The Surname Column will be continued next issue. Our condolences to column editor Delillah Knight on the very recent loss of her husband. We thank her for her very faithful job over the past years.

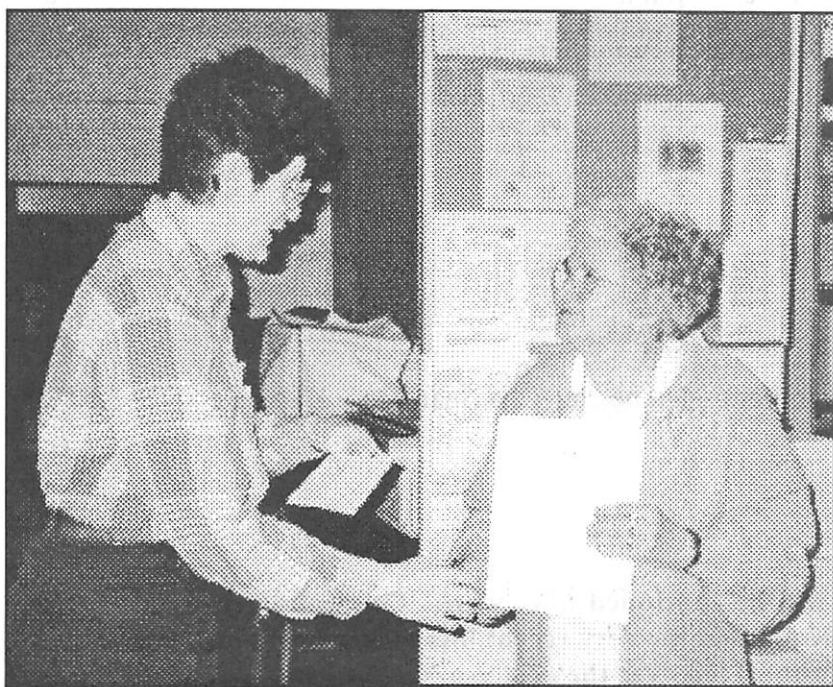

SWIFT representative Mary Clayton receives a lesson from Mary Katschke about the CCGS's GIRS program on the patron computer. Barbara Markword watches as Ruth Crockett browses in the stacks. A tour of the library was part of the orientation given to Mary when she came for the plaque presentation June 3, 1998.

SECOND PATRON COMPUTER ORDERED

A drive from the membership has brought in funds for a second computer for patron use. Because Roy Katschke donated his time and talents to build the shelving when the library moved downstairs, the savings allowed the librarians to obtain a "librarians only" computer allowing them to be more effective when helping patrons. The computers will share one printer.

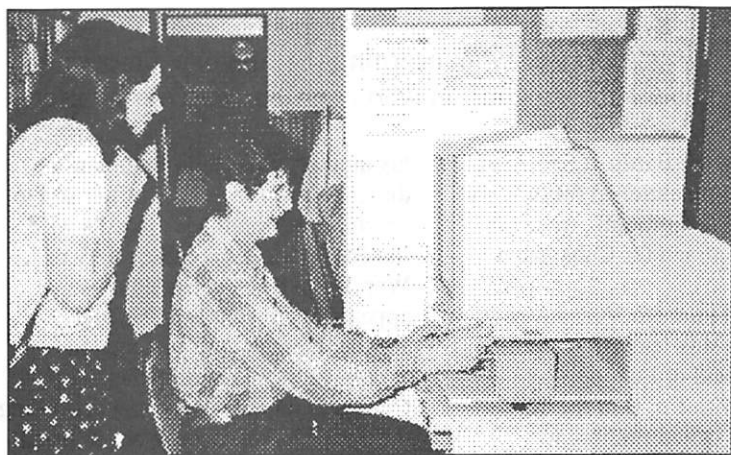

Margaret Coff Hepola receives thanks and congratulations from Mary Katschke. Margaret brought in a donation from her family to complete the drive for the second patron computer. This major contribution makes possible the purchase this summer. There has often been a waiting line to use the first computer and a second computer is greatly welcomed. The new computer will be to the right of the computer seen in the picture above.

Virginia & Don Cox's generosity is also appreciated. The June NEWSLETTER lists contributors (Sharon Wodtke, Richard & Caroline Wright also donated). -- a big

