narrative style telling of seeking Comerfords in Ireland and England with historical background, religion, Comerfords in America, and then family biographies. The rest of the book contains family charts which show the histories of families with names, locations, dates. Several indexes.

Eddlemon, Sherida K. Missouri Genealogical Records and Abstracts
977.8 Vol. 2: 1752-1839. Bowie, MD: Heritage Books. 1990.
MO Contains records from 1752 to 1839 to help the Missouri-Arkansas researcher. Indexed.

- How Book for Genealogists. Eighth Edition. Logan, Utah: Everton Publishers. 1986. Presented by Mary Minshek. Nine chapters tell you how to proceed with research, how to record what you find, and how to use your genealogical records. Brief but good suggestions.
- Inventory of Recorded Cemeteries in Ontario. 1983. Ontario Genealogical Society. 35 page booklet in an envelope in the vertical file listing cemeteries by county and township which have been transcribed.
- Marriage Licenses, State of Ohio, Guernsey County, Vol. A, 1810-1832. Presented by Janelle Bennett. Gives name of groom, bride, as well as date and page. Two section list names of bride or groom alphabetically.
- Matson-Thompson. Compiled by Margaret R. Lemper, 605 N. Almon #2, Moscow, ID 83843. 1990. Presented by June Andrews. This book of Matson-Thompson families has many pages of fascinating reading, evidently written by the author with the aid of detailed letters from relatives. Be sure to read pages IV and V about Clara Belle (Thompson) Matson. The Matson family came from northern Norway in 1888-1891 and settled in the southeastern part of the state of Washington. Indexed, many photos.
- Merriman, Brenda Dougall. Genealogy in Ontario. Searching the Records. Ontario Genealogy Society. 1984. Sixty-three page booklet in an envelope in the vertical file. Deals with sources in the Public Archives of Canada and the Archives of Ontario.
- The Old Maps of Southern Penobscot County, Maine in 1875. New York: Comstock & Cline. Saco Valley Printing, 76 Main St., Fryberg, ME 04037. 1985. Has detailed maps of villages, houses with family names, old roads and waterways.
- Penrose, Maryly B. Compendium of Early Mohawk Valley Families. Two volumes. Baltimore: Genealogy Publishing Co. 1990. From researched data from 18th-19th century record sources of the Mohawk Valley. Includes a large Palatine population, German speaking emigrants. Includes three Loyalist Military units. Names arranged alphabetically in the two volumes. Cross indexed for collateral names. 1790 census of Montgomery County in appendix.
- Pettit, Madge. Pioneers and Residents of West Central Alabama Prior to the Civil War. Bowie, MD: Heritage Books. 1988. This was a crossroads for pioneers moving westward from Virginia and the Carolinas. Material here came from cemetery inscriptions, newspapers, descendant information, military and pension records. Alphabetical surname sequence with cross-index.
- Roser, Susan E. Mayflower Marriages from the files of George Ernest Bowman. 10,000 entries span five centuries. Arranged by twenty-three family names, enabling you to trace several generations. Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co. 1990

Selected guide to Sources for Genealogy in the California Section, VF California State Library. Presented by Peggy Winston. The 929.1 library is in Sacramento. The last page has notes indicat-

 CA ing limits of search and copy service for mail inquiries.
 This is a ten page guide in an envelope in the vertical file.

Spencer, Wilbur D. Pioneers on Maine Rivers. Bowie, MD: Heritage
 974.3 Books. 1990. The author traces early pioneer establishments
 ME along rivers in Maine. Indexed.

Townsend, Homer J.E. Charles M. Ryman, Pioneer Teacher in Clark
 County, Illinois; Willamette Valley, Oregon; Klickitat County,
 929.3 Washington. Copies available from the author at 119 W Burgen Town St., Goldendale, WA 98620 for $15.50 plus $2 postage and handling and 7% sales tax for state residents. 1990. The inspiration for this book was Mr. Ryman's record of all his classes which gave names of students, length of term, salary and other details of all of his classes from Illinois to Goldendale 1880 to 1900. Mr. Townsend encountered this in the Klickitat County Historical Museum. The book is indexed.
 Charles Ryman was born in Illinois in 1857. He began teaching in 1880 but then came west in 1886 and taught in the Willamette Valley, Oregon. In 1888 he moved to Klickitat County, Washington Territory. In 1889 he married Mahala Piety whom he had known as a teacher in Illinois. After about twenty years Mr. Ryman became Superintendent of Schools in Klickitat County.

PUBLIC PRINTING. It is rumored here that Hon. E.L. SMITH, Secretary of the Territory, has tendered the position of Territorial printer to E.L. GUNN, of Olympia. Mr. GUNN is a very worthy young man, a practical printer and a strong Radical in politics. We should be much pleased to have him get the position. [1/3]

Our old friend A.H. BURBACK, Esq., has left Monticello, where for a long time he kept one of the very best hotels in the Territory, and has established himself in the mercantile business at Lafayette, Oregon. We regret the loss to our Territory of one of her best and substantial citizens. [1/3]

Call for a Public Meeting

The undersigned Committee, and other friends of humanity announce that there will be a public meeting at Metropolis Hall in this city on Wednesday evening the 11th inst., at 8 o'clock, in aid of the "American Freedmen's Union Commission," and respect fully request their fellow citizens to meet with them for that purpose.

Many believe this charity is eminently just and worthy of the highest commendation. We cordially invite such to come to the meeting and show their faith by their works. We earnestly invite those who think differently to come and hear what may be said in favor of the cause.

We expect to have good speakers, good music and other good things to contribute to the interest of the occasion.

THE QUESTION FINALLY SETTLED. Bro. J.W. JOHNSON, who by the way is an old citizen and former Adjutant General of this Territory, in the last number of the Lafayette Courier of which he is now the editor, argued and decided the question, as to whether "a State can secede" which was agitated some six or seven years ago. This very recent determination of a very old controversy will undoubtedly be a source of great gratification to the people generally. [2/2]

Senator WILLIAMS of Oregon was married to Mrs. KATE A. GEDRY of Portland on the _____ ? [2/2]

DROWNED. Mr. MICHAEL CARROLL who has been employed for some time past on Mr. DURGAN's scow met his death accidentally on Wednesday evening by drowning in the Columbia River. He had been in town late in the evening with a friend and was returning to the boat probably a little inebriated when he fell overboard just as his friend was about to strike a light to aid him in coming aboard. Deceased was a native of Ireland, had been employed here for more than two years and is supposed to have relatives residing at or near Portland. Search has been made for his body, but it has as yet not been recovered. [3/1]

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council met Sept. 2d. Mr. DURGAN is the Chair.

City Assessor presented a claim of $55.00 for official services; referred to Com. on accounts and expenses.

G.W. BRADY, City Marshall, tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

(Several other items of city business were completed.)

The annual assessment list was then examined and approved.

Council then adjourned. [3/1]

Re: Knapp-Gunderson Records
Winter 1990 Edition

In reading the funeral records published in the current issue - I found a listing for my great-grandmother, Sarah L. Payne. (page 12)

A notation indicated that she was probably the widow of Almon Payne. This is incorrect however, as she was the widow of D. Montgomery Payne, and is buried beside him and her daughter, Jane Rowell, in the Fisher Cemetary. For future reference, I would appreciate a correction.

Alman and Montgomery Payne were brothers and their section in Fisher Cemetary consists of two rows, one for Alman and his children, and the other for my great-grandparents, their son John, and daughter, Jane Rowell, and my grandparents, William and Nina Payne.

It is my understanding that Almon and his wife Minerva were divorced, but this has not been documented in my records.

Keep up the good work. I always enjoy reading the "Trail Breakers" from cover to cover.

Sincerely,

Barbara J. Jones J-012