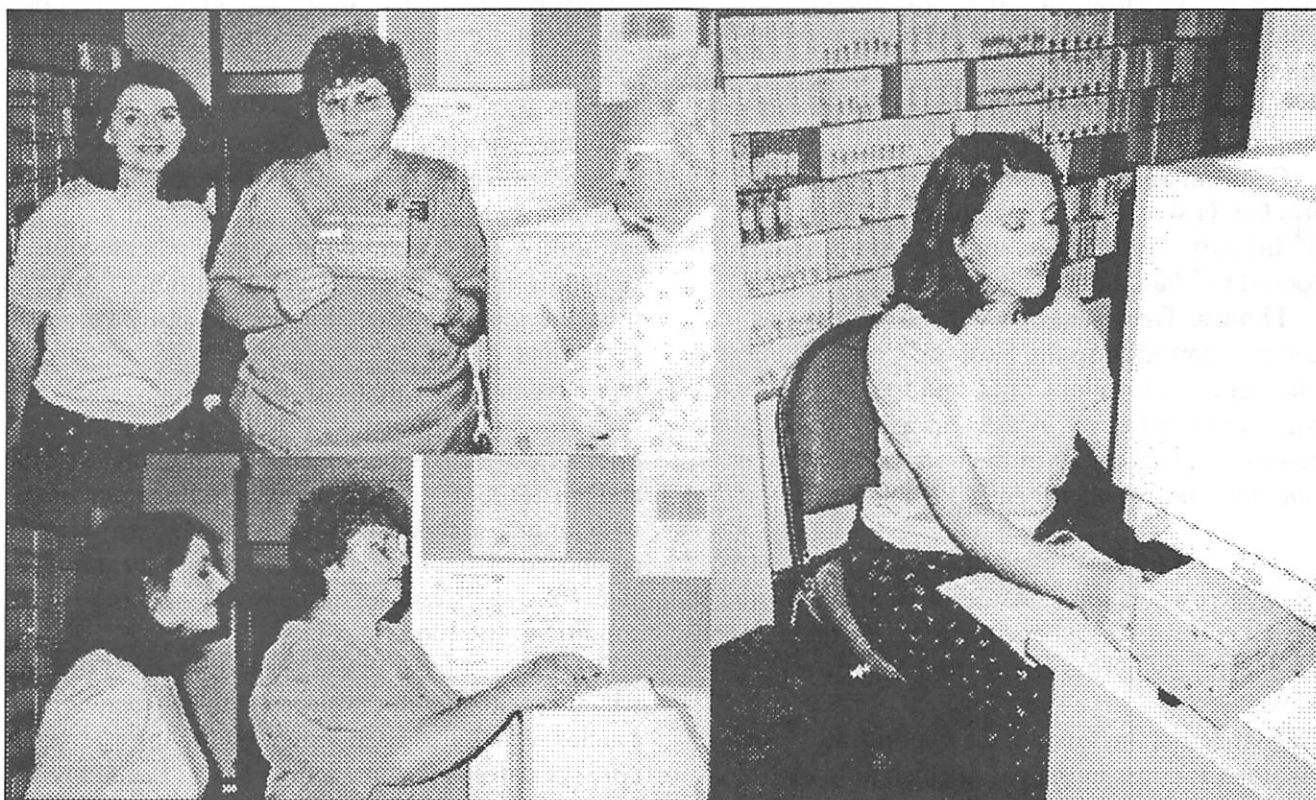

THANKS to all of you!

CANON 990 MICROPRINTER ARRIVES!

Grant writer Mary Katschke shows off CCGS's new micro-printer to SWIFT representative Mary Clayton. This project was supported in part by a grant from Southwest Washington Independent Forward Thrust (SWIFT). Additional donations were received from the Betty Korff Memorial Fund, the J.C. Penney Golden Rule Award, the Soroptimist International of Vancouver, and the capital reserve fund of Clark County Genealogical Society. The ease of using this machine was compared to a manual viewer. The new model will load microfilm and the patron can then make adjustments to increase or decrease the viewing image. Screen markers help the viewer select the area to be printed. Both microfilm and fiche can be used on this machine, but different ink cartridges are used in printing. Please check with the librarian to make sure the correct one is in the machine -- using the right one will help prolong the life of the machine. Time saved and the ability for the researcher to have an exact copy are great benefits of this equipment.

CLARK COUNTY SPANISH-AMERICAN SOLDIERS

PART 3 by Jane Germann

Part 3 continues with extracts from the Vancouver Independent concerning the Spanish American War. But first is additional information from member Richard Grafton who contributes to our quarterly.

In regards to George Damphoffer, author of one of the letters sent home and published in the newspaper:

Isabel, "Bella," A. Quigley Damphoffer, the divorced wife of Louise Damphoffer, married Albert Bateman on December 8, 1883. George Damphoffer, born ca 1879 in Vancouver, WA, the son of Louis and Isabel Damphoffer came with his mother into their marriage to Albert Bateman.

At age 19 years, George enlisted in the U.S. Army at Seattle, WA, April 1898, and was assigned to Company B, 16th Infantry, Fort Sherman, Idaho, before being sent as a musician, to Cuba with his regiment. He was present during the Battle of San Juan, allegedly being mentioned for bravery and promoted to Corporal. (note his letter from Santiago De Cuba dated July 7 1898).

Invalided home to Vancouver on a three month sick leave, then to the Philippine island of Luzon, where he participated with Co. B of the 16th Inf. During the so called Philippine Insurrection. In August 1899, Corporal George Damphoffer, now 20 years old, was arrested along with two companions for "having outraged" a Filipino woman near Manila. Found guilty of rape by a court martial, he was sentenced to be shot to death. After several intercessions by Senator A.G. Foster on behalf of the boy and his mother, plus Bella Bateman's direct appeal for the life of her son to President William McKinley's wife, Ida Saxon McKinley, Secretary of War, Elihu Root, received these appeals, reviewed the case, and commuted the death sentence to twenty years imprisonment. Thus, George Damphoffer did not die during the Spanish American War [as listed in Part 1].

Private William Patton, Co. G. 14th Infantry, died in the hospital at Honolulu of Typhoid fever, on Aug. 8. Lieut. Hunt and several pirates, of the 14th, are sick at Honolulu, all suffering with typhoid fever.

... Corporal John Hasson has been transferred from Co. G Washington Volunteer to Company M. 14th Infantry, holding his rank of corporal, and will proceed to Manila to join his company.

... Thomas Geoghegan, a Vancouver boy, has been transferred from the Hospital Corp Volunteers, to the regular Hospital Corps, and has been order to proceed to Circle City, Alaska, as assistant Hospital Steward with a battery of the d Artillery. Vancouver Independent, Aug. 12, 1898, p3.

FROM OLD MANILA.

B. C. Brown, a son of Andrew Brown, enlisted at the first call for volunteers in Co. K, Second Oregon Volunteers, and writes home from Manila as follows:

We landed at the town of Cavite on July 1st and went into quarters in the old Spanish military barracks.

There are situated on a small island together with the town and connected with the main land by a causeway. On the half of the island facing the open bay are the forts and barracks while behind lies the town.

There are thick high stone walls, many of them mounting cannon, but these were silenced by a few shots from Dewey. These walls are about twenty feet high and of equal thickness, and some at least are hollow and contain dungeons as indicated by skeletons, old irons, etc. The description of the prison as given in "Ben Hur" would apply very well to this one. Other parts were used as an arsenals as their contents indicated.

The barracks are long low buildings of stone, brick or concrete without ceilings and with thick tile and plaster roofs. The windows are large and open with hinges or slides to the sides. They are composed of small square of this translucent oyster shell. ...[a description of the town, working conditions and food follow] ...

This paper is from an old book of Spanish records which I picked up in the store room for such articles, which had been looted by the insurgents. It bore the dates between 1884 to 1840. I send my love to you and all the many friends.

Your loving son,

S.C. BROWN

Vancouver Independent, 1 Sept. 1899, p. 3

Glenn Ranck begins his letter printed Sept 15, 1898 with a description of the visit to the San Francisco mint. He talks about himself, Weston, Plaine, Lawrence, Casey O'Donnell, and Corporals Fletcher and Henrichsen being tempted by "flesh pot of Egypt." The letter ended:

The Vancouver boys were deeply saddened to hear of the death of Harry Huston. He had many friends there, and we will sadly miss the hearty shake of his hand upon our return.

A VANCOUVER BOY: We take the following from the Chicago Times-Herald. The announcement of the death of Private John Bennett Blake has cast a shadow over more than one household in Hyde Park, where the young man lived with his mother. Blake succumbed to typhoid fever at Santiago, Sept. 19, after playing his part in the campaign and suffering for two weeks from the ravages of the disease. At the beginning of the war Blake five times attempted to enlist, but was dissuaded by his widowed mother, who could not see that she ought to sacrifice her son. Finally however, she consented and Blake enlisted in the 10th I infantry. Finding it impossible to get to Cuba with his regiment, he transferred to the Fifth infantry and went to Santiago. The unexpected news of his death has completely prostrated the mother, and has been received with sorrow by many Hyde Park friends of the young soldier. Private Blake was 20 years old, and was born at Fort Vancouver, Wash., white his father, the late Dr. Alden I. Bennett, of Beloit, Wis., and a nephew of Thomas and Phineas Bennett, both veterans of the civil war. Alden Blake, brother of the dead soldier, lives with the mother in Hyde Park. Vancouver Independent, Oct. 6, 1898, col. 3.

George Damphoffer arrived home last Sunday from Huntsville, Alabama, on a 60 day furlough, and is now with his mother, Mrs. A. Bateman. George enlisted in Co. B, 16th Infantry about two years ago, and at the outbreak of the war his regiment went to Santiago, where it participated in the fierce fighting. He was with his company when it charged again the Spaniards at El Caney. Vancouver Independent, Oct. 13, 1898, p. 3.

In another Ranck report:

We have already met two ex-Vancouverites, John Becker, who is here on the Bennington, and Mr. R.C. Geer, who is a resident of Honolulu. Mr. Geer ways that counting Co. G and the boys who went through with other companies – Ralph Wintler, Charles Brant, Calvin White, John Hasson and Tod Moore – it looked as though all the Vancouver boys of his acquaintance had gone to this front. Will Elwell is also here with the engineers. we have not seen him yet, but hear that he is well and hearty. . . . Vancouver Independent, Dec 8, 1899 p3.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS AT MANILA.

The stern realities of war have been brought to the doors of Vancouver, and for the past few days every bit of news was eagerly sought, and every list of names of killed and wounded were scanned for names of Clarke county boys. And although the reports have been unsatisfactory, it is settled that several of our boys have stopped Philippine bullets. So far as be ascertained, Oliver J. Clancy, George M. Mills, William J. Kays of Co. G, 1st Washington are wounded, but how seriously is not known. These boys are well known, and further news of their condition is awaited, with interest.

Of the 14th Infantry, many of the boys are killed and wounded. Lieut. James Mitchell, 14th Infantry, is amount the killed He leaves a wife, who is prostrated over the sad affair, at the barracks. Vancouver Independent, Feb. 9, 1899, p. 3.

Feb. 23, 1899, an article under Military Matters gave a report of the war, but no names were listed with the reports of deaths.

Ranck's report of Mar 2, 1899, mentions sleepy heads like Joe Trisler, Leo Smith, Harry Fleming or The Marine. He continues with a description of the fighting: However, everything has quieted down wonderfully in the last two days . . which is very sad news for such brave warriors as Joe Goddard, Leo Smith, George Duncan and Nick Clancy, as they have been thirsting for a fight ever sin e we came. He continues: . . . Yesterday we buried Private Carlisle of Co. I, who was the first one to die in the Washington regiment in Manila . . . Carlisle was followed to his grave by the entire battalion and was buried with full military honors. . . . "Dutch" Waite, who was guarding [the prisoners who refused to work], but when "Dutch" struck him a blow on the head with the butt of his gun, the prisoner concluded to go quietly on the "Noiseless tenor of his way." . . . G. Troop has a new top sergeant in the person of Hank Riegle, who succeeded W.V. Cotchett. . . . Last week the Washington regiment celebrated its first pay day in Manila. The pay was for two months and it is needless to add that such fellows as Jim Wolfe, Chape Mills and Sam Lawrence had a high old time. . . . As the mail leaves this morning at 9:30 o'clock, I will have to bring this letter to an abrupt close, by sending the compliments of Co. G. boys to Mr. and Mrs. Otis Smith.

FOR CHAPLAIN THOMPSON

Both houses of the legislature passed a joint resolution, presented by Thacker.

"Whereas, Rev. John R. Thompson, chaplain of the First regiment, Washington volunteers, is dead at Manila, Philippine Islands, where he was faithfully and heroically serving his country, and

"Whereas, Said decedent was and had been for many years useful and honored citizen of the state of Washington, having served as president of the last territorial council and filled other positions of public trust and honor; therefore, be it:

"Resolved, That he legislature, of the state of Washington regrets the death of Dr. Thompson and deplores the loss thus suffered by his regiment and by his state suffered by his regiment and by his state, and that the sincerest condolence is here by tendered to his family, relatives and friends.

"That this resolution be entered upon the house and senate journals and a copy thereof be forward to his regiment, his family and nearest relatives."

W. Byron Daniels of Clarke is the author of the resolution, he being a pioneer acquaintance of the deceased chaplain.

Vancouver Independent, Mar 2, 1899, p3.

The last report cabled from Manila by General Otis, of the deaths, includes the name of Henry O'Flaherty, private in Company L, 2nd Oregon Vol. He was 22 years of age and enlisted in company L at The Dalles last spring. He was born here in Clarke county, and was a son of J.E. O'Flaherty, who lives at Barberton. Henry was quite well known in Vancouver, having attended school in this city several terms. Vancouver Independent, Mar. 16, 1899, p. 3.

A Salmon Creek Boy Writes of the Battle of Manila on San Pedro

Macati, Feb 5th 1899

Dear Folks at Home. I have been through a fight and a hard one at that; came out without a scratch. The battle of the 5th of February will be long remembered by the Washington regiment. We lost quite heavily; being second on the list; the Fourteenth was first. We had three men wounded in our company, two of them shot I the arm and Sergt. Clancy shot in the neck, none of the serious. The fight really commenced the 4th about 10 p.m. It was started by the Nebraska regiment, and heavy firing was kept up two hours, then stopped, commencing again about three a.m. along the whole line. Our regiment began firing at blockhouse 11, but our battalion did not commence firing till 6 a.m. We were under heavy fire for about three hours, when a charge was ordered along the whole line. We charged and carried everything before us, and had to wade through a ditch where the mud and water was up to our arm pits, be we got through all right and made the natives get, and I guess some of them are not through running yet. The Idaho regiment was in the charge with us, and also the California regiment.

We are now out to this place about four miles from our quarters. I would have written sooner, but did not have the material to write with. As soon as we get back to quarter I will write all about the battle, which will take several pages. Our battalion charged, and took a hill where there were about 200 natives. We took 88 prisoners, killed 74 and wounded several; we lost four men in that charge. They shot two of our men down under a flag of truce; that is the reason we slaughtered them so.

When we took Santa Anna we were about 2000 strong and the natives between ten and fifteen thousand.

Ralph Wilson and Joe Goddard are all right, so is Jim Wolfe and Mort and Chape Mills. My health keeps good, never felt better. Good-bye

1920 census facts

Enumeration of the census began January 2, 1920 and statistics were to reflect an individual's status on that date even if circumstances changed between that date and the actual date the enumerator took the data. Thus a birth occurring during this space of time should not be recorded and a person who died likewise should be recorded as a part of the census. Enumeration in rural areas was to be done in 30 days and areas of 2,500 population or more were allowed two weeks. However, influenza epidemics and severe winter weather caused delays.

The 1910 census included information on unemployment, Union or Confederate military service, number of children, duration of marriage which is not on the 1920 form. But 1920 included the year of naturalization and native tongue. It also asked arrival and naturalization status of each foreign-born person and asked about the year of naturalization for those who became citizens: NA = naturalized, PA = declaration filed, AL = alien, NR = not reported. The year of naturalization will be a welcome clue in searching for those records. Prior to 1906, most naturalizations were conducted in local and state (non-federal) courts. Check first with the county clerk where your ancestor resided. Federal court records are generally kept by region. This was also the first time Guam, American Samoa, and the Panama Canal Zone had been enumerated.

Because the 1920 census was taken soon after WWI, boundary modifications in Europe left individuals uncertain about how to identify their national origin. Enumerators were instructed to spell out the names of the city, state, province, or region of any declaring they or their parents had been born in Germany, Austria-Hungary, Russia, or Turkey. Servicemen were treated as residents of their duty posts and schedules and a Soundex index for overseas military and naval forces is available. All states have a Soundex index, which makes this census a valuable research tool.

Separate Indian population schedules were not taken and natives were enumerated with the general population schedules. Congress authorized all non-population schedules destroyed, but agricultural schedules for Puerto Rico, HI, Guam, McLean (IL), Jackson (MI), Carbon (MT), Santa Fe (NM) and Wilson (TN) survived. For additional information, contact NARA, Civil Reference Branch, NNRC, Wash. DC, 20408 (202) 501-5395.

This data is from National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) General Information Leaflet 42, 1992.

BOOK REVIEWS by Sharon Wodtke

The Willis Family of the Northern Neck in Virginia, 1669-1737 - Peggy Frances Rush. A factual and historical account of the life of John Willis Sr. (who died in what was then Richmond County, in 1715) and his known family based on surviving documents. Much of the research was compiled from County Court orders and minutes; wills and estate administrations; deeds; land records; and original patents and grants. The author has updated most of the later documents, but the will of John Willis Sr. and some of his deeds were left in their original forms to give the reader a flavor of the old language. 1998, 205 pp., bibl., full name index, paper. $19.00 #3R873; Heritage Books, Inc., 1540-E Pointer Ridge Place, Suite 300, Bowie, MD 20716

Miscellaneous Texas Newspaper Abstracts, Deaths, Volume 1 - Michael Kelsey, Nancy Graff Floyd, Ginny Guinn Parsons. While Texas is the focus of the majority of the death notices, there are numerous references to various other states. The authors have abstracted any mention of a death or implied death. Due to the severity of poor roads and insufficient rail and telegraph connections in Texas and across the antebellum South, it became paramount for the diffusion and assimilation of news that a reliable means of communication be established. Communication of news was primarily carried out by the mails, stages, steamboats and most importantly the newspaper. The common practice was for editors to place their newspapers on what was called an "exchange list" with other leading newspapers within their region or state. Once an editor received an "exchange" he merely gleaned from its pages political or social items that he found of interest or believed worthy of printing in his local newspaper. Reference is made to fifty-six newspapers published outside of the state of Texas. The book also contains a surname index for the ease of researchers. (Also look for Deaths Volume 2)

HARGREAVES/BUFFAM INFORMATION

Member Pat Baars saw some familiar names in the Vol. 24, No. 2 Trail Breakers on page 20. She has responded with some correction and additions.

First, the correct spelling is HARGREAVES. Without research, it is impossible to tell if the other spellings were transcribing errors or as the records recorded the name(s).

Researchers need to record records as they appear, making note of the disparity.

Here is information Pat sent:

SARAH HARGREAVES:

She was born in Pontefract, Yorkshire West Riding, England, the daughter of William BARBER or BARBOUR and Betsey or Bessie BUCHLER. The family Bible lists 10 March 1852 as birthday, but it could be christening date.

WILLIAM HARGREAVES:

Born 31 Mar 1849 in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois, the obituaries in the Oregonian and Journal say he died Monday, 14 September 1931. His parents were Samuel HARGREAVES and Sarah BARBOUR (above).

MARY ELIZABETH

HARGREAVES: Born 27 Aug 1858 near Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, her parents were Edward ADAMS, b. Tennessee, and Fanny Jane McVAY b. Indiana. Mary and her husband have six children.

PETER EDWIN (not

EDWARD) BUFFAM: Born in Dalhousie Township, Lanark County, Ontario, Canada (although he probably always said he was born in the United States), he came to the US as a very young child. Pat has a copy of his Canadian birth certificate.

LAURA BUFFAM: Born 25 May 1883 in Proebstal, Clark County, WA, she was the daughter of William HARGREAVES and Mary E. ADAMS.

INFANT BUFFAM:

Corrections as noted above.

For more information, write Pat Baars at 1200 NE Territorial Road, Canby, OR 97013-2401.

Contact: Dir. Family and Regional History Program

Supporting the Family and Regional History program at Wallace State College is their library of diverse genealogical materials. Researchers and potential students of the college's family history program have much to gain on the local level by accessing the holdings at this facility.

The notoriety of Wallace State's genealogy courses led the institution's library to make the decision to devote an entire floor to a large genealogy collection of books, periodicals, and microfilmed primary records. Currently, Wallace State's Family and Regional History Program has the only entire set of genealogical CD-ROM's in the Southern U.S.

Family historians will be delighted to learn that a very large periodical collection devoted entirely to genealogy and local history is waiting to be used. The collection, a gift of the North Central Alabama Genealogical Society, has been indexed in the Periodical Source Index (PERSI). Also available is the microfiche to the worldwide microfilmed family history collection of the LDS Library. Wallace also participates in the American Genealogical Lending Library program in which hundreds of thousands of reels of microfilm can be borrowed for the researcher.

A marvelous array of materials awaits those who visit Wallace State's Library. Included are some fabulous Alabama sources that include censuses, city directories. Cherokee removal troop records and Confederate censuses from 1907. 1921. And 1927. Convict Death Records from 1884-1952 can be found along with records of the Creek War Troops from the 1830's. Land Office Records and maps round out many of the Alabama sources. Library users will also find Naturalization records, voter lists, obituaries (1950-1979) and a variety of other censuses outside of the standard Federal materials. Among some of the more interesting matter are the Wills. Although incomplete, genealogists will find an index for Wills for the years 1808-1870 for Alabama.

Revolutionary compiled service records and an index to the naval records of the American Revolution are but a sampling of the materials available for this period of history. Wallace State describes the Civil War holdings as AVast@. They have approximately 9,000 regimental and general histories for the North and South and also have the indices to the Federal (Union) Civil War pensions and the index to correspondence of the Federal Pension Office.

Wallace State College Library also offers family historians excellent collections of materials for the following states: Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina. Much can also be found on the states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, The Virginias and Wisconsin.

Material of note at Lawton is the Dr. Melton P. Meek Collection of Southern Genealogy. The set is large, consisting of over 500 albums of documented research on a multitude of primary surnames. Genealogists will be please to learn that this 96- roll collection of microfilm has a 6-volume index which may be studied to ease the use of the film. The library also offers the Federal Tract Books of Oklahoma Territory. This material names people who applied for homesteads or Indian Allotments in Oklahoma Territory, but they do not include allotments of the Five Civilized Tribes nor the Osage Indians. Researchers must keep in mind that the set of microfilm does not necessarily follow county lines within the state. The Federal Tract Books are indexed.

Lawton Public Library works closely with the Southwest Oklahoma Genealogical Society (SWOGS). The Lawton Chapter of the DAR, the Lawton Chapter of the Daughters of 1812, and the Southwest Oklahoma Historical Society. Services to genealogists include the sale of special SWOGS publications and forms. Because the library's collection is not available through inter-library loan, researcher may submit their inquiries and the questions will be handled by the Southwest Oklahoma Genealogical Society. The library staff will however copy newspaper obituaries when a death date is supplied.

The Lawton Public Library Family History Room is currently offering researchers a substantial collection consisting of over 6,000 books, and 3,000 rolls of microfilm. It is the second largest genealogical in the state of Oklahoma. This collection primarily deals with Oklahoma and the Southern migration routes; however, the library does offer materials from other states as well.

Lawton Public Library offers all Federal censuses and their indices for the entire state of Oklahoma, the state Tract Books with surname index and the Indian-Pioneer History Collection (oral histories collected by the W.P.A.). In addition to the standard fare of family, county, and town histories the library specializes in the records of the Kiowas, Comanches, and Apaches. The Family History Collection of those Indian tribes consists of the 1901 Family Record Book kept by the Kiowa Agency, all Census rolls which form the onset of the reservation period, agency vital records, agency estate records, and a compilation of land records. All these materials have been designated as reference.

Lawton Public Library also offers a superb grouping of census indices for states outside of Oklahoma and many rolls of census film, although the collection is deemed incomplete. They do have the 1860 Agricultural Schedules for Texas and Tennessee, and the index to the War of 1812 Service Records. Researchers will also find the Texas Birth Index (1903-1909) and the Texas Death Index (1903-1940) here as well.

b. 1840 Belgium, d. 22 Mar 1907 cause of death not listed, age 79y. Int. Mar 1907 in NE 74-1 Line 7. (SELF). He was a wealthy, highly educated and an atheist. Arthur Haine first arrived in New York and fell in love with a glamorous stage star who agreed to marry him. She later broke the engagement abruptly, and Haine vowed that day to never marry. "All women are treacherous and deceitful," he once uttered. He came west by 1871 as a government clerk, lived at Mrs. Mary Turnbull's rooming house in the 1880 Census and was then listed as a census enumerator; in 1883 he started the Vancouver Hoop Factory along the Washougal River where now stands a paper mill. The company specialized in wooden hoops that hold barrels together. He was a big man, hot tempered, well groomed, with bushy hair with a drooping handle-bar mustache, and was a "penny pincher". He loved bird hunting and had two purebred hounds named Pat and Mike. He left Vancouver for several years around 1900 for he was not listed in the census of that year. He said in his will "my funeral is to be the cheapest of kind, and I don't want my body to be transported but buried near the place where I may die. As I have lived an infidel, I want to be buried as such without any monkey business. I wish to be hauled to my grave by a team of matched white horses. I wish to be directed at a smart pace. I wish to have a band follow, running if they must, and playing lively tunes." The Vancouver Mortician who handled the burial said he followed those instruction to a "T", and the community was so outraged that he subsequently went out of business. Authur Haine's tombstone reads "Haine Haint." Parents were not listed but they were both born in Belgium. Ref: #3, & #6 (1871 & 1880 Census).

The Ancestral Lines of - BROWNE-BROWN and

Allied Families. Compiled by Betty Brown Sheeran, (Two-Volume Set) 1997, 972 pp., two-volume edition, indexed archival paper, $125.00 + $6.50 s/h. Sheeran of Stonegate Press - P.O. 1119, Fall City, Washington 98204

This exceedingly well-done work contains the ancestral lines of Brown-Brown and Allied Families and is based on data collected by Betty Brown Sheeran and assisted by Arthur Fiske, a renowned Northwest Genealogist. The Books are the result of eighteen years of research and authoritatively cover the entire known agnate progeny of an early and prolific settler of Lynn, Massachusetts.

Ms. Sheeran secured a 1915 publication on her Browne-Brown genealogy, but it did not extend to the female members of these families. She felt that for too long wives and mothers were sadly neglected or deemed irrelevant. Once married, a woman's identity was merged with that of her husband's and her ancestry was forgotten. As Ms. Sheeran continued with this major undertaking, she was led to the discovery of some very important ancestors.

The two volumes are documented by footnoted references to the specific town or state and its vital records, cemetery, probate, deed or census records. References to published genealogies have been included for completeness and are almost never the sole source. The two-volume set includes an every name index. Also included is a fan chart, beautifully created in calligraphy with 128 names.

The two BROWNE-BROWN volumes. Of over 972 pages, contain biographies and historical facts of the period in which the ancestor lived. An unusual feature in a Honor Roll, with categories of titles, such as the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Colonial Wars, Revolutionary War, early Colonial Physicians, Colonial Clergy, Presidents of the United States and Witches. Under each title will be found a list of the ancestors that served in that particular classification along with their brief biographical sketch.

Thomas Browne was born in 1628 in England and immigrated to Lynn, Massachusetts. His descendants went to Stonington, CT, Westerly and Hpkinton, RI, Ellisburg, NY and then to Rochester and Waseca, MI, and journeys beyond. Thirteen generations of Browne-Brown men and their wives' lineage are recorded for posterity!

This is a very prestigious addition to our Library, Mrs. Sheran should be highly commended for her perseverance in the completion of this project.

Getting to know our Life Members

Frances Helen (THOMPSON) EDDY and James Albert EDDY

To have both the President and Recording Secretary of the Willamette Valley Genealogy Society (WVGS) in Salem, Oregon, elect to become life members of CCGS is a distinct honor for this Society.

Frances, who is the President of WVGS, joined CCGS in June 1995. Her husband, Jim, is the Recording Secretary and Newsletter Editor of WVGS. When she decided to make sure her dues were paid and to support CCGS, she added her husband and they both became life members on 22 January 1998. Frances is the primary researcher in their family and they both work on the WVGS quarterly bulletin, Beaver Briefs. [Through our exchange program, we have all of these wonderful quarterlies since 1977 filed with the Oregon periodicals under Salem. This publication is indexed in PERSI and has 462 citations to a wide variety of articles]. Frances is working on a couple of projects for publication and volunteers at the State Library two days a week and a Family History Center one-day a week. Frances and Jim live in Salem, Oregon so their membership is extra special. They enjoy reading the CCGS Newsletters and our Trail Breakers and are looking forward to our next volume of Clark County Marriage Records. They both put down that our CCGS publications are the best thing about CCGS for them. In order to prepare this article, they responded to a set of questions but then went beyond the call of duty to write several paragraphs about their interest in genealogy, which is quoted at the end of this write-up.

Frances was born in 1932 in Lafayette, Boulder Co., Colorado but her father was a coal miner, who lived and worked in West Virginia. She graduated from Commerce High School in Portland and has taken numerous classes through her local college. Although she "retired" after 37 ½ years with the Welfare/Senior Services Division of the State of Oregon, the amount of volunteer work she does for the WVGS, the State Library, the local Family History Center and in the local and State Rebekah Lodge is equivalent to being a full-time job! How generous!

When she does get a chance to research, she uses both the PAF and FTM genealogy programs and is currently researching the THOMPSON, ROBBINS, COLLAR, WARNER, UPSON, LEYTON, CAHOON, VERVACKE and SCHEPENS surnames. (These last two are Belgian). Her best tip for genealogists was to not believe everything in print.

Jim was born in 1931 in Albany, Linn Co., Oregon and is a retired Data Processing Manager for Human Resources Division for the State of Oregon. He worked for the State over 35 years and has a number of interesting hobbies. One is model railroading and another is collecting 78 rpm records dated prior to 1940. He has been supporting his wife's genealogy research since 1995. His surnames are:

EDDY, LIVINGSTON, OWEN, FELLNER, GREISE, ZLOCZEWSKI and GOLDMAN.

In answer to the question on "When and how did you get started in genealogy?" Frances wrote:

"I started working on genealogy in 1994. I was feeling very alone because of not having any family left and decided to find out more about my father's ancestors. Since starting my research, I have found several living cousins in Oklahoma, California and Michigan. Jim and I have spent the last three Christmases with my family in Oklahoma. What a joy it has been for me to find these folks."

"In addition to learning about my ancestors, I have learned a great deal about the states of Oklahoma, Michigan and Illinois. My mother was born in Belgium and my research on her lines has given me the opportunity to read the records in the languages of Flemish, French and Latin. I am not fluent, but can certainly understand what is written."

"My research on Jim's family has uncovered much information about his family that he didn't know. His 3rd great grandfather came from The Netherlands in 1847 and settled in Ottawa Co., Michigan. Several generations lived there, however, I haven't been able to find any living cousins yet. Another 2nd great grandfather, William EDDY, was a member of the DONNER party and was one of those who went ahead for help. Although Jim does little research himself, he is very supporting of my efforts."

"To sum up my experience with genealogy, getting acquainted with living family, learning about those who have lived before us, learning about history and getting acquainted with other who have like interests is what it is all about."

Ruth Joan (SMITH) FISHER

She is a true Washingtonian, having been born in St. Joseph's Hospital in Vancouver, WA on 14 March 1946. Her middle name is pronounced like "Joanne" but she goes by Ruth. She graduated from Fort Vancouver High School, where she is now employed as a staff assistant to 16 different teachers in 5 separate departments. In her spare time at work, she helps out in the Library and the Office. Since retirement is still 14 or 15 years in the future, she uses most school vacations to travel and see family or to do genealogy. During this past Spring Break, she was off to Montana and Yakima, Washington on genealogy research. After High School, Ruth took two years of business education at Clark College.

Healthy skepticism was the genesis of Ruth's interest in Genealogy. During the Christmas season of 1984, Ruth and her family listened to a audio tape of an elderly cousin telling stories about the first Baptist Missionary to Oregon Territory crossing on the Oregon Trail. This was Ruth's husband's Great, Great, Great Grandfather FISHER and his family. The storyteller was just speaking extemporaneously and someone fortuitously captured the dozens of names, dates and places the storyteller mentioned on the tape. Ruth could not believe that anyone could know that many names and dates off the top of her head and decided to investigate for herself. Right after then, she joined CCGS as a part year member. Remarkably, Ruth admits that despite considerable research to catch any errors in the "story," each fact on the audio tape has been proved accurate.

When she learned that joint memberships were eligible to have twelve surnames published in the annual directory, she signed her late husband, Bob, up at renewal time. She has faithfully renewed as a joint membership every year since, but with the combination of his passing on 30 December 97, exactly 56 years after his birth and Ruth's receipt of an income tax refund, she decided to go for this life membership. Ruth was the family researcher as Bob basically just tolerated the hobby. She learned after about eleven years research that she was a tenth cousin once removed to her husband. Ruth has been very lucky in some of her research often finding family in areas where they were not expected to be. The best example of this was her research into the four founding families of Horton, Bremer County, Iowa. Ruth is descended from three of them and was pleasantly surprised that a "lost" great aunt on Bob's side was part of the fourth.

Ruth has served CCGS faithfully since about 1986 as a volunteer librarian. She indicated that she learned something every time someone new comes into our library and asks a question. She recently volunteered to help in the key-wording project for Iowa books after successfully searching for a particular surname keyword and finding her family in a family history she never would have looked into on her own. As an extension of her library expertise, she has often volunteered to staff the library sales table at Seminars if she is not otherwise involved on the sandwich assembly line. With grateful appreciation of each President for the previous five years, Ruth has served as the Nominating Committee Chairman. She was given this year off this very important yet sometimes difficult position in appreciation for past services rendered.

Both the Marathon County [WI] Genealogical Society and the Bremer County [IA] Genealogical Society have had Ruth as a speaker at their meetings. She is a member of each and has attended the Wisconsin State Gene-a-rama three times.

The best thing about CCGS for Ruth is the access to the genealogy books and she enthusiastically invites all members to take advantage of the growing resources there. Her other genealogy tip is to definitely do research on allied and collateral lines.

Ruth has donated uncounted hours to preparing index cards to a 1902 edition of a "National Register of the Sons of the American Revolution" and personally compiled an every name Index to the "History of Bremer County, Iowa" which she donated to our library along with some other books and vertical files.

In closing the interview, Ruth said: "I've learned more history than I ever wanted to know, but it's been fun"

CAREY, which evolved from CARY, which evolved from KARRY in England is the surname she is most actively researching at this time.

Elizabeth May (HOWE) BROOKS

Liz, as she prefers to be called, is a native Oregonian living in Oregon City today. She was born in Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon on 3 JUL 1930. After high school, she took courses in criminal justice, medical certification and genealogy.

Her education paid off in many commendations from her personal work history in the medical insurance field and as a Clackamas County Reserve Deputy. She is retired from both fields now. She serves on the Clackamas County College Foundation and received a citation from the National Guard for superb volunteer work in catching up personnel and training records while the incumbent was incapacitated.

She got started in genealogy in 1967, when her son, Rob, said he needed to do a family history for school. That was her push for doing what had been on her mind for many years. She said the pages in the telephone directory fairly flew until she finally came upon someone that was able to discuss genealogy with her and get her started. That start has paid big dividends to the genealogy community. Throughout it all, her husband and family have supported her research and donated to the cause. Liz was a co-founder of the Clackamas County Family History Society with Norma Jean Drebin HERZMAN. Today it is called the Clackamas County Genealogical Society [Through our exchange program, we have the Clackamas Legacy periodical since 1988 filed with the Oregon periodicals under Oregon City. This publication is indexed in PERSI and has 142 citations to a wide variety of articles] a past Vice President of the Clackamas County Historical Society. So with those credentials, we are honored that she has become a life member of CCGS. In response to the question of why she did become a life member, she said: "I'm impressed with the organization. The people I've met, your outstanding quarterly and terrific publications." [Thank you, Liz]. She also lauded the library volunteers and the way that CCGS broadens her research base. The speed with which she made this commitment is incredible because she first joined CCGS less than a year ago.

The four genealogy tips she provided are certainly worthwhile with as much genealogy experience as Liz has behind her: 1) Query ALL relatives; 2) Use your local genealogy resources; 3) Plan vacations with a family locale destination. What one finds about their family in the destination courthouse, library and genealogy repositories is absolutely amazing; 4) Visit Salt Lake City and the National Archives. Liz keeps herself very busy researching, working on her book, collecting wedding cake tops, truck banks and special dolls and in enjoying her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She just came back from an eventful Salt Lake City Research Trip marred by the fact that her suitcase and research notes didn't arrive on the plane with her. She uses PAF, Ancestral Quest, and Family Tree Maker for different genealogical applications and can be reached at brookliz@aol.com. Especially coordinate with her if you are researching any of the following surnames: EDDY, HOWE, HART, GARRETSON, MORRISON, SPROUT, CUMMINS, THRASHER, CHAMBERS, NICHOLSON, DIGGS, MOOMAW, LARGE, HAZZARD, BROOKS, ANDERSON, TEDLOCK, AMOS, BARTLETT, MILBURN, BALES, AND ST. JOHN.

Jennifer (COOK) WARREN and Jim WARREN

Most of you already know and value Jennifer because of her many generous gifts of time and talent to CCGS since she joined as a part-year member in February 1993. Her accomplishments as Secretary, Vice President, Program Director, Seminar Chairman, Co-Coordinator of Salt Lake City Research trips with Irene Page and most recently as Co-Chairman with Virginia Holter on our 25th Anniversary Celebration were well described in the December 1997 CCGS Newsletter Article, "Volunteers of Value" which featured Jennifer. Like several of our members with supportive spouses who have NOT caught the genealogy bug, Jennifer signed up her husband, Jim, in June 1993 in order to get 12 surnames in the Directory and has faithfully renewed ever since. The accompanying picture shows Jennifer holding her grandson Alexander with Jim beside her and was taken last Thanksgiving.

She was born 15 June 1939 in Santa Monica, California but was moved to Seattle as an infant and then back at age 7. She grew up in California but has lived in Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin before moving back to the beautiful Pacific Northwest. She attended California Western University in San Diego, CA, and received a BA degree in psychology-sociology. After graduation, she did some graduate work at Garrett Theological Institute in Evanston, IL where she met her first husband. She completed all of her course work but didn't finish the other requirements for a master's degree. She also took graduate courses at Iowa State University when she lived at Ames.

The Senior Health Care field is where most of her jobs have been. She worked at Bethany Lutheran Home in Wisconsin as the Recreation and Volunteer Coordinator. While in La Crosse, she met Jim, who was born May 2, 1934 in Eugene, Oregon and graduated from Oregon State University with a degree in fishery biology. As a fish pathologist, he worked for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife for 34 years. After that retirement, he was the coordinator of fish drug use program for six western states for another four years. He retired again in March 1998 and is enjoying the golfing, photography, gardening, travel, hiking and camping that he now has time to do. Jennifer also enjoys camping and hiking, especially to waterfalls. They both wanted to get back to the West Coast from La Crosse, so moved to Vancouver, Washington in 1983.

Jennifer worked as Social Service Coordinator for a brief time at Rose Vista Nursing Center, then as Volunteer Coordinator at Kamlu Retirement Inn near Garrison Square, and as the Manager at the Kamlu Retirement Inn in Hazel Dell. At the Evergreen Retirement Inn, Jennifer worked in Recreation and Marketing and her last "outside the home" job was as a home care supervisor for CDM Services.

In 1991, Jennifer decided that her new job would be to organize all the family photos, letters, etc. from both sides of the family. She read a basic genealogy book called, "Shaking Your Family Tree" and jumped in feet first. From the start she was fascinated and quickly became completely addicted. She loves the process of doing genealogical research and likens it being a detective and putting all the pieces together. She has learned that both hers and Jim's lines have roots in New England. In fact, if the information she has is accurate, Jim and Jennifer are directly related on the line that goes back to a Richard GODFREY who died in 1691 in Taunton, Massachusetts. She uses Family Origins for her genealogy. She had two very good tips for us: 1) Keep your eyes and ears open. You never know when you'll meet someone who connects to your family. 2) Go back and look at family materials every once in a while--as you learn more you know more what to look for and you often find small pieces of information you've overlooked.

Jennifer is also a member of Genealogical Forum of Oregon where she serves as Library receptionist and has recently started volunteering in our own library as well when she's not in England or Denmark with grandbabies.

Jennifer became a life member because she thinks CCGS is a terrific organization that offers a great deal to its members. She also said, "I've learned so much as a CCGS member and have made some wonderful friends. I wanted to support the organization financially." For Jim, he wanted to be supportive of Jennifer, even including being her assistant on library visits, and to contribute financially.

With both of their given names beginning with the letter, "J" their email address fits both of them. Be sure to contact them to exchange information of their current surnames: jwarren@pacifier.com

Jennifer's surnames are: SPALDING, MOORE, BIDWELL, and HUTCHINSON. Jim's are: RITCHIE, PINKERTON, IRWIN, McSPARRON.

Marian Louise (GROTH) THOMPSON and Charles A. THOMPSON

This couple, who share many interests together, joined CCGS at the 1995 Clark County Fair and have renewed as a joint membership every year since. They were both born in Vancouver, Clark County, WA. Chuck, as he prefers to be called, attended Vancouver High School with Pat BAUER and Marian is an Evergreen High School graduate. Marian was born 29 May 1935 and "Chuck" was born 28 August 1930. Marian's cousin arranged for the blind date between Marian and Chuck. Their previous home in Vancouver was very close to a Fire Station, a Police Station and an Ambulance Service. They sold in April 1996 and spent the next two months looking for a more peaceful setting, which they found Northeast of Battle Ground. They have lived always lived in Clark County and consider themselves fortunate that most of their family live nearby.

They had a son and daughter, who both have children of their own who have left the nest. The youngest grandchild is age 12 and there is a longstanding tradition of Grandma and Grandpa hiding plastic Easter Eggs with prizes in them. Thinking that the grandkids would have outgrown this, Marian put the question to them. The answer was that four of the six children gleefully continued the tradition this Easter. Chuck is a retired Civil Service supervisor of vehicle maintenance and transportation at the Oregon National Guard. He has also served our country with 33 years in the U.S. Air Force and in the Oregon Air National Guard. Marian's job as "homemaker" is a continuing one and based on the visit to their home where this interview took place, she is an outstanding one.

They got their start in genealogy in about 1984 when they were given information on Chuck's great grandfather, Charles McKAY, who raised the first American flag over San Juan Island, WA, in the June 1859 Pig War and just became interested in finding out more about the rest of their families. They are primarily recording their research findings in the Family Origins genealogy program, but have used PAF and Marian won a Family Tree Maker program.

Chuck listed wood working, classic cars and building doll houses as his "other hobbies." There was one in progress that will even have electric lights that has been promised to Marian this time as all the previous ones were either sold or given away. Marian listed classic car collecting, quilting, painting, and gardening as her hobbies. She has held several offices in the Society of Washington Artists but currently she enjoys quilting more. This hobby began when she inherited quilt tops from both mothers and decided to finish them. Last year she was voted Member of Year of the Evergreen Old Car Club and is the Tour and Parade Director this year.

Marian has written a history of the Government Mineral Springs Area in the Gifford Pinchot Forest in Skamania County, as well as a history of the cabins in that area. This is their favorite rest and relaxation spot.

Their answers to the question of what is the best thing about CCGS for you were remarkably similar: Chuck-"The amount of information that is available." Marian-"The many avenues of doing research." And what is even better, they generally attend all general meetings, seminars and special events. They have productively served on the membership committee for the past two years and Marian helped with the 25th Anniversary Celebration.

They chose to become life members because they both feel that CCGS is a very worthwhile organization and they are looking forward to more volunteer service with the organization. Marian is currently researching the surnames of GROTH, ELLITHORPE, SLATER and BALL; Chuck is currently researching McKOY, McKAY, BAUGHMAN, ENIS, HUCKINS, THOMPSON and TONNESSEN.

Membership Chairman Mary Katschke met with these life members for these interviews. Look forward to enjoying more life member interviews by Mary in the next issue of the Trail Breakers.
